Hubbub at home hushed by smart new ceiling

The Millers found their family room-kitchen too noisy . . . until they put in a beautiful new kind of ceiling

Kitchen clatter and romping children can make reading the evening paper more of a chore than a pleasure. But there's no danger of this in the Millers' home. They've solved the noise problem by sound conditioning their family room-kitchen with an Armstrong Cushiontone ceiling. What was nerve-jarring racket before remodeling has now become the pleasant hum of a happy home.

Easy to put up, Cushiontone makes an attractive new ceiling . . . and permanently covers ugly plaster cracks at the same time. Mr. Miller used a stapling gun, although hammer and nails, or cement, can be used. All three methods are quick and clean. The Millers, operating on a limited "fixup" budget, found the cost of sound conditioning with Cushiontone moderate, the benefits lasting.

Send for free booklet, "Quiet Your Home with a New Armstrong Ceiling." You'll find easy-to-follow pictures and complete instructions a great help in doing the job. Write Armstrong Cork Company, 5612 Clark Street, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Miller might be holding her ear instead of her hat if Cushiontone wasn't overhead. Now she no longer has to "shut out" family noise to telephone because Cushiontone soaks up almost 75% of the sound that hits it. The Millers are highly pleased with the decorative design of Full Random* Cushiontone—they first admired it in a builder's model home in their community.

You can buy Cushiontone from your Building Materials Dealer and do the job yourself. For professional help, see your Armstrong Acoustical Contractor. Both names are in the Yellow Pages of your phone book.

Living room of the Louis de Haven Shaws. For many a year, the Bell seal has been the signpost of telephone service. A little while ago we got to thinking that such a well-known symbol deserved a slogan.

We found six words that seem to sum up the story of the telephone and the telephone business . . . "Working Together to Bring People Together." "Working Together" describes the spirit and co-operation of the telephone companies and the thousands of telephone men and women who help to provide the service.

"To Bring People Together" describes the greatest use of the telephone.

It is priceless in emergencies and indispensable in saving steps and time and gesting things done. And one of its biggest values is in helping people keep in touch with each other.

Many a day is brightened just because someone reached for the telephone to exchange news and good wishes and a friendly greeting.

Isn't there someone you'd like to call right now?

1957 General Electric Filter-Flo® Washer cleans and recleans wash water to give you cleaner clothes

Lint is caught in the filter—not on your socks, linens and cottons. Sand and soap scum are removed automatically.

As you wash, the marvelous General Electric Filter-Flo Washing System circulates and filters the wash water at the rate of 6 gallons a minute. Before lint can settle on clothes, it is caught in the filter which lets cleansed sudsy water flow back into the washbasket.

Your family wash comes out wonderfully clean and bright! You'll marvel at the results!

Removable filter—easy to clean. Fits into place after clothes are placed in washer; slips out after wash is over for easy cleaning. Also dispenses detergent evenly dissolved throughout the wash.

2 wash speeds . . . 2 spin speeds — You can select either Normal or Slow Activator® Washing Speeds . . . either Normal or Slow Spin Speeds . . . to suit all types of fabrics. Flexible settings let you wash everything "just right." Nylon without setting wrinkles. "Fragiles" without fraying. Blankets without "felting." Saves you hand washing.

3-Way Water Saving—Water Saver Control can save over 20 gallons on small loads. Choice of Warm or Cold Water Rinses. And General Electric's new optional Automatic Suds Return System lets you set aside hot sudsy filtered water for a second wash, if you wish. mas celebrations aren't all they should be? Then perhaps you can borrow an idea from the people of Palmer Lake, Colorado. It's the Sunday before Christmas in this village that nestles in the mountains between Denver and Colorado Springs. As you walk toward the town hall, you meet large groups of people, many of them wearing crimson and green hooded capes. These capes are the townspeople's traditional costume for the big event they are anticipating.

Then at 1:30 in the afternoon, a trumpet sounds. The gathering carols "Joy to the World," then starts up a mountain slope to hunt for the Yule Log. Notched and tied with hempen rope, the 8-foot log has been secretly hidden for weeks. While the search is on, the less venturesome residents and visitors gather to sing carols and to listen to Yuletide music and stories in town hall. They'll be there to greet the returning hunters.

The Yule Log ceremony started as a pagan rite in Egypt and Persia, but early Christians made it a part of the Christmas festival. By the time this ritual became established in old England, it was also the custom for family feuds to end, and all quarreling was forbidden during the Yuletide from Christmas to Twelfth Night.

The idea for Palmer Lake's colorful event originated with Miss Lucretia Vaile, a summer resident, and Dr. Evalena Macy, pastor of the Little Log Church. Their dream of a Yule Log hunt for Palmer Lake became a reality in 1933, when their first kindling log was ignited by a splinter from the Lake Placid Club in New York State. As far as is known, these were the first two places in the United States to mark this festival.

Palmer Lake's first Yule Log celebration was sponsored by the youth of the church, and only fifty people took part. But in 1934 the hunt became a community project. And it grew and grew. There were guests one year from 26 states and four foreign countries. Hundreds attend—some arriving on special trains—and over 400 people now take part in the actual hunt.

The festival is spreading, too. Palmer Lake has sent splinters

Yule Log Ceremony

to communities in Oregon, Washington, Texas, Illinois, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, New York, New Jersey and Colorado.

The Palmer Lake Yule Log Association starts festival plans many weeks in advance. Chairmen are appointed and committees are formed. The capes are made and the ingredients for the "wassail," a hot spiced drink of sweet cider, are ordered.

Three evenings before the festival, there's a "covered dish" supper, after which the young people decorate the town hall. All the townspeople make tiny souvenir logs-sprays of spruce tied with scarlet ribbon. Guests receive these lapel pins when they register.

The community-with donations from friends-supports the hunt. Admission is free to all.

When the hunters finally return, it's with shouts and laughter. They pull the happy victor—the person who discovered the hidden Yule Log-down the trail astride the log. At the town hall, the log is sawed in two. One half is saved for the next year's kindling. The other is put in the great stone fireplace while everyone sings "Song of the Kindling Log" and the "Song of the Christmas Log." The singing ends with "Silent Night," and the wassail cup is brought in as the log burns. The first cups of wassail go to the discoverer of the Yule Log and the two young men who hid the log. The toast is "Be whole-good health to you!"

Then a 500-foot Christmas Star is lighted on a mountainside. It reminds people, throughout the season, of Palmer Lake's Christmas fete-expressing fellowship to all men of good will.

Whether you buy them for yourself or receive them as gifts, Christmas plants will please you a lot more if you please them. And what pleases a Christmas plant? Nothing so much as plenty of light, an even temperature, and a good watering when needed.

These plants, you know, are grown in greenhouses, and that means everything is made to order for them. There's good light, high humidity. The temperature is kept steady, and there's good ventilation but there are no drafts.

So try, as far as possible, to give the plants the same conditions in your home.

First and foremost, give them as much light as you can. Keep them in your brightest windows during the day, but on cold nights move them into the interior of the room.

Water your plants thoroughly, with lukewarm water, but only when they're getting dry. Test the soil with your finger every day. If it's damp, don't water. If it's dry, soak the soil until water runs out the drainage hole of the pot; then empty the saucer or jardiniere in which the pot stands. Waterlogged soil will kill plants just as surely as bone-dry soil.

Most plants like less heat and more humidity than we do, and they appreciate fresh air even in winter. If a sunny window stays between 60° and 70° all day, it'll be just about ideal. Keeping another window open just a little during the day will provide fresh air and also increase the humidity. Radiator humidifiers also will

PLANTS

Don't stand a plant near any radiator or other type heater. The air will be too hot and too dry. And not near a doorway, either—or any place where there'll be a draft, hot, cold, or dry.

Different kinds of plants do, of course, prefer somewhat different conditions. So, to give you suggestions for all the more popular Christmas plants, we've asked Alyn Wayne of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association for specific recommendations.

Here they are, plant by plant:

This is Mrs. Marie Magee of Virginia Beach, Va. She made the Cheer window test and wrote us . . .

"Recently I heard Cheer would give me a whiter wash. Well, I judge my wash by whiteness, so I tried Cheer.

"As I folded up some towels, I could see they looked whiter—so I knew they were really good and clean.

"Then I examined the towels over at the window, where the light is always most revealing. And . . .

"I was delighted! Cheer washed so white I could see the difference!"

Cheer's Blue-Magic whitener makes the difference . . . and only blue Cheer has it!

It's true. More and more housewives, like Mrs. Magee, are discovering that blue Cheer washes whiter.

After washing with Cheer, you'll be delighted too. You'll see a difference so great your clothes look (and actually are) whiter than when you bought them.

That's because Cheer is different. Only Cheer has the Blue-Magic whitener—an exclusive ingredient that gets clothes white—really white!

Try blue Cheer and make your own window test. You've never seen any white like Cheer-white!

Recommended for Automatics

Yes! Agitator automatics are designed to work best with active suds like Cheer's. That's why the leading makers of automatic washers specifically recommend blue Cheer.

If you judge your wash by whiteness—it's got to be Cheer!

Cheerful, Beautiful, Easy to Make

SANTA-IN-

THE-BOX:

Let's deck our halls and walls to sing a happy Christmas theme. Let's do it in many ways—some traditional because Christmas is . . . but let's do something new, something daring, too, to prove that we do keep up with the times. And let's do it inexpensively but with great taste and distinction.

Have you ever seen an ermine tree? No? Then look below . . . and copy for a few dimes. Did you ever see a jollier Santa? This Santa Jack-in-the-box is no problem at all and his makings are dime-store materials too. The window with the cut-out trees is easy to construct. In crazy-quilt fashion, attach cellophane paper to glass with rubber cement and fasten on tiny Christmas ornaments with waterproof glue.

Simple and charming are tiny door trees (top, right) made of evergreen cuttings in wire-mesh cornucopias sprayed white, set into sandfilled, painted clay pots. Use vertical stick for center support. Below this is a snow wreath with pleated foil fans and gleaming bead garlands. Good enough to eat is the wreath made of wrapped hard candies interspersed with green gumdrop leaves and red "raspberries" for holly. The decorated hurricane glass protects a jumbo-size swirled candle. And a stylish little apple tree in a square golden base couldn't be more elegant.

ERMINE TREE: step-by-step instructions on page 98

Make a Christmas-y Clown to thrill the kids

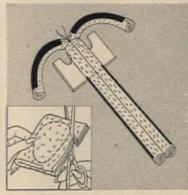

From 16" x 30" fireproof cotton batting cut 20" for two legs; cut 10" arms, 6" x 10" coat. Spray on lacquer.

If you didn't use sequined cotton, sprinkle clown pieces with glitter or sequins before clear lacquer dries.

Roll legs loosely so they'll be plump. Then seal down sides of legs with the gaily-colored cellophane tape.

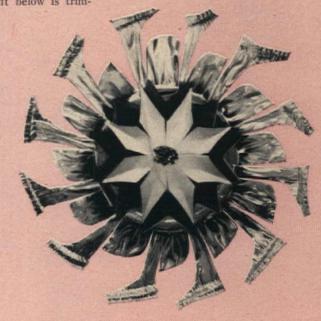

Make arms like legs. Tie in center with string. Pull string through top of legs. Cut cotton feet as shown Here are two Christmas tree ornaments for you to copy. They are made from foil pie plates. You can improvise with a pair of scissors to make other ornaments from foil food containers. It's easy, fun!

Pie Plates Become Gala Ornaments

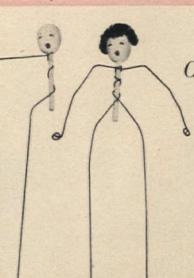

o make ornamont at right: part 1—cut from outer rim to bottom of foil pie plate. Make straight cuts about 1" apart. Part 2—on right-hand side of each cut section, ½" in from rim, start another cut. Make this cut curve half way into each section, then taper it down to bottom of tin. Now twist part 1 backwards and slightly apart from part 2. Pull part 2 forward toward center. Paste paper stars in center, sprinkle with glitter—you'll need glue for this. The tree decoration at left below is trimmed with tinsel and Christmas ball.

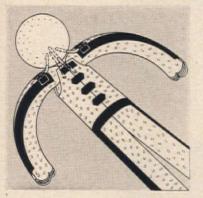

See "Where Credit Is Due," page 96

Carolers: lovely holiday scene for your mantel

Fun for the family to make with "rag bag" supplies—that's what these carolers are. Bodies are butcher skewers, arms and legs are heavy twisted wire from coathangers. Heads are kindergarten beads with fur for hair, faces painted on. The clothes are made from colorful scraps of cloth TO TRIM CLOWN YOU NEED: a 6" red metal foil cornucopia hat, 1/2" green beads set in foil stars for eyes, halves of tree light reflectors for ears, Christmas ball for nose, foil ruffles.

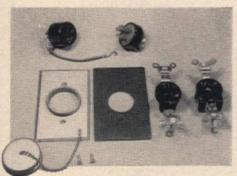

Attach head—3½" plastic foam ball—with pipe cleaners. Tape down as shown. Fold, tape jacket below head.

Tape around edges of feet, sew to legs. Trim with hat and ornaments listed above.

How-to hints for your outdoor Christmas lighting

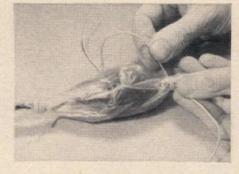

Outdoor lighting needs weatherproof outlet. Have one installed, or do it yourself if qualified. Parts: coverplate, gasket, receptacles, grounding adapter, plug.

From outlet to lights, flexible, weatherproof cord carries current. Cord contains three #14 wires; two carry current; third is grounding wire, prevents electric shock.

You can make your own Christmas light strings by soldering wires of "pigtail" sockets to bared sections of current-carrying wires. Wrap in rubber tape, friction tape.

Keep connections dry in outdoor wiring by wrapping up each one with plastic sheeting. Wrap the sheet tightly around cord several times and then tie ends with strong twine.

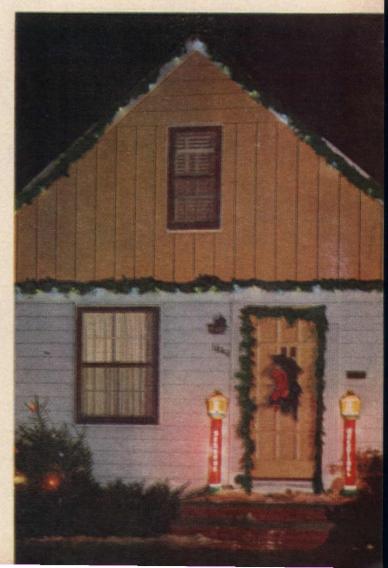

If the waterproof seal is broken around the openings through which wires enter outdoor sockets and plugs, fill in with rubber-resin cement that's available at hardware store.

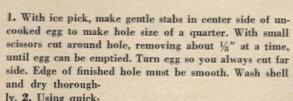

Fasten lamp strings to house exterior with brass cup hooks or insulated staples. Here, lamp string is fastened with friction tape to cup hook that is screwed into roof eave.

Keep water out of the bulb sockets by slipping bulb base into a ring-shaped rubber gasket, then screwing bulb into socket. When buying lamps, get gaskets for each one.

ly. 2. Using quickdrying enamel, paint inside with two coats of white (or color if desired). Paint outside with two coats enamel and sprinkle with glitter before second coat dries.

Decorate your Tree with

Picture Eggs

4. When the paraffin has hardened and the glue is thoroughly dry, put glue around the edge of the opening. For this, use crafts glue that becomes transparent when it dries. Cover the opening with saran, pulling taut. When glue holding saran is thoroughly dry, dip face quickly in boiling hot water. Trim off excess saran to 3/8"

3. After you decide on subject or scene for your "egg that tells a story," place melted paraffin in bottom or broad end of egg. If background for the scene is desired, it can be glued in before paraffin is used. When paraffin begins to set, put cut-outs, figurines, or any other decoration in place. In silhouetting cut-outs, leave a little lip for inserting in paraffin. If paraffin should harden too quickly for you to insert all the decorations, use glue to secure the small elements.

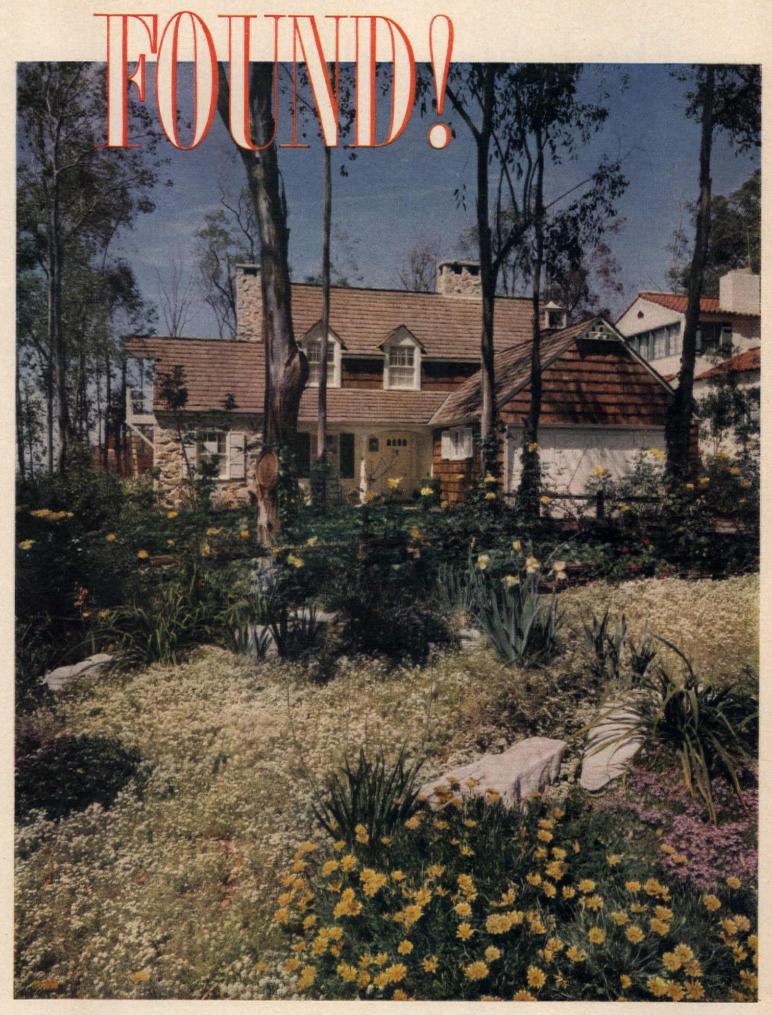

See "Where Credit Is Due," page 96

5. Apply trimming with glue, starting at top, and at the same time attach cord for hanging. If trimming doesn't join neatly, use jewels or sequins for cover-up. The fancier, the better, you may decide. Just use your imagination!

A Flawless Early American Home

The Palos Verdes Home of Mr.

A glance at roster on your right explains exquisite harmony of house, garden and interiors. This talented team, all top-rung men in their respective professions, share a deep respect for our American tradition, see no reason to pamper it, and possess rare skill in making it conform gracefully to fresh concepts of living

Gerard R. Colcord A.I.A. ARCHITECT

Louis De Haven Shaw A.I.D. INTERIOR DECORATOR

John Eyerman, Jr. LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT

The Shaw house is a house in the American tradition as we have known it for decades, but as you go inside, and outdoors, again, into the garden area, you will observe it is more than merely a fine example of a period house. It has seventeen-jewel timing with the way we live today, and a subtle, tidy manner of making tradition like it. You will, however, be wide off the mark if you think that the Shaws do not cherish an appreciation of the past. There is merely nothing stiff-backed or impractical about the furnishings of their minds. Mrs. Shaw teaches school, naturally wants a home requiring minimum up-keep. Mr. Shaw, a famed and extremely busy interior decorator, also has far too little time to spend on garden or grounds. Perfectionists both, they knew that in planning this house, the day had come to appraise time, needs, and space . . . to travel light. Hence, you will find many good, air-conditioned ideas . . . a long overdue change in the mental rations we have been fed from the bottomless supply of traditional jelly-bean wisdom.

NEXT SPREAD BEGINS THE SHAW'S GARDEN STORY

and Mrs. Louis De Haven Shaw

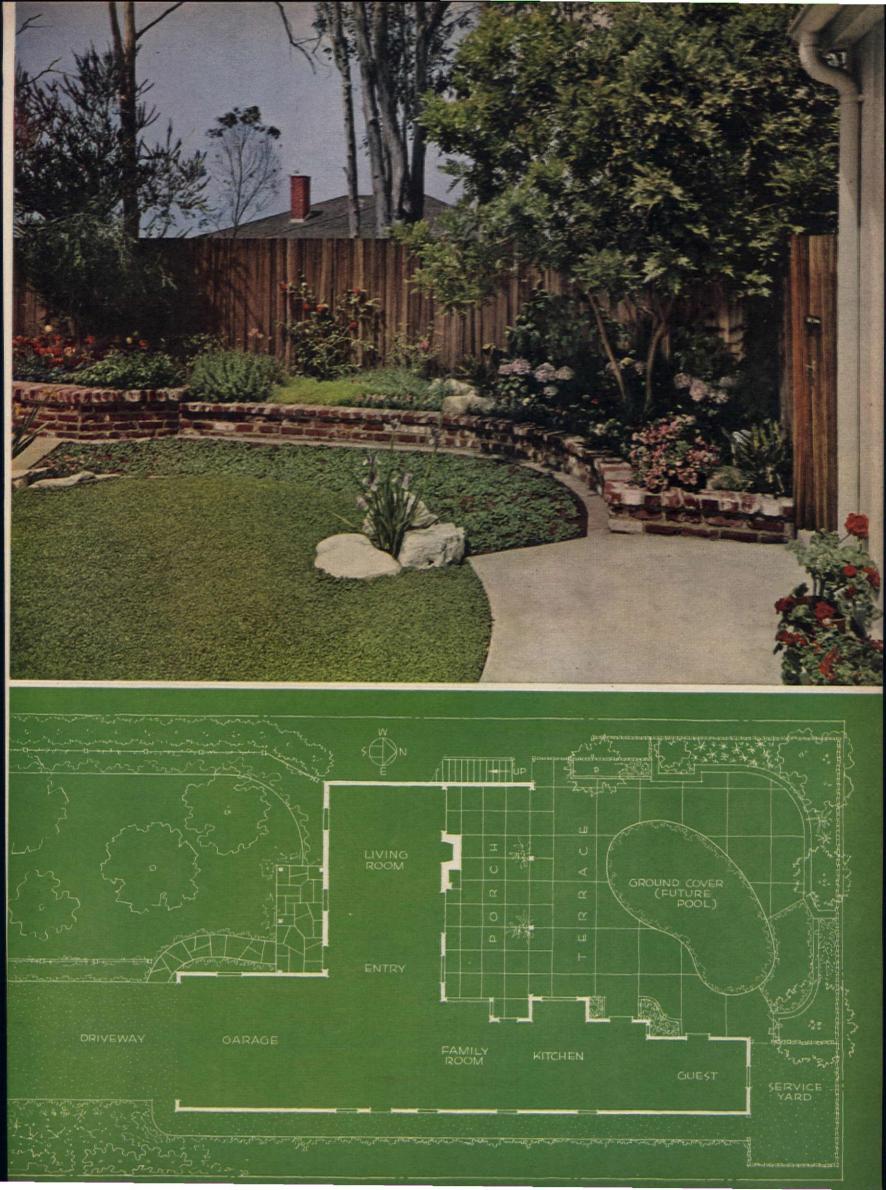

With exact shape and size of future swimming pool in mind, water lines are in and stubbed off, area is now planted in dichondra—and that's smart planning!

The garden area is just 40 x 40, a perfect square with the pool planned to be set at a diagonal. Mr. Eyerman has laid out the back yard with two seating areas of sufficient size to accommodate small groups, one adjacent to the covered terrace, and the other in full sun in the far left corner, at what will be poolside. Plan at right shows how little actual area needs attention; the pictures, how great the effect of color and a pervading sense of seclusion from its elbow-to-elbow neighbors. Interesting rocks, chosen for shape and color, are used with a few iris and armeria, a ground cover known as Thrift, to break the hard line of concrete. Notice curbed brick wall supporting raised planting beds, at left. It is run around two sides of the yard. At the immediate left, the wall which runs back of the corner seating area, steps up to be 14 inches high and 13 inches wide, so that it may be used as additional seating space when entertaining groups. Any change in elevation on a flat area, such as these planting beds, increases both the size and interest in the planting; and raised beds, of course, make for far easier maintenance.

Janily Food THE SEASON'S

BEST TO YOU!

GLAMOROUS PARFAITS in no time flat appeal to you? Here's one quickie as a starter. A bottom layer of crumbled Sugar Wafers moistened with Curacoa, a swirl of defrosted frozen strawberries, a layer of vanilla ice cream and you've a perfect dessert.

FAR, FAR BETTER to spend your holiday cooking time on beautiful sauces to go with the plum pudding than slave over the pudding itself—that's my theory and my Yule-time practice.

Given a choice of Hot Brandy Sauce or Ethel's famous Rum Sauce, plum or fig pudding out of the can needs only to be burnt off with a bit of rum or brandy and it's fit food for the gods.

Tictuals for the Holidays, of course.

And, with these smart little deceptions, Good Victuals are practically quickies!

FOR INSTANCE, this delicate Maple Rum Apple Pudding—based on apple chip cake mix and canned apple sauce and absolutely divine or take, for another instance, the pretty petit fours below—every one of them concocted from cake mixes and frosting mixes but with what wonderful flavor differences!

are not coming for a meal...but just to extend their greetings and best wishes. Christmas cookies with punch, small sandwiches for cocktails, along with nuts and candy, will make a good nibble.

If it is simpler for you, and you like guests in the morning, why not invite them over around 10 a.m. for muffins and coffee? Cups and saucers, small plates, coffee pot, cream, sugar and a basket of buttered muffins and maybe some jam would be delightful, yet not a drain on your time or pocketbook. Such a snack, especially on Christmas morning, can be quite a treat to couples with small children. They've probably all been up since dawn, with breakfast getting stiff competition from the new toys.

When your morning guests have left, replace the coffee pot and soiled dishes with a sparkling glass punch bowl and glasses, and a plate of Christmas cookies. When your guests start to arrive, just slip out to the kitchen for the chilled beverage and pour it into the bowl . . . you're ready to serve! For the evening, you may wish to continue to replenish your punch bowl. In that case, all that you will have to do is wash and replace the punch bowl and glasses when your last afternoon guest has departed.

Actually, the whole idea of the Christmas Cheer Table is to have your guests greeted by an inviting and festive table, a good supply of a few prepared-in-advance refreshments, and a whole lot of YOU.

Keep it Set

A re you wondering how you can simplify your Christmasweek entertaining without cutting down on hospitality? It's really easy. How? By greeting your guests with an inviting, festive Christmas Cheer Table.

This year, while you're shifting furniture around to make space for your Christmas tree, why not also plan a spot for such a Christmas Cheer Table? Any small table will do—but be sure to set it up where it won't interfere with the normal traffic pattern in your home. Then you can leave it there without inconvenience all through your holiday entertaining.

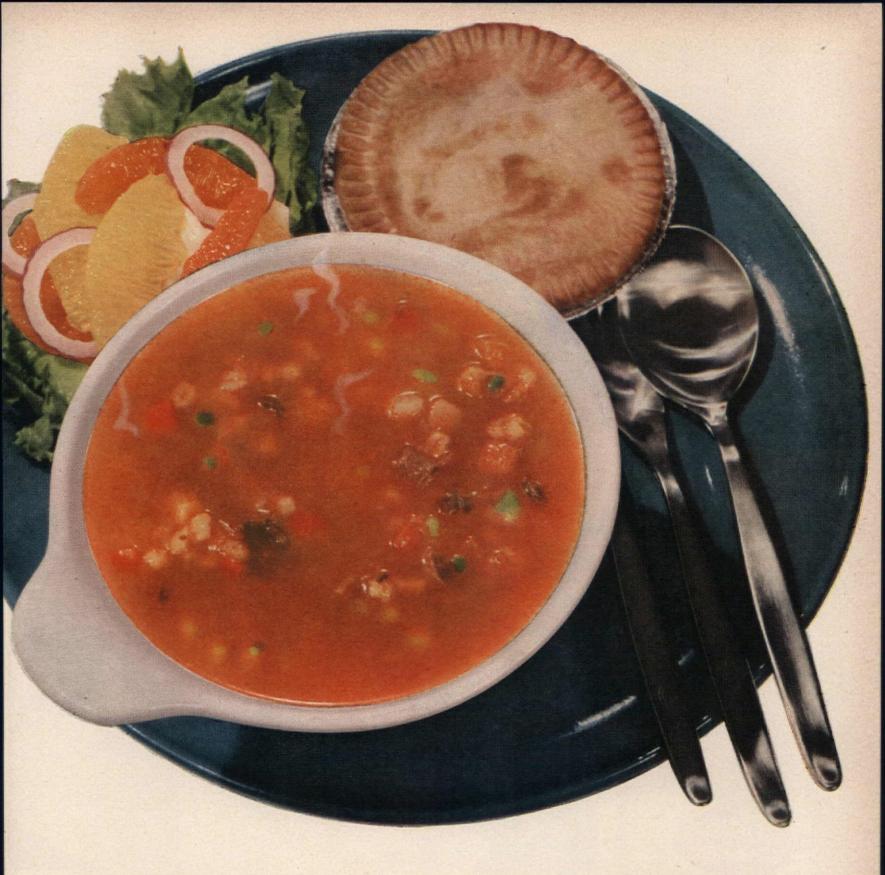

How should you proceed in getting your table ready to serve—from the first caller right on through to the last one? To avoid confusion and last-minute fussing, decide on something simple to serve to morning callers and afternoon visitors (who as a rule do not stay long), and to friends coming over after dinner. Then stick to your plans all week.

If it's small sandwiches you'll serve late in the evening with beverages, decide on one or two kinds of fillings, make adequate supplies, and tuck them into your freezer. Keep a big jar filled with cookies, and the small fry will love you.

Fruit punch can be prepared the night before and refrigerated in jars all ready to pour into the punch bowl. And to decorate the juice after it is poured into the bowl, you can use ring molds of fruit slices in ice (see The American HOMF for October, 1956, page 96).

But keep the food to a minimum. Remember-your guests

New Idea: Soup-Plate Meal

Here's a whole meal on a plate—a Soup-Plate Meal! Good eating . . . easy fixing. SOUP, salad or sandwich, if you like, and dessert (A Swanson Frozen Fruit Pie, perhaps!).

An all-round, hot and hearty soup is the center of attraction—Campbell's Vegetable Beef Soup. It's a main-course soup, perfectly balanced with the flavors and goodness of fine, lean beef, beef broth and vegetables. A family favorite! Nourishing, too.

A "Soup-Plate Meal" is an any-time meal. You can vary it 21 ways with a different Campbell's Soup for the main hot dish. Add whatever else goes best with the soup. Then take your Soup Plate . . . and enjoy yourself!

Candy Village

In rs. Joseph J. Weck of El Monte, California, has no trouble keeping young Jimmie, Timmie and Heather busy in the weeks before Christmas. Three years ago, when the two boys were bedded down with the flu before the holidays, Marguerite Weck helped them build a replica of a church with sugar-cube "bricks," and "mortar" of powdered sugar and eggwhite. Colored cellophane became stained-glass windows, and Mom added a light, a candy altar, and choir-boy figurines. The project was such great fun everyone started watching for miniature figures, dishes, and furniture, and the "construction gang," as Mrs. Weck says, now possesses two miniature candy houses, a fire station, a dog house, a grocery store, and the beginnings of a gasoline station.

Except for doll-house furniture, the village is almost entirely made of candy. Between Christmases, the little buildings—each resting on a plywood surface—are stored in cartons. But the whole family enjoys them so much they hunt for furnishings the whole year around.

Something new you can do with Jell-O!

Another treasure to add to your collection of favorite desserts . . . and it's all made with Jell-O Gelatin Dessert! It's called Jewel-Top Jell-O.

This shimmering new dessert is easy and fun to make. Just prepare a package of Jell-O as directed on the package. (We used the delicious new Black Raspberry flavor.) Set aside 3/4 cup for topping, then pour the rest into four sherbet glasses and chill until firm. Meanwhile, chill the 3/4 cup until it is slightly thickened, then whip until light and fluffy.

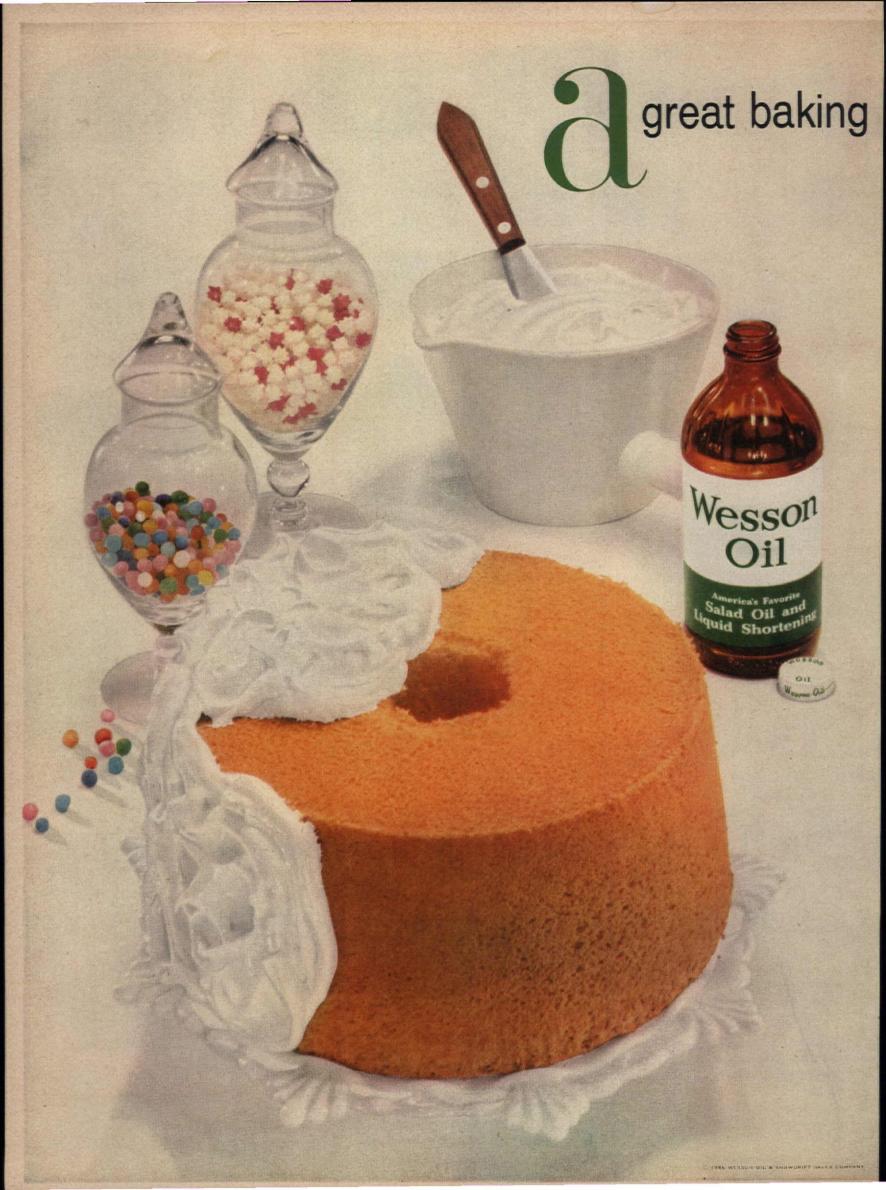

Remove the set Jell-O, and with a small rounded spoon (a ½ tsp. measuring spoon is perfect), scoop out circles of Jell-O from around the edges of the sherbet glasses to form the scalloped border you see in the picture.

Now just spoon the whipped Jell-O into the sherbet glasses, and sprinkle the fluffy topping with the bright little bits of scooped-out Jell-O.

FANCY CHRISTMAS BREADS will make pretty, individual wreaths that can be wrapped with saran and hung on your tree. Or copy our Edie Ramsay's idea (see December, 1955, issue) and hang on gilt-painted chicken-wire tree.

IDEAS

SANTA CLAUS DESSERT for the kiddies is simple. Just top a peach half (round side up) with a hatshaped cookie or ice cream cone covered with red frosting. Make the fur band on the hat, and the beard, of whipped cream. Nose and eyes are raisins. FAVORITE FAMILY COOKIES—such as brownies, peanut-butter cookies, and sugar cookies—can be Christmas cookies, too. Bake them in miniature sizes and Christmas-cookie shapes. Bake them at the same temperature as usual but for a shorter time.

TREAT YOUR HOLIDAY GUESTS to special cups of coffee. Spiced with cinnamon or anisette, coffee's an especially good drink. Served with heavy cream, it's one of the best.

TO CUT THE COST of your holiday eggnog while you keep it rich and good, use whipped evaporated milk instead of cream. Your guests will agree it's delicious.

TINY FRUIT CAKES add an imaginative touch to a gift box of homemade Christmas goodies. Bake the batter in very small paper baking cups on a cookie sheet. Then glaze and decorate as you would larger cakes. Add one or two cakes to each gift box.

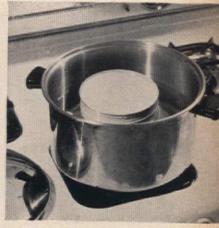

A LAST-MINUTE HOMEMADE CIFT: just whip up some strawberry jam. With a commercial pectin, you can make it out of frozen strawberries in about 15 minutes. It'll be as good as a breath of spring in December.

1. Rich and fragrant, steamed pudding makes a grand finale to a happy Christmas dinner. It was a treat in merry old England, and it's still a treat to us today. If you don't have a mold a coffee can will work just as well.

2. Prepare the steamed pudding batter according to Mother Ramsay's Christmas Pudding recipe (see page 80). Pour the batter into the mold or coffee can that we have suggested. Fill to within an inch of the top, cover and seal tightly. Now it is ready to be steamed.

Steamed Puddings Make Luscious, Easy Christmas Desserts

3. We really prefer the new pressure cooker method of steaming. It's so much faster. However in these pictures we show the age-old method of steaming on a rack in a sauce pan. Instructions for both are in the recipe.

FOR HOLIDAY SPECIALS

Deck Your Tables with Gala Salads in Red and Green

Malads can help you spread the Merry Christmas feeling to all who join you at the table. These salads, red and green and in a traditional holiday mood, are easy to make. They'll add a dash of color to the table and an extra spark of interest to your meal.

• Fruited-gelatin Christmas trees are a really different salad. Serve them individually or grouped together as a "forest." To make them, mold fruited lime gelatin in cone-shaped paper cups. (You may have to buy these from your druggist's ice-cream fountain counter.) To hold the cones upright, place them in drinking glasses. When gelatin has set, unmold the trees and decorate them with garlands of cream

 A pretty Christmas package comes to brighten up your dinner. Made of a square of tomato aspic, it's tied with a ribbon and bow of mayonnaise. Tint the dressing with a little green coloring for more gaiety

· For a relish and salad combination, serve halves of avocado filled with bright cranberry sherbet. Put it on a lettuce leaf as a salad with the main course, or on shredded lettuce on ice for a cocktail.

THE AMERICAN HOME, DECEMBER, 1956

· Christmas slaw is decked out in red and green when you use both colors. Show it off in twin bowls: one of red cabbage and chopped green pepper; the other of green cabbage and pickled beets. To accentuate colors, line the bowls with cabbage leaves of the opposite color. · The pear poinsettia makes a tasty salad. Here it's made of slices of pears with a blush of red fruit coloring on them. The centers are tiny carrot curls stuffed with pieces of black olives.

 Cabbage slaw gets a holiday dress when you top it with rings of green pepper filled with garlands and stars made from pimiento. Serve the slaw in individual lettuce cups. If you're feeling in a very gay mood, let a decanter of red French dressing accompany it to the table.

• Waldorf salad can join the festive group as a jolly Santa. Tint a peeled and cored apple with red food coloring. Fill the interior with the usual celery-and-nut mixture. Top it off with a puff of mayonnaise and a cone-shaped cap made from a slice of pimiento. Extra nuts, carefully placed, will make the face.

· A guacamole red and green wreath is a perfect accompaniment to a turkey dinner. Mix mashed, ripe avocado, salt, minced onion, and lemon juice, and pack into a ring mold. At serving time. unmold on shredded lettuce. Fill the center of the ring with a thick, jellied cranberry sauce and serve it garnished with mayonnaise.

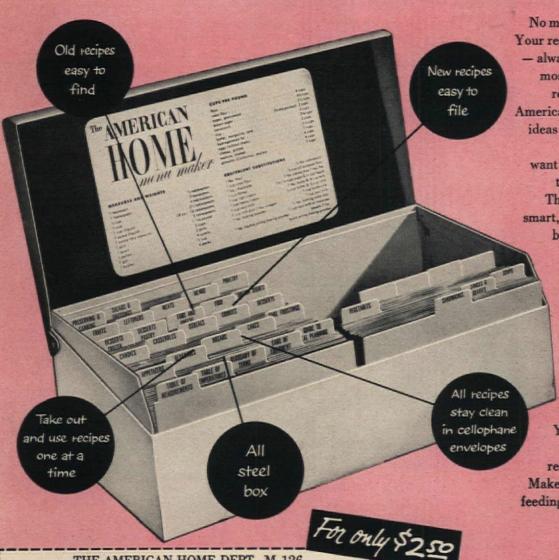

· A big red pimiento bow ties a merry air to the little wreath made of pineapple slice covered with chopped parsley green. It'll taste particularly good if you serve it with a dill dressing. Set atop a crisp, green lettuce leaf, it's a most delightful Christmas concoction.

This pie was made with another shortening. It was baked 40 minutes at 400° oven heat. Notice how little has really browned.

This pie was made with Fluffo. It was baked for the same time at the same heat as the pie on the left.

Something Golden Happens

(golden flakiness you've never gotten with any other shortening)

Expect surprising results when you use golden Fluffo; it's an altogether surprising shortening. Different from other leading shortenings as day is from night... different in substance, different in handling, different in results:

There's not a one that can give you such tender, flaky, golden-brown pies. No change in the measurement your favorite recipe calls for—just a wonderful change in results!

Not one can give you such crisp, light, golden-brown fried foods. Everything, but everything more beautifully browned all over and just as digestible as it looks. For deep frying, you'll find you can use light, sweet Fluffo indefinitely. Just add more when needed.

Fluffo even handles differently; it's so much lighter and fluffier than any other leading shortening it's a joy to use. You actually blend with fewer, easier strokes. And the golden color lets you see how perfectly you're mixing cake batter or pie dough. Try Golden Fluffo—how can you possibly miss?

Candy Village (Begins on page 63)

The Weck family's little schoolhouse is another sugar-cube concoction. Mint patty is mounted on wall with icing, has silver candy balls for numerals, black licorice hands. Candles in windows are red licorice. Horehound drops trim teacher's desk. Books are candy-coated gum. Most of decorations, made by different members of family, are devised from assorted candies.

This gasoline station is the family's present project. Wall shelves and holders for tires and tools are foil, built right into sugar-cube wall. Station sign is colored jawbreaker candy mounted on large peppermint stick. A Christmas hard-candy forms top of sugar-cube gas pump, and lubrication rack is made of licorice sticks supported by wooden lollipop sticks. The Wecks set the miniature village on a table in a window at Christmas. THE END

How to make your children sparkle

by KitchenAid

As many a mother will tell you, a KitchenAid Automatic Dishwasher can help the children sparkle, too. Your after-dinner hour becomes the wonderful time it can be-a real family hour you share with your children instead of the dirty dishes.

Here, in truth, is the "why" of a KitchenAid. It isn't just that it lightens your work (though this alone is marvelous). More important, your Kitchen Aid Dishwasher frees your hands. You lead a richer, fuller life, take part in the oh-so-many activities for which now, somehow, "there just isn't time."

But ask a dealer to demonstrate the unmatched KitchenAid exclusive revolving power wash, the separate power-blower drying unit ...the sanitary dual strainer system. See for yourself what they accomplish: the kind of washing that no scrap nor soil can escape ...the thorough power drying action you want. No other dishwasher has these exclusive features.

Ask your dealer about models, styles and colors. It's then you'll make the happy discovery that there is a KitchenAid just for you-as much at home in your kitchen as it is in your way of life.

TINY TREE FROM DIME STORE: SHEER DELIGHT

Six easy steps, that's all it takes. You'll need these items: the tree, canned "snow," glue, colored foil paper, gold braid, pins, tiny paper bluebirds, tiny paper rosebud, gold balls and gold glitter. First spray the entire tree with snow. Then cut colored foil paper into 11/2" by 6" oblongs and glue narrow gold braid at top of each one. Fold oblongs into pleats, 1/4" wide, and press pleats firmly together at bottom to form fan. Pin together and glue. Pin and glue fans to tree. Wire birds all over tree, and wire rosebud at top. Put a little glue on birds, fans, rosebud and balls, and sprinkle with glitter before the glue dries.

Christmas Plants

repot plant into fresh, good soil, and stand in sunny window. In June, sink pot to rim in sunny spot outdoors. Keep watered all summer and bring inside before weather turns cool in fall. Treat as before, but keep plant in total darkness at night or it won't flower for Christmas.

AZALEA. Needs good light, but should be kept cool. Often best in aneast or north window. Likes lots of water but not soggy soil. Best watered by standing pot in 2" to 3" of water in sink until soaked; then drained well before returning to saucer. Repeat when soil surface is dry to touch.

In May, repot plant into slightly larger pot, and sink to rim in lightly shaded spot outdoors. Keep well watered all summer and bring indoors in fall.

CYCLAMEN. Treat same as azalea—good light but cool. Best watered in sink, as azalea; and be sure water is lukewarm. If you top-water, water frequently but don't wet center of plant. Remove entire stems of dead flowers and leaves.

Tricky plants to re-flower. When leaves wither, place in cool basement and water lightly once a week to prevent soil completely drying out. When new growth starts in August, repot tuber in rich soil and increase water gradually. Give plant good light, but keep it cool as possible.

CHRISTMAS BEGONIA. Needs good light but not too much sun; two to three hours sunlight a day is ideal. Water well, but don't keep soil soggy. Likes warm, humid atmosphere; a spot in kitchen is perfect if you have electric range; can't stand gas fumes. Discard plant if it becomes unattractive.

GARDENIA. Wants full sun in winter and same care as poinsettia. If city water is alkaline, leaves will yellow from iron deficiency; can be cured with chelated iron, obtainable at seed stores. Sink pot to rim in light shade outdoors in summer; return to sunny window in fall.

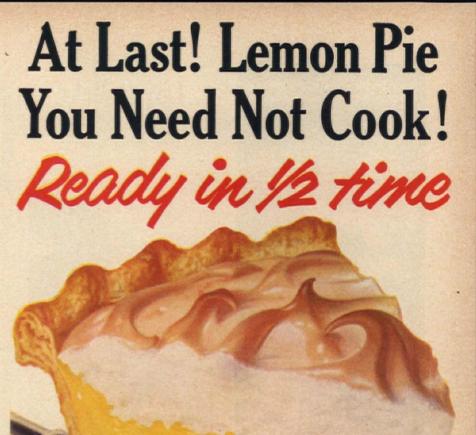

KALANCHOE. A rugged succulent; needs full sunlight and moderate watering. Best kept in sunny window all year round.

CHRISTMAS CACTUS. Treat same as kalanchoe. Needs more water than other cacti, but cooler, moister air. Can be kept for years.

CHERRIES and PEPPERS. Jerusalem cherries and celestial peppers need full sunlight, cool temperature, and abundant water. Best to discard them when they become unattractive.

AFRICAN VIOLET. Most satisfactory of house plants. Needs good light but only few hours of sun a day; warm temperature; careful watering. Keep indoors all year round.

DISH GARDENS. Give good light but not direct sun. North window is best. Water very carefully. Same applies to terrariums.

FAN WREATH

You can transform a wreath about 16" across into an oldworld beauty if you trim it

First spray the wreath heavily with artificial snow.

Cut 10 oblongs, 3" by 8", from metal foil paper for fans. Glue gold braid along tops of oblongs, then fold into 1/2" pleats. Fasten bottom of each fan with a pin and glue. Attach fans to wreath with pins and more glue. Glue 10 1" gold balls and 5 2" blue balls to the wreath. Glue two strands of gold garland beads in place around the wreath.

Wire five paper butterflies to the wreath as a final touch of gaiety.

To heighten the spirit of Christmas Present, serve favorite foods from Christmas Past in unexpected guises. It's really quite easy . . . for most traditional dishes are versatile dishes, too. A prime example is tangy, holiday-red Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce. Served cold, right out of the can, Ocean Spray (either Jellied or Whole Berry) is a perfect plate mate for hot turkey. But for cold turkey later, be different! Heat Whole Berry Ocean Spray in a chafing dish . . . then punctuate its tart-sweet flavor with a teaspoon of powdered ginger, with kirsch, or some grated lemon rind. And try other imaginative dishes ...

Hot Cranberry Punch

To refresh chilly carollers and thirsty tree trimmers, or to toast friends, serve a steaming crimson punch. This recipe makes 21/2 qts.-blend ahead, so you can just heat when wanted. Add 3 cups of water to 2 one-lb. cans of Jellied Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce and beat with a mixer till smooth. Combine 1 cup of water with 3/4 cup brown sugar, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon allspice and 3/4 teaspoon ground cloves. Bring to a boil. Add cranberry mixture and 1 qt. pineapple juice. Mix well. Pour into jars for later use, or bring to boil again, and serve in mugs with dots of butter and cinnamon-stick stirrers. (Or substitute pineapple juice for the 3 cups of water, and bourbon for the qt. of pineapple juice. When punch starts to boil, touch a match to its surface and flame. So festive . . . and since you can extinguish the flame by covering the pan, you can retain some of the alcohol, or let it burn away completely.)

Gala Christmas Grapefruit

Don't limit your surprises to gift packages-put some on the breakfast table, too! Top grapefruit halves with brown sugar, a dash of Dubonnet and cubes of Jellied Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce . . . broil 10 minutes or so -till edges are browned. (Even when broiled Ocean Spray keeps its shape!)

Cranberries Jubilee

Festive finish for the BIG dinner!

To serve 8, gently heat 2 one-lb. cans o Whole Berry Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce to boiling. Pour into chafing dish and carry to table with individual servings of vanilla ice cream. Carefully pour 1/2 cup cognac or kirsch over Sauce. Ignite, spoon flaming Ocean Spray Sauce over ice cream and serve.

A happy holiday to you!

STYLIZED APPLE TREE

For stylized apple tree, make a cubic wood base, insert dowel or broomstick, spray with gold paint. Fold chicken wire into a loose roll and nail to top.

Cover chicken wire completely with sprigs of evergreen, securing them with green cord. Attach lady apples with wire to florist picks and shellac the apples lightly. When shellac has dried, insert the apples on picks into the tree top. Spray lightly with gold paint to highlight the fruit. Attach a luscious bow.

don't leave holes in your insulation

It doesn't make sense to insulate your roof and walls, and not your windows. Every uninsulated window is a gaping hole in your insulation... a hole that can eat up your fuel budget. *Thermopane insulating glass in every window gives you:

Thermopane insulating glass

LIBBEY OWENS FORD-A GREAT NAME IN GLASS

Thermopane FACTS

Thermopane insulating glass puts two panes and a sealed-in blanket of air between you and outdoors. Makes rooms comfortable, especially near windows. Reduces drafts. Deadens outside noise to keep rooms quieter. Reduces chances of steamy or frosted windows.

Saves fuel—heat loss through Thermopane is about half that through single glass. In summer, it cuts airconditioning costs. And without bother or expense of storm sash.

Two kinds of Thermopane

- Made of plate glass for sharp, clear views. Best for all uses, and a "must" for picture windows and window walls. Units are ½" or 1" thick.
- Made of sheet glass for economy. Units are ½" thick.

Sash for Thermopane

Windows of every type—fixed or ventilating—are made for glazing with Thermopane insulating glass. Also sliding doors.

What does Thermopane cost?

About the same as single glass plus good storm sash in most areas. In the average home, its cost adds only one or two dollars a month to mortgage payments, as compared with single glass. And your windows are insulated for the life of your house.

Where to see it - buy it

Thermopane is sold by local L·O·F Glass Distributors and Dealers, listed under "Glass" in the yellow pages of phone books.

SOUTHERN BEAUTY

Cut a base of wood in swirl or free form and paint it pink. Tape oversize candle to a big, unopened can for support, and conceal this can with sprigs of boxwood wrapped tightly with green cord.

Place a pineapple in horizontal position, as shown, in front of the candle. Then insert a clipped palm (which you have painted pink), and shiny magnolia leaves. Fill in with more clipped, painted palms, and with artichokes and large green grapes. The artichokes and grapes must first be wired to florist picks so you can secure them firmly in position. Grapes should first be washed and polished so they'll glow. Arrange in artistic fashion to follow the rhythmic S-curve lines of base you have cut from wood, but do not cover the base surface completely.

NINE IDEAS

See "Where Credit Is Due," page 96

EX-WINDOW SEAT is a smart "home office" center now. Mr. and Mrs Sam Woods of Tucson, Arizona, had a window seat between two banks of closets in this hall connecting living room and bedroom wing. Ther they had a better idea—a built-in desk. R. O. Kesterton, their con tractor, did the job. Proved to be perfect spot for a desk and phone FREE PROTECTION is important at this time of the year. Guard your trees, especially apple trees, from rabbits. They like to chew on the bark when there's snow on the round and no leafage to eat. Circle tree trunk with ½" wire loth, high enough to be well above expected snow line.

VICTORIAN SOFA HEADBOARD for their teenage daughter's bed is one of the clever ideas in the home of the J. R. Carrolls of Amarillo, Texas. Mrs. Carroll removed the seat from a Victorian sofa that was a cherished family heirloom. Then she had side and foot rails added, and a box spring and mattress, with charming results. Candle sconces on the wall, flowery curtains, flounce on bedspread . . . these all add to the quaint Victorian atmosphere.

FOR YOU TO ADAPT

AMILY PHOTOGRAPHS a problem? Then consider family ee layout of the James Emersons of Edina, Minnesota. rrangement was worked out first on large sheet of paper, and pictures were framed to go with one another. Some of lotos were cut from group pictures, then enlarged to fit.

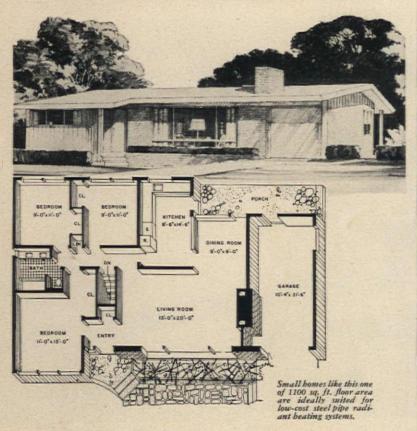

WINDOW CORNER just didn't seem to agree with the rest of the living room in the home of the James Emersons near Minneapolis, Minnesota. The window beside the fireplace seemed to be the main source of difficulty. Mrs. Emerson first tried curtains—long ones, and then café curtains, but neither result was too pleasing. So then she tried framing window in wood, allowing draperies on adjacent window to carry color. Result: a clean, uncluttered look.

Your modern new small home needs just as fine a heating system as a larger home does, and when you choose steel pipe radiant heating you get it . . . at no more and possibly less cost than you might pay for conventional systems. Where space is a factor only radiant heating allows you to utilize every inch of floor and wall space for living . . . because the heating coils are concealed in the floor or ceiling. Truly "invisible" heat! More, you'll experience a new kind of comfort . . . warm, draft-free floors, no "dead spots," vital, spring-like warmth, greater cleanliness.

*Various surveys from all parts of the country indicate an average cost of $1.00 or even less per sq. ft. of floor area for steel pipe radiant heating systems.

CONSULT YOUR ARCHITECT, BUILDER OR HEATING CONTRACTOR BEFORE YOU BUILD

Because your radiant heating system will be an integral part of the house, and must be planned right down to the last valve and pipe coil before construction is started, tell your architect, builder or heating contractor in advance that you want "invisible" steel pipe radiant heating. He will plan accordingly for mutual satisfaction, savings, and your lifelong comfort.

PAINTED FURNACE can be a bright and gay element when you decide to turn your basement into a family room. Rather than hide their heating plant behind a partition, the John T. Bryce family painted furnace as clown to fit right in with circus motif.

HINGED DOORS solved problem of how to avoid collisions between two doors that swung back against same narrow section of wall. The Harry Curtises of Sea Cliff, N. Have you ever been STARCHED?

Perhaps you at one time or another have been approached and shown a copy of this or another magazine and asked a series of questions such as: Do you recall a particular advertisement? Can you remember what the ad said? Which ad do you remember best?

These questions and others like them form a readership study known by the esoterics as Starch Reports. You'll be interested to learn that a large number of the magazine ads you see are based on analyses of these reports, the idea being that the use of certain words, combined with certain pictures, arranged in a certain way will result in your remembering a certain ad more than others.

Now, in this space each month we tell you something about our E-Z-DU washable wallpaper. The messages primarily are addressed to those who by choice or necessity are do-it-yourself advocates. The thought is very simple . . . if you are decorating a new home or redecorating an old one, try E-Z-DU Imperial wallpaper. It comes ready trimmed and pasted. You need only cut a strip to proper length, wet and sponge on the wall. That's all! Primer style picture instructions come with every roll. E-Z-DU wallpapering is really easy to do and the results are happy, the cost is modest. Ask your Imperial dealer for a demonstration.

Getting back to Starch...if you would like to confound the experts, remember this ad. It violates all the rules... too small, no pictures... many other things. Your comments might even revolutionize advertising. Heavens to Betsy!

Cut a cone 16" high and an 8" by 28" tree base from white blotter. Staple base (rolled) as shown. Cover with rows of 1" pleated red foil. You'll need staples, 1" and ½" balls, glue, glitter.

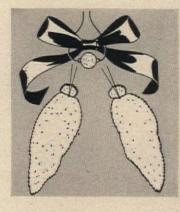

Sprinkle silver glitter on the moist glue covering the spiral lines on the tree. Then allow the glue to dry thoroughly. The next move? Just shake the cone gently to remove any surplus glitter. You might, incidentally, make several "trees" like this, and decorate some with small ornaments other than the ermine tails we used.

Pierce the blotter cone with a large, sharp needle at spaced intervals along the silver spirals. Run wire on one of the red ribbon bows into one of the holes and tie the wires on the inside. Repeat this procedure until tree is as well covered as the drawing above shows. If you tie wire firmly and store tree carefully, you can use it next year, too.

Draw diagonal lines 1" apart on the piece of white blotter that you have cut to form a 16" cone. Then staple the blotter in cone shape. Brush glue on the spiral lines. Before glue has a chance to dry, proceed to the next step.

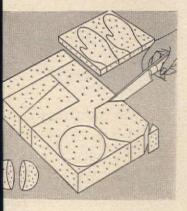

Ermine tails are not really ermine at all! These tails are of cotton shaped as shown. Tie two of these cotton tails at the top with fine wire and attach to a tiny bow of red ribbon. Make enough of these to cover tree to the extent that we covered it in the drawing of completed tree shown at the bottom of this page.

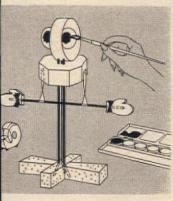

Wire a small ball to the bow, allowing 2" extra wire so you'll be able to tie this to tree. Brush India ink on the end of each tail to make it look like real ermine. Hang small red balls at evenly-spaced intervals around the base of the cone, and then set tree on top of the base.

SANTA-IN-THE-BOX

First get a block of 2" plastic foam. From this, cut head 6" wide, cross pieces for base, octagon-shaped collar. Cut mittens from ½" plastic foam. Cut a 2½" foam ball in half and glue in place for cheeks.

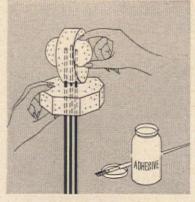

When body is all assembled, paint or color eyes on the plastic-foam head of "Santa-in-the-box." This whimsical figure does not pop out of the box, but looks as though it just had. It is delightful as a table centerpiece or a mantel decoration, and you can keep it to use over again, Christmas after Christmas.

Beard is wide tinsel, glued in place. Add tinsel eyebrows, paper pupils and a nose—a red ball. Line box with red foil, cover outside with striped paper, and put Santa in place inside. Cross pieces hold figure firmly in position. Now isn't it jolly?

Assemble body with heavy wire from coat hangers as shown above. The wire actually forms the body from the base to the collar. Glue cheeks in place. Glue red bows on the mittens, attach to collar with additional wires.

Santa wouldn't be Santa if he didn't look fat and jolly, so give him some padding next. Take a strip of cotton batting that is about 2" wide. Roll this strip around the plastic-foam head. Then roll a slightly wider strip of cotton batting around the octagon-shaped collar, and Santa is ready to be dressed.

To make Santa's cap, twist 2" pleated red foil paper as shown. You may need to pin or tape it to keep it in the form of a hat. Wind similar paper 1" wide around the arms and the body to form the suit. A tiny bit of tinsel glued on the end of the frivolous cap forms tassel.

Shaw Garden

English primroses, and blue hydrangeas, bordered by blue violas are growing under Brazilian pepper tree. Just beyond, camellias are espaliered against split paling fence. In foreground, we see again the broken line, this time a sharp one, of hard concrete, accomplished by the natural look of Palos Verdes rocks and a clump of iris. Mr. Eyerman also uses stones as a transitional material between one type of planting material and another. In the raised flower bed, stones mark a change from the shade plants to reptans (carpet bugle) which thrive in sun.

You will notice that the concrete walk, which runs around the outside edge of the yard, stops short at the far left, and immediate right, with the corner stretch planted with ajuga. The reason is, the fence is built so that eight feet of it will come out when they bring in the bulldozer to excavate for the pool. It will be easy enough to replace the low brick wall supporting the planting bed which will also come out, but he did not want to put in that section of concrete walk and then have to remove it too

Surely, this charming little garden for two professional people with only limited time week-ends to spend on gardening, provides indisputable proof that every little garden needs professional planning. In this little secluded square of beauty, the total effect is an atmosphere made for happy quiet hours, effortlessly expendable for unpredictable parties and unpatterned gay conversation for two busy, gregarious people.

Shaw House

The architecture of the Shaw house is primarily based on the traditional Pennsylvania stone farm house. The fieldstone, the roof pitch, narrow boxed cornices, dormers, the turned porch posts, and the entrance door are all reminiscent of the old Pennsylvania houses. Reminiscent of Williamsburg, the outside stairway leads from the master bedroom suite to the garden. Chimneys are capped like those on Pennsylvania farm houses-flues are big and must be covered to prevent down draft, and rain from going down inside.

The front yard is divided by a split rail fence trellising yellow roses (High Noon), planted with a ground cover of gazania, sweet alyssum, lobelia, and nierembergia, interspersed with iris and pelargonium, Palos Verdes stones, and for background height at the corners, low growing shrubs. Rocks were chosen for their shape, and ruggedness, and add, in limited space, a look of natural terrain. The main front yard has a ground cover of ivy, with a vibernum hedge running outside the fence, at left, and with white pelargonium, iris, day lilies, and yellow violas crowding along inside the fence.

At the rear, the house breaks with tradition to give a new look and a new outlook through a wide glazed area that looks out across a roofed terrace, used as porch, living room, and dining room, and on to the delightful little garden. Here is an outdoor spot equipped for twenty-four hour use. Why not have broad windows overlooking it? They let in light and air, are shaded from sun glare by the wide roofed terrace, and add visual extension of the living room to the far corners of the garden. It is right and proper to keep faith with the traditional small-paned windows at the front of the house. Front windows are mainly for light and ventilation, but at the back, we want to see out to the sun and fun. Free and easy relationship between indoors and outdoors is a tested, proven point in architectural design that we like. When we find it in a traditional house, it tells us how we have progressed in a solid fashion.

Floor is Armstrong Spatter® Linoleum, Style No. 5000

Getting up and making breakfast are almost fun when you're greeted by a cheerful kitchen like this. It's bright and sunny even on gray, chilly mornings, because the color scheme is warm with yellows and reds chosen from the gay floor of Armstrong Spatter Linoleum. But the floor gives this room even more than beauty. It adds wonderful practicality, too. There's hardly a seam ... hardly a place where dust can hide. Of course, the floor can't prevent an occasional grease splash or muddy footprint ... such things will happen. But this clever Spatter design does help conceal them until you have a free moment to whisk them away with a sponge mop. No wonder Spatter is such a popular design in Armstrong Linoleum—a modern floor that's a favorite all through the house.
