Boys wouldn't look at me, until I lost 135 pounds.

By Jana Wasile-as told to Ruth L. McCarthy

Now look at me today, at 150 pounds. Sound like a lot? Don't forget, I'm nearly six feet tall. And even in a checked dress, I think I look pretty slim.

"Ugh!" is exactly how I felt when I looked at this picture. And I was only 250 pounds here. Do you wonder why I tore up those of me at 285?

But boys never looked at me the way they looked at other girls. You see, I was 285 pounds and nearly six feet tall.

When I was born, 18 years ago, I was the longest baby ever delivered at the hospital in Washington, D.C. I wasn't skinny either. I weighed eleven pounds six ounces. And I added more every time I opened my mouth.

In school, teachers were always at me to reduce. My mother was, too. She bought me diet drinks. And calorie counters. And a reducing-plan candy, but I wouldn't even give that a chance. I said I needed something stronger, like a "miracle" drug. So she asked the doctor about diet pills, but they gave me nightmares, and I had to give them up.

My mother was frantic. Especially the year I gained 100 pounds. It was a particularly bad one for me. She had a serious operation. And my father had died. To console myself, I ate. And ate.

Finally, my mother sent me to a diet health camp. I lost 40 pounds. But when I returned home, it came right back.

That's when my mother gave up. "All right," she said, "be fat. But you can't stay home and hide." You see, I went out so little I was practically a "shut-in."

Yet I wanted friends, and to be liked. So I wrote a letter to "Sea Tiger," the Marine newspaper in Vietnam. I wanted to talk to boys without their seeing me. And Vietnam was a world away. To my amazement, I received 70 answers. I was popular at last-if only on paper.

Then one weekend, I went to Western

They stared at me. And laughed at me. Maryland College where my mother I'd just carry a few and, at lunch, I'd was singing. A girl friend came, too. When we arrived, it was footballpractice weekend. I'd never seen so many big, tall, handsome-looking boys. I was dying to meet them, but too embarrassed to play the flirting game. My girl friend wasn't. The snack bar was where the boys were. So she encouraged me to go in. When I saw their faces, I panicked and ran.

When I got home, I broke into tears. "Mamma, what am I going to do?" She said: "Jana, unless you, yourself, want to lose weight, nothing will work.

She was right. And I knew it. Only then did I ask her about Ayds, the reducing-plan candy she and a friend of hers had tried to get me to use before.

I bought a box at the drugstore. And I started taking Ayds the next morning. As soon as I'd get up, I'd eat one or two with hot coffee. After that I'd dress, then have juice and an egg. There are no harmful drugs in Ayds, so I didn't get jittery. Soon, I began to lose on the Ayds Plan-about two pounds a week, later as much as five. This gave me hope.

Ayds are great when you're at school.

Before and After Measurements
	Before	After
Height	5' 111/2"	5' 111/2"
Weight	285 lbs.	150 lbs.

take one or two as directed. Afterwards, I might have a chicken leg, some carrot strips and fruit. I'd feel plenty satisfied, too. Anyway, I knew when classes were over, I could always have another Ayds. I like the chewy vanilla caramel kind. But there's a fudgy chocolate mint and a plain chocolate fudge type.

When I'd lost about 25 pounds, somebody said: "That dress sure makes you look thinner." But when I'd taken off 85, they all knew it wasn't the clothes.

As the fat disappeared, I found all sorts of "new" bones in my body. Collarbones. Rib bones. Hip bones. When they first showed up, I thought they were growths!

As for my clothes, I kept taking them in. Lucky I could sew. And what a day it was when I bought my first nylons. I'd always gone barelegged, because I couldn't find any big enough.

It took me about 14 months to lose the 135 pounds. But when I did, my whole personality changed. And so did my life. I was no longer so irritable. I started to do better in school. I even enrolled in modeling school. Since then I've had numerous modeling jobs and it's just been marvelous.

But even more important than all this, the telephone began to ring. And for me. It rang so much, in fact, that my mother finally gave me a phone of my own for a birthday gift. Now I have a different kind of boy problem, thanks to the Ayds Plan. I have more dates than days in the week.

Sears drapery rods. Suddenly they outshine draperies.

If you thought traverse rods were about as exciting as thumb tacks, you're in for a beautiful surprise. At Sears. That's the place (and the only place) you'll find the Royal Family of drapery hardware.

Some very smart men invented a way to laminate vinyl to steel and get the look of brass or copper, of wrought iron or carved wood. The rich, massive look is there. But the weight that pulls out the plaster is gone!

And the shapes shown here are just part of Sears Royal Family collection. There's an Early American rod tipped with shining eagles. An Aztec sunburst design that's perfect for modern rooms. A Regency gem for you who are antique lovers.

Of course every single rod is engineered to pull drapes smoothly. Quietly. Above all, beautifully! Come see our Royal Family soon. At most Sears, Roebuck and Co. stores and in the catalog.

You've changed a lot lately So has Sears

Pure wool carpets create islands of color, seas of texture in today's trend-setting homes.

The island life is enjoyed to the full here in Villa Manteca, Ralph and Diana Chapman's luxury lookout on the bluffs outside Montego Bay in Jamaica. It is designed to provide them with beautiful views. On one side, a panorama of white-walled town. On the other, an open vista of blue sea. Inside some fresh views of Karastan islands—the pure wool carpets that show how you can bring today's luxury life into your home.

The dining room calls for a delicious area rug: Karastan's Arribeau, an antique Afghan design. Available in 7 sizes including the 9' x 12' size at $250*, and in 12 festive color combinations.

From the veranda: a fabulous view of Montego Bay.

The study brims with the bold Spanish look of Porteau by Karastan. Available in 6 sizes and 11 color combinations, at $299 for the 9' x 12' size.

KARASTAN BRINGS YOU THE ISLAND LIFE

In the living room, Karastan's deep Dinameau rug sinks your feet into pure wool luxury. Available as area rugs, with or without fringe, at $225* for a 9' x 12' fringed version, and also as broadloom at $14.95 per square yard. In Pavana Blue as shown, or in 20 other colorings. See your Karastan dealer for a personal view of all the pure wool carpets by Karastan.

The Woolmark is your assurance of quality tested carpets made of pure wool pile.

Karastan Rug Mills, a division of Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 295 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. The Senator from Maine lost the election. But his rugged ability to blend change with tradition won him the nation's affection. Here he spells out a ringing new credo for Americans today and their houses. We are pleased to present his ideas to our readers.

Tear down the walls

By Senator Edmund S. Muskie.

I feel about the home what I feel about other institutions in American life. If it is to survive it must reflect the times.

We live today in the richest, most diverse society in history. Technology has afforded us the widest range of experience and personal choice of any civilization.

Science has freed for us unprecedented blocks of time for creative pursuits.

Individualism has become our hallmark.

The home must be relevant to this environment.

Make no mistake, I have deep, traditional feelings about home. My childhood memories are of a small, simple New England house in which each member of the family contributed a measure of love and a measure of work.

It was predictable. But so were the times.

In contrast to the home in which my five children are being raised today, we had no family room with climate control and color television or foreign-doll collection gathered in jet travels around the world, or tropical fish that thrive on scientifically prepared, vitamin-enriched food bought at a supermarket, or stainproof furniture on which we could choose to eat a hamburger, paint a picture, or build tracks for plastic cars.

There was no separate library with a private telephone and stereophonic music for my father. Or a kitchen where the woman of the house could cook, thaw, wash, dry, and dispose of the garbage, effortlessly and simultaneously.

In contrast to the home in which I was raised, family roles have shifted too. Fathers are less authoritarian. Mothers are away more, involved in interests outside the house. Children expect their right to be heard.

Never before have so many of us demanded a sense of participation in private and public affairs.

Never before has it been so clear to all of us that young and old alike must respond to people, ideas, relationships if our society is going to work.

That is why the concept of home, where we spend three-quarters of our lives, must be reexamined in the context of contemporary times. I think the young have the right idea.

Young families reject the cliché that "home is where you hang your hat." Too many have been raised in homes in which materialism has been lord of the household, and respect for the other person has been overruled by the mindless worship of things. A home that is a statement of our times must be functional, comfortable, and aesthetically pleasing. It must invite the appreciation of tradition without being a slave to it.

The young today challenge also the cliché that "home is where the heart is." They want more: A place to let down their guard; to strengthen relationships; a place to stretch the mind. A home should be a center for education and communication. It must have space and flexibility so that each family member can adapt to his constantly changing interests: doll dresses, soul music, gourmet cooking; privacy, reflection, joy, friendship.

Certainly, the young people of our diverse society read new meaning in the old cliché "be it ever so humble, there's no place like home." They are sensitive to the fact that too many Americans live in substandard homes that rob them of the dignity which is their birthright. We cannot consider the home as an institution relevant to this century until every man has a decent house.

I think each of us should think of the home as an extension of an open society that includes privacy but precludes walls—walls between families, neighbors, and governments.

Tearing down the plaster walls of an era past—building more openness into our daily lives—can heal the breach between our divided, isolated generations.

Tearing down inadequate walls that shut off opportunity and bind poor people to another age can help to heal our nation.

Tearing down walls in our institutions can build trust between individuals and governments.

Let us start to demolish the barriers in the American home.

Easily. Beautifully. With Heirloom Documents Fabrics and American Traditional furniture both from Ethan Allen.

What a problem it can be to put all your favorite things together, harmoniously, in one room.

Ethan Allen's home planners to the rescue with American Traditional furniture and Heirloom Documents fabrics.

Antiqued Pine is the basic furniture style we've selected. But notice how ingeniously we've used it in both Old Tavern and Holly Green finishes?

This way, one family room contains as many elements as a dining area, a living area, even a small desk for family business. And everything is coordinated with Heirloom Documents fabrics: Tavern Check on the side chairs, picking up the colors in a Crewel pattern for the Country Casual sofa and Wing chair.

The effect is warm and comfortable; casual and inviting.

And with more than enough room for each and every treasure to be shown on, stored in, or used with. American Traditional furniture, and Heirloom Documents fabrics in the confident hands of an Ethan Allen Gallery room planner can develop any personal decorating idea you might have.

Come in and learn about 2000 furniture designs and 145 fabric designs, and ask for your free 336-page Ethan Allen Treasury, at your nearest Ethan Allen Gallery. They're listed on the preceding page.

Now you can embroider our popular bird prints

By Dorothy Lambert Brightbill

Our American Home bird prints have enjoyed such overwhelming popularity we are happy now to offer you these copies of the brilliant cardinals and sprightly bluebirds to embroider. The embroidery is planned to clearly delineate each beautiful bird feather and the delicate petals of the flower borders. The designs are stamped on creamy white 100 percent linen to fit a frame size 16½ by 20 inches. Complete instructions are included. Frames and mats are also available. The high-quality frames have a soft brown fruitwood finish with a gold lip. Mats are moss green. For kit number and prices see coupon.

SHAGGY RUG STORY? Forget it for the flat look that's taking over the floor—fast. In flat weaves it's pattern (small geometrics, stripes, florals) not texture, that spells luxury. You'll see needlepoint, axminster, tight loop (plain or patterned), flocked and printed needlepunch, and Scandinavian flat weaves (these are reversible). Practicality is the big plus for flats. No place for dirt to get buried on those feltlike surfaces, footsteps won't crush the pile, and pattern disguises everyday lint between vacuumings.

GRAY ON THE WAY—You're much too young to remember tattletale gray—so you'll believe banker's gray sheets, pillowcases, and blankets striped in chalk white (by Bettina for Stevens). Assistant Decorating Editor Alexandra Walker, reporting from the annual Atlantic City China and Glass Show, spotted gray (also beige and no-color greige), long the darlings of the decorating trade, making quite a hit in dinnerware. The silver gray of platinum banding (Syracuse's new pattern) makes it a natural with chrome and glass modern; Sango's check comes in gray as does Iroquois's ovenproof china (plate has a blob of gray at its center) while Lenoxware has a new muted shade, a no-color they call Pebblestone. Associate Decorating Editor, Helene Brown, who covers the rug market, also predicts gray as the big new 1969 color.

MADE TO ORDER FOR DO IT YOURSELFERS—Nafco's unique new sheet vinyl flooring. Unique because the edges of all rolls are precut to follow the contours of patterns which include Italian marble, slate, Moresque, and brick. All you have to do is line up the pattern, apply liquid vinyl to the seam and then vinyl sand over this. When the excess sand is wiped away, you have a secure, permanent seam. Also: Self-adhesive Sculp-Tex tile for walls and ceilings (8½ inches square, 6 to a package) are made of vinyl-coated fabric on a plastic foam base and marketed by Huntington Industries. They can be cut with scissors, bent on the edge of a table, and are said to be washable.

PORTABLE LIGHTING. New lamps are so different from the old base, bulb, and shade concept, we hesitate even to call them lamps. Point of many new designs is that they shape the light, become light sculptures. Examples shown are by Ed Whiting for Raymore. The column lamp (right) that sheds a gentle shaft of light, could replace the traditional glow of candlelight. Even more avant-garde is Trolley desk lamp. It consists of a light box that travels to where it does the most good on clear plastic tracks.

All about decorating I The sculptured house

In the environments he creates and the houses he builds, man usually prefers the straightedge discipline of geometry to nature's more fluid organic forms. Usually, but not always.

There's a long history of rebellion against the conventional architecture of the rectangular or square six-sided container: the box.

If present-day rebels are more vocal, it is because today's smaller houses, smaller room sizes, and lack of surface decoration are making most modern houses seem so much more boxy. The frustration therefore much greater. Favoring the avantgarde is the fact that newly developed materials and techniques make it easier and faster, hence more economical, to build (should we say inflate or spray?) a nongeometric, sculptured house. The two sprayed urethane-foam structures, photographed at New York's Museum of Contemporary Crafts (above), were installed in one single week. Yale students of architecture Turner Brooks, Tom Dryer, and Jerry Wagner made the Alice-in-Wonderland cluster and tunnel environment. Designer Douglas Deeds was responsible for turning the Museum's lobby into a luminous cave.

Photographer: Harry Hartma

The late Frederick Kiesler, a pioneer of nongeometric architecture (Endless House see above), believed the continuous curve symbolizes the endless cycles of nature.

What do we mean by Kid-Cushioned?

Beauty that's more than skin-deep. Kid-Cushioned Floors aren't just cushioned vinyl. But improved Congoleum cushioned vinyl. With extra vinyl to cushion its beauty against the beating floors take from kids

... better than other floors. They have the-cushion-in-the-middle. So when your children jump up-and-down, slam, bang, and rough-house, the cushion "gives." Then bounces back to its original beauty.

Accidents wipe up quickly & easily.

Scuffs? Scratches? Marks?

Forget 'em! Our vinyl is tougher & thicker.

"My, what a warm, quiet room..."

It's true. Kid-Cushioned Floors help make rooms warmer and quieter. The cushion-in-the-middle insulates. Helps shut out cold and kill chill. Helps absorb and deaden sound. (How nice on your nerves!)

Yet Kid-Cushioned Floors never cost more, and usually much less than their imitators.

How's 153 for choice?

Kid-Cushioned Floors come in 153 color-pattern combinations that can take a beating... without showing it.
153 fashionable floors for families. Far more than any other brand.

Mothers Beware:

It was invented & perfected by us: Only one man sells it. Your Congoleum dealer. (He's in the Yellow Pages.) Free: "Kid-Cushioned Decorating Ideas!" A helpful 24-page color booklet. Write to Congoleum, Box 900,

All about decorating/Accessorizing coffee tables By Helene Brown

Tabletops must be functional, but that shouldn't preclude their being attractive. Hard to do? Not at all. Just look at the tables pictured here. All accessories are scaled to the individual table. The colors and materials are chosen to complement one another and are arranged in interesting compositions.

Large table (right) holds generous-sized accessories. Crystal vase is heightened with wheat; antique box holds coasters, napkins, etc. Instead of the usual bowl dripping with flowers, why not experiment with vases of varying sizes? At right, daisies, tulips, and iris in yellow and white china vases dot the edge of a dark lacquer table. For height and balance, a pagodacarrying elephant. Ashtrays can be different too. Use one large china plate instead of a conventional ashtray. Both settings by Dan Hawkins of Burge/Donghia, Inc.

Crystal and clear plastic (above left) allow glass and steel table to retain its see-through look. Note: a few books are attractive but too many are cumbersome. And books as well as magazines look best when stacked neatly. Designers, Harry Schule and John McCarville.

Lighting on the table? Yes, if it's a handsome light sculpture (above center). Stacking containers take up little space, break away easily. Above, cardboard boxes for candy, nuts, etc. Papier-maché sculpture just for fun. All furniture and accessories from Scarabaeus, Ltd., New York City.

The great American hang-up: what goes with what.

Wall-Tex, that's what.

It goes with everything. From Early American bedrooms to Pop Art bathrooms.

It goes with any color combination.

It goes with any type of pattern or fabric.

It even goes with little kids. All it needs is a little soap and water to keep it looking new. Even when it's old.

In short, if you have a room, Wall-Tex goes with it.

But to help make your choice of what goes with what a little easier we came up with the Mini-Match Maker Sampler.

It's a home-size version of our Wall-Tex dealer Match Maker sample book.

Many patterns with matching fabrics.

Use it to match rugs, draperies, flooring and upholstery with any Wall-Tex pattern. Right in your home.

You can get the Mini-Match Maker Sampler by mailing 25¢ (to cover mailing charges) along with this coupon.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

All about decorating

Flower designer by appointment to the Beautiful People that's this month's expert adviser, MacDonald Forbes of New York City.

"When planning to use more than one arrangement in a room, vary the sizes-mix a few tightly closed buds in with your flowers. Camellia foliage is a very good mixer, so is podocarpus, especially for a larger bouquet. Baby's breath? It's much too busy looking. Better no flowers at all than those boring standbys: gladiolus, chrysanthemums, and pompons. Find a florist who carries unusual flowers."

MacDonald Forbes on the subject of roses: "Ask your florist for 'Bridal Pink.' 'Orange Delight.' or 'Forever Yours.' Don't settle for the hackneyed 'Better Times' he stocks.

"Flowering plants like geraniums or hyacinths are nice when cut; so are hydrangea blossoms. Lift late-winter spirits with a branch of quince, forsythia, or dogwood.

'I'm still hung up on baskets, especially antique baskets," MacDonald Forbes says. "But baskets should be used au naturel, not all gussied up with velvet bows and streamers. Collect baskets. Even those wonderful mushroom baskets from the supermarket make great containers. Clay pots make good vases too. Mossy clay pots have more character than new ones. Use natural (red) clay pots rather than white painted ones.

"Unless you're prepared to change the water

Expert advice on flowers

every day to keep it pure and sparkling, don't use glass containers.

"To keep flowers fresh, strip foliage and leaves from all flower stems, then harden in cold water for several hours before arranging in vases. When cutting flowers, use a sharp knife, never scissors (they crush stems and this prevents water absorption). Dahlias and other flowers with woody stems should be put in boiling water to seal them off and preserve them."

All about decorating/New traditional rugs

The fun of furnishing your home today is due in part to trying new things . . . and that means mixing the old with the new. Witness here three very different rugs, each steeped in tradition and exotic origins, and yet the perfect complement to today's interiors. Originally painstakingly produced by hand, modern counterparts are machine made. Colors range from neutral to primary.

Outstanding among the many fine Scandinavian design contributions is the rya rug. This rug is characterized by its deep shag pile made by knotting individual lengths of wool, cotton, or flax into a backing. The most popular ryas today are made of natural or bleached flax that has an interesting stringlike texture, or wool dyed in a wide variety of soft colors. There are also patterned ryas, woven in traditional or modern designs and usually produced in deep multicolored combinations. Rya rug (left) from Scandinavian Marketing Associates, New York City.

The flokati rug, a product of Greece, is made today as it was centuries ago. Long, lustrous strands of wool are woven so that each strand forms not only the pile but a self-backing as well. A unique downy quality is achieved by washing the finished rugs under a waterfall until the fibers are soft and purified. Rugs are left in their natural state, dyed in dazzling colors or smoky dark tones. Flokati rug (below, center) from D/R International, New York City.

Needlepoint is now and has been from the time of William the Conqueror a favorite and fashionable pastime. Machine-made rugs with the luxe look of needlepoint are now available. Real excitement is in the updated versions. Geometrics and stylized flowers with interesting border treatments, and colors from muted to bold create lots of underfoot excitement. It blacks-out light, blocks-out cold drafts, and hot waves, and blanks out sound.

There really is such a thing as a lightproof, thermal, acoustical drapery?

There really is. Read closely.

A thin layer of black acrylic hidden between drapery fabric and backing makes it completely lightproof. Neither sun nor a searchlight can get through.

A marshmallow-white acrylic backing helps maintain room temperature by trapping cold or heat that seeps through a window. It also softens sound.

All the room-side of the drapery does is look helplessly beautiful. It's Avisco® rayon and cotton woven into jacquard and homespun designs—in just about every current and classic color.

Are you still with us? It also machinewashes, tumble dries, needs no ironing.

A single-width, floor-to-ceiling length pair is about $13 to $16, which may be less than what you spend on sleeping masks, earplugs, extra blankets.

Just be sure you have an alarm clock.

That unusual brass chandelier comes from England. The big picnic cart near the pool is from Spain. The ceramic kittens from Italy. And the refrigerator-freezer is from Sears, Roebuck and Co.

"I've never seen anything like my Sears Coldspot Supermart. Part of it can actually convert from a refrigerator to a freezer," says the chic Maria Cole. "The right side is a big roomy refrigerator. The left side is normally all freezer. But you can open the top door on the left, twist a dial, and convert that section to more refrigerator space. And when you want more freezer space after a big dinner, turn the dial back — and it converts to a freezer again."

We want to test your writing aptitude

If you have ever wanted to write, here is an opportunity to find out if you have talent worth developing. Take this revealing Aptitude Test created by 12 famous authors

By Bennett Cerf

If you want to write, my colleagues and I would like to test your writing aptitude. We'll help you find out if you can be trained to become a successful writer.

We know that many men and women who could become writers - and should become writers-never do. Some are uncertain of their talent and have no reliable way of finding out if it's worth developing. Others, who are surer of their ability, simply can't get topnotch professional training without leaving their homes or giving up their jobs.

A plan to help others

Several years ago, I joined forces with 11 other authors including Faith Baldwin, Rod Serling and Bruce Catton to do something about this problem. We started the Famous Writers School to help promising beginners everywhere acquire the skill and craftsmanship it takes to break into print...to pass on to them our own techniques for achieving success and recognition.

Over many months, we poured everything we know about writing into a new kind of professional training coursewhich you take at home and in your free time. The Course begins with the fundamentals of good writing upon which every successful writing career must be built. Then you get advanced training in the specialty of your choice -Fiction, Non-Fiction, Advertising Writing or Business Writing. You learn step-by-step.

Every writing assignment you return to the School is carefully examined by instructors who are themselves professional writers or editors, working under the guidance of the 12 of us who developed the Course.

You are a "class of one"

Your instructor goes over your work line by line, word by word, blue-penciling his changes on your manuscript, much as an editor does with an established author. Then he returns it to you with a long letter of specific advice and guidance on how to improve your writing. While this writer-instructor is appraising your work, nobody else competes for his attention. You are, literally, a "class of one."

Students breaking into print

This training works well. Our students have sold their writing to hundreds of publications, including True, Ladies' Home Journal, Popular Science, Redbook, the Reader's Digest, McCall's and The New York Times Magazine.

Doris Agee of San Mateo, Cal., says, "The view from this part of the worldthe top-is indescribable. I've just received a big, beautiful check from the Reader's Digest for a 'Most Unforgettable Character' piece. There's no question about it, without the Famous Writers School, the article would never have Frances Kane of Chicago writes: "Just earned a $200 fee for an article. I'm so pleased I'd like to tell prospective writers to quit wasting time and enroll. I wouldn't trade your individual help-from professional writers-for any share-the-instructor classroom course anywhere?"

"In the last 18 months," says Andrea Herman of Akron, Ohio, "I've made 37 sales. I can't stop writing-my head is full of ideas!"

"McCall's sent me a $1,000 check and began its new 'Turning Points' series with my article," reports Mary Ann Baumeister of Springfield, Va. "This one sale has made it all worthwhile"

"I've made my first sale, a half-hour TV show to CBS Television in Chicago. They've said they'll buy every script I write for them and they want at least six more," announces Pamela Sutton of Crystal Lake, Illinois.

'When I enrolled in your Course, I was an unpublished writer," reports Sharon Wagner of Mesa, Arizona. "Since then, I have made 40 sales, including several novels and a novelette and I now live on my writing income."

Doris Stebbins of South Coventry, Conn., writes, "Your Course made it possible for me to sell six articles to Woman's Day for $2,500"

Evelyn Fiske of Chicago, who writes short stories in addition to holding down a full-time job, announces: "I've sold 18 stories, ranging in price from $125 to $375. I've been greatly encouraged by Famous Writers; the new writer can sell!

Beyond the thrill of receiving that first check, our students find great intangible rewards in writing for publication. If one sentence you write opens a door for another human being...makes him see with your eyes and understand with your mind and heart ... you'll gain a sense of fulfillment that no other work can bring you.

Writing Aptitude Test offered

To find other men and women with ability worth developing, my colleagues and I have devised a revealing writing Aptitude Test. The postage-paid card will bring you a copy, along with a 48page illustrated brochure describing the Famous Writers School.

When you return the Test, it will be graded without charge by a member of our staff. If you do well on the Testor offer other evidence of writing aptitude-you may enroll for professional training by the School. However, you are under no obligation to do so. (If card is missing, please write to Famous Writers School, Westport, Connecticut 06880. Give your name, address, age and ask for writing Aptitude Test.)

Bennett Cerf, distinguished publisher, is also widely known as an author, lecturer, columnist and television personality. He has been a member of the Guiding Faculty of the Famous Writers School since its founding in 1960. His most recent book is the best-selling Treasury of Atrocious Puns, about which he says, "We may bridle at the yoke, but we'll never outgroan the pun."

Spots are formed by slow, uneven drying in the rinse cycle of your dishwasher. And changing your detergent may not help you. No detergent even gets into the final rinse cycle. That's where Jet-Dry comes in.

Jet-Dry is not a detergent. It's a rinse agent that works in the rinse cycle and helps dry dishes so fast, so evenly, spots can't form. Jet-Dry: The thing to try after you've tried everything.

'S "IN" TO OWN A TRUCK

By ALEXANDER MARKOVICH

People used to hide them behind warehouses and barns or park them down the street in front of somebody else's house. Now you see them proudly displayed in suburban driveways, at resorts, in front of country clubs, in all the places where the station wagon once reigned. Meet the latest "in" vehicle: the truck.

Something has happened to light-duty pickups and panel vans. Like air conditioning. And eight-track stereo tape players. And pushbutton windows, automatic transmissions, high-performance V-8s, and power-assisted steering and brakes. And camper add-ons.

ENTER, THE NON-TRUCK

Light trucks just don't look or feel or sound or drive like trucks any more. They've been dressed up with sleek, sedan-inspired styling and tasteful chrome trim. Bare-metal interiors have yielded to pleated vinyl, contoured bucket seats, full headliners, and carpeting. Mechanical noises have been hushed and the jounce is out of the ride.

But all this is just tinsel to attract the potential buyer. It's the fantastic cargo- and people-room that usually clinches the sale. The modern pickup looks much like a sedan whose body has been cut away from the front seat on back to make room for a long, roofless cargo box; a tailgate at the rear hinges down for easy loading and unloading. Stretched versions with four-door, six-seater "crew" cabs are available for transporting people.

The panel van, a vehicle that looks like a shrunken bus, begins its cargo area immediately behind the driver's seat. One or two optional, easily removable bench seats can be specified for extra passengers. All vans have rear-load opening and most have one or two side openings; these measure slightly more than four feet square.

When it comes to roominess, station wagons don't even come close. Rambler, the smallest, has less than a third of the cargo space of a small van; the largest wagon, the Oldsmobile, has less than half the space of a van. At least the tall, homely, wood-trimmed wagons of a couple of decades ago could carry a healthy stack of four-byeight panels upright. Most of today's low-slung dreadnaughts won't take a four-by-eight upright or flat-just diagonally. And try hauling a dozen 80-pound sacks of sand or cement in a modern wagon.

PRICE IS VERY MUCH AN OBJECT

Then there's a little matter of price. Ford, Chevrolet, Dodge, GMC, International, and Volkswagen all make low-line pickups and vans that list for under $2500. The Jeep line is slightly higher, but it offers costly four-wheel drive. The price champ is the small, Japanesemade Datsun pickup, that costs $1800. Even the biggest, ruggedest, fanciest light crew-cab pickups list for $3500 or less. Here again, station wagons lose out. Only the diminutive Rambler lists for under $2500. And a Chrysler is $4652 with no optional equipment.

All told, it's plain to see why more and more perfectly normal, rational people-professional men, business executives, salesmen, housewives, and teenagers-are switching to trucks. Ten years ago, only about 640,000 light-duty trucks (up to 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight) were sold. Most went to tradesmen and farmers. By the time all of last year's figures are tabulated, sales will have reached an all-time high, probably well over 1.5 million. At least two out of three new light trucks are being used mostly or entirely for commuting and pleasure driving, only one in five strictly for business. Although passenger-car sales may dip slightly this year, lighttruck sales are expected to soar. (continued on page 86)

A totally new development for household cleaning!

Janitor-in-a-Drum the first industrial-strength cleaner for your home

To clean up the grease and grime of industry is a cleaning job for experts, people who can't pussyfoot around with dirt.

They use an industrial-strength cleaner, a stronger cleaner than any household cleaner you use in your home.

But now you can buy Janitor-in-a-Drum Industrial-Strength Cleaner, the same concentrated liquid used by industry to speed up those big, tough cleaning jobs.

New Janitor-in-a-Drum cuts through dirt and grease a lot faster than conventional cleaners. Think what this can mean. Like most homemakers you may be using a cleaner that is just adequate. Mixed with water it does clean your home. But, did you ever stop to think how much of that cleaning action is you and how much is in the cleaner?

With Janitor-in-a-Drum Industrial-Strength
Cleaner, the muscle is in the drum. For tough jobs it's strong enough to get oil spots off a garage floor, even clean a greasy car motor. And for big jobs, floors, walls, all washable surfaces, it gets you through in record time.

Try new Janitor-in-a-Drum. The industrial-strength cleaner now sold in convenient, 1-quart drums.

It's earned the Good Housekeeping Seal.

Is it deductible, taxable, or worth stewing about at all? Proper handling of even a minor item can save time in collecting any tax refund you may be entitled to.

Question: I gave a refrigerator to a needy couple this past year. I have a receipt to prove it, and assumed I could deduct it as a charitable donation. Now a friend tells me that I can't because it was an individual gift and not made to a charitable organization. However, it was through such an organization that I learned of this couple and their need.

If I state this fact on my tax return, won't that make it a legitimate deductible?

Answer: No. Even if you'd given the refrigerator to the organization you couldn't deduct its value if you had specified that it was to go to this particular couple. When the purpose of a charitable donation is to help a particular person or persons, that's putting strings on it and you can't claim a tax benefit.

Question: Is the social security tax I pay on the wages of domestic help deductible on my federal tax return?

Answer: No.

Question: Some years ago I lent $1000 to my daughter and her husband when they married. It was a plain and simple loan, not a gift. They were to have repaid it within that year, but the first baby came sooner than they'd planned. So two years ago I finally gave up hope of getting the money back and claimed it as a bad debt.

Now this past year, their fortunes picked up and they repaid all of it. My problem is: Do I just forget about it, since it has already been established, tax-wise, as a bad debt? Would this unexpected $1000 in 1968 be "forgiven" by the IRS?

Answer: When a bad debt is eventually collected, after you claimed it as such, the sum collected must be included in your income for the year in which you received it—at least that part of the previous deduction which resulted in a decrease in your tax.

Question: I have read that "nonbusiness bad debts are deductible in the year they become worthless." How do I decide when a nonbusiness—or family—debt that hasn't been paid is "worthless"? I have been convinced of it myself but how do I convince the IRS?

Answer: Payment must not only be uncollectible at the time you officially claim it is, but circumstances you cite must also make it appear uncollectible any time in the future.

First, you must be able to show that you took "reasonable steps" to collect this debt but not necessarily by going into court. If the information you give about the debtor's affairs shows clearly that even a court judgment against him couldn't produce the money, that stamps it as "uncollectible."

Question: I'm wondering how to figure my self-employment tax, since I get earnings from two different "self-employed" sources. One is part-time book-keeping and the other is cabinetmaking. But on one I didn't end up with the specified $400-or-more earnings for 1968. On the other, I did better. Do I report just one?

Answer: You're supposed to combine the net earnings from all businesses you're engaged in when you figure your self-employment tax. So if you come out with a loss in one of them that reduces correspondingly the income from the other.

Question: I'm 68 and this past year have been put on a special diet for ulcers. I actually have to pay more for this special diet than it would otherwise cost me to eat. So doesn't that come under the heading of medical expenses which I can deduct? I have heard that angina patients can deduct the cost of such medicines as whiskey.

Floor is new Kentile RibandelTM Vinyl Asbestos Tile in excitingly warm Pumpkin tone. Six other greaseproof, easy-to-care-for colors, ranging from brashly bold to subtly muted. Kentile® Dealer? See the Yellow Pages under "Floors."

The $40 room-stretcher

Great new Kentile surprise! It's Ribandel—the vinyl tile with the unique, ribbon-flo styling designed to make any small room look magically bigger. Compare before and after pictures above—and notice how Ribandel's parallel ribbons suggest a room of far greater size. Price? For about $40, you can install Ribandel yourself in any 10' x 12' room! P.S. With Ribandel, your design possibilities are endless, because each 12" x 12" tile is laid individually.

Dry-Hards are tough-to-clean foods—like eggs, fruit pie, oatmeal, meat fats, sauces—that dry and cake and stick. And stick. And stick. To plates. On forks. Filming glasses. Electrasol, fortified with 20% more active cleaning ingredients than other leading dishwasher detergents, really removes Dry-Hards. Lets your dishwasher give you cleaner, brighter, film-free dishes.

Test proves fortified Electrasol's superiority against Dry-Hards. Egg cup with Dry-Hard paste of egg, oatmeal and blueberry pie baked on for ten minutes at 330°F came out looking this way when washed in another leading dishwasher detergent.

Identical Dry-Hard egg cup—but cleaned in Electrasol, fortified with 20% more active cleaning ingredients than other leading brands. Try Electrasol. It removes Dry-Hard soils, prevents them from drying into spots on dishes, glasses and silverware.

You would be amazed at what a difference your eyebrows make to your face. Along with your hairdo, eyebrows are powerful makers or breakers of your looks. Eyebrow makeup is one of the easiest of all cosmetics to apply properly. But paradoxically, it is one of the cosmetics most women go wrong with most often. Here are some tips which should help you to flattering eyebrows, and a new measure of expressiveness in your face.

BRUSH-ON CAKE EYEBROW MAKEUP

Cake makeup is soft, natural-looking, and the easiest to apply. It comes with a little wedge-shaped brush that adapts itself to the arch of the brow and the thick and thin areas. You use the slanted side of the brush for the widest part of the brow. You use the point for the slender "tail" of the brow. Lightness of touch is everything. Cake makeup is a good choice if your brows primarily need a bit more color, rather than reshaping.

EYEBROW PENCIL

Eyebrow pencil is the classic choice of the professional makeup artist. You can achieve more shaping with a pencil than with the brush-on cake makeup. With short, light, feathered strokes you can sketch in, hair by hair, a lifted and arched brow that instantly livens and zings up your expression. Pencil is a good choice if your brows need "help."

COLOR

Here is where so many women go wrong. Choosing too dark a shade is one of the most common eyebrow mistakes, and it's fatal to your looks! Choose light, medium, or dark brown, auburn, or one of the muted ash grays. Gray does not look gray on the brow—blended with the natural brow it's a subtle, believable color. Forget black entirely—it's much too harsh, even for true brunettes and even though it's widely sold.

The important thing is that your eyebrow makeup flatters your skin tone. If you think of your brows as two arcs standing out against a background and that background is your skin, you'll see why they must flatter each other in color. Blondes, beware of the too-dark brow. Many a pretty blonde face is spoiled by brows that are very pale and need more definition. First try a very light brow, then a slightly darker one. Brunettes, experiment with browns mixed with gray. Redheads, try auburn. For the shade that does the most for you, flattering your skin and chiming with your hairdo, do as models do: blend two or more shades together.

If you have trouble keeping your brow makeup in place and if you sometimes glance in the mirror to find that your brows have more or less vanished, there can be several causes. This can happen if your skin tends to be oily, or if you have not removed all residue of cleansing creams or lotions. Or perhaps you have an unconscious habitual gesture of touching your hand to your brow (when your youngest is being impossible, for example). Your makeup will last longer if you first make sure that both brow and surrounding skin are dry and free of creams. Also try first brushing on, in the wrong direction, a light coat of oil-absorbing powder. Brush off excess in the same direction hairs grow. (continued)

Motherhood. Beautiful. But a tremendous responsibility for giving, loving, understanding ... and that all takes time.

DELFEN* Contraceptive Foam can give you that precious time.

DELFEN ... a delightfully feminine contraceptive that works alone. Pure white and delicate, it applies in seconds. It is totally undetectable in use. And there's nothing to remember "later." Nothing to remove and no douching.

How effective is it? It is a highly acceptable alternative to "the pill." It has been used successfully by women for over 6 years and doctors recommend it. Yet you can buy it without a prescription at drugstores throughout the U.S. and Canada.

DELFEN Contraceptive Foam... when time is precious.

DELFEN is also available in cream form.

EYEBROWS MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

The lighteners came in with the current revival of the skinny hairline brows of the thirties and forties, à la Dietrich and company. If you'd like to see how you'd look with pencil-thin brows, without drastically plucking, blot out your natural brows with a lightener, and then sketch on a fashionable arch with makeup. Lighteners come in powder cake form. You can also use them to minimize too heavy brows. You can experiment with Revlon's Moon Drops Translucent Brow Lightener ($2.50) in Demi Ash, Demi Beige, Demi Copper, Demi Honey, or Demi Platinum.

PLUCKING

Pluck brows mostly from below, except for strays around the edges. Pluck so that the lower edge of your brow slants slightly upward below the natural arch. Pull in the direction in which the hair grows, in short quick little tugs. Don't pluck just before going out. Give the resulting red puffiness a chance to subside. Cotton pads dipped in cold water or witch hazel help.

SHAPING TRICK

To find out where the highest point of your arch should be, look straight. ahead in the mirror. The point on your brow directly above the outer edge of your pupil marks the spot, and you can pinpoint it with a tiny dot of makeup. To find out where your brow should end, hold a pencil in a diagonal line so that it touches both the edge of your nose and the outer edge of your eve. Place another tiny dot where the pencil crosses your brow line. Then apply makeup upward to the peak dot, outward to the terminal dot. Apply color from inner corner to peak, then to tip. Stroke from lower edge of brow to upper in light diagonals like slash marks (///).

KEEP YOUR PENCIL SHARPENED

You can't do a good brow with a worn-down stump of an eyebrow pencil. Choose the kind that comes with automatic sharpener, or the ever-sharp metal kind which comes with separate eyebrow leads.

DOS AND DON'TS

Do apply eyebrow makeup in short, light strokes-so light that at first it seems almost no color is coming from your brush or pencil. As you feather it on, color will gradually emerge—the more gradual, the more natural!

Do apply color from the lower edge of your brow upward to the top edge-the way individual hairs actually grow.

Do avoid downward lines—they look depressing.

Do stop the makeup close to where the brow naturally stopstoo much elongation looks fake.

Do experiment with blending brow colors.

Do smooth in color with a cotton-tipped swab on your finger after you have applied it. The camouflaging is less detectable this way.

Don't ever attempt to bleach your brows at home—it's dangerous to your eyes. Lightening makeup is a better choice.

Don't ever draw or brush on an unbroken line of color.

Don't assume heavy brows necessarily have to go. They could be the very thing that gives your face individual distinction.

The upcoming housing boom of the 1970s will differ from that of the 1950s. For instance, production of 1.9 to 2 million homes per year will be normal, but 40 to 45 percent of these will be apartments versus 20 percent in the '50s.

Planned communities will be more common than at present, and will be a combination of apartments, town houses, and onefamily homes.

The biggest change will be in technology. Due to rising costs, many homes will be assembled in factories, trucked to the site for use either as-is or in stacked units. (See photo, top right.)

"Wrap up all your financial headaches in one low-cost monthly package," read the ad in New Jersey newspapers. Appealing, isn't it? Low-income home owners who answered the ad became victims of a highly profitable racket-profitable for the loan companies, that is. For instance, home owners were signing for second mortgages at up to 58 percent interest. Sometimes the charges were in the form of exorbitant appraisals or credit-check fees. Other times they were ridicuhigh overlously charges for cheap merchandise included in the "package." Either way, they were illegal.

A 1965 New Jersey law states that such loans needn't be paid —a windfall for the victims. There will be appeals, of course.

While some experts scoff at the idea of factory-built housing, something like it is already with us in the form of mobile homes, which are filling the housing needs of more and more low-income buyers. In 1968, 80 percent of all homes selling for as much as $15,000 were mobile homes. And units similar to mobile homes are being stacked into multifamily dwellings. Those at right, by National Homes, were shown last January at the National Association of Home Builders Convention. Rochester, New York, already has a 412-unit rental community of stackables.

Other projects are under way in Chicago; Memphis; Oakland, California, and other cities.

Kingsberry Homes may be researching stacking units, though marketing plans are some time away. Guerdon Industries is already active. At last, 20th-century homebuilding technology.

We recently heard of a man who paid cash for a lot adjoining his home. On reading the deed, he found he'd bought not the land next to his home, but the next piece over—not convenient for indoor-outdoor living. Turns out, the seller for 30 years thought he owned the original piece of land. Moral: read the deed carefully before you buy or sell.

Elementary housing unveiled: A building firm in Goshen, New York, calls its housing development Sherlock Homes. No, it's not at 221 B Baker Street.

Out on Long Island, where suburbia has a terrible image, a downright heartwarming thing is taking place. Builders Maurice Barbash and Saul Seiff plan to erect garden apartments on only 119 of 231 acres available. The remaining 112 acres-worth approximately 3/4 million dollarsare to be donated to the National Audubon Society for use as a wildlife refuge. But homeowners will be homeowners, and there is opposition to this generosity that insists the idea will encourage more building of apartment projects in the area.

Last January, the annual convention of the National Association of Home Builders moved to Houston, where building-product manufacturers filled the Astro Hall with the most impressive array of new items we've seen in years.

Particularly outstanding were American Standard's new bathroom fixtures. They resulted from the famous 1966 Cornell University study which pointed up the fact that the bathroom has changed little in concept or appearance since indoor plumbing became de rigueur. A.S., sponsors of the study, has made a fine start toward changing the situation. (See below.)

In love with a new house? You can probably get a mortgage. Interest rates aren't likely to come down, but down-payment requirements have already eased considerably. In money-short 1966, you'd have needed as much as a third down. Nowadays, around 25 percent down is not unusual. For interest rates in key metropolitan areas, see chart at left.

New models for the bathroom appearing at the NAHB show included many onepiece bath/shower units. Universal-Rundle has come out with a take-down version-through the doors of an existing house for remodeling. Other U-R units are one-piece, with molded-in shower seats, soap holders, shelves. Grab bars are also provided as a safety factor.

For quick and easy installation of the more or less conventional closure walls, Swan Corpo ration has marketed Tubwal, a three-panel fiber-glass unit that builders can put up in three minutes. Set contains three interlocking panels that go on over a dry-wall base, and they're held in place with mastic. Corner ioints are easily sealed by caulking.

Engineering Co. says they sell many to home owners. They're wind-powered attic vents and two of them will do the job of an electrically operated fan.

This prefabricated sauna is built for easy disassembling. It goes with you when you move. Outside is mahogany, inside is redwood. Walls are insulated with 11/2 inches of polystyrene foam. Comes complete with pine benches and floor, plus electric heating unit. Available in three sizes: 6 x 6 x 6 feet, 8 inches; 6 x 8 x 6 feet, 8 inches; and 6 x 10 x 6 feet, 8 inches. Made by Toivo Finnish Sauna. Requires 240-volt electrical wiring for operation.

The Soft Floor.

It's soft because we put a cushion of vinyl foam below the surface. So when you walk on it or stand on it, it's almost like walking on air.

And it's easy to clean because we make it with a nonabsorbent vinyl surface that wipes clean as a window.

The sheet vinyl floor illustrated is Alhambra. We took the pattern from the original Alhambra, the famed palace of the Moorish kings in fourteenth century Spain. And we've reproduced the original magnificent pattern and colorings with superb fidelity.

You can choose Alhambra in six rich Mediterranean colors, any one of which will bring a warm glow of beauty to your home.

We also make hundreds of other patterns because we want to make sure there's one that's just right for you. See your nearest flooring dealer.*

You'll find the choice isn't a hard one.

SKIN ALLERGIES. The most common skin allergy, contact dermatitis, can produce an itching rash, sometimes with scaling, and occasionally blisters. There are numerous hidden sources of contact allergens (the offending substances). In a single day a housewife could easily encounter at least 700 or 800 different ones. Fortunately, most of these are weak allergens, capable of causing contact dermatitis only in highly susceptible persons.

Many allergens lead multiple lives. Nickel, for example, is a common element in such varied use that nickel dermatitis is a worldwide phenomenon, frequently resulting from the handling of coins or the wearing of wristwatches or garters containing nickel alloys. This is one reason for the use of solid-gold posts following ear piercing, as other metal earrings often contain a nickel alloy.

Noting that a particular article of clothing causes their skin to break out, some people blame the fabric. However, the cause is often not the material itself, but dyes, fabric lining, sizing compounds, metal fasteners, elastic fibers, or certain chemicals used in the cleaning process.

Contrary to popular belief, today's cosmetics rarely cause dermatitis. Some eye liners and a few substances used in hair dyes can produce allergic reactions in sensitive individuals.

Should you develop a persistent skin irritation, your physician will consider the possibility of contact allergy for which successful treatment is available.

MUSCLE POWER. For women who declare that men are all alike, there is now scientific proof that at least in one aspect some men don't vary. At the 17th International Congress of Sports Medicine held recently in Mexico City, it was reported that the muscular power of male subjects from three different ethnic groups showed virtually no significant differences. The study included men from among Mexico's Totonac Indians, inhabitants of Milan, Italy, and members of an African tribe of the Nile.

TEMPORARY HAIR LOSS. A fairly common and extremely upsetting aftermath of severe illness accompanied by high fever is loss of scalp hair. Other factors contributing to hair loss are childbirth, certain medications, general anesthesia, and x-ray therapy to the head. Considered a temporary condition, hair loss from such causes is usually replaced by normal growth within several months.

Once a physician has investigated and diagnosed the likely cause of hair loss, he may prescribe specific treatment to the area and/or medication to be taken orally or by injection. He can usually predict how much improvement can be expected and in what period of time.

DOWN-TO-EARTH PROBLEMS. Astronauts face a more serious problem in returning to earth than adapting to space, according to one physician who participated in the recent Third International Symposium on Basic Environmental Problems of Man in Space. "It has been observed," he stated, "that space pilots have a tendency toward circulatory collapse when they stand upright after returning to earth. This is part of a complex including loss of blood volume, loss of weight, and loss of bone minerals. Under present conditions, if you stay in space, you adapt to weightlessness. You will be fine until you return to earth."

The speaker said that it could not be predicted how long a man could stay in space before the adaptation became so considerable that he could not come back into a gravitational field without great hazards, or whether it might even become impossible, unless suitable preventive measures are taken.

New pow with paint

Supergraphics—that's the word used to describe a new idea for interiors. They're not merely decorative—they are functional optical devices. Supergraphics are always the solution to a specifically stated visual problem. They're not like most painted decorations, such as stenciling, which are arbitrarily chosen and displayed in casual fashion. The accepted medium here is paint, but metallic or colored tape, even carpeting (see page 55) can also be used. Examples shown all solve the same problem: fragmentation of space. All were designed to break up boxy rooms.

Supergraphics by Elm City Light Sculpture Company, break up a basement playroom. The huge number image is a favorite supergraphics trick to confuse the viewer with the strong contrast of big fat numbers, small people. Irregular red stripe distortsshortens one wall, lengthens the other, spans the ceiling.

Photographer: Robert Perron Information: Alma McArdle

An aurora borealis of stripes camouflages the fact that this is simply another box of a room. To come off, supergraphics must look as if they'd been done by a fanatically neat sign painter—so be sure to tape edges. Model room at Jordan Marsh, Boston, designed by Milo Baughman, furniture by Thayer-Coggin.

Photographer: Richard Gross

Supergraphics often jump over obstacles—a door in this new house at Sea Ranch, California—to make their point.
Brilliant bent stripes by Elm City Light Sculpture Company, concentrate the viewer's attention on one single flat area and express the excitement of living in the 20th century.

"Maximum amount of visual discoveries in a minimum space" is the way architect Gene Ray describes this small apartment he remodeled in the French Quarter of New Orleans. About all we can add is that the visual discoveries are also visual delights. The space is a stimulating one and once you recover from the initial shock, a sense of remoteness-of being in some other worldcomes over you. The general softness of the light is set off by vivid optical devices. To create the illusion of more space, three-dimensional sun symbols were constructed on the end walls. These were painted with fluorescent colors that glow in the dark under ultraviolet light. Large fluorescent strips painted on the back wall, and across and around storage closets greatly extend the space laterally. Peripheral walls are white, distinguishing center area as a large piece of sculpture. The total impact is, as the architect explains, transcendental.

Table (above) folds out of wall space next to stairway (right). It is designed to fit the built-in seating area perfectly. Storage areas are also tucked in every conceivable corner.

What was attic space (left and below) is now a sleeping loft. Blue carpeting accents the reds and oranges. A plastic skylight floods far wall with daylight. Old plumbing vent is used to support table.

Hanging plastic strips and plastic rail help define the sleeping area.

Drawing shows how much living area is crammed into small space. Entry door opens into living-dining area. Built-in seating is in left-hand corner. Fold-down table is alongside the stairs. Bathroom is behind the stairs and the kitchen is through the arch on the right. Upper sleeping area appears to float over the lower area since there is a four-foot space between it and the end walls.

Underside of sloping ceiling was covered with thin aluminum foil that reflects lights and colors in a shimmering fashion. Sun symbol, opposite its twin in large photo, is in rear.

A box becomes a home

Through the magic of a "living structure"

Is it a tree house, a jungle gym, a conversation pit? It has aspects of all three, so let's just call it a living structure because it's also part roomdivider, part built-in furniture with lamps attached. Above all, it's a totally new experience. It's the solution to one-room living. Built by architectural designer Harold Lindahl for about $350, it turns one box of a room into a self-contained house. The big, basic box, roughly thirty by eleven feet wide and about ten feet high, is carved into various segments and shapes. Some are horizontal like the sleeping and sitting platforms, some are vertical (the cooking, working, and dining areas). This box room—any box room -furnished or not, is predictable, can be taken in at a glance. The same space, broken up and reorganized into a series of three-dimensional shapes, not only appears much larger but is suddenly more exciting because it is unpredictable. There are unsuspected views from, through, up, down, and around; there's the exhilaration of discovery. Movement in a conventional box room is usually a straight line, from one point to the next. Here it's much more circuitous and oblique. In this avant-garde room, conventional clothing seems obsolete and inadequate. Nowhere is the structure permanently attached to the walls. It is suspended and supported by trusses and gussets whose strong diagonal lines seem to tether the structure together. Mechanical shadowing, done in paint several shades darker than the ochre of the walls, is another connecting link between the structure and the shell of the room. Undersides of the one by sixes and two by sixes were painted a light color to avoid heaviness.

Space tricks in an attic attic The brave new world beyond supergraphics,

Complexity is the name of the game when it comes to breaking out of the box-in this case, the hayloft over a stable turned garage in downtown New Haven, Connecticut. The one-room box had to accommodate architecture students Andy Burr and Peter Roseon a mini-budget of $300. Their solution is partly based on architecture's classic preoccupation with finding an acceptable transition from square to circle. Usually this is done by an intermediary step. Corners are cut and the square is transformed into an octagon. Here diagonally placed plywood panels cut off two corners. The resultant triangular spaces are used as sleeping cubicles. The kitchen, bath, and entry hug the periphery of the room so that the remaining area is handled somewhat like a snail shell with the circular dining table as its center. A system of plywood panels circles it. The panels are simply freestanding supergraphic shapes detached from the wall. They screen, form, and manipulate space itself. Like a scenic designer's flats, or like symbols receding toward a mythical vanishing point in a surrealist landscape, they give an illusion of depth. Cutouts heighten this effect.

Andy Burr and Peter Rose shopped for furnishings at the Salvation Army and the Army Surplus Store. That's where they found the crash pads (80 cents apiece) they stack for seating. New top for old table base was cut from an eight-foot sheet of plywood which then became the room divider.

Space-capsule doors, porthole-shaped cutouts, a recessed refrigerator (see left), round table, curved chairbacks are ways to make one forget the basic squareness of this space.

This array of spaces was carved out of a dreary floorthrough flat in New York City's West Side by architect Gamel El-Zoghby. Partitions were removed and the place restructured by installing platforms, cubbyholes, and a gallery. Unobtrusive lighting and mirrors add to the illusion and confusion of space. All the impedimenta of living were crammed into efficient storage compartments and the rest of the place left bare. All walls are painted white; all horizontal surfaces are carpeted in gray. The sparseness is softened by the hazy ambience of light. The place seems limitless until you walk through it a few times, memorizing where things are and noticing that "this is where we came in." You are completely cut off from the outside world, with no conventhings are required: tall ceilplatforms and ruthless courage to eliminate nonessen-full of tials. The result is a desert citadel that in its apparent SUPPRISES emptiness foiled burglars who

by. To achieve this effect, two Long, lean ings to allow height for the apartment went next door instead. Three dreary rooms become exciting space

At left, view from gallery at front of apartment toward studio. Below left, view from entryway into studio. Seat for raised drafting table folds down from right wall. Below, built-in bed, nearby slit looking into dining nook, and passage to kitchen with eye-fooling photomural and mirror on right wall.

Above right, window by bed has been surrounded by slanting plywood panels till window is only a slit. Phone and lamp are below, indirect lighting is built in.

Above, dining nook has angled wall. Channel in middle of table slides open for storage of cutlery, condiments.

Plan and model of apartment help to sort out arrangement of spaces. The studio, at front of apartment, is at bottom of plan. Bathroom and kitchen are at other end.

Entire outside of house (left) is covered with exterior-grade structural plywood and simply painted white. The large living room glass areas face toward the rear of the property for privacy. Fireplace chimney stands free from walls of house to give more emphasis to the feeling of space. Landscape planting is kept to minimum to fit the sparse architecture.

Swinging young families are not only remodeling tired, worn-out old spaces into exciting visual experiences, they are also starting from the drawing board up with new, imaginative, and bold houses designed to play with space as never before. On these pages and the two that follow we show two examples of "space" houses-each completely different. This one was designed by New York architect Richard Meier and his associate Carl Meinhardt for a young design-oriented cou-Breaking ple and their three children. It is a serene retreat (almost castlea serene retreat (almost castleout in all like) from the hectic pace of Man hattan living and is used by the like) from the hectic pace of Manfamily in the summertime and directions most winter weekends. It is basically made of squares and double Cool, squares that are placed at 45calculated degree angles to each other. This space juxtaposition helps make the capsule space fluid and seem larger.

Living room space (above) flows every which way-into dining room, upstairs to balcony-study area, and outdoors to the trees and sky.

Two-story living room height (right) is best seen from the balcony. Light floods in from all sides. Primary colors were used for accent.

the ground up

A warm and mellow space tower

Alfred Devido wanted a place to get away from the city on weekends with his family. He admired the feeling of the old shingled houses in the area (East Hampton on New York's Long Island) but he didn't want to copy the old designs line for line. So he lifted some of the elements of the old houses and put them to new use. You will recognize the shingles, the shed roof extensions, the second-story overhang, the rough-hewn textures from Colonial houses. But the spaces are strictly contemporary. Three levels open onto the central living area. The second-floor gallery gives a sense of participation in family life but the four bedrooms are removed enough to give privacy. Two small studios on the third level are reached by ladder. The house was built for under $25,000, including the built-in furniture. It's insulated for winter use and the materials and the natural landscaping require no maintenance.

The friendly barnlike interior (right) has exposed structure and no finish on the cedar walls.

Small bedrooms (plan, left) conserve rest of space for living it up. First floor is 20x30'. Second level is 30x30'.

The house (below) sits as easily on the ground as a comfortable old easy chair. The exterior shingles are stained. Expanses of glass are used on third level, at sides of ground-level wings.

to the rear. Built on sloping ground, the basement was opened up for light and view, and large decks go around two sides. Opening out to the decks are three large sliding doors that seem to be right at home in this time-honored design. While the deck is hardly a Colonial item, it nevertheless looks suitable because of the careful detailing of the handsome wood rail.

The handsome saltbox (above) presents the unexpected when you step

Saltbox or Cape Cod Get both plans for $10

Unless you look carefully you may not notice that there are two different houses shown here. Their plans have much in common but they differ considerably on the exterior and in the total space provided inside. The saltbox model (above) offers the most room, but the Cape Cod model shown at right would be just right for a small family. Designed by Boston architect Claude Miquelle and Emil Hanslin Associates, they were built in New Seabury on Cape Cod. While unimposing from the outside, these houses contain a space surprise inside—the living room has a high ceiling that follows the shape of the roof line. A balcony overlooks it. The floor plans and order form for working drawings of Blueprint House 109 are on page 84.

The Cape Cod model (below) has the same ground-floor plan as the saltbox above. The only difference is in the upstairs bedroom space. The Cape Cod has two bedrooms, a bath, and a small alcove upstairs, while the saltbox model has three bedrooms, a bath, and a studio space. In both models some of the upstairs space is devoted to the two-story living room.

Pick a garden hideaway By Evanthia Kondonellis

Left to themselves, gardens seem to radiate tranquillityfiltered sunlight in a leafy glade, a secluded pool, or simply a view that doesn't include the neighbor's bustling drive. A garden beckons the weary to peaceful solitude. Being alone, even for a little while, with growing things helps you reorient with today by plugging you in to the unending cycle of natural growth and creativity. You don't have to put up fences to encourage intimacy with the natural world. It's largely a state of mind. As our pictures show, however, screening out the noises and distractions of modern living makes it so much easier to tune in!

While other families are house hunting for one of those big, old suburban homes to remodel, the Patera family decided that their big, old suburban home didn't work for them any more. Its turn-of-the-century layout forced them into a formality they no longer found suitable.

Eleanor Patera, mother of six and full-time interior designer, is happiest when her house is alive to the spill-over point with company—her friends, her children's friends, the family pets and their friends. To her, the old house was nothing but a source of frustration that could not be maintained in the style it was accustomed to. She solved the dilemma by moving into the two-car garage and adding space to fit. The new house, by architect open space that flows around a single private area, the girls' bedroom-and-bath complex. The boys have a second-floor apartment of their own over the kitchen.

Francis Stanton, is one continuous mainstream of (continued) Space-age discovery in a garage

Except for this living area (left) the Patera house is furnished with easy-care, hose-off materials: terrazzo, wood, metal. Fanciful shapes, patterns, subtle colors, and plants give it warmth. For contrast with the gardenroom look, there's an accumulation of soft fabrics, textures, and embroideries here.

Beyond the shallow pool on terrace (above), in passage that leads to master bedroom-study, is the family art gallery. Favorite paintings, many by the talented Patera children, are carefully matted in secondhand frames. Wood floor of passa; becomes the pillow-heaped lounging platform (right).

A pebble-patterned black-andwhite terrazzo floor effectively unifies the first floor and makes housekeeping easy.

Although the house turns a fairly conventional facade to the street, the rear is pure California —wide open to the brick terrace and the wooded site. In summer when the sliding doors are open, the exterior and interior become one delightfully livable space.

Some of the most imaginative ideas in the house are credited by the architect to Mrs. Patera. It was she who chose the maple flooring for the ceilings, picked the subtle color schemes, and rescued the Victorian front door from the house wrecker.

There's a pleasing consistency to the furnishings; they are not expensive, many are imaginative junkyard finds that have been placed with a perceptive eye.

At left are two views near the circular staircase to the boys' apartment. Stairs are between the dining area (beyond is brickpaved terrace furnished in wicker) and the twocar kitchen with its luminous ceiling.

Gallery (below left) leads into home office in master bedroom. Parquet-topped worktable is often used to lengthen dining table. Closets at right hold materials for Eleanor Patera's interior-design business.

Sleeping alcove of master bedroom (below) has its own window wall. Nightstand was a display case in grandfather's store, old trunk came from an attic.

BOOKS AND BOOKLETS

Every month all kinds of books and booklets arrive in the mail. These in particular proved to be fascinating reading and invaluable for reference.

BOOKS

More Houses for Good Living. At last, for all the readers who even yet request back issues of our 1960 article on New England Colonial houses by Royal Barry Wills-here is a book prepared by Royal Barry Wills Associates. It includes many photos and plans of his justifiably famous houses with a text that points out crucial details for re-creating the homey, ever-stylish look of the Early American house. If only the builders of those pseudo-, neo-, and quasi-Colonial houses would adopt this book as their bible, the so-often debased traditional house could hold its head a little higher. $7.95, Architectural Book Publishing Company.

Dos and Don'ts of Home Landscape Design is a good book for home owners to have whether or not they intend to use a landscape architect. It explains what the landscape designer is trying to accomplish, and if the owners are their own designers, it gives pointers on how to achieve it. The author, Robert J. Stoffel, is a landscape architect and city planner who helped form the St. Louis Beautification Commission and is president of Urban Beautification, Inc. He tells you, in nontechnical language how to get started, how to treat the different parts of the lot (the entry, the outdoor living area, the utility area), and how to create special effects and treat problem areas. Each section, illustrated with photos and drawings, has a handy checklist of specific dos and don'ts to help you avoid common errors and save yourself work and disappointment. $6.95, Hearthside Press.

Cook's and Diner's Dictionary. This is definitely a book for browsing. There are no recipes, per se, but occasionally, to define a word, a list of the usual ingredients of a dish is given. It's full of fascinating trivia, such as the fact that a New York steak is not called that in New York; it's a strip steak. (You never know when it will be necessary to know what a steak by any other name is.) You'll also discover what gorp and jerky are, the difference between a roux and a beurre manié, what foxy and flinty wines are, and that maraschino cherries are named for the liqueur used to flavor them. You'll Candle-Making by Susanne Strose. This little book (48 pages) is the best one on the topic we've seen. It explains the three basic methods of candlemaking—rolling, dipping, and molding—and the various kinds of wax that can be used. The text is amplified by over 60 photos and drawings. The ingenious ways to decorate the candle surface are enough to make you want to get started now.

shortages, we hear very little about ground water as a major source of supply to be developed. Yet it is a source that could easily be tapped for municipal, industrial, or domestic use. The water that lies beneath the earth's surface is less likely to be polluted than surface sources, such as rivers and lakes. And, while well water is not an inexhaustible supply, it is usually reliable during dry spells.

It also has the advantage of natural filtration as it soaks deep into the ground. Many towns get their municipal water supply from the ground. For an interesting account of ground water's role in the natural water cycle and the mechanics of ground water use and proper management practices, send for this booklet. 30c from Ground Water Resources Institute, 205 West Wacker Chicago, Illinois Drive. 60606.

Beautify Your Bedroom. If the time has come to redo the master bedroom or upgrade a child's room to a teen-age haven, this 36page booklet will be useful. It explains the planning or rehabilitation of the whole room, from furniture selection to sizes of sheets needed for the various king- and queen-size beds. Here you can find out what to do with a room that is too small or dark, or with dormers and odd-shaped rooms. Plan the room as a unit, with everything fitted into the overall scheme and you'll have a private retreat you are pleased to call your own. 25c, The Seng Company, Dept. AH, 1450 North Dayton St., Chicago, Illinois 60622.

Home Decorating with Paper Flowers. This full-color booklet shows in detail how to make lovely paper roses, tulips, gardenias, poppies, and sunflowers, among others. Even people who generally don't like paper flowers will be attracted to these. Used with taste and judgment, they could brighten a dim room or be used for party decorations. $1.25, Dennison Manufacturing Company, Dept. 0-236, Framingham, Massachusetts 01701.

A Flair for Art. Children will enjoy the inventive art techniques illustrated here. Let them try blobs, clay prints, leaf printing and stenciling, and paper cutouts. Good for many an absorbing afternoon. Free. Booklet Offer, Dept. AH, The Paper Mate Company, 444 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, Illinois 60651.

learn how to find your way among varieties of tea by reading the concise, thorough description of the basic types. (Incidentally, orange pekoe is a size of leaf, not a flavor.) Of course, you don't need to know all the terms explained, but you'll gain confidence in having basic information at hand for ready reference. Chances are, with one word leading to another, you'll be tempted to try some new recipes. With over 3000 entries and an introduction by M.F. K. Fisher on the joys of lingering in word lists. $6.95, Funk & Wagnalls.

You'll learn to use candles too. How many of you know that a long wick is what causes soot? In any case this book could get you started on a new hobby, perhaps even bring you fame for the gifts you'll make for all occasions. $2.95, Sterling Publishing.

SEVEN NEW CRAFTS BOOKS

Enough good crafts books have been published recently that they deserve special notice. These are of such high quality that many of them will become classics. There's none of what one of our editors calls the artsy-craftsy school of thought. Every item shown is well designed.

Crafts themselves are burgeoning in this era of growing leisure and automated work. People want to do something creative in their off hours. Besides, it's a sociable sort of hobby and can be plied in odd moments, for as long as you like, in conversation, with your family in the evening, while watching television, or when friends come to visit.

Beginners need the judgment and taste of an experienced craftsman. The main advantage of crafts books over adult-education classes is that you move at your own pace, on your own schedule, with the complete attention of the teacher (the author). If you ever get stuck, you probably already know somebody who can show you the next step.

Any of these books would be an excellent introduction to the world of crafts

Traditional American Crafts, by Betsey B. Creekmore, is a practical guide for making everything from apple dolls to braided rugs. It covers 300 years of methods and materials used by the ladies of the past to embellish their homes. The 30 colorplates and the 81 black-and-white photos make it easy to imagine the flavor of home life by the artifacts homemakers chose to surround themselves with. Some objects, the paper lace and the shellflower arrangements, are amazing in their intricacy. The author includes general directions for decorative painting and stenciling, handweaving and rug making, needlecraft, drying flowers, paper crafts, candles, homemade toys, and Christmas decorations. $10, Hearthside Press.

American Country Tinware, 1700-1900. Unpainted tinware, sometimes called "poor man's silver," has a homey charm of its own. And the painted pieces make a fine display on shelves or in cabinets. This comprehensive folklore and history book was prepared by Margaret Coffin, an expert in the field. The book is full of stories of the tin peddlers who made their way across the country, bringing bits of beauty to the household and the latest news as well. Included is a chapter on how to identify and care for the old tinware, so often copied today that many owners are book covers the field completely. from simple little decorated boxes to an intricately embellished secretary. There are full instructions here, with step-by-step diagrams and numerous photographs. The novice will feel courageous enough to start more ambitious projects and the experienced worker can learn many ways to improve techniques and utilize the most effective materials. $9.95, Scribners.

Support Hosiery Bauer & Black Ultra-Sheer Elastic Hosiery They look alike. But only elastic hosiery gives you the full compression doctors recommend for varicose veins. Only Ultra-Sheer Elastic Hosiery can provide the full therapy you need to relieve serious leg problems—with the see-through sheerness you love. So don't make the mistake of wearing support stockings just for the sake of sheerness. Support stockings can't give you the full therapeutic compression doctors recommend. Ultra-Sheer can. In the sheerest way possible. And Bauer & Black Ultra-Sheer costs just $8.95 a pair. Also available in the complete Bauer & Black line of elastic hosiery: Cosmetic Sheer for more cover-up, and Super Wear for extra durability and warmth. Sizes, lengths and styles for individual needs. fooled as to the age of their prize trays. Collectors will use the book for reference and craftsmen will enjoy it for copying the designs, for it is generously illustrated. $12.50, Thomas Nelson & Sons.

Decoupage by Patricia Nimocks. The art of decoupage, or decorating the surfaces of furniture, boxes, etc., with applied paper cutouts, has been practiced worldwide, and reached heights of popularity in the 18th century and again in the Victorian era. Contemporary decoupage is the descendant of this art. This thorough Historical Needlework of Pennsylvania. This book will be of interest not only to collectors and students of American decorative arts but also to embroiderers who will find a wealth of designs to adapt for contemporary use. The author, Margaret B. Schiffer, has a fine collection of early needlework and has written and lectured on the topic. As historical background, the book is sprinkled with old-time notices of lessons in needlework available at the local finishing schools and Moravian church schools. The illustrations make a very concise record of the various styles of needlework. Included are samplers, crewel and silk embroidery, Moravian needlework, Florentine embroidery, canvas work, Berlin work, and Pennsylvania German needlework. $7.50, Scribners.

Charted Designs for Needle-Made Rugs by Sibyl I. Mathews. This is the only rug-design book we know of with charts you can follow directly.

It has 46 actual designs, a lifetime's worth of rug making. The instructions are complete with lists of materials and even an estimate of how much wool you need. The designs run from traditional to contemporary, Oriental, and children's rugs. $8.95, Hearthside Press.

Stitchery for Children. This book by Jacqueline Enthoven is subtitled A Manual for Teachers, Parents and Children. It starts with stitchery for children as young as 21/2 and continues on through high-school ages. There are over 200 stitch diagrams and 175 photographs, mostly showing children's work. New and easier ways of working traditional stitches are given as well as a simple way to transfer the designs. All children can have the rewarding experience and the joy that come from creating something with their hands. You'll enoy the children's comments accompanying some of the illustrations, $7.95, Reinhold. Sylvia Sidney Needlepoint Book. This is probably the best needlepoint book on the market. The author, the well-known actress, has been doing needlework since she was seven, and carries her work backstage and to movie sets. Her needlepoint is well worked and also original in design. Lavishly illustrated, the book is readable as well, for it is full of anecdotes about how she came to design her animal motifs or make a certain pillow design, and how she settled on the colors to use. Starting as a rank beginner, she later evolved new ways of combining several different canvases and stitches in one piece that are most ingenious. Her stitch charts are exceptionally good and easy to follow. It's no wonder her friends clamor for her needlepoint efforts. For readers with an interest in needlepoint, we plan a craftsman personality story in the future, with illustrations of her designs. $8.95, Reinhold.

DECORATING CLINIC

Question: Please suggest a way to brighten up a living-dining area that's almost entirely paneled in knotty pine. Only one wall is papered above the dado. Small-paned windows and six panel doors with black iron H-hinges give the room a Colonial feeling that I like—I just don't want it to end up looking overly cute nor too traditional.

Answer: Consider yourself lucky; light pine is making a big comeback, looks smashing with black and white. Paper the wall with a black-and-white check. Choose a room-size rug in a bigger, bolder check, also black and white of course. If you prefer wall-to-wall carpeting, we'd suggest a houndstooth or any other well-defined pattern; no pepper and salt tweed, please.

Take advantage of the trend to mixed patterns: Slipcover your sofa with a documentary print, white pattern against a black ground. A pair of chairs could be covered in black-and-white geometric pattern. To avoid cuteness have tailored skirts.

For accents there are excellent line-for-line copies of black-and-gold stenciled Hitchcock pieces. Simple shapes in white pottery would be our choice for lamp bases and we'd like to see some woodcuts on the walls in black frames.

Question: The woodwork in our bedrooms needs painting and this time we plan to have it match the walls in each room. Doors are a problem. Our closet doors are louvered. Should they be painted or left as they are—varnished?

I'm also wondering about the flush doors leading from the bedrooms to the hall that are often left standing ajar. If they are painted the hall wall color they might not look well with the bedroom wall colors.

Answer: Doors almost always look better if they're painted to match the woodwork. Exceptions are particularly beautiful antique doors. This means that your louvered closet doors should, indeed, be painted to match the bedroom woodwork.

We feel strongly that the wall colors of adjacent rooms should be highly compatible—which would eliminate any color conflict with the bedroom doors.

Question: We want to replace our worn living room carpeting. Unhappily the layout of our home is such that the living room is also a passageway to other areas of the house. This. signed for hotels, motels, movie theaters. These contract carpets are tougher and more wear resistant (also more expensive) than the so-called "residential" styles. Be sure to select one that is not commercial looking.

Invest in the heaviest and best under padding you can afford. Indooroutdoor carpet has the advantage of a built-in padding, but don't let the name mislead you. This type of carwith white walls and a brown rug. A scheme like that can go almost any way you want it to.

Add blue, the shade of Bristol or opaline glass if you want a somewhat more feminine room. Combined with a suedy beige, black, and silver the room takes a more stark and masculine turn. Want it bright? Try lots of yellow and touches of orange, hot pink, and pistachio.

Don't bore me with a lot of claimsdoes it really work? O GLOVES NEEDE ON-FLAMMABLE - FAST - EASY IN CONTENTS UNDER PRESSU

Question: How far can I go with mixing furniture? Our living room is furnished with a long slate shelf, a slate-topped commode, an occasional table in antique white between a pair of high-back chairs and naturally, a sofa.

Now we want to buy a

Now we want to buy a coffee table and would love a glass-topped one. Would that be too much of a mixture and should we stay with slate?

Answer: What your living room doesn't need is more slate. Get a good-looking metal base table with a heavy plate-glass top. The stores are full of them and they come in all sizes, shapes, and prices.

Question: We have been given prints of a Rembrandt self-portrait and a Vermeer from the National Gallery in Washington, D.C. How should we frame them and where should we hang them?

Answer: Although millions of reproductions like yours are sold annually, we're of the firm opinion that they should be collected in a portfolio to remind you of the paintings once you've seen them. Today there are so many other possibilities to investigate, why not start an original collection? Graphics are probably your best bet. Or investigate the work of talented young painters in your area. There's so much pleasure and excitement to this kind of personal discovery.

means the rug gets heavy wear and must be extremely durable.

We have two toddlers so I'm also concerned about finding a color that will not show dirt or stains. Do you recommend indoor-outdoor carpeting for us?

Answer: Carpet companies are beginning to grade their carpets for light, medium, and heavy-wear areas. Look for a carpet quality labeled for maximum usage or ask the salesman at the carpet store if he would let you see some "contract" carpets—de-peting is styled mainly for outdoor and informal use. Most indoor-outdoor carpets would look out of place in a formal or even semi-formal living room setting.

Question: I developed the color scheme for our bedroom in a hap-hazard way and now I'm stuck. Walls are white, rug is dark brown, bedspread a rust-and-beige pattern. Overall effect: dull.

Answer: The hangup here is the bedspread. You got off to a flying start Question: Our kitchen ceiling is dingy and peeling. Repainting won't solve the problem.

Answer: Vinyl-coated ceiling tile by the Conwed Corp. will. It comes with a 20-year guarantee against grease, dirt, soot penetration, and will withstand repeated washings.

Tax Questions Answered

Answer: Sorry, you're not that lucky. The IRS maintains that your ulcer diet simply replaces the type of foods you would normally eat—and the grocery bill is not deductible.

Question: I paid for nursing services when my sister was ill for a prolonged period last year. I also paid the nurse's board during that time which was no inconsiderable expense since my sister was out of work. Can I deduct the amount of the board too?

Answer: Yes.

Question: Will I have to pay tax on the dividends received on Veterans Insurance?

Answer: No. But if the interest earned by dividends is left on deposit with the Veterans Administration, this interest is taxable.

Question: It never occurred to me all these years that it was possible to deduct the rental of my safe deposit box at the bank. If this is a proper deduction, small as it is, why not claim it?

Answer: The why or why not depends on what you keep in your box. For example, the rental is deductible if you maintain the box for storing such things as stocks and bonds that produce taxable income.

However, if you just use it to house the family jewelry and other personal effects or tax-exempt securities, then you can't deduct the rental. If you aren't sure whether the contents are a mixture of both, better go over the list with your attorney or accountant.

Question: What if both husband and wife (under 65) have retirement income each, and can qualify for a credit. How is this figured if they file a joint income tax return?

Answer: You can each claim the retirement income credit in that case. Compute your credit separately.

Question: My company agreed to reimburse me, and did, for part of the loss I suffered in a quick sale of my home in order to take a position in another branch in another city.

Do I need to make any report of the amount I received from my company under these arrangements? It was only a partial reimbursement of loss.

Answer: Alas, yes, you must report it. IRS considers it taxable compensation.

Question: Can I deduct the fair market value of a painting that I contributed to a recognized charity in 1968? I have a record of the contribution.

Answer: That's an allowable tax deduction, all right. The trouble is in making your estimate of "fair market value" stick. Sometimes a professional art dealer's appraisal may not even be enough to satisfy the tax collectors.

Question: My husband has had a job out of town for some months. Since he must pay his room and board while he's away from home, it's a substantial expense. Are these expenses deductible?

Answer: Under such conditions, his lodging expenses may be deductible if his position is considered a temporary one. But the IRS goes on Picture this in your new home: siding that doesn't need paint, gutters and downspouts that won't rust or corrode, windows that refuse to stick.

You can have this and more. All you need do is ask.

Tell your builder to use vinyl siding. Its color goes all the way through; and it resists blistering, peeling, warping or denting.

Then tell him to select windows with the theory that "home is where your job is," and ruled in one case that 30 months away on "temporary" assignment didn't justify the true intent of a temporary assignment "away from home."

Question: We're planning on selling our home. If we don't put the whole amount from the sale into another home, will we have to pay a tax to the government?

Answer: Yes, there may be a capital gains tax. However, if within one year before or one year after the sale of your home, you buy another residence at a price equal to or exceeding the adjusted sales price of the first home, the tax is postponed.

If you're 65 or over, there are special tax allowances which you'll want to check into.

Question: Since I'm 65 and receiving social security benefits, must I send in a tax report on the small sum I made from self-employment? My profit is considerably less than the $1680 I'm allowed to earn in a year while receiving social security benefits.

Answer: If you got $400 or more of net earnings from your self-employment in 1968, you have to file a tax return regardless of age—and regardless of any social security benefits you may now be receiving.

Question: How do you figure what's included in "retirement income"? Last year, at 65, my husband retired. Do capital gain dividends from a mutual fund come under this heading?

Answer: Your retirement income includes taxable income that may be derived from annuities, interest, dividends, pensions, and rental income—that which isn't earned income. But you can't include capital gain dividends from a mutual fund, says IRS.

If you plan to claim retirement income credit against your tax, you must have had more than $600 of earned income in each of any 10 calendar years before the current year. The IRS's booklet No. 5569 (10-67) goes into detail about tax benefits that apply to older Americans. It's free at any IRS office. Be sure to pick up a copy.

Answer: Blue Cross and Blue Shield premiums are deductible since the policy pays all or part of the actual medical and hospital costs. If the private insur-

Own a Truck

What exactly can a light truck do better than a station wagon can?

DO MANY JOBS

A 30-year-old Tucson engineer who enjoys hunting and camping bought a Dodge van because, he says, no station wagon on the market is roomy enough for his huge tent and other gear. Since buying the truck, he also saves delivery charges on sheets of plywood and other bulky items for do-it-yourself projects.

He also commutes to his job at Kitt Peak National Observatory in the truck, at least whenever he can get it away from his wife. She prefers the truck to the family sedan because the high driver's seat gives her a commanding view of the road. "Besides," she explains, "when you're buying groceries for four kids, you need all the room you can get."

A slim, four-foot eleven-inch Cub Scout den mother from Greenwich, Connecticut, has no trouble handling her husband's International pickup (thanks to an automatic transmission, power steering, and a thick seat cushion). She uses the truck occasionally to drive her Scout pack to picnics and ball games; according to the boys, the best part of the outing is the ride in the open-air pickup box.

On weekends she and her artist-husband explore the back roads of Connecticut in search of bargains at roadside antiques shops. Recently they carted home an ancient but restorable upright piano. "Try stuffing that in a station wagon," she gloats.

"It's handy for picking up our 10year-old and his bike when he stays at his friend's house after dark," says a 41-year-old insurance salesman from Torrance, California, of his Chevrolet van. "Before, I had to drive Billy back next morning so he could pick up his bike and ride it home."

A 54-year-old mechanic from Pittsburgh admits that the biggest load he's carried in his Ford pickup so far was a Christmas tree. "You don't need a big wagon or sedan to take you to work," he says. "Frankly, I bought the truck because of price."

FOR SOFT CAMPING

One of the big reasons for the popularity of light trucks is the current camping craze. Many occasional campers simply throw a mattress in the back of their van and let it go at that. Some, who are more serious about camping, spend thousands of dollars having their vans equipped with cooking and eating facilities, plumbing, heating, electricity, bunks, wall paneling, raised ceilings, and TV.

One graduate student from Columbia, Missouri, says that every summer weekend he and his wife drive their new GMC pickup south to the picturesque Lake of the Ozarks. They save on motel bills by sleeping in the pickup box covered by a tarpaulin.

A 58-year-old widower from Atlanta who has never been outside Georgia plans to spend the next couple of years living in his Jeep Gladiator pickup. Secured inside the box is a well-equipped add-on, or piggyback, camper unit. He recently retired; and now that his only son has joined the service, he finally is free to satisfy his lifelong dream: a leisurely, aimless tour of the country.

Add-ons such as his start as low as $1000 and go up to $4000 or more, depending on size and equipment. Some come with built-in jacks that allow the unit to be lifted off in a few minutes when the truck is needed for other duties. A few units mount permanently to the truck frame, saving the cost of a pickup box.

Light trucks see many other uses, probably as many as there are owners. Sportsmen use them to get their small skiffs to the beach, or their snowmobiles up north where the action is, or their children's racing carts to the nearest track. Young men who are building their careers tend to move often; with a truck they can haul their own furniture and pocket the mover's fee. More and more hobbvists with bulky equipment-artists, sculptors, drummers, tuba players, amateur archeologists, skiers, photographers—are buying trucks. Teen-agers successfully race trucks at drag strips: one Dodge pickup whose highly modified engine was remounted behind the cab hit 150 mph in a quarter mile.

A pickup can carry the gang's surfboards to the shore or a full-grown tree from the plant nursery. Scuba divers use vans as dressing rooms, and parents pad the cargo areas and convert them into mammoth playpens. A young Walton, New York, couple had their Dodge van flown to Alaska where they were to spend two years teaching. The truck came in handy for hauling their canoe and an occasional moose. And an enterprising pair from Denver used a Ford van to make their getaway with a supermarket payroll and five hostages. (They were caught when the truck ran out of gas.)

WANT TO BUY ONE?

Now suppose (let's daydream a little) you've decided to join the ranks of truck owners. What model should you buy? What equipment?

Pickup or van-that's your first, most important choice. The open cargo area in a pickup can be both an advantage and a drawback. You can load high objects such as tool sheds and trees without worrying about roof clearance. On the other hand, valuable cargo could be stolen or damaged by weather. (A tarpaulin stretched over the box gives some weather protection, but cuts cargo room drastically.)

than-recommended loads cause instability and poor brake performance, or even tire, brake, or suspension failure. If you need extraweight capacity, look into the heavyduty suspensions, tires, and other components offered by domestic manufacturers. These cost anywhere from a few dollars to a couple of hundred if you order them on your new truck; added later, they become prohibitively expensive. Some of these packages increase payload by as many as four times, but the ride becomes harsher.

When figuring weight capacity forget about the old "half-ton" and "three-quarter-ton" ratings. They're inaccurate. First find out the truck's gross vehicle weight-the maximum safe weight when fully loaded. Then subtract the weight of the truck unloaded but ready-to-run and the weights of the driver and passengers, if any. Your answer is the true payload. For example, if a truck is rated at 5000 pounds GVW, weighs in at 3400 pounds, and carries a driver and one passenger each weighing 175 pounds, subtracting 3400 plus 350 from 5000 leaves 1250 pounds, the actual amount of cargo the truck can don't offer certain options such as power steering and brakes. Also, the long, high roofline may not clear the entrances to some garages, particularly if the driveway slopes sharply. But if you intend to carry more than a couple of passengers any distance, you're pretty much limited to a van (equipped with optional rear seats) or one of the crew-cab pickups.

Next make sure the type of load you'll be hauling will fit in the truck and, even more important, through the door openings. Remember that most pickups and vans come in a choice of two, three, or even more lengths and wheelbases. If you plan to get an add-on camper, determine the size first to make sure the truck is big enough to hold it. Better yet, check with the add-on manufacturer.

For people who carry smaller cargos, the inexpensive Datsun pickup with its six-foot-long box could be a bargain. All six American light-truck makers offer pickups with boxes around 80 inches long; the Jeep Gladiator, at 84, is the champ. The Dodge and Ford vans have 108-inchlong cargo areas, the Chevrolet and GMC vans 110. In the longer-wheelbase pickups and vans the extra inches all go into the cargo areas.

The Volkswagen van has only 87 inches of cargo area, and part of that is usurped by the rear-mounted engine. What's more, no stretchedwheelbase models are available. However, it's the only van to offer a convenient sliding side door instead of one that hinges out. And handling and fuel economy are superior.

Weight capacity is another important consideration. Carrying heavier-How to Shop for a New Home or Apartment

If you decide on the Datsun pickup or Volkswagen van, you won't have much trouble deciding on options, mainly because there are few available. Each comes only with a small, four-cylinder engine and four-speed floor shift. With the VW, an extra $100 will buy you a second sliding door opposite the standard one. Also, as with domestic vans, you can specify side windows instead of the standard blanked sheet metal. But unlike the Amermanufacturers, charge extra for the glass, VW for some unfathomable reason gives it to you for $14 less. Side windows make backing up and merging less of a guessing game, but there is the danger of breakage caused by shifting cargo.

In the domestic trucks, particularly the pickups, the option list is longer. Prices of conventional comfort and convenience items such as automatic transmission, power equipment, bucket seats, and radio are comparable to those for sedans. Additionally, most pickups can be ordered with a fancy inside-and-out trim package (including a nameplate such as "Adventurer," "Ranger," and "Sierra Grande"). Price: about $200.

More and more truck buyers are splurging on luxury items. For example, one fourth of all Chevrolet light trucks have automatic transmissions, nearly one fifth of all International pickups have air conditioning. In fact, many dealers in the southern states report that they equip as many as nine out of ten light trucks with air-conditioning units. Whether you order equipment will depend on your taste and the state of your pocketbook.

Deciding on the practical, hairy-chested options may be a bit harder. Take four-wheel drive, for instance. With all four wheels pulling, it's a snap to charge out of deep snow, mud, or sand. Off-the-road-driving fans consider 4-wd a must—but it costs an additional $500 or $600 in any of the domestic pickups except for the Jeep line, where it's standard. Incidentally, it's not available in panel vans or in the Datsun pickup.

If you plan to tow a trailer, haul a camper unit or heavy cargo, or do a lot of mountain driving, you may need a V-8 and a heavy-duty transmission (manual or automatic), a lower-than-standard rear-axle ratio, and heavy-duty brakes, radiator, suspension—and tires to take the added punishment.

A choice of narrow pickup box with protruding fenders or smooth, wide (and more expensive) box also awaits the pickup buyer. And once past that hurdle, he can tangle with the pros and cons of the most esoteric options such as power takeoffs that allow the engine to operate winches and other equipment, five-speed conventional and overdrive transmissions, cold-start kits for Arctic conditions, and a variety of conversions for farmers and tradesmen.

On the other hand, if you want the ultimate in civilized transportation, consider the Ford Ranchero ($2333 list) and Chevrolet El Camino ($2533) luxury pickups. Closest in styling to sporty sedans, they are popular with the young bloods.

With so many models and options to choose from, today's buyer can practically design his own truck from the ground up to meet his every need. So be the first on your block to park a truck in your driveway. It's not only useful, but has become an accredited status symbol as well.

COOKING LESSON NO. 16

By Virginia T. Habeeb

Take a package, jar, or can of almost any convenience food, add some cooking enthusiasm, a dash of imagination, and you can work miracles. Here and on the pages that follow, see for yourself. Take a jar of mayonnaise, for example, and let that be the beginning of a mayonnaise, for example, and chaud brand-new hostess idea that will make your friends envy your talents. Take a ready-tofroid eat, fully cooked ham, preslice it for easy serving, coat it with a top-secret mayonnaise dressing mixed with a little gelatin, and presto! Ham Chaud Froid the easy way. and rind from ham Pronounced "show-fhwa" (hot-cold), it's named for the classic sauce that is cooked, then used cold. Here Chef Jacques Jaffry short-cuts his own French recipe by using mayonnaise instead of a white sauce. 3 inches from the to meet the bottom

1. I remove all fat and make a straight cut to the bone 4 to 5 inches from the shank, to the bone, all the A slant cut is made 3 inches from the end of the first cut.

2. Remove the wedge and set aside. Slice ham, cutting vertically way to end.

1 fully cooked ham (about 12 pounds) 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin 1/4 cup cold water 2 tablespoons vinegar

²/₃ cup cold water 2 cups mayonnaise Yellow food coloring 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced 2 green onions

3. To be able to lift the slices off for serving, I cut horizontally along the leg bone to release them, keeping them in place as I cut through.

4. If the slices have slipped a bit, I just pat them back in place with my hands and then replace the wedge to bring the ham back to its original shape. I put the ham on a flat pan and put it in the refrigerator.

5. I will need some clear gelatin for my decorating, so I sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon of gelatin over the 1/4 cup of cold water in a saucepan, place it over low heat, and stir until it is dissolved. Set it aside to cool. Now to make the chaud froid. I combine the vinegar and the 3/3 cup of water in a second small saucepan and sprinkle on the remaining gelatin. This too is stirred over low heat until it is dissolved and then it is cooled. I beat the gelatin-vinegar mixture into the mayonnaise and continue beating until it's smooth. Then, strain it into a bowl.

6. I spoon one-third of the chaud froid over the ham. Refrigerate 5 minutes, then coat again. If the coating is uneven, put the ham in a 37.5° F. oven a minute or two. Watch so it won't melt too much. Smooth it, chill, and finish the coating. Then chill the ham thoroughly.

/. Decide on the design.
Trim the chaud froid drippings with a knife. Melt them and the remaining third of the chaud froid and color yellow. Pipe a flat ribbon through a decorating tube and pipe rosettes on top of it.

8. We cut the flowers from sliced hard-cooked eggs with small cutters. Cut the stems and leaves from the green part of the onions. Dip quickly in boiling water, then in melted, clear gelatin and set in place. Chill ham until serving time. Cut through and remove wedge, then cut through chaud froid and lift off each slice.

Mashed, French fried, julienne, hash browned, baked, soufflé, au gratin, home fries, cottage fried, duchess, O'Brien, and even the plain boiled potato—they're the greatest in the world. Is there anyone in the whole wide world who doesn't like the taste of a potato? And, contrary to popular belief, they are not all that full of calories. Most of the time their fattening reputation comes from the embellishments we add. What's even greater is the proliferation of good-quality processed potatoes we find now in the world of convenience foods. From the fresh tuber, potatoes have found their way into packages, cans, jars, and into the freezer. You can buy them in many forms, to use as a vegetable or an ingredient. Start here with hot potato salad topped with a great, sizzling sausage, then see opposite page.

DUTCH POTATO SALAD

½ pound bacon
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons sugar

- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1 can (6½ to 7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Heat oven to 350° F. Butter 1-quart casserole. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Combine potatoes, egg yolks, olives, onion, tuna, and lemon juice Fold in egg whites gently. Turn into casserole. Bake 50 to 60 minutes or until puffed, golden brown, and fairly firm to the touch. Makes 4 servings.

Take a package of cake mix

With spring comes Easter, children's parties, and family gatherings. Somehow all this calls for cakes. Now that we can leave the mixing of the batter to the genies behind the scenes who make those wonderful cake mixes, we can allow time to spend on decorative froufrous. That's why we baked a Spring Lamb Cake, a Chocolate Easter Egg Cake, and a Spring Garden Cake. See how-to sketches and recipes for our easy-bake cakes on page 97.

Why did Pauline Trigere, who could afford any stove her chic heart desired, want a Kenmore from Sears?

Pauline Trigere, America's top woman fashion designer, has a country home just outside New Canaan, Connecticut. The antique folding doors in her kitchen are from Spain. The marble-topped kitchen table from China. The priceless collection of old pewter from all over the world. And the stove is from Sears, Roebuck and Co.

"Self-cleaning oven is fantastic"

"I love to cook," says Miss Trigere. "But when I cook for friends on weekends, I want to enjoy it. I don't want to clean a dirty oven after a dinner party. My Sears Kenmore oven really does a fantastic job of cleaning itself—even in front and in the corners."

"As easy as apple pie"

"We grow our own apples, and I make a special French apple pie with the thinnest of crusts. I hardly roll it at all—it's mostly apples and syrup. Well—you can imagine what an oven looks like after syrupy fruit gets baked and bubbles and drips all over. You almost have to dig it out. Now—I shut the door—set the self-cleaning oven and go relax. 2 hours later—an immaculate oven. Fantastic!

"Today, I don't see how I got along without my self-cleaning oven. Oh—I know there are more expensive stoves than my Kenmore, but if you can get the best, and pay a little less, why not?"

COMPANY'S COMING TO A SPRINGTIME DINNER Spring lamb (boned rolled shoulder or leg) is the center of attraction for this company dinner. Accompanied by Asparagus au Gratin and Rice Pilaf with toasted almonds, this makes a most imposing entrée. We liked the idea of starting the meal with something hot and zesty—Lemon Consommé is so easy and is a great flavor combination. For

HOT LEMON CONSOMMÉ

2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed beef consommé 1½ soup cans water (2 cups) 2 tablespoons lemon juice 6 to 8 lemon slices

Combine consommé and water in saucepan. Heat gently to boiling. Stir in lemon juice. Serve hot with lemon slices on top. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

RICE PILAF WITH ALMONDS

4 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 cups raw rice 1 can (13¾ ounces) chicken broth, not condensed* 1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

½ cup thinly sliced unblanched almonds

Melt 4 tablespoons butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Sauté rice over medium heat about 5 minutes, stirring frequently until rice begins to turn golden. Add broth, water, and salt. Bring to boiling over high heat. Reduce heat; cover. Cook 12 to 15 minutes or until liquid is absorbed and rice is tender. Meanwhile, melt 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in small skillet. Sauté almonds until crisp. Just before serving, stir almonds into rice with a fork. Makes 8 servings.

*If using condensed chicken broth ($10\frac{1}{2}$ -ounce can) add 2 cups water instead of $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups water.

ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN

3 pounds fresh asparagus or 3 packages (9 ounces each) frozen asparagus spears

2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 tablespoon flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 cup light cream 1/2 cup grated Swiss cheese Toasted bread crumbs

Heat oven to 400° F. Wash fresh asparagus. Trim stalks evenly. Remove tough ends and peel stalks a few inches below tops to remove scales. Cook in boiling water 10 minutes or until the stalks are just tender. Drain thoroughly. If using frozen asparagus, cook according to package directions; drain. Melt butter or margarine in small saucepan; stir in flour. Cook over low heat until mixture is golden. Remove from heat. Stir in salt and cream. Return to medium heat. Cook, stirring constantly with wooden spoon or wire whisk, until mixture bubbles. Cook 1 minute longer. Add cheese. Stir until cheese melts.

Arrange asparagus in wide, shallow baking dish; spoon sauce over. Bake 15 minutes or until sauce is lightly browned. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Makes 8 servings.

ORANGE SOUFFLÉ

6 eggs, separated
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
3/4 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated

orange rind

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind 1½ cups orange juice ¼ cup lemon juice ½ cup sugar 2 cups heavy cream 1 navel orange, sectioned Fresh mint sprigs

Fold a 30-inch piece of wax paper in half lengthwise. Tie or tape securely around a 11/2-quart soufflé dish so it will form a collar 3 inches above the rim of the dish. Beat the egg yolks slightly. Mix gelatin, 3/4 cup sugar, salt, and orange and lemon rinds in top of double boiler. Stir in yolks and orange and lemon juices. Set top of double boiler over simmering water. Cook, stirring constantly, about 10 minutes or until mixture is slightly thickened. Do not overcook. Remove from heat; cool. Chill in refrigerator or over ice water until mixture mounds slightly when spooned. Beat egg whites until foamy; beat in 1/2 cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time; continue beating until meringue forms stiff, glossy peaks. Fold into orange mixture. Whip cream until soft peaks form. Fold into orange mixture gently. Spoon into soufflé dish. Refrigerate 3 to 4 hours or until set. Garnish with orange sections and mint. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Cake Mixes

SPRING LAMB CAKE

1 package (1 pound 1 ounce) pound-cake mix 3 cup butter or margarine 6 cups sifted confectioners' sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla

2 tablespoons egg white (1 medium-size egg)

Milk or cream Blue food coloring

Heat oven to 350° F. Follow package directions for preparing cake mix. Set well-greased halves of lamb mold on baking sheets. Pour in batter, filling each half about ¾ full. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until cake tests done when lightly pressed with fingertips. Remove from oven; cool on wire racks 15 minutes. Before removing cakes from molds, trim tops with large, sharp knife so it is level with the mold. Turn cakes out of molds. Cool thoroughly on wire racks. Whip butter or margarine at high speed on electric mixer until light and fluffy. Add sifted sugar, vanilla, and egg white gradually. If frosting is too thick for spreading, add a small amount of milk or cream. Divide frosting in half. Reserve half for rosette decoration. Put cakes together with a thin layer of frosting. Set the lamb upright on serving platter. Next, spread a thin layer of frosting over the lamb. This will seal any loose crumbs and give a base for the rosettes. Measure ½ cup of reserved frosting. Add 1 drop blue food coloring to frosting and blend thoroughly. Place a No. 30 star tube in a pastry bag. Spoon blue frosting into bag. Pipe eyes and wreath as pictured. Fill a clean pastry bag with remaining white frosting. Pipe small rosettes over the entire surface of the lamb.

To make with all convenience foods: Prepare 1 package white fluffy-type frosting mix. Reserve two cups. Use remainder to put lamb together and to spread a thin layer of frosting over the lamb. To the 2 cups reserved frosting add 2½ to 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, adding a little at a time until frosting is stiff enough to hold its shape. Remove ¼ cup frosting and tint blue. Proceed with instructions for decorating the cake.

For Lamb mold:

Large lamb mold (solid cast aluminum) $3.95, 111/2x7", Kitchen Glamor Inc., 15300 Fenkell Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48227.

Cast aluminum lamb cake mold No. 21784—$4.98, finished cake is 7x9¾", Maid of Scandinavia Co., 3245 Raleigh Avenue, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55416.

SPRING GARDEN CAKE

1 package (2 layers) white or yellow cake mix % cup butter or margarine 6 cups sifted confectioners' sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla 2 tablespoons egg white (1 medium-size egg) Milk or cream Yellow and green food coloring

Prepare and bake cake mix according to package directions for two 8-inchround layers. Allow to cool ten minutes in the pans. Remove from pans; cool thoroughly on wire racks. Whip butter or margarine on high speed of electric mixer until light and fluffy. Add sugar, vanilla, and egg white gradually. If frosting is too thick for spreading, add milk or cream, a teaspoon at a time.

To assemble cake place one layer upside down on a flat plate. Spread ¼ cup of frosting almost to outer edge with a spatula. Place second layer, right side up, on first layer. Reserve ¾ cup frosting for flower decorating. Frost top and sides of cake with remaining frosting.

Add 4 drops yellow food coloring to 1/2 cup of reserved frosting. Attach a No. 217 flower tube to a pastry bag and fill bag with yellow frosting. Pipe yellow flowers 2 inches apart over top and sides of cake. Add 2 drops green food coloring to remaining 1/4 cup frosting. Attach a No. 65 small leaf tube to a pastry bag. Fill bag with green frosting. Pipe small green leaves around each flower.

To make with all convenience foods: Prepare white fluffy-type frosting mix. Reserve 1 cup. Use remainder to frost 8-inch layer cake. To the 1 cup reserved frosting, add 1 to 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar, adding a little at a time until frosting is stiff enough to hold its shape. Add more sugar if frosting is too thin, add a drop or two of water if too thick. Divide and tint with food coloring. Use in decorating bag or use pressurized cake and cookie decorator, available in green, pink, red, and yellow.

CHOCOLATE EGG CAKE

1 package (2 layers) devil's food cake mix

3/3 cup butter or margarine 6 cups sifted confectioners' sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla

2 tablespoons egg white (1 medium-size egg)

Milk or cream 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted

Green and yellow food coloring

Heat oven to 350° F. Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Bake in 9x5x3-inch greased and floured loaf pans. Bake 35 to 40 minutes. Let cool in pans 10 minutes; remove from pans; cool thoroughly on wire racks. Whip butter or margarine on high speed of electric mixer until light and fluffy. Add sugar, vanilla, and egg white gradually. Continue to beat 5 minutes. If frosting is too thick for spreading, add milk or cream, a teaspoon at a time. Set aside 1 cup frosting. Add melted chocolate to remaining frosting; blend thoroughly.

To achieve an egg shape, cut the rounded tops off both cake loaves and set aside. Put cut sides of cake together with a thin layer of chocolate frosting. Place the cut tops on top and bottom of the cake. Use a thin layer of frosting between pieces. Trim corners of cake to form an egg shape. Place cake on serving plate. Frost with chocolate frosting.

Divide reserved 1 cup frosting in thirds Add 5 drops yellow food coloring to ½ cup; 2 drops green food coloring to ½ cup; leave ½ cup white. Use a wooder pick or small knife to make guide lines for border and flower patterns. This will make it easier to use the decorating tube. Place yellow frosting in a pastry bag with a No. 47 border tube. Pipe yellow frosting around bottom of egg to make a border. Overlap the pattern as you go.

Use a No. 3 tube to pipe green frosting for stems. Change to a No. 65 leaf tube to pipe leaves.

Pipe the white frosting with a small star tube or a No. 84 decorating tube. Pipe flowers as shown.

To make with all convenience foods: Follow directions for preparing with a cake mix. Use one package dark chocolate creamy-type frosting mix or canned chocolate creamy-type ready-to-spread frosting, to frost the cake. For colored decorations, prepare one package white fluffy-type frosting mix. Reserve 1 cup. (Use remainder to frost an 8-inch layer cake or a 13x9x2-inch cake.) To the 1 cup reserved frosting add 1 to 11/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Add just enough for frosting to hold its shape. Divide and tint with food coloring. Or use pressurized cake-and-cookie decorator available in green, pink, red, and yellow.

Note: All the designs are very simple. If you have not used decorating tubes, practice on a piece of aluminum foil or wax paper. You may then reuse this frosting to decorate the cake.

Learning to cook

A baked soufflé as it comes from the oven is an awe-inspiring creation. The hostess who serves one is looked upon as one who can perform culinary miracles and who has mastered an almost impossible art. Yet making a soufflé requires no magic—it is really quite simple. If you learn to make a white sauce, to beat egg whites to their fullest volume, and to "fold in" egg whites, you are on your way to success.

There are several ways you can make a soufflé:

- Make it and bake it at once.
- · Make it ahead: Make the sauce ahead and beat the egg whites at the last minute.

Or, the soufflé can be made and refrigerated one to four hours before you bake it.

· Freeze it: The finished soufflé can be frozen and then baked. We found it did not rise as much as the unfrozen one but the soufflé had good texture and eating quality and was most acceptable.

You can buy frozen soufflés in several varieties in one or two servings to prepare as directed. Some have directions for preparing in soufflé dishes.

Soufflés are most often baked in straight-sided soufflé dishes, but can be done in any casserole with straight sides—they must be straight to let the soufflé rise evenly. To give the soufflé extra

-4 eggs

1/4 pound sharp Cheddar cheese or 1 package (4 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese

1/4 cup butter or margarine

1/4 cup all-purpose flour

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon dry mustard

1/8 teaspoon pepper

1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

1 cup milk

2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

- 1. Heat oven to 350° F.
- 2. Separate eggs. Put whites in large bowl and yolks in second large bowl.
- 3. Beat egg yolks-well. Set aside.
- 4. Shred Cheddar cheese onto a piece of wax paper or open the package of shredded cheese.
- 5. Melt butter or margarine in medium-size saucepan. Remove from the heat.
- 6. Stir in flour, salt, mustard, pepper, and nutmeg.
- 7. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture bubbles. Remove from heat.
- 8. Add milk slowly, stirring to keep mixture smooth and free from lumps.
- 9. Return saucepan to medium heat. Cook, stirring constantly, until the sauce thickens and bubbles. It will be quite thick. Remove from heat.

support as it rises, you can put a collar around the dish. To make it, fold a 26-inch-long piece of wax paper lengthwise in thirds and butter one side lightly. Wrap the paper, buttered side against the dish, around the dish so it extends 2 inches above the dish. Tie it securely with string.

Once the soufflé is baked it must be served immediately. The air you have beaten into the egg whites is the only thing that has made the soufflé rise, and therefore it is very delicate. As it comes from the oven it will contract and start to fall. The one rule that never changes—the guests must wait for the soufflé, the soufflé must never, never wait for the guests. So, when you plan to serve a soufflé, keep this in mind.

Soufflés may be a main course or dessert. Here are two recipes, one in each category.

10. Beat sauce slowly into beaten egg yolks. We always add a hot mixture to egg yolks. If you did it the other way around, the eggs would cook immediately from the heat of the sauce and you would have a lumpy sauce.

11. Stir in Cheddar and Parmesan cheeses. Let cool while you beat the egg whites

12. Add cream of tartar to egg whites. Beat until stiff peaks form when the beater is lifted out slowly.

13. Pile egg whites on top of cheese mixture. Fold them in gently with a rubber spatula. Cut down one side of the mixture, come across the bottom, up the other side, and over the top. Turn the bowl slightly and repeat. Keep doing this folding until the egg whites and cheese mixture are completely combined.

14. Turn into ungreased 11/2-quart soufflé dish or straight-sided baking dish.

If you want a "top hat" effect run a spatula or the back of the tip of a spoon around the soufflé 1 inch from the edge, making a groove 1 inch deep.

15. Bake 45 to 55 minutes or until soufflé is puffed and golden and fairly firm to the touch.

16. Remove from oven. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

CHOCOLATE SOUFFLÉ

Granulated sugar

3 eggs

2 squares unsweetened chocolate or 2 envelopes premelted chocolate product

3/4 cup milk

3 tablespoons cornstarch

1/2 cup sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons milk

1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

1. Heat oven to 350° F.

2. Butter a 11/2 - quart soufflé dish or deep, straight-sided baking dish.

3. Sprinkle inside of dish liberally with sugar. Tap dish to remove the excess sugar. This mixture that coats the dish will give your soufflé a sweet, crispy crust.

4. Separate eggs. Put whites in a large bowl and set aside. Put yolks in a second large bowl.

5. Beat egg yolks well. Set aside.

6. If using chocolate squares, put them and ¾ cup milk in top of a double boiler. Set over hot, not boiling, water until chocolate melts.

7. Combine cornstarch, ½ cup sugar, and salt in medium-size saucepan.

8. Add 2 tablespoons milk slowly, stirring until mixture is smooth. Stir in the hot chocolate mixture or, if using the melted chocolate product, stir in 3/4 cup milk and the chocolate product.

9. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and bubbles. Remove from heat.

10. Beat mixture slowly into the beaten egg yolks. Cool.

11. Add cream of tartar to the egg whites. Beat until egg whites form stiff peaks when beater is lifted out slowly.

12. Pile egg whites on top of chocolate mixture. Fold in with rubber spatula.

13. Turn into prepared dish.

14. Bake 45 to 55 minutes or until soufflé is puffed and fairly firm to the touch. Remove from oven. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: Soufflés may also be baked in individual soufflé dishes, using six 8-ounce ones. Bake them at 350° F. for 25 to 30 minutes.

FOOD QUESTIONS YOU ASK

Question: One of your recipes recently called for 1½ cups of half-and-half. I have been cooking for over 50 years, and this is the first time I have ever seen this ingredient called for. What is it?

Answer: In the milk and cream section in your supermarket, you should find containers marked "half-and-half." This product is a mixture of milk and cream containing not less than 10 percent milk fat. If it is not available, you can substitute light cream in most recipes. Light cream is richer than half-and-half.

Question: How can I avoid buying a whole box of cake flour when all I need is $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cake flour for a recipe?

Answer: Since cake flour is a lighter flour, you may use all purpose flour if you do the following: Sift the flour, measure ½ cup, and remove one level tablespoon from the measured amount. Likewise, for a recipe calling for 1 cup cake flour, remove 2 tablespoons of flour from the sifted, measured amount.

Question: Can you tell me how to make gingersnaps with the crinkly tops—like the ones you buy in the store?

Answer: To produce a crackled surface on your gingersnaps, sprinkle each cookie with 2 or 3 drops of water just before baking them.

Question: A friend recently gave me a recipe for a home-made cheese spread. The directions called for blending the cheeses together in a bowl. Does this mean I have to use an electric blender?

Answer: The term "blend" means to mix gently with a stirring motion. Unless a recipe specifies the use of an electric blender, do not use one.

Question: When a recipe calls for the juice of 1 medium-size lemon, how much juice should I expect to have? I like to use bottled lemon juice and it would be easier to have the tablespoon measurement.

Answer: An average lemon will yield 3 tablespoons of juice and 1 tablespoon grated rind. An orange will yield ½ to ½ cup juice and 2 tablespoons grated rind.

Question: How may one cook filet of sole without having it break up? If you will tell me that trick, I shall be obliged.

Answer: In handling fish filets, whether they are baked, poached, or broiled, the secret is to avoid overcooking them. Fish should be cooked only until it flakes easily when tested with a fork. Once it is cooked, it helps if you use a broad spatula or pancake turner to remove it from the pan or poaching liquid.

Question: Could you please tell me whether it is all right to mix regular cake batter (not cake mix from a package) the day before and leave it in the refrigerator in order to bake on the following day?

Answer: The batter may be covered and refrigerated over-ight if you are using a doule-acting baking powder.

Question: In a recent issue ou published a recipe for lateau Mascotte—a special ind of cake from Brittany. Is t necessary to make adjustments for a 5200-foot elevation? The picture is pretty and he recipe sounds delicious, but I am afraid to try it without some information regarding altitude.

Answer: If you live where the altitude is 3000 feet or more above sea level, certain adjustments should be made in the recipe and the baking temperature. For complete information on the subject write to one of these sources:

General Foods Corporation, 250 North Street, White Plains, New York 10602.

Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station, Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado 80521.

University of Wyoming, Agricultural Experiment Station, University Station, Box 3354, Laramie, Wyoming 82070.

Question: Can you tell me the difference between bouillon and consommé?

Answer: Bouillon is a clear broth usually made from beef. Consommé is a seasoned, clear soup that jells when chilled. It is made by reducing meat stock, and its flavor is decided mainly by the vegetables cooked with it.

Question: In one of your recipes for Seafood Gumbo you called for filé powder. Can you tell me what it is, where I can find it, and how to pronounce it?

Answer: Filé powder is powdered sassafras leaves and is pronounced "fee-lay." You should be able to find it with the spices and herbs in your supermarket or check the section where they have gourmet foods. If you are still unsuccessful, write to McCormick & Co., Inc., 444 Light Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202. They will be able to tell you where to locate it in your area.

AVID FOR AVOCADOS

Question: What food is so versatile that it's adaptable to any course of any meal, can be served around the clock, combines with almost all food favorites, and is available all year?

You haven't guessed the answer? All right, here are a few more hints: It's a fruit. It's used for skin care by both people and elephants and as an aid in training myna birds to talk. It's an ingredient in suntan oil, ice cream, and bread making. Some people believe it's an aphrodisiac. Its romantic history tells us it grew wild in the ruins of ancient Aztec and Mavan temples, and was probably served to the Spanish conquistadores at Montezuma's dinner. It comes in varied forms-round, pearshaped, or ovoid-and its skin colors range from green to purple, maroon, or jet black. Its skin textures may be smooth or pebbly. The flesh inside is golden green.

You've guessed it-'tis the mighty avocado! There are less than 150 calories in half an average avocado. There are eleven essential vitamins and minerals, including copper and iron. An avocado contains no starch and is easily digestible for children and infants. For a new menu idea try avocado spread on your breakfast toast.

We all know, of course, that the avocado must be used when fully ripe. But when is that? Next time you go to market, just cradle an avocado gently in your hand. Don't pinch. If it's ripe it will yield and be soft to the touch. If it is not quite ready you can hurry the process of ripening by putting it in a plastic or paper bag or by wrapping it in foil. Or, let it ripen slowly in your fruit bowl while adding a decorative touch to your table.

Fresh avocados taste best when served at room temperature. Chilling is only specified for such dishes as cold soups, desserts, or aspics. To prevent darkening, just brush the cut surfaces of the avocados with lemon or lime juice. Storage is simple too: Replace the seed on an unused half shell and cover with airtight wrap. Preparing avocados for eating or recipe use is quite simple. All you do is halve them lengthwise and twist gently to separate the halves. Then whack a sharp knife directly into the seed, twist, and lift it out. Place the cut side down in the palm of your hand, then strip or pare the skin. You are now ready to serve half shells, rings, or slices-or to place in your sieve, food mill, or blender for puree-type dishes.

AVOCADO WITH MARINATED SHRIMP

1/2 cup pure vegetable oil 1/2 cup lime or lemon juice tablespoons vinegar 11/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 teaspoon dill seed ½ teaspoon dry mustard Dash of cayenne 2 teaspoons capers pound shrimp, cooked, shelled, and deveined or 1 package (10 ounces) frozen shelled and deveined shrimp. cooked and drained 3 or 4 ripe avocados

Combine oil, lime or lemon juice, vinegar, salt, dill seed, mustard, cayenne, and capers; mix well. Pour over shrimp in a bowl; toss to coat shrimp. Chill several hours, stirring occasionally. Just before serving, halve avocados; remove seeds; peel. Brush avocado halves with some of the marinade. Place halves on serving plates on bed of lettuce. Fill halves with shrimp. Serve with remaining marinade. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

AVOCADO BRAZILIAN CREAM

3 ripe avocados 1 to 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar 1/4 cup lime juice 1/4 cup light rum 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped Lime slices or wedges

Halve avocados; remove seeds. Scoop avocado from shell, keeping the shell intact. Mash avocado with fork or press through sieve. Stir in sugar, lime juice, and rum; whip until smooth. Or, whirl avocado, sugar, lime juice, and rum in blender until smooth. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into avocado shells. If you prefer, the avocado cream can be spooned into compotes, sherbets, pots de crèmes, or individual soufflé dishes. Makes 6 servings.

EASY AVOCADO ICE CREAM

- 1 avocado, seeded, peeled, and pureed
- quart vanilla ice cream, softened

Beat puree and ice cream until blended. Freeze in 9x5x3-inch pan until firm. Let stand at room temperature 30 minutes before serving. Makes 1 quart.

News for Home Owners

Among the other products at the January convention of the National Association of Home Builders were a number specifically designed to save steps in remodeling and building. Some will save you money, others time. Still others will add a touch of glamour instead. Here's a partial rundown.

OVER HEAD

One company, Williams Products, Inc., displayed the most extensive line of foam urethane beams we've seen. Aside from merely copying the look and texture of old wood, this company offers coordinated beams, moldings, pilasters, panels, etc., in English Renaissance, Federal, and Early American styles. Most are richly carved and ideally suited to formal rooms.

Two manufacturers offered roof tiles similar to ceramic types in shape, color, and texture, but made of colored concrete. Advantages are durability and distinctive appearance, which are achieved largely by the deep shadow line common to tile roofs. The manufacturers are Adams/Powell International, Inc., and United Products, Inc.

If you prefer an asphalt roof, Wind Seal Jet, Bird & Son, Inc., is made for wind resistance. Improved strength comes from eliminating the usual slots between shingles. They are replaced by grooves, to give the visual effect of ordinary shingles. This roofing also has the glue-tab feature that has become standard on better grade asphalt shingles.

Do-it-yourself carpenters will like a steel device called the Saddle Brace, which lets you frame a garage or cottage roof without angle cutting the rafters. Each brace straddles the ridgeboard. After cutting a rafter to length, put one end in the brace and nail through predrilled holes. The other end of the rafter is nailed into a matching bracket that goes on the top of the wall frame. A pair of brackets is supplied with each saddle brace. Manufacturer of this product is International Enterprises.

FOR THE WALLS

Want a way to resurface a wall in a day or less? Formica Corp.'s Panel System 202 will do it. Each moisture-resistant panel consists of plastic laminate with a foam backing that conforms to slight irregularities in the existing walls. Application is with an adhesive that bonds to ceramic tile, plaster, plasterboard, and many other materials. Matching aluminum moldings go between panels and at corners. Comes in 20 colors and patterns. Sizes run from three by eight to five by ten feet.

Speaking of panels, U.S. Plywood introduced four new lines. Their Rough 'N' Ready and Rough 'N' Tumble are especially interesting. The former has a textured surface that appears to have been band (straight) sawed. The latter looks circular sawed. Both come stained in avocado, burlap, driftwood and harvest tones. Panel sizes are four by eight and four by seven feet.

There was also a new Marlite product from the Marlite paneling people, which has a richly embossed leaf pattern on its plastic-coated surface. Comes in planks sixteen inches wide by eight feet long, for installation with clips or adhesive.

For the exterior walls, Georgia-Pacific offers a hardboard siding with an unusual guarantee. The siding—which is available in the form of lap boards and panels—is primed at the factory. If properly finished with GP approved acrylic latex or oil-base paints, the paint is guaranteed not to chip, peel, crack, or blister for five years. The lap siding is smooth-textured, while the panels come in a choice of smooth or rustic surfaces.

DOORS AND WINDOWS

The same firm is marketing interior hollow-core doors that are encased in durable wood-grained vinyl. They look and feel like birch or walnut, but offer the easy cleaning of water-proof plastic. And, they require no stain, paint, varnish, etc. Available in standard six-foot, eight-inch height, widths up to three feet. Other sizes on special order.

A new double-hung window is designed for minimum maintenance. All exterior wood surfaces are plastic encased to eliminate the need for painting for at least 10 years. All glass is in double thickness and frames are weatherstripped; thus, no storm windows. Inside, the muntins are plastic, and snap out for easy cleaning. All interior wood surfaces are bare, so you can paint any color. Perma-Shield Narroline windows are made by Andersen Corp.

With so impressive a list of materials to choose from, today's home buyer or remodeler has every reason to be particular. Shop for the material that does just the job you want.

Chances are, you'll find it.

THE FAMILY PET By PATRICIA O'KEEFE

CARE FOR ELDERLY DOGS

The first time you notice that your dog has a few gray hairs on his muzzle you get a little misty. You begin to remember: The day he came from the kennel, a wiggly bundle of fluff. The puppy puddles you mopped. The slightly lop-sided doghouse the kids so proudly built. You think of the time he scared off a midnight prowler. You wonder how many times he's run to the door to welcome you home and how he always knows it's you, even before you turn the corner.

And you pat his head, murmuring something like "Good old boy."

Take heart. Those gray hairs simply mean he's reached middle age. With good care, he will most likely live a good many more active and happy years.

It is not uncommon for pets live to be twelve or fourte years old. Inoculations for c temper, good diet, and potection from accidents co tribute most to longevity.

Heredity is also a fact Long-lived parents pass the hardiness on to their offsprir Breed has an influence to The smaller breeds age mo slowly and live longer.

Gray hair, one of the fit signs of aging, usually show up when a dog is six or seve This is the time to take a fe special precautions to kee him in good health.

DIFT

If, for example, he's beging ning to get a middle-ag paunch, he probably require a smaller amount of foosince he is less active. Excess weight will strain his hear and his joints. For old dogs two small meals a day rather than one large one helps the body digest and assimilate food more efficiently. Vitaming supplements may be necessary, but they should only be given when recommended by the veterinarian.

EXERCISE

Dogs, like people, fall into the habit of being sedentary. Regular exercise, scaled to his general state of health, will help keep his muscles firm and the joints limber. A long walk each day, weather permitting, will probably do you both some good. Some dogs whose spirits are younger than their bodies, may try too hard to keep up with the children. As your dog gets older, see to it that he doesn't get overtired from hard play.

CREATURE COMFORTS

An older dog gets set in his ways. He likes his meals at the same time and in the same place every day. He gets grumpy if someone preempts his chair in which he customarily enjoys his afternoon nap. Heaven forbid that anyone dispose of a favorite toy, no matter how ragged and how grubby it may be!

He will feel the effects of the weather more. On cold days, a sweater will protect a short-haired dog. If his coat gets wet, rub his body dry, particularly the chest and stomach, to prevent chilling. The dog that sleeps outdoors should have a well-insulated doghouse to protect him from the cold in winter and heat in summer. During spells of extreme temperatures, hot or cold, he should be allowed to stay in the house.

n the summertime, he eds a cool, well-ventilated ce to rest and plenty of ter to drink, in order to theat prostration. Feed and take him out in the ling and evening when temperature is lower.

DICAL CARE

Regular health checkups ice a year are important to staining a dog's good health er he is five or six. The vetnarian can spot trouble just ginning and prescribe treatent in the early, less acute riod. Failing eyesight, for exple, can sometimes be arsted by vitamin therapy, ther conditions can also be necked in time.

Because of the natural owing down of the body's generative powers, it is more fficult for an older dog to row off infections, though mptoms of illness are less parent at the onset than in younger animal.

You should be observant nd report any changes in our dog's appearance or beavior to the doctor. Signs to vatch for are sudden listlessiess; discharges from the lose, eyes, or ears; limping or difficulty in getting up and lown; loss of appetite; sudden loss or gain in weight; abnormality in his elimination; shaking his head or pawing his ears or mouth; a dull, ragged appearance to his coat; sores on the skin that do not heal; and an unpleasant odor to his breath.

A NEW PUP?

Many dog owners dread the day they must bid goodbye to the family dog and decide to get another puppy to soften the blow. Unless your dog is an "only child" type who is extremely jealous of other dogs, this is often a good idea. Choose a puppy of the same breed or of similar temperament to make the adjustment easier. Be sure that Number One Dog gets an extra large share of everyone's attention when the new pup arrives. Don't let the puppy usurp his bed, feeding bowl, or toys.

After taking a few days to size up the newcomer, the old dog often takes a hand in the pup's training. Dog owners say the second puppy, like the second child, is a lot easier to train than the first.

Soon you'll have another picture to add to your doggy memories—old dog and young dog waiting side by side at the door for you to come

BUYER'S GUIDE

THE COMPACT APPLIANCES

We've been hearing a lot of talk about our decentralized society, and we're not surprised to see home life reflecting the pace. Homemakers aren't sticking to the one-room, onefunction concept anymore; they're fitting out two or more sitting areas, cooking indoors and out, eating and entertaining upstairs and down-living from one end of the house to the other! Functioning effectively (and creatively) in more than one area calls for maximum versatility in the tools you use. We've been used to compact versions of major appliances for years, and find they're the spacesaving, efficient answers to decentralized living.

The first compacts were slim, counter-height appliances designed mainly for apartment kitchens. Today, many of the newer compacts are smaller—they might be called mini-compacts or portable compacts. These are great for cars or boats, but this in no way detracts from their usefulness in the home. Compact freezers, ranges, washers and dryers fill many purposes in similar ways; it's up to you to put them to work for you!

The world is full of compacts, and the list is ever-growing to supply consumer needs. Before you consider the ins and outs of purchasing compact appliances, let's go over the basic features and brand names.

REFRIGERATORS

There are many refrigerators to choose from. The largest can either be built in under a standard 36-inch counter or used freestanding. Capacities range from 3 to 7.2 cubic feet. Generally, compact refrigerators have the same basic features as less expensive, full-size models: two ice trays, dial defrost, crispers, shelves, door shelves. A couple of brands, however, can be equipped with automatic ice makers at extra cost, and one model has automatic defrosting. Decorative doors are commonly available. In many cases doors can be reversed for right- or left-hand swing.

Smaller compact refrigerators are more variable, although most have the standard features just mentioned. Some are the conventional 1.5 to 3 cubic-foot models that can be set on a counter or table, stood on legs, or rolled around in tea carts. Some are 2 to 3 cubic-foot models built into handsome chests of the finest woods. Costing well up in the hundreds, these are used as bars in living rooms, family rooms, offices, etc. The most unusual in this category is a unit you can build into a piece of furniture or the house yourself. The compressor assembly is installed outside the refrigerator, as much as 6 feet away.

The tiniest refrigerators are weight portables meant for u cars or boats. They operate off a volt battery or on LP gas, but car be plugged into the house cu Some of these are front opening ers, top opening. Capacities from less than a half cubic fo almost 2 cubic feet. Prices around $50. Two refrigerators v we hesitate to call compact, which fit under a counter, are a cubic-foot conventional refrige and a 7.3 cubic-foot refriger freezer combination. The form 30 inches wide; the latter, 42 inc

FREEZERS

Your choice here is more limi Front-opening freezers, which wil under a standard counter, have a pacity for adequate storage, thou small. One model is frost free and a be equipped with an automatic maker. Chest models run from 3.3 5.7 cubic feet. Several have casters

RANGES

Because there are so many exc lent, small cooking appliances (h plates, table ranges, skillets, sauc pans, griddles, roasters, rotisseries, t ble ovens) relatively little has bedone by manufacturers to build con plete ranges that are smaller that apartment-house units. These a only 19 to 21 inches wide, yet of just about everything larger range do. And they are moderately price One homemaker who was thinking buying a built-in oven as a secon oven settled instead on a freestand ing 21-inch range when she found gave her an oven plus three or for surface units for little more than th price of a built-in alone. Slightl smaller ranges burning LP gas ar built for trailers and campers. The measure roughly 20 inches wide, 1 inches deep, and 16 inches high They have three burners.

Brand names whose manufacturer have supplied us with information are Caloric, Frigidaire, General Electric, Hardwick, Hotpoint, Kelvinator Magic Chef, Montgomery Ward, Tappan, Sears Roebuck.

COMPLETE KITCHENS

You can build a very compact kitchen yourself by combining into your own design any of the compact refrigerators and ranges with a sink. And you can even have a dishwasher if you install an under-sink model.

King. The smallest unit is only 30 inches wide. It incorporates a 5- or 6-cubic-foot refrigerator, two gas burners or electric surface cooking units, and a stainless-steel sink. For baking and broiling, you can mount an optional 30-inch oven on the wall above. From this mini-unit, complete kitchens increase in size to a "monster" of 90 inches.

WASHERS

No one can fault the full-size combination washer-dryers as compacts. Nevertheless, still smaller washers are available. The largest of these is a roll-around spin-dry machine measuring 30 inches high, 27 inches wide, and 15 inches deep. You can wash five pounds of clothes in the washtub while drying a previous load in the adjacent high-speed dryer. Other compacts are agitator models with optional wringers. One is small enough to set on a counter.

Brand names whose manufacturers have supplied us with information on small washers are Fridgette/National, Hoover, Monitor, Montgomery Ward, and Sears Roebuck.

Here's a varied group. Two types of compact dryers on casters occupy roughly 21/2 square feet of floor space and stand 28 inches high. They operate on 115 volts and can dry approximately half of a standard washer load at one time. Other compact dryers (also operating on 115 volts) are much smaller; in fact, the largest is about the size of a portable typewriter. They handle a maximum of one to two pounds of wet laundry.

Brand names whose manufacturers have supplied us with information are Maytag, Sears Roebuck, Udico, and Wagner.

WHERE TO USE COMPACTS

Compact appliances serve either as substitutes for larger models or as supplements to them. Compact washers, for example, are mainly used as substitutes in vacation homes and apartments not big enough to accommodate a standard washer. They're also selling to small households that don't produce enough laundry to justify a big washer. It's the same with compact ranges and compact kitchens: The greatest demand for them is from people whose kitchen space is limited for standard-size appliances.

However, one substitutión idea using compacts to their fullest capacity has been passed by. Why not use several compacts in place of a single large appliance? Two compact ranges will provide you with six to eight surface units or burners plus an extra oven in the same space as one 40inch range. And you can arrange them either side by side, or in separate parts of the kitchen for greater flexibility. Instead of concentrating all refrigerator and freezer space in one huge combination, you can fit com-pacts in more conveniently. course, we realize compacts don't ways include the newest featu found in full-size appliances, there are situations in the stepped pace of home existence where idea makes a great deal of sen American Home feels that the conniences of compacts have been ov looked long enough. Not only is th substitution potential irresistible, b the use of compacts to suppleme standard equipment also needs mo consideration. By simplifying hous work, and cutting down on unnece sary traffic, they're the key to enjo able modern home life. Here a some suggestions:

- · Build a compact kitchen on you terrace. It will eliminate that hect business of carting dishes in and or when you're entertaining or simp having family meals outdoors.
- · Put a compact refrigerator-an perhaps a compact range—in the fam ily room. It will help to confine you teen-agers when they are having par ties or holding meetings. It will sav the family bartender some walking.
- · Put a compact refrigerator by th swimming pool or badminton court Plug it into a weatherproof outle and stock it with soft drinks.
- · If you run out of freezer space in your present combination refriger ator-freezer, install a compact to relieve the shortage. It will cost less than a new big combination, and if it can be placed in an unused corner of the kitchen-in an old pantry or on the back porch-it will be less costly to install.
- · If there are several family members who like to cook, but you don't have a big enough range to accommodate them, install a compact somewhere else in the kitchen if space permits.
- · Put compact dryers in the bathroom for drying small hand laundry.

INSTALLING COMPACTS

Since compacts are so often used outside the kitchen and laundryfrequently in living areas-many of them can be built in. (The major exceptions are washers and dryers.) As a rule, there is no trick to doing this.

Ranges, like complete kitchens, are simply slid into place. Refrigerators that exhaust the heat given off in the refrigeration process to the front, are handled in the same way. But, if you have a refrigerator with the condenser coil on the back, you must ventilate the cabinet or wall into which it is built. This is easily done by leaving an inch or two of space behind the refrigerator and providing a grille or series of bored holes in the cabinet's outside walls

Compacts that are installed on terraces and in other exterior locations should be protected from sun, rain, snow, and hail. Raise them off the paving at least an inch so they won't stand in water flowing across the paving. You may also want to keep them under lock and key. A closet with bifold doors provides a very satisfactory answer. By Stanley Schuler

NEW WAY TO BROIL THE NO-TURN WAY

The best tasting broiled foods come from our new broiler that cooks both sides at once

Clever! We have two high speed heating elements . . . one on top, one on the bottom. Put in your food . . . turn on . . . and both sides are cooked at once. This double-quick heat method sears in the meat juices on both sides for a more natural, juicier taste. Really makes a difference.

THE ART OF ESPALIER TREES

Espalier is high garden art. It's for you only if you think there should be more to gardening than turning on the sprinklers.

An espalier is a tree, shrub, or vine trained by skillful pruning and tying to grow two-dimensionally against a support. Espaliering enables you to grow plants you never dreamed you had room for: An apple tree along the fence, a maple against the garage wall, or a flowering quince by the front door. Besides enlivening walls and saving space, espaliering will induce a flowering tree to cover itself in bloom, a fruit tree or berried shrub to bear prolifically.

Espaliers are not for the occasional gardener. During the active growing season they need frequent if not constant attention. They require a patient, careful hand to get them started, a light, deft hand to keep them in shape.

THE BASIC SHAPES

The horizontal cordon is the easiest espalier design for beginners. To make it, buy a young sapling that consists of a single stem without major branching. Horizontal cordons are usually planted against a fence so the shoots growing in opposite directions, parallel to the ground, can be tied along wires. You can also plant against a wall or board fence, provided there is a frame, trellis, or other support on which the shoots (cordons) can be tied. Plant the sapling six to 12 inches away from its support, and cut off the top at 12 to 20 inches from the ground.

New shoots will grow from the cut top, and unless you want more than one cordon, or line parallel to the ground, keep only the two best shoots. They must be trained to grow in opposite directions from each other. Tie them to their support as they increase in length. If you want a second cordon, keep the three best shoots, letting the third grow vertically as the central leader. After a year it will be about 20 inches tall. Cut it off at 18 inches and new shoots will form. Keep the best two as you did for the first cordon. You can keep on repeating the process until you have four cordons—no more. This is known as a horizontal T.

A variation of the single horizontal cordon is the single U. It's simple to do: When the two horizontal branches reach 12 inches on both sides, bend them up carefully into a vertical position, at right angles from the ground. Tie securely to a wood frame or vertical strips of bamboo. Allow approximately 16 inches of

The gridiron is also a variation on the single horizontal T. You can make it by allowing six vertical branches to grow, parallel to each other, from the single horizontal cordon. Three should grow on either side of the central trunk. Once they have grown up, complete the gridiron by cutting off the tops of each vertical so that new shoots form. Keep the best one on each vertical and train by tying fence, however, instead of tying shoots horizontally you train upward at opposite 45-degree ar They will make a diamond-sh pattern against a wall or an attra screen if a wire fence is their sup

INFORMAL DESIGNS

Unlike formal espaliers, which rigid in design and carefully tra from the sapling, free-form or in mal espaliers can be de oped from mature plate The design is usually symmetrical, and you cut it out with the pruning. The idea is develop a flattened p in an openwork design that the texture and co of the wall will shifthrough and become p of the pattern.

You can make an infimal fan design with a multistemmed small tree shrub. The overall imprision should be one of half circle rising from the ground. Don't shape it trigidly or you'll lose to casual feeling.

A fountain shape is sin lar to the informal fan, b instead of growing out of low trunk, several ster rise vertically, spread graually, and then cascade a fountain shape.

TOOLS AND TECHNIQUI

Have a very sharp prui ing knife and a pair of sma hand shears. Prune with light touch or the plar will look tortured. Prunin determines the direction of new growth, so prune to bud facing in the direction you want the new growth to go.

A trellis or other supportion is the basic guide for training an espalier. Use raffia cloth, or rubber ties for small, tender branches. Soft cotton twine or jute garden cord can be used on older branches. Never use wire to tie a branch. Loop the tie around the support first, then around the branch. Don't tie very tightly or there will be no room for growth.

You should do any necessary tying throughout the season, as new growth develops. Once you let a branch go untied for too long, it's difficult, if not impossible, to train it correctly. A branch, no matter how pliable it seems, should be bent in several stages, not all at once, or you risk injuring or breaking it.

When buying mature plants for an espalier, look for naturally flattened shrubs with no major protruding branches. Your shrub may have height and width, but ideally little depth.

space between the two vertical branches. If you would like a more complicated design of double or triple U's, cut the two verticals back to the height at which you would like the new U's to begin. Keep two of the best new shoots that sprout on each vertical, and after they have developed horizontally, bend and tie them carefully so they will continue growing upwards.

Another variation of the horizontal T is the palmette verrier. Instead of being tied horizontally, the branches are trained up in candelabra form.

horizontally as you did for the horizontal cordon,

THE INTRICATE BELGIAN FENCE

Do you feel you're ready for a more difficult—but beautiful design now? Try the Belgian Fence espalier. Plant five or more saplings six to 12 inches from the support. Space them 18 to 24 inches apart. Cut them back to 18 inches, and new shoots will grow. On each sapling save the best two shoots. So far the procedure is identical with the one for making a horizontal cordon. For the Belgian

Aristocrat of Dress Forms

A professional precision adjustment form (DuPont Neoprene) gives body material great flexing and holding power.

- "dial" your measurements into size computer clip lock-form becomes YOU.
- Adjusts to regular, half sizes . . . 1 tions 8 to 20 (also model 20 to 50).
- Each shoulder raises, lowers. Each bust expands, contracts, raises, lowers.
- Waist narrows, widens, shortens, lengthens. Hips widen, narrow, raise, lower.
- Entire form gains, reduces with you-adjusts to other family members.
- Strong steel stand—and form—take apart easily -stow away in drawer.

If you're without a dress form-just trying this one (at our risk) can change your life.
This form guarantees a custom-fit expensive look to each dress you alter or make-or no cost. Yet it saves you money so fast it often pays for itself the first or second time used.

This custom fit form saves hours adjusting patterns and fitting clothes—up to 50% of sewing time. It saves struggling, twisting, turning-trying to get the right fit. It saves ripping out seams for a simple alteration, or just because your skirt didn't hang properly the first time.

It's perfect for beginners. Here is why all of this

THE SECRET OF CUSTOM FIT

Would you like every dress you alter or make praised for its custom-fit expensive look? . . . While you smile—inside—at the money and time you've saved—at the end of embarrassment of poor fit "home-made" clothes—or the success of your first dress making attempt.

The secret is custom adjusting of standard patterns to your differences (there's only one ton)

The sector is custom autusting of standard patterns to your differences (there's only one you). When you pin the pattern to an exact duplicate of you, this adjusting is simple and easy.

And this custom-fit life-size dress form becomes —exactly YOU—with YOUR waist—YOUR shoulders—YOUR neck—YOUR bust line—YOUR hips.

This is because in each body area an ingenious size computer "dials" your correct inch measurements. A Tab (like a tape measure) slides through a slot under the area answer window. When your measurements appear in each window, when your measurements appear in each window, just clip lock in position. Automatically the DUPONT NEO-PRENE processed body material has already adjusted—in each body area—to become YOU! Custom adjusting of patterns to you has become as easy as before it was difficult.

A LIFE-SAVER FOR BEGINNERS

Because the hardest part of home sewing is making adjustments-exactly what ADJUST-O-MATIC makes so simple.

With it beginners easily make hems-adjust hem-lines-make alterations so perfectly, store-bought clothes fit like made-to-order. You save the $3 to $5 paid before to fix a shoulder line-shorten a hem -take in a waist line. You're more satisfied with the way your clothes fit.

Fitting in this form is so easy you quickly form old dresses into new. Too tight or too loose—too large or too small dresses fit again. You easily alter, redesign, remodel your own dresses, coats, skirts, blouses. You begin to make your own simple dresses then more complicated ones. Later, you even design your own styles, and all on this form.

DOES MORE THAN ANY OTHER FORM

This master pattern-maker's form has every possible professional dressmaker trick and short cut built right into it.

It's unlike any other form. To adjust there's no maze of wire and bolts to struggle with. Simply slide, adjust and clip lock. It's pinnable—throughout. No gaps down front or side or around neck give difficulty. Scientifically placed guide lines let you know when your dress is perfectly centered on the form. The light steel stand is so adjustable, raises or lowers precisely to any point 4' 2" to 5' 6" (add length of your head from neck up to measurements of any form). It's handsome, rubber-tipped, gives steady support. It assembles, takes apart easily.

The inventor has built a lifetime as master pattern maker for leading pattern companies into this form.
All his life—he designed dress forms—some of the

CRAM COURSE ON FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Approximately 5000 Americans die in residential fires every year and thousands more are hospitalized. Yet few homes are equipped with fire extinguishers—probably because few home owners realize their importance. Here are some basic facts you should know about fires and fire extinguishers.

CLASSIFY THE FIRE

Fires, like everything else today, have been categorized; they are A, B, C, or D, depending on what's burning. A class A fire is the run-of-the-mill variety—burning wood, paper, and/or fabrics. It might involve burning trash, draperies, a carpet, the sofa, etc. It's also the simplest to fight.

Class B fires burn liquids such as paint, gasoline, and cooking grease. Fighting these is tricky, because the wrong approach or extinguisher can spread the flames, or spatter the burning liquid.

Class C fires involve electrical equipment with the power turned on. A faulty appliance or shorted wiring can cause this type. The danger in fighting C fires is from electricity traveling up the stream from the extinguisher.

Class D fires, which almost never occur in the home, involve burning metals. We won't discuss them.

USE THE RIGHT EXTINGUISHER

The type of fire for which an extinguisher is both safe and effective is prominently shown on the label. Never use an extinguisher on a fire not stated on the label. Never!

For class A fires, the most common extinguisher is filled with water. One type generates its own pressure for operation. When you turn it over, acid is released into the water, which contains dissolved sodium bicarbonate. The chemical reaction generates carbon dioxide that forces out the water. Another type is simply a pump that you work with one hand while directing the stream with the other. Still another is powered by pressurized air. And there's one that gets its pressure from a cartridge of gas.

One type of water-filled extinguisher is primarily for class A fires, but contains chemicals that have some effect on class B fires. It's powered by pressurized gas, and will be labeled for class A and B fires. Another class A and B extinguisher uses foam.

The next category of extinguishers is intended for both class B and C fires. One type is filled with smothering carbon dioxide that shoots out when you operate a valve or press a chemical extinguisher is lightweight, easy to use, easy to store, can be recharged at home, and usually has a pressure gauge for quick checks.

The most common size available carries a charge weighing 2½ to 2¾ pounds and costs about $10. There's also a 5-pound size, costing about $20, and a small one charged with about a pound of chemical that costs about $5. The medium-size (2½ to well as B and C. However, the p der from a B and C dry chemical tinguisher is easier to clean up either type of dry-chemical exguisher seems a good choice.

FINDING A GOOD ONE

Of course, a defective or subsidered fire extinguisher is dangerou, own. But, there are two reliangencies that test fire extinguisher

Underwriters' Laborato (UL), and Factory Mul (FM). Don't buy a unit less the label states proval by either or both

When reading the lat you'll also notice that number precedes the I tered fire designation; i. 8B:C or 6B:C. The high the number, the larger t fire it will fight.

WHERE TO KEEP IT

The kitchen and wor shop are high-hazard area as are the living room, g rage, furnace, utility are and any storage place f combustibles. Where tw of these connect, an extin guisher in the connectir doorway protects both. Th basement could use a larg unit. For the sleeping are: put a large unit near th master bedroom doo where you can grab it to protect the master or othe bedrooms. A good place for a small unit is near the range or other cooking area in the kitchen.

Naturally, all housewive object to an extinguisher's decorative qualities. But remember that it can't be completely hidden or difficult to reach. Consider the inside of a closet door, a corner by the sofa, and other handy but unobtrusive locations. Have it near the door, where you won't have to pass the fire to reach the extinguisher.

In using an extinguisher, on-the-job training won't work. Familiarize everyone in the family with the manufacturer's directions.

A parting word of caution: Don't let a fire extinguisher give you a false sense of security. In case of a small fire, such as a cooking flare-up, it's all right to just squirt away with the extinguisher. For anything larger the first thing to do is clear everyone from the house, especially from upstairs rooms where hot gases do most of the killing. Then call the fire department. And then tackle the fire. Or have someone call the fire department while someone else fights the fire. When fighting, never let the fire get between you and an exit. Finally, don't fight too long. Possessions are replaceable, you aren't.

lever. Another B and C extinguisher emits a dry chemical powder that creates an oxygen-excluding gas that smothers the flames. Finally, there's a relatively new extinguisher that's intended for A, B, and C fires. It's also a dry chemical type, and acts very much like the dry B and C type. However, its powder also adheres to the burning surface, preventing reflash.

WHICH EXTINGUISHER TO BUY

We recommend the dry-chemical type. All other types will work, of course, if used properly. But the dry 2¾ pounds) model is usually the most sensible choice. It's small enough to be used by a child or woman, to be stored in handy locations, and to avoid being an eyesore. At the same time, it's large enough to do some good and to be easily found when needed. Smaller and larger units are also useful as we'll discuss later.

TABLETS

Should you get the B and C or the A, B, and C? The latter, because its chemical adheres to the burning surface, might perform better on overhead and vertical surfaces. And, of course, it's rated for class A fires as

Easy casseroles

How often we complain that a day just doesn't seem to have enough hours for all the things that must be done. It's on days like that that a casserole comes to the rescue to feed a hungry family. Here are two you can make in the morning to pop in the oven for dinner.

BEEF-MACARONI CASSEROLE

- 2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
- 1 cup chopped onion (1 large)
- 11/2 pounds ground beef
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon leaf oregano, crumbled
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour

- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 4 medium-size tomatoes, peeled and sliced
- 1 package (8 ounces) elbow marcaroni, cooked and Heat oven to 375° F. Grease 3-quart casserole lightly. Heat oil in skillet. Add onion and beef; cook over high heat 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, and oregano. Cook 5 minutes. Stir in 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese.

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Remove from heat. Blend in flour, mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, and Worcestershire. Stir in milk gradually. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to boiling. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese.

Layer half the meat mixture, tomatoes, and noodles into casserole.

Pour over half the sauce. Repeat layers. Pour on remaining sauce. Bake 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

LAMB-RICE CASSEROLE

- 1 cup raw rice Boiling water
- 1 medium-size eggplant, pared and thinly sliced
- Salt
- 1 cup chopped onion (1 large) 1 green pepper, seeded and
- cut in strips 2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
- 2 pounds boneless lamb, ground
- 3 teaspoons salt
- 3/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (1 pound) Italian plum tomatoes, drained
- 1 can (1 pound) tomato puree
- 3 tablespoons olive oil

Heat oven to 400° F. Grease 21/2-quart casserole lightly. Wash rice; put in saucepan. Add boiling water to cover; let soak 5 minutes; drain. Sprinkle eggplant slices with salt. Let stand 30 minutes. Pat dry with paper towels. Sauté onion and green pepper in oil until soft. Add lamb; cook over low heat until brown. Stir in 3 teaspoons salt and pepper. Mix rice, meat mixture, and drained tomatoes. Layer meat-rice mixture and eggplant slices into casserole. Combine puree and olive oil; mix well. Pour over ingredients in casserole. Cover. Bake 50 minutes, adding a little boiling water, if necessary to prevent scorching. Uncover. Bake 10 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

RIDE YOUR MOWER SAFELY

is the lawn-mowing season wears on, fewer suburbanites than ever before will be wearing themselves out. Thanks to the manufacturers of power lawn-care equipment, roughly 900,000 of us will be riding around our homesteads, cutting the grass in style, without straining a muscle.

As with any powerful machine, there are hazards. The traditional dangers of power rotary mowers are getting your hand or foot caught in the fast-spinning blades, or being hit by an object picked up by the machine and hurled out of the discharge chute. The worst of the riding mower accidents is backing up on a tot or pet. Equally dangerous is the possibility of your machine's rolling over on you on hills and slopes.

There is a bright side to the picture, however, for all prospective buyers of power mowers. The speed of the cutter blade on new models has been reduced. Hopefully this will minimize the risk of your hand or foot being amputated on accidental contact with the spinning blade.

In the interests of safety, the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute has compiled the following rules, which, if adhered to faithfully, will protect you, your family, and innocent bystanders.

Rule Number 1: Learn the driver instruction manual and know how to stop the machine quickly.

Rule Number 2: Don't carry passengers. This is one of the most frequent causes of serious accidents.

Rule Number 3: Do not allow children to operate your mower or tractor. It is not a toy! Adults not familiar with the controls should not climb aboard and have a go either.

Rule Number 4: Clear area of children and pets before you begin. If you don't, they're in danger of being run over or hurt by hurled objects.

Rule Number 5: Clear foreign objects from the lawn and walkways before you start mowing, to protect the chap who might be walking past your house at the very moment your mower is discharging a stone or wire. They are deadly missiles when thrown by a mower

For Copy of "Wine - Uncomplicated" write Dept. AW, The Taylor Wine Company, Inc., Hammondsport, N.Y. 14840

Rule Number 6: Put the machine in neutral before starting. This will prevent sudden starts that are extremely dangerous—especially on hills.

Rule Number 7: Stop the engine each time you leave the machine, even if only for a minute.

Rule Number 8: Be sure the gas tank is filled before you start. Trying to fill it while the engine is running, or hot, is asking for a sudden fire.

Rule Number 9: Always watch where you're going so you'll see holes and other hazards before you hit them.

Rule Number 10: Look behind before backing, and know if a child or pet has wandered into your path.

Rule Number 11: Don't ride your mower on public roadways. If you must, do so with extreme caution.

Rule Number 12: Never wear loosefitting clothes. They can get caught in the machine's exposed moving parts.

Rule Number 13: Disengage mowing mechanism before crossing drives, walks, or roads. Blades may break or bend on concrete, or hurl loose stones.

Lady Plugs In Zoysia Grass Saves Time Work & Money

By Mike Senkiw Agronomist

Every year I watch people pour time and into lawns that fail them just when they want their lawns the most.

I see them reseed, feed, water, weed and mow, mow, mow! When it turns to hay in midsummer, I feel like calling out, "For Heaven's sake, when are you going to stop throwing money away and switch to Zoysia Grass."

In comparison, I'm always happy to get letters from people who have plugged in my Zoysia Grass, because they write to tell me how beautiful their lawns are even in mid-summer heat and drought.

IT'S AS HARDY AS BEAUTIFUL!

A typical Zoysia owner, Mrs. Harry Winslowe in the heart of wintry New England tells how she got rid of weeds with Zoysia: "We had a lawn that was a disgrace. My husband used weed killer for every known weed—but next season new weeds sprang up. We dug the lawn up twice and re-seeded before we learned about Zoysia. It does everything you say...how pleased we are with our Zoysia lawn."

And from lowa came word that the More

And from lowa came word that the Men's Garden Club of Des Moines picked a Zoysia lawn as the "top lawn—nearly perfect" in the area. Yet this lawn had been watered only once all summer up to August.

Cuts Your Work, Saves You Money

Your deep-rooted, established Amazoy lawn saves you time and money in many ways. It never needs replacement ... ends re-seeding forever, Fertilizing and watering (water costs money, too) are rarely if ever needed. It ends the need for crabgrass killers permanently. It cuts pushing a noisy mower in the blistering sun by 2/3.

CHOKES OUT CRABGRASS

Thick, rich, luxurious Amazoy grows into a carpet of grass that chokes out crabgrass and weeds all summer long. It will NOT winter kill. Goes off its green color after killing frost, regains fresh new beauty every Spring—a true perennial!

FOR SLOPES, PLAY AREAS, BARE SPOTS

If slopes are a problem, just plug in Amazoy. When established, it will end erosion—also plug it into hard-to-cover spots, play-worn areas, etc.

PLUG AMAZOY INTO OLD LAWN, NEW GROUND OR NURSERY AREA

Just set Amazoy plugs into holes in ground like a cork in a bottle. Plant 1 foot apart, checker board style. Every plug 3 sq. inches.

When planted in existing lawn areas plugs will spread to drive out old, unwanted growth, including weeds. Easy planting instructions with order.

No Need To Rip Out Present Grass

Plug my Zoysia into an entire lawn or limited "problem areas." With the same leaf color and appearance as blue grass, it will blend perfectly. Plug it into poor soil, "builder's soil," clay or sandy soils—even salty, beach areas, pool areas and I guarantee it to grow!

Every Guaranteed to Grow In your Soil In your Area Plug

- WON'T WINTER KILL—has survived temperatures 30° below zero!
- · WON'T HEAT KILL-When other grasses burn out, Amazoy stays green and lovely!

Every plug must grow within 45 days or we replace it free. Since we're hardly in business for the fun of it—you know we have to be sure of our product.

Dry Flowers Now For Year-Around Beauty

SILICA GEL METHOD PRAISED IN BETTER HOMES, AMERICAN HOME, FLOWER & GARDEN, FAMILY CIRCLE, WOMAN'S DAY, N. Y. TIMES, ETC.

By Julie Masters The magic beauty of fresh flowers! Yet they wilt and die so quickly.

No more need you lose the beauty from your garden. Just pick those flowers and preserve them—now—the Flower Dri way. You'll have beauty that lasts months or even years. I enjoy a gorgeous arrangement I've owned more than 4 years!

perfectly dried the foolproof way

It's really fun to dry flowers the Flower Dri way. There's no mess, no trouble, no odor (except from the flowers). Here's the simple one, two, three of it:

First, pour Flower Dri into a wide can until it covers the bottom.

Two, cut the stems short enough to lay blooms in the can, on top of Flower Dri.

Three, cover the flowers with Flower Dri and close the can. Set can aside 3 to 7 days, depending on quantity and type of flowers being preserved.

natural colors, natural textures

And that's all there is to it! The flowers come out as beautiful, brilliant, and natural as if fresh from your gar-den. Many keep some of their original perfume. Only the moisture has been taken away!

That's why they'll look so fresh and natural after months and months of display that your friends will ask, "Where did you get such gorgeous

NEWS AND NOTES

Here are some canned facts fresh from the annual meeting of the National Canners Association. Attended a "cutting" (opening and displaying, at random, products of all varieties of canned foods to check quality, appearance, flavor, etc.). In addition to learning more about the quality and variety of canned food, I picked up the following interesting tidbits: The seeds from apricot pits are used to make almond paste. The pits from canned cherries are used to make some forms of charcoal briquettes. Grapefruit is called that because they grow in clusters like grapes. Canned white asparagus is white because it is cut just as the tip breaks the soil, thus it has no color as it is never exposed to air and sun. Sunkist produces over 2000 by-products of citrus ranging from flavoring oils and peels to cattle feed and pharmaceuticals. Green peas are harvested at night when the pods are cool and crisp. Lima beans are so named because they orginated in Lima, Peru. More and more laboratory research is producing a wider variety of canned tomatoes-sliced, wedges, whole, and combination products.

Food News: Armour scientists have perfected an electronic testing unit that actually measures the tenderness of beef . . . registering it on a scale from "very tender" to "tough." Tender-Test offers you more opportunity to use less expensive cuts of beef. Chuck usually requires a moist-heat method of cookery. They tell us that these economical cuts can now be cooked by a dry-heat method. Grilling, charcoal-broiling, and roasting are alternate methods for preparing chuck. And look for Armour How-To-Cook labels in prepackaged meats in some supermarkets across the country. (We hope all butchers adopt their use.) They identify the cut and how to cook it,

- From Durkee's O & C line New England Style Onions with Cream Sauce. It comes in a double pack—the canned boiled onions and an Add-a-Sauce Kap.
- Golden Vegetable Noodle-O's soup from Campbell. Also in limited distribution a frozen condensed Lobster Langostino Bisque and Slim Six Soups—under 60 calories for a 7-ounce serving.
- Del Monte Tomato Sauce with chopped onion; tomato wedges packed in tomato juice; and processed dry potato granules in cans.
- Ralston Purina's Chicken-of-the-Sea introduces Oyster Stew, and their Genova brand lightly salted tuna in olive oil.

Household Hints: Staining of a Teflon utensil can occur if a film of food residue is allowed to accumulate. Interior should be cleaned occasionally with a Teflon cleaner and oiled as recommended for first use. If a Teflon cleaner is not available: Use 2 tablespoons baking soda and ½ cup liquid household bleach in 1 cup water. Heat to boiling in utensil and allow to simmer 5 minutes. Wash thoroughly, rinse, and recondition by rubbing with oil before reusing.

• For creamier packaged puddings, place wax paper directly on top

 For creamier packaged puddings, place wax paper directly on top of hot pudding before cooling. Remove the paper and stir before serving. For extra creaminess, beat cooled pudding with rotary beater.

Equipment Jottings: Flashes from the National Association of Home Builders: More smooth-surface cooking news—Modern Maid has introduced both gas and electric versions. A sunburst pattern indicates location of pan placement. Tappan's electric smooth surface, Elite 70, is due for spring production with the gas version currently in the works.

Flashes from the recent Housewares Show: Mirro's Manhattan contemporary cookware is aluminum with porcelain on the outside and Teflon II inside. White, Wedgwood blue, and nutmeg brown.

- Two buffet skillets in fashion colors from Universal by General Electric—flame red and avocado.
- Dominion hails an electronic toaster, Toastron uses quartz heating elements and a sensor to indicate amount of moisture removed from bread, which in turn determines color of toast. Reheats toast. Toasts in seconds—adjusts for sandwiches, rolls. $39.95.
- Presto's vertical broiler—looks and works like a toaster. Two heating elements broil on both sides at once. In avocado, costs $29.95.
- Vollrath's Circa 21 is a new concept in cookware with dual capabilities. Sleek and handsome, it is a core of thick aluminum plus stainless steel inside and out. Serves for regular food preparation and for special-occasion use. All pieces fit on a Flambeau table server that uses canned heat. The 2-quart covered saucepan doubles as a fondue dish; the 3-quart, a Dutch Oven; 8½-inch skillet, a crepe pan; 10" skillet, a sauté pan; the ½-quart casserole becomes a chafing dish.
- Rubbermaid introduced the faucet fountain that provides drinking water, fountain style.

The British Miracle That Creates

SUPER PLANTS

IN THE GARDEN - IN THE HOUSE

Yes! From the greatest gardening nation on earth - England - comes a fantastic discovery! Developed by Britain's leading gar-- winner of the famed Victoria Medal for horticulture! Already used today by OVER THREE MILLION British gardeners! And now released to you - through this advertisement only - to try in your own garden WITHOUT RISKING A PENNY!

Think of it! Here is a gardening develop ment that almost defies belief! It is a CON-CENTRATED GROWTH FORMULA, prepared in the form of tiny pellets! It costs only pennies per treatment! And even a child can drop them in the ground in as little as ten seconds.

But once these tiny pellets are placed near the roots of your starved plants, they perform a scientific miracle that has been every gardener's dream for centuries! They SLOWLY . AUTOMATICALLY feed your plants the life-giving nutrients they need — CONCENTRATED RIGHT AT THE ROOTS OF THESE PLANTS - POURING LIFE-GIV-ING ENERGY INTO THE VERY HEART OF THOSE PLANTS - DAY AFTER DAY THROUGH EVERY VITAL STAGE OF THEIR GROWTH!

Just picture this breathtaking scene to yourself. The first result you will notice - almost immediately — is that these amazing English pellets give your plants a tremendous new burst of growth! Whether your plants are new or old — they send out dozens of hidden shoots and buds! Some of your plants may actually DOUBLE in height and breadth in the very first month!

But this is just the beginning! Within one or two short weeks - without you even touching your plant these amazing pellets AUTO-MATICALLY aid your plants in the second vital stages of its growth! Automatically still more wonder-working nutrients enter into every cell of your plants' bodies — fill those cells with health and strength and sturdiness and wonderful new resistance to disease and pests! Great, tall stems stand up with military precision! Giant buds begin to swell with vigor and vitality! Even tired old shrubs that you had almost given up for lost — begin to straighten out - fatten up - send out the young green growth that you had never hoped to see again!

And then -- the most remarkable part of all! When these fantastically beautiful plants have reached their full glorious height and strength, simply drop another Magic Pellet next to them! These tiny English pellets automatically liberate still more wonder-working ingredients! These final concentrated stimulants pour into your roots - carried up through the stems and trunks and branches of your plants - are finally delivered to the great giant flower buds at the top of those plants.

And when those precious ingredients reach those ripe buds — THEN YOU WILL BE BLINDED BY THE EXPLOSION OF COLOR THAT GREETS YOU IN YOUR GARDEN!

Flowers So Beautiful You Can Hardly Believe Your Eyes!

Yes! When you follow this Streeter plan. you will walk through that garden as though you were in a dream! You will see rose bushes weighed down by masses of blossoms, of a richness and perfume and color that you have never imagined before! You will walk past solid, blazing rows of chrysanthemums so thick that you can't even see a leaf in between! You will see dahlias, and asters, and gladiolus and zinnias so massive, so exquisite, so breath-takingly beautiful that you hardly believe that they are the same plants that you put into the ground. And when your neighbors begin to pour into your yard — when you watch them bend and touch these flowers to see if they are real — THEN YOU WILL KNOW A FEEL-ING OF GARDEN ACCOMPLISHMENT AND PRIDE THAT YOU MAY NEVER HAVE DREAMED OF BEFORE!

A housewife from Kent, England, who raises her own vegetables. This cabbage—grown with Streeter's Pellets—weighs sixteen pounds. She can hardly lift it. But this is the proudest day of her life!

NOW 200,000 PROVEN IN 100,000 AMERICAN GARDENS

"Enclosed pictures show sun flower eleven feet high, with a twenty-eight inch flower head. I didn't heed your warning about dwarf plants however, and experimented with an indoor Rex Begonia. To my surprise and amazement of others we saw a Rex Begonia of such monstrous size."

— G.E.F., San Royal, Calif.

"This squash was 7½ inches across, 22¾ inches around, and 3½ inches thick. I have never seen such a huge squash before—the results were unbelievable."

— Mrs. D.D.F., Houston, Texas

— Mrs. D.D.F., Houston, Texas

"Your claims for the Magic English Pellets are not exaggerated one bit as far as bulbs, flowering shrubs and roses are concerned. I have not yet tried the pellets on vegetables, but would expect the same results. I was raised in a nursery and have had considerable experience with shrubs and roses. Your product is the best fertilizer I have ever used. It is much more economical than liquid or solid fertilizers now on the market."

— C.A.S. Augusta, Kansas

"Enclosing a snashot of a cabbage I

— C.A.S. Augusta, Kansas

"Enclosing a snapshot of a cabbage I raised last year with the use of two of your Magic Pellets, and it weighs twelve pounds. My roses, snapdragons, flags, tomatoes, dahlias were the largest and most colorful and beautiful in the block. All the neighbors made a path to my flower garden to see what wonders were being formed and my garden was the topic of this block. I shared my pellets with my friends and their flowers that were almost dead came to life."

— Mrs. S.H.D., Nashville, Tenn.

"My zinnias grew six feet high, the blooms were bigger than tea saucers. I had marigolds bigger than teacups, they grew six feet tall; everyone came to see them."

— Mrs. C.M., Cartersville, Ga.

"I never saw anything in my life do so much good. I had the most beautiful roses in town last summer and my mums were just covered with blooms. I had to pinch them back more than usual but they were the talk of the town—I sold so many."

— Mrs. L.C., St. Charles, Mo.

"Two of my rose bushes died all the way to the crown—I put these pellets around them and now they came back to life and are growing new stems. I also put some pellets around in row of hollies and they grew twice their size in just one season." — Mrs. P.P., Shreveport, La.

"I have no garden now and use your tablets only for house plants, My African violets have been a mass of blossoms for months. The strawberry plant is growing like a weed, and another violet which did nothing for a long time is developing flower buds now."

— A.M.R., Buffalo, N.Y.

"I am five feet two inches and our gladiolus towered above me and they were the most beautiful ones I have ever seen, and I know what garden beauty is because I am from Durham, England, and before my father's death he won many trophies in flower shows, but my flowers and tomatoes outdid anything I have ever seen after using your nellets." seen after using your pellets."

— Mrs. J.M. Tiluria, Ala.

These Magic English Pellets — called FRED STREETER'S PLANT GROWTH TABLETS - cost only $2.98 for a package of 125 pellets, or $4.95 for the super-economy size, or 300 pellets. Since only a few pellets are required to treat the average plant, this is an investment of only a few pennies a plant for the most astounding beauty you have ever seen!

And these results are completely guaranteed! Here is what we ask you to do, when you receive your Magic Pellets next week!

USE THEM TO CREATE SUPER-FLOWERS! Place one tiny pellet beside each of your hydrangers, zinnias, chrysanthemums, a couple beside your roses

- any kind of flower that you want super-blooms! And if you don't see fantastic new growth within just a few short weeks . . . if you don't watch with amazement while handfuls of magnificent new blossoms burst forth from those old plants - then simply return the empty package for every cent of your money back!

USE THEM TO CREATE GARDEN CLUB PRIZE WINNING BLOOMS! Your Mums, Roses, Dahlias, Daylilies, Annuals and late blooming Perennials will take on added size and color. Your garden this Fall will be the envy of the neighborhood.

YES! USE THEM IN YOUR ENTIRE GARDEN! Use them on hard-luck plants where you've almost given up hope! Use them on the hardest-to-grow house plants that you know! Yes, even use them in sand, and absolutely astound your friends! And if you don't agree that this British invention is a true gardening miracle... if your garden isn't the showplace of your neighborhood at the end of one short month - then simply return the empty package - for every cent of your money back!

This guarantee is unconditional. It protects you for the entire first month - entirely at our risk! You have absolutely nothing to lose! Act TODAY!

If you are raising dwarf plants, do NOT use these English Pellets on them! These Pellets make plants GROW! Do not use them unless you wish super-blooming king-sized effects! This warning is reproduced on the inside cover of every box!

DOCTORS REDUCING PROGRAM PROVED 100% EFFECTIVE

OW! EAT RICH FATTENING FOOD O MAKE YOU LOSE WEIGH Lose up to 21 pounds in just 10 days!

New medical discovery proves that by eating less calories in your daily diet won't necessarily cause you to lose weight. It's not the calories that count . . . but more important, the type of foods eaten.

Now you can lose the weight you desire and still eat Bread, Cakes, Chicken, Potatoes, Fish, etc. All those delicious dishes you wouldn't dare touch on a calorie-counting diet.

You must follow these rules to lose weight!!!

- EAT ALL THE "SPECIAL" FOODS YOU DESIRE
- NEVER LEAVE THE TABLE HUNGRY!!!
- HAVE THREE FULL MEALS A DAY!!!
- EAT STEAK, POTATOES, CAKE, BREAD, AND MOST ANYTHING YOU LIKE!!!

So safe, tested and effective that Prominent New York Doctors state, referring to their patients: "There have been no failures."

IMPORTANT!!!

IMPORTANT!!!

If you are presently using any type of weight reduction formula, please wait before ordering "Boval". When the method you are now using fails to give you the results you need, then order the "Boval program immediately". In this way we can be sure our product is not to blame for your failure . . . We guarantee complete results when using our program . . . or money back!!!

A REDUCING PROGRAM THAT DOCTORS STATE IS 100% EFFECTIVE.

Yes, thanks to a miracle of medical science, the fat problem can finally be conquered. An amazing program has been devised to rid your body of excess fat without the usual frustration, starvation, hunger pangs, and calorie counting. Yes, and this is all accomplished by your own bodies' chemistry. In our opinion, if you are in normal health, this amazing discovery may be the answer to your overweight problem. Painlessly and simply you can lose the weight you want and end starvation dieting forever.

Your own body does all the work for you. Eat All You Want And Still Lose Weight. Calories don't count. IN FACT YOU MUST EAT CERTAIN TYPES OF ORDINARILY FATTEN-ING FOODS TO STAY SLIM! Could anything be easier or more simple than that? Of course not! Your body immediately and automatically starts breaking down and burning up that excess fat naturally and safely.

CALORIES DON'T MAKE YOU FAT — SUGARS AND STARCHES DO!!!

Carbohydrates (sugar and starches) after being processed by the body actually turn into fat. That's why it's not the amount of calories your food contains, but the type of cal-ories. Doctors found an almost miraculous way to reduce . . . and even make your body do the work for you. These clinically prepared ingredients work wonders for the overweight person. These substances team up perfectly with your normal body chemistry to help you rid yourself of excess fat in the body chemistry to help you rid yourself of excess fat in the body. This specially prepared program we call the "BOVAL METHOD". Now your body can release more energy and at the same time help stop that hunger feeling. The "BOVAL METHOD" actually BURNS fat right out of your body. The "BOVAL METHOD" helps start your body safely and naturally to rid you of excess weight without starvation diets, dangerout drugs or a radical change in your daily routine.

- NOW YOU CAN LOSE WEIGHT THE EASY WAY!!! • Without Purchasing Books, Charts, Tables
 - Without Calory Counting Without Hunger Pangs
 - Without Starvation Diets . Without Risk or Danger
 - Without Harmful Drugs, Painful Exercises

TESTED AND PROVEN DOCTORS' PROGRAM ENDS STARVATION FOREVER!!!

Thanks to this exciting discovery, losing weight can actually be fun. Instead of suffering, slim down easily while you eat all you want of all types of food. A Lovelier Figure in just 21 days

In this unbelievably short time, the Firm Tone Plan can produce amazing results by removing excess bulge from around your waistline, hips, thighs, abdomen, legs. The Firm Tone Plan allows you to concentrate on any part of your body that you want to reduce. You can have a trimmer, shapelier, more exciting figure, in just a few short weeks. A figure that men will admire and women will envy.

and women will envy.

HOW IT WORKSI No difficult dieting, calorie counting or drugs. The Firm Tone method consists of a scientifically developed muscle exerciser and toner device that works directly on excess fatty tissue, quickly melting away unwanted inches. The Firm Tone method is easy and quick, it takes only minutes a day in the privacy of your own home to develop a beautifully proportioned figure. The results obtained will differ among individuals depending upon physical factors, making it impossible to assure every woman that it will work for her. Thousands of women have been thrilled with their results and you must be also, or your money will be refunded. For only $4.98 you receive the fabulous Firm-Tone exerciser and complete instruction course — no extras to buy.

I found a crazy, lazy way to reduce!

I call it the world's largest clothes pin. The doctor who invented it calls it the Effortless Exerciser. Either way it does wonders to beautify your figure-bas already produced waist loss of up to 3 inches... hip loss of up to 5 inches, in just two effortless minutes a day, and without a diet or burning off a single ounce of ugly fat!

Here's how:

A Doctor Shows You How To Squeeze Yourself Slim!

You see, a prominent New York physician not only listened to omen complain about their figure problems—but he actually did

You see, a prominent New York physician not only listened to women complain about their figure problems—but he actually did something about it.

He perfected an ingeniously simple method to develop a beautiful figure at any age—and then keep it that way permanently. He named it the Effortless Exerciser. It firms and tightens hips, thighs, waist and arms until you're slim and young again. And then it builds, builds, and builds your own natural vitality and strength to keep you that way for years to come.

And all this in just two minutes a day! All this with a marvelous little device that's so easy, gentle, lightweight, and completely safe to use that a child can open and close it without effort!

How does it work? By condensing half an hour's exercise into one thrilling minute for the top of your figure—and then condensing half an hour's exercise into one thrilling minute for the bottom of your figure!

Like this:

The One Minute Exercise For

The One Minute Exercise For Your Body From The Waist Up:

To use this marvelous, body-slimming Clothes Pin, all you do is starts to spread apart. Now hold it straight out from your shoulders (at arms length). Then simply bring the handles together until your palms touch. Let it open again. And repeat.

That's all there is to it! Notice how your shoulders automatically straighten back. How they automatically raise up your bust...automatically pull in your midriff and tummy—tightening and strengthenmatically pull in your midriff and tummy—tightening and strengthening them.

Notice especially how this marvelous oversized clothes pin automatically straightens your spine, and tucks in your derriere.

Yes, in just 30 effortless strokes—60 effortless seconds—your entire figure is put back into the proper body alignment, just as nature intended it to be. You are standing close to an inch taller. The original fatigue that made you slump like a sack of potatoes has been replaced by new natural strength and vitality—so that you'll be standing, sitting and relaxing correctly, twenty-four hours a day, without your even realizing it.

Now For The Second Minute Of Exercise, For The Waist Down.

Now simply slip your feet through the Effortless Exerciser's straps. Repeat the same easy half-circle—but this time with your feet. Notice how your tummy is once again automatically flattened to a pancake—automatically tightened, strengthened, firmed with natural control. Notice how your calves, thighs, and derriere tighten up automatically, at exactly that same instant.

Now stand up once again, and look at yourself in a full-length mirror! The improvement may be so dramatic that it may actually take your breath away! One look at yourself and you will realize why doctors have received startling changes in figure proportions like these—using nothing more than this amazing device.

Read These Medical Test Results For Yourself.

Yes, in a six weeks' documented test, fifteen people using this Effortless Exerciser for only two minutes a day, attained waist and hip loss alone of:

Average loss of waist size (no diet): 1½ inches,
Maximum loss of waist size (no diet): 1½ inches,
Average loss of hip size (no diet): 1½ inches,
Average loss of hip size (no diet): 1½ inches,
Maximum loss in hip size (no diet): 5 inches,
Take out your measuring tape right now, and picture how you could look with that kind of waist-loss—and without a diet! This is impressive! A thrill! But there is still more.

Now One Wonderful Improvement Automatically Leads To Another.

Automatically Leads To Another.

Let's discuss the most important benefit first:
Much of the fat and flab on your body is caused by the loss of nature's natural, hidden muscle control. (Don't confuse this hidden control with a man's athletic muscles; a woman's hidden muscle are below the surface; you don't see them, but they naturally and automatically keep your body in beautiful shape).

What the Effortless Exerciser really does—and why its figure-molding results are so incredibly dramatic—is strengthen, these hidden figure-control muscles. So that pushed-out flab disappears; and vulnerable areas look pounds lighter, even though you haven't burned off a single ounce of them with a diet.

Other advantages: The Effortless Exerciser helps your blood flow strong and hard again...cleanses your circulation...tones vital heart muscles...pours new oxygen into your blood stream. Thus, overnight, your complexion becomes clearer. You have more energy—just like a healthy, active teenager.

Try It At Our Risk.

But don't take my word for it. The only way to prove the value of this Effortless Exerciser is to try it yourself, at our risk, for a full month.

If you aren't thrilled with the results at the end of that time...with the incredible improvement in your figure that you see in the mirror, and that your friends compliment you upon, then just return it. Your full purchase price will be refunded immediately.

SAVES YOU HOURS OF TORTURE EVERY WEEK!

What the Effortless Exerciser eliminates is just as important what it does. For example:

It eliminates isometric exercises. They are marvelous; but correct technique is absolutely essential or you get unwanted athletic muscles.

It eliminates torture diets. Your weight shoots right back up hen you go off them, anyway.

It eliminates electrical apparatus. Most people find them highly unpleasant!

It eliminates gymnasiums and other bulky equipment. Who's of the time and room?

The Effortless Exerciser replaces all these horrors with an effortless, daily two-minute routine that is as second nature as putting on your lipstick—and that gives you the firm, slim, young body and posture you've always wanted! Try it today, entirely at our risk!
