Architecture Awareness Month All around the State

Architecture Awareness Week will be celebrations held across the state and aimed at engaging the populace in vital, exciting ways -- engaging our past, current and future clients in a new kind of dialogue to inform them about the indispensability of the architect...and at the same time teach us as architects how to better serve those for whom we work.

Each of the four AIA Chapters in Colorado will host a week-long celebration of Architecture Awareness events in their area. North Chapter celebrates the week of September 12-18, Denver and South Chapter celebrate the week of September 21 and West Chapter the week of October 5th. The AIA Colorado Centennial Design Conference will be the grand finale on October 8-11. The following is a listing of events which will take place in each chapter.

NORTH CHAPTER

Saturday, September 12th - Historic House Tour of Fort Collins -- a tour of 5 houses in the area and the Avery house. All proceeds from this tour, presented by The Poudre Landmarks Foundation, will go to benefit the restoration of the Avery Carriage house. For more information on this event, call 303/221-0533.

Monday, September 24th - A slide show and lecture on "Architectural Styles in Fort Collins" presented by Carol Tunner, Historic Preservation Specialist with the City of Fort Collins at 7:00 p.m. at CSU, Guggenheim Building, Fort Collins. Call 303/221-6804 for information.

Wednesday, September 16th - Two seminars by Jim Franklin, Resident Fellow with AIA National. The first one will be offered to students and is entitled Life After Graduation. This workshop will be held from 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. at the CU Boulder College of Environmental Design. A second workshop entitled Success Strategies for Rapidly Changing Times will be presented for professionals from 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. at the same location. For more information, call 303/666-6789.

DENVER CHAPTER

Architecture Week in Denver commences on Monday evening, September 21 with an open house for new members and the opening of an architectural photography exhibit of Lower Downtown Denver titled "PHOTO LODO" by Edward LaCasse. The event will take place at AIA Denver, 1660 Wynkoop, #120.

Tuesday, September 22 will feature walking tours of downtown and a lecture on "Cultural Patronage" by Helen Horowitz at the Denver Art Museum. The spotlight will shift on Wednesday, September 23 to the offices of Pouw & Associates, Inc. at 1860 Blake St., #200 for an architectural firm tour, along with the announcement of winners and the opening of an exhibit of entries from a furniture design competition sponsored by Steelcase/Stow-Davis. Thursday, September 24 will feature lunch time architectural tours of Denver. Friday, September 25 will be the opening of the second annual Art of Architecture exhibit at the Hudson's Bay building at 16th and Stout. The week continues on Saturday, September 25 at AIA Denver's offices with a morning seminar on "How to Hire an Architect." The celebration of architecture culminates on Saturday evening with the annual awards banquet at the Hyatt Regency Denver. This banquet will honor the best of new architecture by Denver architects and will include a keynote speech by architectural critic Paul Goldberger of the New York Times. We hope to see you at several of these events. Please call AIA Denver at 303/892-1188 for additional information.

SOUTH CHAPTER

Although, officially, South's Architecture Awareness week begins on Sunday, September 20th, Jim Franklin, FAIA, resident fellow for the AIA will be in Colorado Springs on Thursday, September 17th. That evening, Jim Franklin will speak on the topic "Success Strategies for Rapidly Changing Times." Chuck Smith will be coordinating activities for the rest of the week and welcomes any suggestions. Mike Riley is organizing the Member Art Show, which is scheduled for the evening of September 24. A call for entries has been issued for the event "Designs by Designers," with entries being accepted in two categories: profession-related art and hobby art. All media are acceptable, including works of writing and performance art.

WEST CHAPTER

Jim Franklin will host a workshop at the Chapel in Beaver Creek from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. on September 19. Call 303/243-2122 for more information. Steamboat Springs will host a local celebration of our centennial year entitled "Colorado Architecture - 100 years." All of the following programs will take place at the Bud Werner Memorial Library and will be free and open to the public. Wednesday, September 16 at 7:30 p.m. - Sam Caudill, FAIA from Aspen, will present "Sustainability: Now and in the Future". Wednesday, September 23 at 7:30 p.m. - Colorado architect Eugene Sternberg, AIA will present "Steamboat Springs" Architecture: Then & Now." Wednesday, September 30 at 7:30 p.m. - Colorado historian Tom Noel will present "Colorado Buildings." An exhibit on the work and times of noted Denver architects from the turn of the century will be on display at the Bud Werner Memorial Library, thanks to Ken Fuller, FAIA. Also on display at the library will be the Frank E. Edbrooke travelling exhibit (put together with grants from the Oxford-Alexis hotel and the Brown Palace hotel). The local organization of AIA architects should be commended for their efforts. For more information, please call 303/879-0240.

AIAS News from the Univ. of Colo.- Boulder

by Rebecca Alexis, AIAS

In case you have not heard yet, the College of Environmental Design in Boulder and the School of Architecture & Planning at Denver have reunified to create a 4 + 2 M. Arch. program. This development will also include degree programs for Landscape Architecture (M.L.A.) and Urban and Regional Planning (M.U.R.P.). And, this change is going to further enhance the educational process by eventually offering a Ph.D. program in addition to the already existing pre-professional and professional degrees.

As a representative of the student body at CU-Boulder, I know that we are all very excited to see this reunification finally completed. To us it means having more opportunity to focus on our future plans for graduate school and the professional world as well as having available to us all of the resources and opportunities that each campus offers.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR REPORT by Linda T. Smith, CAA

Well, AIA Colorado members, I made it! I have completed one whole year as your Executive Director. Time flies fast when you are having fun and this has been a special year for me. I have become acquainted with a great number of you, but I would still like to meet and greet you all. I have represented you at National Grassroots, the National Convention, last year's WMR Conference, a National AIA Membership Committee meeting, a National Architecture for Health Committee meeting and, most recently, a National Government Affairs Networking meeting. I guess I really am an "archoholic". I do love this profession and want to make Colorado's architects stand out in front.

We have tried to improve the services at AIA Colorado by providing you with answers to your questions, quick turn around of document processing, member referrals to people calling our office looking to hire an architect, courteous staff responses and more media awareness.

I have lots of goals in mind, but I am also a realist in planning my achievement time table. With your help and participation, we can achieve the goals set for me by the Board and by me for myself. Thanks for the opportunity to serve you. I look forward to our continued future together.

It's Illegal To Copy AIA Documents.

—by Roger K. Lewis, FAIA

It's against the federal copyright law to copy AIA Documents or to ask others to do it for you. Using original AIA Documents protects you, too; Documents that have been copied might contain obscured changes or be outdated, containing old language that does not reflect current case law and construction industry practices. Using copied Documents could increase your liability significantly. It's just not worth the risk. Contact us today.

THE ELECTION BEGINS -- HERE ARE YOUR CANDIDATES FOR THE 1993 AIA COLORADO BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

John B Rogers, FAIA, President Elect

I was both surprised and pleased to be nominated for President-Elect of AIA Colorado. I believe in the American Institute of Architects, and am convinced that maximum participation by all Colorado architects is in their own best interest, as well as that of the profession, and our community.

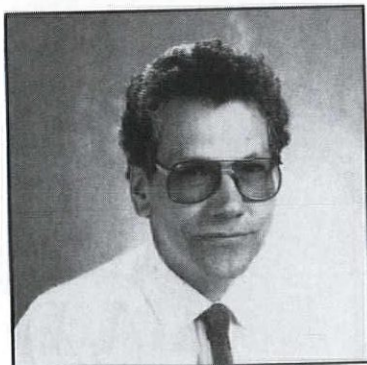

Over the past 45 years that I have been involved in architecture, one of my main interests is the advancement of the profession as a whole. While many people regularly come in contact with various professionals, like doctors and lawyers, few are familiar with what architects do. AIA is a perfect avenue for promoting public awareness, as well as helping individual members promote themselves.

My experience with AIA began as a student representative to the National Convention, and has continued throughout my entire career, including Western Mountain Regional Director and service on the National Board. I believe the Colorado AIA best represents the profession in Colorado at both the state and national levels. We need to be heard, we need to take positions in our communities and in our state, and we need to be an active component of the national organization.

It would be an honor and a pleasure to serve as President-Elect in 1993, and I look forward to committing my time, energy and experience to promoting Colorado architects through increased recognition and effectiveness.

BIO: A founder and principal of RNL Facilities Corporation, John B Rogers, FAIA has been Project Principal on a variety of projects, including: office buildings, educational facilities; laboratories; judicial buildings; banks; historic renovations and passive and active solar designs. A graduate of: Kansas State Univ. with an Architectural Engineering degree; the University of Texas with a Bachelor Architecture; and the Univ. of Colorado with a Masters of Business Administration. John has contributed his knowledge and experience to furthering the architectural profession. In recognition of his years of efforts, John was named AIA Colorado's Architect of the Year for 1991.

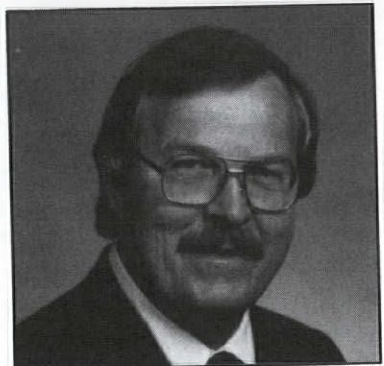

FOR SECRETARY, THERE ARE TWO:

Charles F. Brenner, AIA:

I am pleased that the nominating committee for AIA Colorado would again consider me as a candidate for one of its offices. I believe this organization is vital to our profession in that it provides our members with many resources, including: documents; valuable continuing education resources; and a great Design Conference each year with a chance to dialogue with colleagues, continue our education and review new building products from the exhibitors. AIA also provides a strong voice in the State Legislature. Our organization includes valuable committees and task forces which keep us abreast of current topics such as ADA, Environment, Code Review, the condition of the School of Architecture, as well as others. AIA Colorado is critical to our profession and each of us should work hard to be sure that it remains strong.

BIO: Chuck has been active in many areas of AIA over the past decade serving the West Chapter as Secretary and President, as well as a part of the AIA Colo. Gov't Affairs Committee. He has served as Treasurer for AIA Colorado for the past two years. Chuck is president of the firm C. F. Brenner, Inc. Architecture, Glenwood Springs, Colorado. Chuck was a partner of Gray-Brenner Architects in Grand Junction. Chuck has B.S. of Arch. from Montana State Univ.

Thomas A. Thompson, AIA

Much has been written about the changes that are taking place within our profession. I think we would all agree that this is not necessarily bad or good, but what we make of it. I feel that for the AIA to continue to be a viable tool in meeting these challenges, it must be aware of the individual members needs. I am aware of the time required and, if elected, will continue the traditions established in the past while at the same time representing you making those changes needed to meet the challenges.

My involvement in the community and AIA include: Colorado South Board of Directors, Secretary, member of Urban Design Task Force and Education Committee 1988 and 89, AIA Colorado South/District #11 drafting contest task force 1982 to present, AIA/AGC Joint Task Force 1988 through 1990, Chairman Garden Ranch YMCA 1988 to present, First United Methodist Church Board of Trustees 1988 to present.

BIO: Tom Thompson has practiced in Colo. Springs since graduating from Kansas State Univ. in 1965. He has been involved with several firms including Francis and Guy, Lusk and Wallace, Leland B. Rogers, and since 1986, Van Sant Group. His experience includes commercial, multi-family, schools, & the New Airport Terminal for Colo. Springs.

FOR TREASURER-ELECT, THERE ARE TWO CANDIDATES:

Gary L. Brothers, AIA

The AIA is an organization of individuals with a special dedication to enrich our profession of architecture. It is a real honor to be nominated to the position of Treasurer-Elect for AIA Colorado. The opportunity to be part of this special organization is very exciting to me.

I promise to do the best job I can as Treasurer-Elect and Treasurer over the next two years. AIA Colorado's budget has always been a balance between the size of our membership and the services and programs it can provide. If every member could recruit just one new member or encourage a past member to reinstate, the impact would be phenomenal, not only at the state level, but at the chapter level. If you know an architect or intern who is not a member, please make the effort to invite them to become a member.

BIO: Gary Brothers has been a principal of his own firm for the past eleven years and is currently a partner with Brothers & VanderVorste Architects in Boulder, Colorado. He received his Masters of Architecture from the University of Colorado in Boulder in 1977. He has been actively involved in the AIA for the past 12 years, serving the Colorado North Chapter as Director, Treasurer, President-Elect and President.

Dennis R. Humphries, AIA

I am pleased to submit myself for consideration for the position of Treasurer-Elect. This past year in my role as President of AIA Denver I have had the opportunity to serve on the AIA Colorado Board providing significant insight into the challenges ahead. Obviously, one of the most demanding aspects of an organization of this nature is the financial leadership. The past years have been difficult at best in balancing the books. I won't get caught up in political rhetoric that suggests we should lower dues and provide more services. However, I do believe we have numerous opportunities and untapped resources to draw from in order to make this organization even stronger. Membership needs to be increased, the state components tied closer together, and additional events planned. My experience this past year on the Board has been extremely rewarding and yet eye-opening. I believe my leadership abilities and experience, my sincere enthusiasm for the profession, and continuity that I can offer will assist in building the AIA in Colorado into a superior organization for the benefit of all. I am in Denver, but I can tell you with all certainty that I will represent the entire state in my drive to enhance the profession's role in the leadership of the state. I would appreciate your support and would welcome the opportunity to serve our membership.

BIO: Dennis Humphries, AIA is currently a principal in the 35-person firm of Pouw & Associates, Inc. in Denver. He has been on the AIA Denver Board for the past five years and has participated in and chaired numerous committees at both the local and state level.

FOR ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR:

Keith E. Hayes

Intern and Associate AIA members represent a group with diverse experience and varied goals. Only recently has our group gained enough attention from AIA members to mandate a focus group at the national level. It is important that Interns and Associates are recognized at the state level as well, particularly in a state as demographically and geographically diverse as our own. Whether you are a recent graduate just entering the profession, or you are an intern preparing to sit for the ARE, there are a growing number of resources available to help you. I strongly believe access need not be limited to those who live near Denver, but can be made available to Interns and Associates throughout our state using technologies such as videotapes or public access cable. No one needs to be "left in the dark." Given my record of participation in AIA, I can promise Interns and Associates vigorous representation at the state level. Thank you for your consideration.

BIO: Keith Hayes is an intern with three years of experience with practices in Seattle and Boulder. He holds a degree in Environmental Design from CU-Boulder and a Master of Architecture degree from the Univ. of Washington. The focus of his participation in AIA has been on professional development and opportunities for interns through this organization. Keith served as UW student liaison to the Seattle Chapter and was part of that chapter's intern committee. In Colorado, Keith has worked with Steve Walsh, the State IDP Coordinator and is an active member of the Colorado's ADA Task Force.

DESIGN CONFERENCE 1992 EnvirOlympics

Let the games begin! EnvirOlympics will start at 3:30 pm on Thursday, October 8, 1992. The highlight will be a team brick laying competition sponsored by Robinson Brick. A mason will be the judge of each team's work. Sign up your children to participate in their own version of the "EnvirOlympics." T-shirts will be awarded to the winners of the EnvirOlympics competitions and cash prizes will go to the winner's favorite environmental group. EnvirOlympics will end with the West Chapter's Host Chapter Party with Music and refreshments. We need 2 more foursomes to sign up for a best ball golf tournament. With clubs, the green fee at Aspen Golf Course is $46-- add $25. Tennis anyone? Anyone? Please let us know if you would like to play in a round robin tennis tournament that could begin at 12:00 on Thursday at the Snowmass Club (cost is $20 per hour for each court).

We encourage everyone to get to Snowmass on Thursday aft. because the conference begins Friday morning at 8:00 a.m. (SHARP!). Let us know which events you plan to participate in by sending in the form below.
