Chapter News

Denver

On March 8th a membership meeting will be held at the Denver Athletic Club from 5-8 pm. This meeting will be a forum on Amendments 1 and 2. Breakfast seminars will continue on March 2 and 16 at the Denver Design Center, 595 S. Broadway, in Conference Room 3 from 7:30 am to 9:30 am. On March 4th, the second installment of the Environmental Teleconference will take place at Channel 6, 1089 Bannock from 11:00 am to 3:00 pm.

North

March 4th from 11:00 am to 3:00 pm will feature part 2 of the 3-part National Environmental Teleconferences entitled "Building Connections: Linking Economy and Ecology for a New Prosperity" at Colorado State University in Ft. Collins and sponsored by the Colorado North Chapter.

South

Colorado South Chapter has embarked on a three pronged 1993 agenda of outreach, member fellowship and new information. Beginning February 26, the Chapter will begin distributing a 20 page monthly newsletter to its members, non-member architects and leaders of government, business, media and building industry. In tandem with this undertaking, a series of fellowship hour visits will be made to ten architectural offices on the 4th Thursday of every month at 5-6 pm. During the year, a series of four programs will be featured by the South Chapter. The first will be support for the March 8th Front Range Forum in Denver on the impact of Amendments 1 and 2 on architectural work. A Forum on the Environment in May and a Roundtable on Housing in October are in the planning stage. In December, the annual dinner, accompanied by design awards and an art by architects exhibit will be held at the Sangre de Cristo Conference and Art Center in Pueblo.

West

Colorado West Chapter held its 1992 Design Awards banquet and installation of officers on January 30th at the Little Nell in Aspen. Larry Yaw, AIA was the awards chair and Don McLaughlin, AIA of AIA Montana was the representative of the Montana Jury. The seven awards are as follows:

Honor	Hagman Residence	Tim Hagman, AIA
Honor	Canyonlands Visitor Center	Chamberlin Architects, PC
Honor	The Chapel at Beaver Creek	Zehren & Associates Inc.
Merit	Kraver Residence	Lipkin-Warner Design Partnership
Merit	Williams Woods Townhomes	Stryker/Brown Architects, PC
Merit	Hernandez Residence	Charles Cunniffe Architects
Merit	Private Residence	Cottle Graybeal Yaw Architects, Ltd.

On March 9th, the members in Aspen will be hosting a two part seminar by Howard Burnberg on Financial Management and Marketing (9:30 am to 5:30 pm). The Executive Committee will meet at 4:00 pm on March 12th and a 10 X 10 (ten slides by ten professionals) will be held that night at 6:00 pm at the Village Smithy in Carbondale, CO. On April 8th, the Executive Committee will meet at 4:00 pm with a 10 X 10 slide presentation at 6:00 pm in Vail.

Society of Architectural Administrators (SAA)

The Denver Chapter of the Society of Architectural Administrators will be presenting a Training Seminar on Saturday, March 20 at AIA Colorado's office. This seminar will present an overall picture of the operation of a Design firm. All design administrators are encouraged to attend. For more information contact: Debra Mitchell, SAA at 722-6611 or AIA Colorado's office.

AIA National Board

By Phillip H. Gerou,
FAIA, Director

At the upcoming National Board meeting in March, Amendment 2 will be a topic of discussion. In particular, should AIA boycott Colorado by pulling national committee meetings and the October Board meeting from the state. This approach is being supported by those from New York and California.

The AIA Colorado Board recently passed a motion to oppose the boycott, a position I believe most of us support. However, the more sensitive issue at hand is: What proactive, positive steps should the AIA, locally or nationally, take to help overturn Amendment 2, if any? We have had numerous meetings concerning this issue, but we also need to hear from each of you. The National Board meeting is March 26th so please let us know how you feel as soon as possible. Call Linda at AIA or Phil Gerou at 674-4177.

ENERGY TOOLS

New Products for Architects from the National Energy Laboratories. This 36 page publication by AIA/ACSA Council on Architectural Research was a true collaborative effort, involving a wide range of people and organizations across the country. Participants were U.S. Department of Energy, Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory, National Renewable Energy Laboratory, Oak Ridge National Laboratory, Pacific Northwest Laboratory and AIA Committee on the Environment. It contains 18 research "products" ranging in subject matter from daylighting to passive solar design to thermal bridging to moisture control. It provides practicing architects with valuable means to improve the energy performance of their buildings. Contact AIA/ACSA Council on Architectural Research, 1735 New York Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20006 if you would like more information on ENERGY TOOLS.

ProFile Directory of Architectural Design Firms

Beginning this year, AIA Press will resume publishing of ProFile and this will significantly enhance the content, design, accuracy of information, data management, and frequency of publication. ProFile, featuring firms, owned or managed by Architect members, will be easy to use and indexed by firm names, key staff, and business status. Important new features will be the expanded list of building types and services and the addition of key staff. Participants in Professional Interest Areas, members of Allied organizations, award recipients, a CACE directory, a list of related organizations and a guide to AIA products and services will also be included in the 1993-94 edition of ProFile.

Look for the new ProFile this summer. Questionnaires have been mailed to all Architect Member firm owners. All forms must be returned no later than March 5, 1993.

A special price is being offered through April 1, 1993 of $125. After April 1st, the price will be $175. Call AIA Colorado today to order your ProFile.

Government Affairs Committee in Action

The Government Affairs Committee is currently developing a program to present our interests to legislators new to state government this year. Our goal is to meet with 28 legislators by August. We hope to educate these new members as to what Architects do and what concerns we have with legislation at the state level.

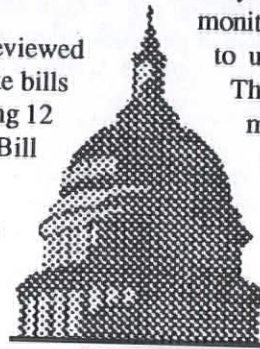

So far this year we have reviewed 310 House bills, 200 Senate bills and are currently monitoring 12 bills for you. (see the "Bill Recap" listed below)

We are also monitoring the efforts of the Board of Examiners of Architects to explore revisions to our licensing law. This current activity is in response to a review of our licensing law by the Attorney General's office.

Other activities of the Government Affairs Committee include continuing QBS efforts, review of Jefferson County School District contracts, and monitoring the efforts of the CDOT to use design build proposals.

The Government Affairs Committee meets the 2nd Friday of each month at AIA Colorado's office. You are welcome to come and participate. Contact AIA Colorado at 831-6183 for more details.

CALL FOR ENTRIES

1993 Colorado Education Fund Scholarships - Deadline is March 17, 1993 at 5:00 pm for all scholarship requests from the Colorado Education Fund. All submittals should be delivered to AIA Colorado.

Art by Architects - Alpha Gallery/AIA Colorado/AIA Denver is pleased to announce a unique juried exhibition of work created by architects. Architects residing in Colorado are invited to submit works between April 5th and 7th to the Alpha Gallery located at 959 Broadway. Jurying for the exhibition will be April 8th. Call Alpha Gallery at 623-3577 for a prospectus or additional information. Look for information in the mail around the first of March. The opening of the exhibit will be April 16 from 5-8 pm.

The AIA and the International Union of Architects (UIA) are pleased to sponsor an international ideas competition: A Call for Sustainable Community Solutions. This call is to architects, planners, engineers, designers, humanists, and social scientists from around the world to demonstrate whole-system, interdisciplinary approaches to designing sustainable habitats. For questions fax inquiry to 202/626-7518. Registration closes April 15, submissions are due May 10, winners will be notified May 20 and dissemination of the competition results begin June 18.

The Boston Society of Architects announces its Design Awards Program for 1993. Categories include: Sustainable Design Awards, Art and Architecture Collaborations, Healthcare Facilities Design Awards. If you have projects in the New England area and are interested in this awards program, call BSA at 800/662-1235 ext. 232. Deadlines are in March.

Applications are now available for Round II for Historic Preservation grants from gambling revenues. The Colorado Historical Society's office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation has announced that applications are now available for those interested in applying for Round II of the Historic Preservation grants from the new fund created from the state's revenues from gambling. Approximately $750,000 is available to be awarded in Round II of the grants program; application deadline for Round II is March 1. In mid-November $1,126,299 was awarded in Round I of the grants, funding 68 historic preservation projects throughout Colorado. Contact Peg Ekstrand 303/866-3670 for more information.

The National Easter Seal Society and Century 21 Real Estate Corporation have announced the creation of a contest to recognize innovative housing designs that meet the needs of people with disabilities and older Americans. The National Easter Seal Society/CENTURY 21 Easy Access Housing Design Contest has been developed by the two organizations as part of their ongoing efforts to create awareness of the need for accessible and adaptable housing.

The competition, undertaken in cooperation with the joint Aging Design Research Program of the AIA and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, invites architects and builders to submit accessible housing designs for new and existing facilities. Entries of all scales and types are eligible, from large multi-unit developments to single-room environments and from renovation and remodels to new construction.

Entries will be screened by a jury of AIA affiliated architects and accessibility specialists. They will be judged on how they facilitate daily living activities for persons with disabilities, while maintaining a high degree of design quality. The selected designs will be exhibited in Chicago at the AIA National Convention in June. Deadline for submission is April 9. For further information contact Steve Knipstein/Darlene Oldakowski at Aaron D. Cushman and Associates 312/263-2500.

AIA-Sunset Magazine Western Home Awards Program - AIA and Sunset have co-sponsored this awards program since 1957. It occurs every two years and is open to registered architects in the western fourteen states: Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming. Winners will be published in the cover story of Sunset's October issue. Applications, with $75 entry fee per project, must be postmarked no later than April 16. Completed binders should be received at Sunset by May 24. For applications, write Western Home Awards, Box 2345, Menlo Park, CA 94025; or call 415/324-5439.

Environmental Teleconferences

Call for people interested in forming Environmental Committees in their chapters. Greg Franta, AIA Colorado Coordinator and Jim Cox are looking for members interested in environmental issues. There seems to be a great deal of interest generated by the Environmental Teleconferences. Two organizational meetings have been held at AIA Colorado. We need your input. Sign up sheets will be available at the March 4 teleconferences. Call Greg Franta (449-5226) or Jim Cox in Ft. Collins (1-493-1220) to show your interest and offer your support.

Orchids and Onions

This community design-awareness program, successful and highly popular in other cities, has made it to Denver with balloting in nine different areas of design beginning February 26th and continuing for a month through March 26th. You will be able to call a hotline number for information and to vote at 654-7161 or you can mail ballots which will be distributed throughout the city.

Categories for Orchids and Onions are: Architecture, Urban Design and Planning, Environmental Solutions, Infrastructure, Landscape Architecture, Graphic Design and Signage, Historic Preservation, Interior Design and Fine Arts.

The jury of well known Denverites will make final selections of Orchids and Onions from ballots sent in by the public. A children's panel is also being assembled to comment on final O & O from a kids point of view. Children who want to be on the jury can call the hotline number and tell us why they wish to be on the panel.

The gala awards event will take place on May 27 at 7:30 pm at the historic Paramount Theater. Tickets, $12 for adults and $8 for students, are available at the Paramount or at all TicketMaster outlets. See you there!!

One College, One Dean

by Rebecca Alexis, AIA/S President (CU Boulder)

Dwayne C. Nuzum is now officially the Dean of the "new" College of Architecture and Planning in Denver and Boulder. Since 1986 Nuzum has been the Chancellor at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, and since 1966 he has held many positions within the Colorado University system. Included in this long list is Dean of the College of Environmental Design in Boulder from 1971-80.

Nuzum's experience is undeniably substantial in the field of architecture and planning. His involvement however goes beyond the profession to include a vast array of service projects. Among these are President of Citizen's Goals, Chairman of Public Sector in the United Way, Advisory Board of the Clean Air Consortium, and Board of Directors of the World Affairs Council. Dean Nuzum is also a Registered Architect in Colorado and in the Commonwealth of Virginia, and he devotes much of his time as a member of APA and AIA.

Recently the Student Representatives from Denver and Boulder met with the Dean to discuss students' concerns and plans for the future. Nuzum's primary issue was to offer four options of study between the two campuses. These include an Undergraduate Bachelors Degree in Environmental Design, a structured 4 + 2 Architecture program, a 4 + 2 Landscape Architecture degree, and an Urban and Regional Planning option. Furthermore, there are hopes to enlarge the educational process by eventually offering a PhD program. There is also attention being focused on the Accreditation Board visit to Denver in April. This year, like no year I have seen before, the College seems very stable and moving in a good direction. Hopefully NAAB will also see it this way and will reinstate the accreditation for C.U.

On the side of the student organizations, some short term plans include an amazing lecture series of professionals and professors from all over the US, as well as an annual Beaux Arts Ball in early April. The entire Design Community in Denver and Boulder is invited to this formal affair. So please keep your eyes open in the next couple of weeks for more information, and then LET'S PARTY!

Installation One . . . is the first issue of a student run publication from the College of Architecture and Planning at C.U.-Denver which includes the work of students, faculty, local artists and architects. This premiere issue explores, comparatively, architecture and other disciplines. The purpose is to emphasize the richness of interdisciplinary thought and the mutual benefit of exploring disciplines in relation to one another. Installation One is available for $12 from the main office of the College of Architecture and Planning in Denver. It can also be ordered by sending an additional $1.60 for postage to: Installation One, University of Colorado at Denver, College of Architecture and Planning, P.O. Box 173364, Denver, CO 80217-3364 (Attention: Pam Erickson).

Executive Directors Message:

As this newsletter goes to press, we will be hosting a special meeting with 1993 AIA President Susan Maxman, FAIA. She will be in town for a personal event but asked to meet with us regarding Amendment 2. Susan is receiving calls and letters from chapters across the country regarding the potential withdrawal of all national activities currently planned for this year in Colorado. She is asking to hear what we have to say on the subject of a Colorado boycott, not to debate the Amendment 2 issue. Per our meeting on Friday, February 19th, the AIA Colorado Board of Directors strongly opposes any position supporting a boycott of the State of Colorado by AIA National based upon Amendment 2. We have invited representatives from the Denver Mayor's office, the Colorado Legal Initiative, AIA Denver, and the Western Mountain Region. We hope to provide Susan with information that will make a strong statement for the AIA members of Colorado. Please share your concern about this boycott with Susan Maxman and other members of the national board by writing to them. This issue will be an item on the agenda at the March meeting in Miami. Write to Susan Maxman, FAIA at AIA Headquarters, 1735 New York Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20006. We need to be heard!

THANKS FOR PAYING YOUR DUES!!!!

IS YOUR ADMINISTRATOR A MEMBER OF SAA??

One of the best and least expensive ways to encourage and develop your firm's administrators is through their membership in the Society of Architectural Administrators (SAA) which

- Is designed to provide support and the exchange of non-proprietary information among its members.
- Impacts the practice of architecture by offering its members
 - education/training seminars
 - publications
 - monthly chapter programs
 - professional networking with other design administrative staff
 - regional and national conventions

To encourage career growth and excellence, the designation of Certified Architectural Administrator (CAA) is awarded to members who fulfill the prescribed requirements of experience and abilities.

SAA is a national organization affiliated with AIA and each chapter is an affiliate of their local AIA chapter.

For information regarding membership in the Society of Architectural Administrators contact: Debra Mitchell, SAA at 303/722-6611 or AIA Colorado.

WORLD CONGRESS OF ARCHITECTS

The AIA will host the International Union of Architects (UIA) during the national convention, June 18-21, 1993, in Chicago. Don't miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to network, learn, and interact with the largest gathering of architects in history. Information and registration forms for the World Congress of Architects will be mailed the first of March. Look for this information in your mailbox.

ProNet

ProNet is a national association of independent insurance brokers who specialize in professional liability insurance and loss prevention for architects and engineers. It is an information and resource sharing network intended to strengthen the services provided by its members to their clients and to the architectural and engineering community. ProNet Practice Notes is an ongoing series of reports on managing the risk of professional liability in architectural and engineering practice. The latest report is The Architectural Works Copyright Protection Act of 1990 by Burton C. Allyn, IV. It reviews the copyright of owner's exclusive rights, limitations of exclusive rights, registration and infringement, ownership of copyright, testing the principles, and practical considerations. Call ProNet at (704) 521-8878 for information on how to obtain this informational report.

GREAT SAVINGS IN XEROX PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

The AIA has a new purchasing agreement with the Xerox Corporation that guarantees AIA members discounts on a wide range of Xerox products and services. Under the agreement, AIA members are granted preferred pricing on the sale or lease of Xerox copiers, printers, fax machines and other equipment. Inquiries are being handled through local Xerox sales offices. For more information, call 800-TEAM-XRX, ext. AIA.

THE NEW ARCHITECTS CLUB

THE NEW ARCHITECTS CLUB is a specialty catalog of architecturally inspired products established to raise the public's awareness of the profession and service to society. It was created by Architects for those with a passionate interest in Architecture. THE NEW ARCHITECTS CLUB is presently featuring shirts of architectural drawings of Frank Lloyd Wright's Fallingwater, LeCorbusier's Villa Savoye and Mies van der Rohe's Barcelona Pavilion. Silk-screened in black on the front of a white 100% cotton T-shirt, an appropriate quote or phrase is imprinted on the back. Wright's shirt says "Organic Architecture," Corbu's shirt says "A House is a Machine for Living In," and Mies' shirt says "Less is More." Shirts come in Large and X-Large only and sell for $20.

Three new shirts are under development:

- "American Architect USA" - to tell the world you are an architect.
- "baby Architect" - for the new born, mother-to-be or the architectural intern.
- "Architecture" spelled in different languages

To order, send check or money order to:

New Architects Club, P.O. Box 12, Verona, NJ 07044 (201/239-8703)

UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA OFFERS TO COLLECT FIRM BROCHURES

The College of Architecture Library, University of Arizona has a collection of firm brochures which it would like to expand. The brochures currently focus on Tucson and Arizona but because of student and community interest they would like to expand coverage to include other states in the West, especially Colorado. The brochures are used by the students for inspiration, design projects, and of course potential employment. Community users are seeking information on specific architects and may be potential clients. The brochure collection began in 1989 as result to a highly successful competition held by the local AIA chapter. Information and/or brochures may be sent to Shannon Paul, College of Architectural Library, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721.
