Joseph M. Jackson, Assoc. AIA Executive Vice President/CEO

2000/2001 are special years for AIA Colorado. In 2000, our State is working hard to prepare to host the 2001 AIA National Convention in Colorado. While the majority of the Convention will take place in Denver, we are making every effort to ensure that the National Convention will be a statewide celebration of architecture. 2001 will place Colorado architects and architecture in the international spotlight as never before. Get ready! Colorado's Convention is going to be terrific!

As always, please feel free to call any AIA member to answer questions you may have regarding professional architectural services. Also, visit our offices at One Park Central, 1515 Arapahoe Street, Suite 110 in the heart of downtown Denver for more information regarding our services, programs, and events. Our friendly and capable staff is eager to assist you any way they can.

Thank you.

What Do Architects Do?

You have a vision of what you want. Now you need to make that vision a reality. Here's how architects can help you:

Architects see the big picture

Architects are specially educated to help you define what you want to build, present options you might never have considered, and help you get the most for your valuable investment. They don't just design four walls and a roof — they create total environments, both interiors and exteriors, that are functional and exciting places in which to work and live.

Architects solve problems creatively

Architects are trained problem solvers. Need more room for your growing family? Architects can show you how to enlarge your home so you won't have to move. Have a limited budget? Architects can propose ways to get more for your investment than you imagined possible.

Architects help you get the most from your construction dollar

Architects can reduce building costs, decrease your home's energy needs, and increase its future resale value through good design.

Architects make your life easier

Building is a long process that is often messy and disruptive, particularly if you're living in the space while it's under construction. Your architect represents you, not the contractors. Your architect looks out for your interests and smoothes the process, helps find qualified construction contractors, and visits the worksite to help protect you against work that's not according to plan.

Speak with an architect who is a member of The American Institute of Architects (AIA) at the earliest stage of the design process. Use the 2000/2001 Firm Profile and Directory to reach all the AIA members located in Colorado. Another resource available to you is an Architectural Referral database that is maintained at AIA Colorado. Contact us to reach your future architect.

Why an AIA Architect?

Like doctors and lawyers, architects are licensed professionals. Only an individual who possesses a state license to practice architecture may use the title "Architect". They are the only professionals in the construction industry who are ethically bound to represent you, the building owner.

Professional qualifications generally include:

- College degree from an accredited school of architecture, requiring five or more years of professional studies
- Three years of internship under the supervision of licensed archi-
- Passage of a rigorous five-day examination

Only those professionals who have fulfilled these requirements, or other requirements as stipulated by each individual state, may legally call themselves architects and practice architecture in the jurisdiction granting the license. Individuals may be registered, or licensed, in more than one state by means of reciprocal licensing agreements among the states.

Get the real thing - Look for "AIA"

Look for the AIA initials after the name of any architect you consider for your project. AIA architects remain current with professional standards through continuing education and subscribe to a code of ethics (refer to page 6) and professional conduct that assure clients, the public and colleagues of their dedication to high standards in professional practice.

The Colorado Chapter of The American Institute of Architects

AIA Colorado represents architects and others statewide and unifies the four local Chapters of The American Institute of Architects within Colorado. AIA Colorado seeks to:

- Unite the architects of the State of Colorado in fellowship.
- Promote the aesthetic, scientific, and business practice of architecture.
- Advance architectural standards of continuing education, training and practice.
- Build relationships among clients, the construction industry and

AIA Colorado believes that an important purpose of architecture is to create a vision that improves the built environment. This vision is vital to the advancement of the living standards of our communities and provides a service of ever-increasing value to society.

AIA Colorado provides architect referrals, lobbies the Colorado legislature, offers architectural employment information and sells AIA contracts and publications. The organization hosts an annual conference, usually between October and December. AIA Colorado provides support all the chapters within the state. It is a professional organization for the design profession and classified as "not-for-profit."

History of AIA Colorado

The Colorado Association of Architects was organized in 1890 and the elected officers were: Robert S. Roeschlaub, President; Harold W. Baerresen, Vice President; Eugene R. Rice, Secretary; and Frank E. Edbrooke, Treasurer. The same men were re-elected to office at the Second Annual Meeting held December 21, 1891. The main topic of discussion at that event was submitting an application for a charter as a chapter of The American Institute of Architects. The charter was received April 4, 1892 and included the states of Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico. It wasn't until 1947 that each state had its own chapter.

This Committee is responsible for the financial well-being of AIA Colorado. The committee develops long-range financial goals and makes recommendations to the Board regarding budgets and other areas of financial planning. Membership dues, the Design Conference, support from exhibitors and document sales generate most of the revenue necessary for the operating budget of AIA Colorado.

Government Affairs

2000 Chair: Eileen Koenigsberg, AIA Moore Koenigsberg Architecture 2001 Chair: Mary Follenweider, AIA Mary Follenweider, Architect

This committee meets on the second Friday of each month at 12:00 noon at the AIA Colorado office to discuss matters relating to, among other things, the State Board of Examiners of Architects and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the Legislative Affairs Sub-Committee meets at 7:30 a.m. each Friday morning to screen and discuss potential legislation that could affect the profession of architecture. Our contract lobbyist, Jerry Johnson, Hon. AIA/C, assists AIA Colorado in this monitoring process, as well as providing on-site lobbying at the Capitol. AIA Colorado occasionally sponsors legislation; our primary goal with this program is to increase the legislators' awareness of architects, architecture and the AIA.

Intern Development Program

State Coordinator: Andrea Nicholl, Assoc. AIA

The Intern Development Program (IDP) continues to gain momentum in Colorado. The IDP Coordinator and AIA Colorado staff sent out more than 200 packets last year. The Coordinator provides programs at CU Boulder and CU Denver, as well as firms interested in the merits of the IDP program. The Coordinator also nominates firms for the AIA/NCARB IDP Firm of the Year award.

Newsletter Editorial Board (Colorado Architect)

2000 Chair: Steve Loos, AIA Abo Copeland Architects 2001 Chair: John Williams, AIA John Williams Architecture

The Colorado Architect is a monthly newsletter published by AIA Colorado to give members an update on actions taken by their Boards, notice of upcoming events, call for entries announcements, reports from committees and local chapter news. The Colorado Architect encompasses the newsletters of the state and the four local components. Articles and letters are welcomed. Submission deadline is the 1st of each month before the month of publication. The Editorial Board is comprised of a representative of each local chapter, a public member, a member of the media, the Marketing Director of AIA Colorado, and the publisher.

Nominating Committee

Chair: John Williams, AIA (2000 AIA Colorado President-Elect) John Williams Architecture

This committee is composed of at least five AIA Colorado architects, selected on the basis of one representative from each AIA Colorado chapter (appointed each year at the June or July meeting of the Board of Directors) and chaired by the current President-Elect. The Nominating Committee recommends at least two nominees to run for each officer's position on the AIA Colorado Board of Directors.

Membership

Chair: Ned White, AIA Intergroup

Successful and continuous membership expansion efforts are essential to ensure that the AIA truly represents the profession. Recruit a friend — invite them to a meeting or chapter activity and get them involved in AIA Colorado.

The Young Architects' Awards Gala

Chair: David Owen Tryba, AIA David Owen Tryba Architects

The AIA Colorado Young Architects' Awards Gala committee is responsible for the yearly awards program aimed at recognizing the Colorado Society of Architects' AIA Educational Fund Scholarship Award recipients and, also bestows numerous other awards aimed at students, interns and recently licensed professionals. The most prestigious award is the AIA Colorado Young Architect of the Year Award. Additional award categories include excellence in construction documents, technology innovations, craftsmanship, and student portfolios. The program also seeks to recognize significant firm contributions to young professionals through its Mentoring Firm of the Year Award.

AIA College of Fellows

The American Institute of Architects bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, fellowship is the highest honor the AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training and practice; to the building industry through leadership of the AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment and to society through significant public service.

Those advanced to fellowship can use "FAIA" after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

The History of the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA

Since the first $600 scholarship was presented in 1961, the Education Fund has awarded more than $700,000 in scholarships, grants and other awards to over two hundred students, architects and teachers. The 1999 awards program totaled $35,000 from income received through investments, donations, & memorials. This figure is more than 10 times the amount of the original Trust Fund in 1934.

The Educational Fund was born out of the devotion of five men to the practice of architecture. On January 23, 1934, Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, announced on behalf of himself and four other men, the creation of a special Trust Fund: "to advance the interest of the profession of architecture in the State of Colorado."

This was the realization of 10 years of commitment by Robert Fuller, FAIA, William E. Fisher, FAIA, George H. Williamson, FAIA, William Bowman, AIA and Fred Montjoy, AIA. Their dream was "to provide an instrument whereby, someday, sufficient income would be realized to be able to award scholarships, grants, prizes, etc. to the betterment of the profession" ("quotes" are from the original articles of incorporation.) The first aim of the Trust Fund was quite modest: the assets were to be "held intact and allowed to grow" until the principal was large enough to ensure a "Good annual return therefrom."

On December 18, 1944, the Trust Fund was transferred to the Colorado Chapter, AIA. Robert K. Fuller was designated its Permanent Trustee. On February 16, 1961, the Fund was incorporated as a separate tax free, non-profit corporation. Its broad purpose, as reported in the December 1961 issue of the Colorado Chapter, AIA newsletter, "The Addenda," was (and remains today) "to advance education in architecture by granting scholarships, prizes and financial aid to deserving students in architecture and to teachers or architects interested in research projects directly related and of value to the architectural profession."

In 1961 the Colorado Chapter, AIA awarded James E. Koentop, a fifth-year architectural engineering student at the University of Colorado, the William E. Fisher Memorial Scholarship. This was the first scholarship awarded by the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. It had taken 27 years for the five founders' original dream to come true.

Robert K. Fuller, FAIA died in 1966, and the Colorado Chapter, AIA asked his son Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA, to assume the position of Permanent Member of the Board of Trustees, which he fulfilled until his death in 1998. Upon Kenneth's death, his son, Robert K. Fuller, II AIA was appointed Permanent Trustee. The Board of Trustees of the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA, by the Articles of Incorporation, consists of the following officers: Educational Fund President — President of AIA Colorado; Educational Fund Vice President — President Elect of AIA Colorado; Educational Fund Secretary/Treasurer — Permanent Member, Robert K. Fuller II, AIA.

AIA Continuing Education Requirements for Membership

What is AIA/CES?

It is the AIA Continuing Education System, which emphasizes learning and keeps records of AIA-member learning units. Continuing education is a requirement for AIA architect membership. It enables the architect to keep current, master new knowledge and skills, plan for the future, and responsibly meet the role society entrusts to a professional. In doing so, AIA/CES has the potential to be a primary force in improving and vitalizing the profession of architecture.

How does it work?

As members you can earn credit (Learning Units, or LUs) in two ways:

- A. Participating in programs offered by chapters, firms and other registered providers. In this case, there's no paperwork at all for you to deal with. This generally does not include committee
- B. Self-directed personal learning activities which are studies of matters relying principally on the architect's initiative as a method of gaining knowledge to improve professional skills. These can include seminars, college courses, conference presentations, video and audio tapes and computer-based education software. A self report form is filled out and used to record your learning units on a transcript. You may complete your self report forms electronically at www.aiaonline.com, or request a hard copy of the form to be faxed to you from AIA Colorado.

What is a Learning Unit Hour (LU Hour)?

The AIA records continuing education credit in learning unit hours (LU Hours). One LU Hour is equal to one educational program contact hour. The AIA Board of Directors approved this educational model to begin January 1, 2000.

How many Learning Units do I need?

All active AIA members must successfully complete 18 LU/hours per year (including 8 hours of health, safety, and welfare issues) to fulfill the CES requirement for membership renewal. This will retroactively affect 1998 and 1999 records.

- member who fails to meet the annual requirement will be given 9 months to earn the deficient LUs and meet the current annual requirement of 18 LUs.
- A member who exceeds the annual requirement in a given year may carry up to 18 LUs (including 8 hours of HSW) into the next year. Members' CES carryover credits allow only as many hours as needed to fulfill the annual requirement.

Where are the CES records kept?

Transcript service and record keeping is provided by the College of Continuing Education at the University of Oklahoma. Self report forms need to be sent by the member directly to: University of Oklahoma, AIA/CES, Room B4, 1700 Asp Avenue, Norman, OK 73072. You may choose to complete your self report forms electronically, through www.aiaonline.com. A transcript will be mailed once a year, free of charge, to all members with CES activities. Additional transcripts are $10 each. Transcripts can be accessed on AIA Online by using your member number. You should keep a record of your LUs for two years.

How else can the Internet and AIAOnline help with CES?

Members and AIA/CES Registered Providers can now access AIA/CES through the AIAOnline professional information continuing education page. Following are the offerings you will find there:

CES Transcripts: AIA members can review their up-to-date transcripts at any time.

State mandatory continuing education (MCE) requirements: Find current information about state MCE requirements and regular updates about continuing education issues. Click on the map for an update status report of the states. Links connect to the home pages of licensing boards in states that require MCE.

CES Programs: AIAOnline now provides detailed information about available continuing-education programs, which change daily. This is an easy way to find educational activities offered by CES registered providers.

AIA eClassroom: Take advantage of this new and developing method of taking a course over the Internet. Additional information can be found about other educational self-study products and distance educational programs.

CES Questions (FAQs): A quick resource for the most up-to-date frequently asked questions (FAQ).

Provider Information: A list of all currently approved CES registered providers and the 1999 winners of the AIA/CES Award for Excellence.

CES Forms: Location of the AIA/CES template self-reporting forms for members. CES providers may advertise and register their programs through easy online templates. Other CES provider forms and the application for the CES Providers Award for Excellence may be downloaded.

Is there a list of CES events available for AIA Colorado members?

AIA Colorado and each local chapter have events and programs throughout the year that qualify for Learning Units. AIA Colorado's monthly newsletter, the Colorado Architect, includes announcements of CES events throughout the state, as does our web site at www.aiacolorado.org.

If you would like more information about AIA/CES please contact AIA Colorado, 303.446.2266 or 800.628.5598.

AIA Colorado Design Awards

AIA Colorado Design Awards

Every fall AIA Colorado holds a Design Competition to recognize outstanding achievements in architecture, interiors and planning. The goal is to increase public awareness of the various services provided by architects and to emphasize the architect's role in shaping the built environment through design excellence.

1999 Jury included these eminent architects from the Los Angeles area: Jury Chair, Scott Johnson, FAIA - Johnson Fain Partners John Kaliski, AIA - AIJK Ray Kappe, FAIA - Kappe Architects/Planners

Award Winners:

Honor Award:

Chunjoo University Chapel, Chunjoo, Korea Kerl Yoo Architect

This project appears to be an almost ethereal study in control while it is beautifully sited and organized in plan. The level of control and at the same time, simplicity, appears to be appropriate and conductive to the design of a sanctuary. The site plan captures nature wonderfully well within an urban framework.

Honor Award:

Hudson-Meng Visitor/Research Center, Oglala Nebraska Anderson Mason Dale Architects

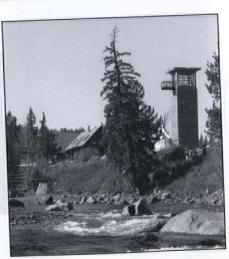

The jury felt that this project sat beautifully on the land. Its barrel roof nestled into its site and its exterior wall system gave it both solidity and openness at the same time.

Honor Award:

River Tower, Upper Arkansas River Anderson Mason Dale Architects

This project while programmatically simple appears to be beautifully executed. One juror was drawn to its illuminated qualities by night. Another appreciated its ability to reference an historic prototype while interpreting that in an unsentimental and modern manner.

AIA Colorado Design Awards

Merit Award:

Horan Office Showroom, Denver Michael Brendle Architects

While this project was presented as a series of vignettes, it seemed to pictorialize a modern life with all the slickness, tough edges, and automobiles pre-eminence that compose reality to many Americans today.

Merit Award:

Prairie Learning Center, Prairie City, Iowa OZ Architecture, Denver

This project appears to be handsomely sited while grabbing natural light at every opportunity. The circulation street through the building is a strong organizer and the jury appreciated the directness of the detailing and fenestration.

Merit Award:

Holy Family High School, Broomfield David Owen Tryba Architects

This high school appears to be a compactly organized little quadrangle made up of meticulously detailed building blocks. The sheltering aspect of the courtyard as well as the symbolism of the cross are put forward in approachable and modern terms.

Merit Award:

Solaz, Manitou Springs Elizabeth Wright Ingraham & Assoc.

This house and studio are a lesson in the joys of simplicity. The site plan is effortless, the organization of the main house plan is clear, and the simplest possible materials are employed in a way which defers to the luxuries of nature and natural light.

AIA Colorado Design Awards

Merit Award:

Cleveland Consolidated Car Rental Facility

None of the jury had ever been in a car rental facility as dramatic as this. The building appears to be carefully detailed and carries the spirit of flight all the way into the counter.

Merit Award:

Child Development Center, U.S. Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs Anderson Mason Dale Architects

The jury enjoyed studying this Miesen framed building infused with Day-Glo colors. It struck a sharp contrast with the natural landscape and seemed to have a modern child-like idealism about it.

Merit Award:

Environment and Natural Resources Building, Tucson, Arizona AR7 Hoover Desmond Architects

We felt that this building was an elegantly detailed composition. It was classic in the sense that care was put into the composition of all its parts, brick, metal or concrete rather than into the iconography of fashion.

Citation Award:

Peery's Egyptian Theater, Ogden Utah Fentress Bradburn Architects

The restoration of the historic theatre appears to be superb, particularly the ornamental aspects of the atmospheric theatre room itself. The new structure successfully updates its historic references into the 21st Century.

1999 AIA Colorado Award Winners

AIA Colorado Design Awards

Citation Award:

Ninth & Pearl, Boulder Wolff-Lyon Architects

These residential units are intelligently clustered to provide very contemporary living units within the scale of the historic street. Fenestration, rooftops, and balusters are smartly detailed.

Citation Award:

Grand Cherokee, Denver HumphriesPoli Architect PC

The jury applauded the creation of mid-rise live/work lofts such as these in town. The building is finished and detailed in an elegant and frank manner. The units appear to be spacious with great flexibility while the building façade supports the notion of an urban street.

Citation Award:

Colorado's Ocean Journey, Denver Odyssea, Anderson Mason Dale & RNL Design

This building represents a large exhibition space, which has been sensitively scaled down to a series of parts, some solid, some transparent. The emerging radial glass pavilion, elegantly detailed, admits light and gives public view into the workings of the world inside.

Citation Award:

Northeastern Junior College Bank of Colorado Events Center, Sterling, Colorado TSP and Michael Brendle Architects

This building is a big-box problem intelligently designed to break down its scale, organize its circulation clearly and support a major public plaza. In addition, the parts and pieces of the exterior are assembled thoughtfully and with great energy.

AIA Colorado Design Awards

Citation Award:

1224 Speer Boulevard, Denver HumphriesPoli Architects, Denver

A smart, spirited project born of an oblique building site and a modest budget. Lots of natural light, and cheap furnishing ideas for the present reality.

In the Information Age it takes more than CAD Management to survive.

AIA Denver Design Awards

AIA Denver Design Awards

Jury Harry Teague, AIA Elizabeth Gill Lui John Carney, AIA

Jury comments are included with the award winners.

Honor Award:

Mount Saint Gertrude's Academy, Boulder RNL Design, Shears Leese Associated Architects

This project is a model for an innovative way to provide elderly housing often done in a restrictive and unimaginative way. This project transcends the traditional idea of institutional living. It is a humanizing environment.

Honor Award:

Hudson-Meng Visitor/Research Center, Oglala, Nebraska Anderson Mason Dale Architects

A successful recollection of traditional agricultural forms/elements presented with an uncharacteristic elegance in the grasslands of Nebraska. A straightforward solution that looks like an agricultural structure, but with a sleek geometry which houses sophisticated archeological tools inside.

Honor Award:

Environment and Natural Resources Building, Tucson, Arizona AR7 Hoover Desmond Architects, John R. Kulseth Associates, Associate Architect

This project is subtle acknowledgement of its southwestern and urban context: a physical and culturally appropriate solution. The highly ordered unadorned screen wall is a successful, simple geometric form, a protective layer forward of the building's geometry.

AIA Denver Design Awards

Honor Award:

Architexture - Temporary Experimental Weaving Installation, Denver Interiors, Doris K. Sung

The Architexture project is extraordinary, thoughtful, intelligent, and delicate. It defines form for one of the most transcendental and transient enterprises of today. This project is ultimately, completely, and functionally practical; it is beautiful as an aesthetic and beautiful as a practical solution.

Merit Award:

JG Johnson Architects Studio, Denver Interiors, JG Johnson Architects PC

Elegant and straightforward solution to a windowless historic building. Discriminating in terms of how the design details are incorporated into the space, formal but relaxed; historical but contemporary.

Merit Award:

Delta Translations, Denver Interiors OZ Architecture

Loft exudes a bold contemporary combination of design, geometry, color and natural materials. It responds to the context of work as industry. A wonderful juxtaposition of the flooring and the pergola. A masonry loft with massive details that do not lose the retention of its original spatial volumes, a counter point to the delicacy of the high tech process.

Merit Award:

1224 Speer Boulevard, Denver Humphries Poli Architects, PC

A straightforward and imaginative renovation. This is collage where collage is appropriate. Every surface is a different material - this is hard to do, and it is successful here. Fresh and imaginative use of its inherent geometry.

AIA Denver Design Awards

Merit Award:

US Air Force Academy Child Development Center Anderson Mason Dale Architects

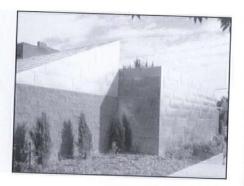

An aesthetic integration in a playful way of the Bauhaus color scheme of the Air Force Academy. This is no mean task to integrate playfulness in to the Modernism of the Air Force Academy grid. This project will be introducing children to good design.

Merit Award:

Horan Showroom Annex, Denver Michael Brendle Architects PC

This carefully restrained exterior fits into its urban context. It fits without imitating it. It is a radical departure to the use of materials, but still fits within the neighborhood. There is very clever detailing – the pivoting gate with no bar at the top.

Merit Award:

Tritch Building Renovation/Addition, Denver Fentress Bradburn Architects

The Tritch Building (formerly Joslins) skillfully reuses one of the most abused buildings in Denver, resurrecting it into the new millennium. This is a successful renovation with a respect of the historic aesthetic in an informed way

Citation Award:

Colorado's Ocean Journey, Denver Odyssea, a joint venture Anderson Mason Dale architects & RNL Design

By highlighting the water systems with Colorado's environment, this project makes a significant contribution to the cultural and environmental landscape of Denver.

AIA Denver Design Awards

Citation Award:

College Hill Library, Westminster Bennet Wagner & Grody Architects PC

This Community College and City library provides a quality use of materials in a public project which contributes to a sense of community and to the public's experience.

Citation Award:

Holy Family High School, Denver David Owen Tryba Architects

This takes a relatively simple geometry and creates a strong exterior presence. It is a successful integration of the natural landscape into the interior courtyard. A strong conceptual foundation to the design.

Citation Award:

Benson Earth Sciences Building, Boulder Anderson Mason Dale Architects

This project brings a fresh solution and a refreshing, asymmetrical, and restrained response to the University of Colorado at Boulder's campus context, while acknowledging the extensive constraints of the campus' design requirements.

AIA Colorado North Design Awards

Gabriella Gutierrez, RA and Associate Professor at the School of Architecture and Planning

Honor Award:

Oniki/Boas Residence, Boulder Hobbs Design Firm, Boulder

The Oniki/Boas residence is a renovation of a 1930 craftsman style house with a garage/studio addition. Some of the design challenges for this project included a terracing site, the historical character of the existing structure, and commanding views of the city and mountains.

Honor Award:

Mawson Block- A Mixed Use Development, Fort Collins RB+B Architects, Inc., Fort Collins

The Mawson Block, located in downtown Fort Collins, is a 33,200 square foot urban mixed use development. The Mawson Block contains a bank, four office spaces, a hair salon, four townhouses and three loft apartments.

Merit Award:

Jarrow Montessori School, Boulder Fenno Hoffman Architects, Boulder

The architects' goals for the Jarrow Montessori School were not only met in this project but also resonated with the vitruvian trilogy of firmness, commodity and delight. The school incorporated natural daylight and ventilation in such a way as to create cheerful classrooms,

AIA Colorado North Design Awards

Merit Award:

Rocky Mountain High School – Addition and Remodel, Fort Collins RB+B Architects, Inc., Fort Collins

An essential ingredient in the design of schools – in particular high schools – is to create an identity (or image) that students can identify with. Students want to have cool places to go to – to be in.

Merit Award:

The Mississauga "Coliseum", Ontario, Canada Roger M. Thorp, Thorp Associates, Estes Park

The architect of the "Coliseum" Theatre and Entertainment Complex, according to the jury, achieved precisely what he set out to – to create a motion picture theatre multi-plex which is the antithesis of the status quo in this area of design. They introduced a compact, nautilus-shaped plan forever removing from the movie goer's experience the seemingly endless extended sprawl of long darkened corridors.

Merit Award:

Storage Tek Cafeteria Remodel, Louisville OZ Architecture, Boulder

This 10,000 square foot remodel is one of a series of projects implemented by the client with the goal of enhancing the overall environment of their 'dated' campus in Louisville, Colorado. The jury was in unanimous agreement that the architects, through the use of multiple materials, lively floor and light patterns and quality furnishings, were overwhelmingly successful in bringing new life to this space.

Merit Award:

Community Church of the Rockies Outdoor Chapel, Estes Park Roger M. Thorp, Thorp Associates, Estes Park

The outdoor chapel was envisioned as an enhancement of the churches' existing meditation trail and shelter for seasonal outdoor church services. The chapel was designed in character with its surrounding mountain environment.

AIA Colorado North Design Awards

Merit Award:

The Meadows, Loveland Aller – Lingle Architects PC, Fort Collins

The Meadows is an affordable housing development designed for the housing authority of the City of Loveland. Within the academy and the profession it is widely acknowledged that one of the most difficult of challenges facing architects today is developing creative and innovative design solutions for affordable housing.

AIA Colorado South Awards

Jury University of Colorado Design Review Board Cabel Childress, FAIA John Prosser Eldon Beck Jerome Seracuse, FAIA

Honor Award:

Bacon Education Center, Iliff School of Theology, Denver LKA Partners

This was a project that serves as an inspiration to us all to do better architecture.

Merit Award:

Grandview High School, Englewood LKA Partners in association with H+L Architecture

The jury was impressed with this project because they felt that high schools are some of the most difficult projects to design because of the different things that go on in high schools. They felt this design provided nice statements for the public places and kept them

Merit Award:

North Elementary School, Brighton School District LKA Partners

The school has a central courtyard that created an outdoor classroom. The sun-filled corridors and the tree house in the center of the building all were significant to how well the building embraces the environment.

AIA Colorado South Design Awards

Merit Award:

Adams State College, Math and Science Building CSNA Architects

The jury determined this building was designed to fit the surrounding buildings. Comments included that the "building was well done and speaks for itself." They particularly addressed how the character of the new structure relates to the other buildings.

Merit Award:

University of Colorado at Colorado Springs Housing Village CSNA Architects in association with Anderson Mason Dale Architects

The jury felt the design created a village setting on a sloping terrain. There is a good connection with the academic core of the campus.

Citation Award:

US Air Force Academy Child Development Center Anderson Mason Dale Architects

Jury was "taken with the project". They felt that the building dealt with the serious nature of the USAFA but in a playful way.

AIA Colorado West Design Awards

AIA Colorado West Design Awards

Jury David Lee, FAIA. , Stull and Lee Janet Hurwitz, AIA, J.E.M. Kile.

Citation No. 1

The Kinzelberg Residence, an unbuilt residence Cottle Graybeal Yaw, Ltd.

The architects met their client's wish to recall the sense of a Tuscan hilltop village. The building(s) take full advantage of the topography of the site and the resultant changes of levels integrated with the outdoor auto and garden courts, combined with the promise of dramatic views, ties this residence uniquely to its site.

Citation No. 2

Van Straaten / Asin Residence M. Charles Bernstein

The architect transformed what was at first glance a perfectly acceptable "tract-like" home and made it into something quite exceptional. By skillfully reorganizing and opening up spaces, strategically removing partitions and finding ingenious places for expansion, the architect has created a new series of spatial experiences.

Citation No. 3

A small commercial building in Telluride Charles Cunniffe, Architects

This modest project draws heavily on its context and vernacular building techniques. Yet it reinterprets these things in a fresh manner, resulting in a building that fits harmoniously in its place and asks the question, "Is it live or is it Memorex" - is it new or is it old? I think you will agree it is refreshingly both.

Honor Award No. 1

Private residence in Steamboat Springs Cottle Graybeal Yaw, Ltd.

The architects have created a beautiful, rambling residence that heavily draws on the traditions of "western" settlements- particularly ranches and high-country lodges. Although the forms and materials have local precedents, they are reinterpreted and used in provocative and sometimes playful ways to give this ensemble a completely fresh look.

Honor Award No. 2

Studio b Architects Lindenau Residence in Aspen

This project clearly illustrates that wonderful architecture is not always linked to expansive budgets or programs. This house draws as its inspiration the "double-wide" trailer home. It literally blows away all preconceptions of what is possible within the basic constraints of a trailer home lot or footprint. These architects have created a light, colorful, and cheerful residence, using relatively inexpensive materials and construction techniques.

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB)

1735 New York Avenue NW, Suite 700 Washington, DC 20006 202/783-6500 202/783-0290 (fax) www.ncarb.org

The mission of the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards is to work together as a council of member boards to safeguard the health, safety and welfare of the public and to assist member boards in carrying out their duties. To achieve those goals, the Council develops and recommends standards to be required of an applicant for architectural registration, develops and recommends standards regulating the practice of architecture, provides a process for certifying to member boards the qualifications of an architect for registration, and represents the interests of member boards before public and private agencies.

All States and the District of Columbia require individuals to be licensed (registered) before they may call themselves architects or contract to provide architectural services. Many architecture school graduates work in the field even though they are not licensed. However, a licensed architect is required to take legal responsibility for all work. Licensure requirements include a professional degree in architecture, a period of practical training or internship, and passage of all sections of the Architect Registration Examination (ARE).

Intern Development Program

All state architectural registration boards require a training period before candidates may sit for the ARE and become licensed. Many states have adopted the training standards from the Intern Development Program, administered by the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards. These standards stipulate broad and diversified training in identified areas of architectural practice. The 2000 AIA Colorado State IDP Coordinator is Andra Nichol, Associate AIA, 303/935-0787

Architect Registration Examination (ARE)

After completing the internship period, interns are eligible to sit for the ARE. The examination tests candidates on a broad body of architectural knowledge, and is given in sections throughout the year. AIA Colorado provides a series of ARE study sessions every year in early spring.
