INTRODUCTION About This Directory

The 2006/2007 AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory has been broken into two main sections aimed at recognizing both member firms and individual members. The Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information section is a roster of architecture firms whose principals and/or partners are full AIA members. The qualification for being included as a member firm in the 2006/2007 Firm Profile & Membership Directory is that the principal of the firm, or one of the principals, is an AIA Colorado Architect member (AIA). Firms included in this list are not necessarily architecture firms. Licensed architects represented in this listing are designated by the AIA or FAIA after their names in the contact section. Parties interested in verifying the type of firm(s) listed should contact the firm(s) directly. We have added a new section this year, listing our Professional Affiliate member firms. These listings highlight those members that are affiliated with the design and construction industry. Finally, the Individual Members section contains individual listings of all members, including Associate AIA members, Professional Affiliates, Student Affiliates and intern members.

All information in the 2006/2007 AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory has been provided by firm and affiliate members. This information was deemed accurate at the time of publication. However, if information is not accurate, members may contact AIA Colorado at 303/446.2266 or send an e-mail with changes to office@aiacolorado.org. AIA Colorado may not be held responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions in the member listings.

AIA respects the privacy of its members. This directory includes firm and personal information as supplied by members. Individual listings do not include e-mail addresses. Please note that the contents of this publication may not be reproduced by any means, in whole or in part, without the prior written consent of the publisher. For information about purchasing a single-use mailing list of AIA Colorado members, please contact AIA Colorado at 303/446.2266, ext. 10. AIA Colorado does not sell or share e-mail address lists.

Inclusion in this directory does not imply endorsement of any firm, service or product. The acceptance of advertising does not reflect endorsement of products or services by this publication or AIA Colorado.

AIA Colorado gratefully acknowledges its 2006 Corporate Sponsors.

The support from these companies helps make it possible to continue providing valuable programs and services to the AIA Colorado membership.

2006 is already proving to be another exciting year for AIA Colorado. We continue to grow and work to provide better tools to assist members with their practices, enhance career development and support our members as advocates in their communities. Join us in November for the first annual Practice Management Symposium, a one day program focusing on providing "best practices" skills to take back and use in your office immediately. This program will take place the day before our Annual Statewide Design Conference.

COLLABORATION STRENGTHENS

ADVOCACY

- AIA Colorado established an architects' licensing Sunset Task Force to develop and implement strategies to successfully advocate for issues of importance to architects in the review and renewal of the architects' licensing law. AIA Colorado fought successfully for continued protection of the term "architect"
- AIA Colorado worked to establish and strengthen positive relationships with state legislators throughout the year, including key committee members in the House and Senate
- AIA Colorado South worked to strengthen relationships with their elected officials through a joint construction celebration with the Pikes Peak Chapter of CSI at Glen Eyrie, keynoted by Mayor Lionel Rivera and hosted by General William Jackson Palmer. Additionally, AIACS hosted several meetings with key state legislators in Colorado Springs and Pueblo
- AIA Denver worked to establish and maintain relationships with city planning departments and elected officials in the Denver-metro area including: Aurora, Broomfield, Denver and Lakewood
- AIA Colorado Government Affairs Committee members worked with ARCpac to continue to solicit donations and contribute funds to key state legislators
- AIA Colorado Legislative Subcommittee tracked bills throughout the legislative session, identifying key issues for the AIA Colorado Government Affairs Committee and the Board of Directors to take advocacy positions on
- AIA Colorado hosted Rep. Andrew Romanoff, Speaker of the Colorado House at our statewide Design Conference, where he spoke about the importance of architects as leaders in the community and in government affairs and the impact of Ref. C&D

COLLABORATION BUILDS

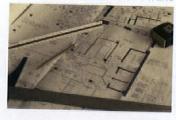

COMMUNITY

- AIA Colorado matched donations made by members toward the Hurricane Relief efforts that The American Institute of Architects National office coordinated, contributing a total of almost $4,000
- AIA Colorado North collaborated with the Architects and Planners of Boulder, the City of Boulder and the University of Colorado to develop an Urban Planning Conference to facilitate and enrich public dialogue around issues of quality urban design in order to improve the physical environment of the City of Boulder
- AIA Colorado distributed 1,000+ issues of the quarterly publication Architect Colorado, to statewide public officials, media members, business and community leaders
- AIA Denver was a sponsor and supporter of the enormously successful 1st annual Doors Open Denver event in collaboration with the Denver Architectural Foundation and the City and County of Denver's Office of Cultural Affairs

- AIA Colorado was awarded the opportunity to host the 2013 AIA National Convention. Over 30,000 architects and design professionals are expected to attend
- AIA Colorado West partnered with organizations such as Eagle Valley Alliance for Sustainability Green Building Group to promote a sustainable West Slope community
- AIA Denver's Urban Design Committee broadened its reach by tackling issues such as: TOD's, Colfax Design Guidelines, Housing for the Homeless, FasTracks, the Civic Center Master Plan and the I-70 Corridor Development
- AIA Colorado continues to collaborate on educational programs and legislative initiatives with allied organizations, including: Constructors Designers Alliance, Associated General Contractors, American Council of Engineering Companies, Society of Design Administrators, American Society of Landscape Architects, Design Build Institute of America, and more

COLLABORATION POWERS

KNOWLEDGE

- AIA Colorado North held over 30 programs supporting sustainability, emerging professionals and urban design including: 10x10 Presentations, an ARE lending library, a tour of CU's Solar Decathlon House, and a new Urban Design Conference
- AIA Denver collaborated with women in professions serving the built environment to recreate the Women in Design Committee, which will strengthen AIA's connection to and relevance for this historically underserved portion of our profession
- AIA Colorado West worked to explore new educational opportunities/programs that explore how Western Slope architects can help their local towns accommodate intense growth pressures in a way that preserves the unique environments and aesthetic aspects of mountain communities
- AIA Colorado and the University of Colorado, College of Architecture and Planning continued to strengthen the Professional Development Committee's Mentorship Program serving students, interns and young architects. This Mentoring Network was selected as one of three nationally "Best of Class" and has been identified by AIA National as one of the successful mentorship programs to be used as a model for future programs
- AIA Colorado South hosted a sustainable development luncheon program featuring Bill McDonough, Architect, Futurist, environmental guru, and author of Cradle to Cradle. Bill is an internationally-renowned designer, the only individual to receive the Presidential Award for Sustainable Development, the nation's highest environmental honor

COLLABORATION ENHANCES

VALUE

- AIA Colorado South created an Associate Scholarship Program sponsored by Torix General Contractors, which will pay the dues for up to five first-time Associate AIA members each year for ten years
- AIA Colorado and the four local chapters continued to support membership with programs that provide the tools to unlock the creative potential to allow AIA Colorado Architects to make a difference as leaders in our industry and community. Over 168 hours of continuing education were offered throughout the state
- AIA Colorado West held a two-day strategic planning retreat to review the current structure of the chapter and how it can more effectively service the West Chapter membership moving forward
- AIA Colorado published the inaugural issue of Architect Colorado, a new design magazine focusing on industry trends and issues showcasing the work of AIA Colorado architects. This publication received AIA National recognition and a Maggie award known as the "Oscars of the magazine industry" in the Associations category. In addition, Architect Colorado has been highly praised by public officials, media members and community leaders
- AIA Colorado's Architectural Education Foundation awarded over $46,000 in scholarships and grants and other awards to students, architects and teachers
- AIA Colorado and the four local chapters remain financially healthy

The American Institute of Architects is the voice of the architecture profession dedicated to: serving its members, advancing their value and improving the quality of the built environment. Through a culture of innovation, The American Institute of Architects empowers its members and inspires the creation of a better built environment.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome from AIA Colorado President and Executive Director

AIA Colorado is proud to provide you with this 2006-2007 Firm Profile & Membership Directory as part of your member benefits in AIA. This publication is a valuable resource to connect you with your fellow AIA Colorado members, AIA committees, staff and leadership. This directory, together with our Web site at www.aiacolorado.org, provides members with the current contacts to access the wealth of resources AIA Colorado has to offer.

Sonia Riggs Executive Director AIA Colorado

The AIA Colorado offices are located in the heart of downtown Denver at 1515 Arapahoe Street, Ste. 1-110 maintaining an important urban presence on behalf of our members. Our staff serves the membership and the public with diligence and professionalism, providing member services, contract documents, maintenance of the always-important job board, and coordinating local chapter events, including the design awards gala and continuing-education pro-

One of the indirect benefits of being an active member of AIA is that of fellowship. Getting to know other members, sharing ideas, collaborating in projects and building genuine friendships that grow from communication with your peers can be as valuable as the more obvious direct benefits AIA has to offer. It's important to stay connected to your profession, and we hope this directory supports our members in that endeavor. It can be an integral tool in your efforts to be an engaged member of the Colorado Component of The American Institute of Architects.

This publication would not be possible without the strong support of the sponsors represented in the Buyers' Guide. Their investment in our organization is important to our future success. Please acknowledge their contribution by considering their services in your future business activities.

Cheri Gerou, AIA 2006 AIA Colorado President

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB)

1801 K St. NW, Suite 1100K Washington, DC 20006 202/783.6500 202/783.0290 fax www.ncarb.org

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) was established in 1920 to help member boards:

- · Carry out their duties
- Foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws
- Develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training
- Perfect their procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification
- Establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws

NCARB is a non-profit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the Colorado Board of Examiners of Architects.

To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and have been registered by a member board.

NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character. This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character; and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. It is, however, not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from the Colorado State Board of Licensure (see below).

The Colorado State Board of Licensure is responsible for:

- Licensing and regulating individual architects, engineers and land surveyors;
- Administering the architect, engineer and surveyor licensing examinations;
- Investigating complaints against its licensees;
 Conducting disciplinary hearings against licensees who are alleged to have violated the licensing laws or the Board's Rules and Regulations of Procedures;
- Issuing disciplinary actions against licensees who violate the laws or the Board's Rules and Regulations of Procedures;
 Renewing individual licenses every two years;
- Making rules and regulations for the orderly conduct of its affairs and for the administration of the licensing laws; and
- Meeting on a regular basis to conduct its business.

AIA Western Mountain Region (WMR) Council

AIA WMR represents more then 3,000 AIA members in Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico, Nevada, Colorado and Arizona. AIA WMR acts as a communication tool between AIA National and the state components and chapters within that region. For more information, visit www.aiawmr.org.

Pella Commercial is making it easier than ever for architects to receive the continuing education they need to maintain their AIA membership, CSI certification and/or architectural license. As an AIA/CES Registered Provider Charter Member since 1995, Pella Commercial is committed to developing quality learning activities in accordance with AIA/CES and Health/Safety/Welfare (HSW) criteria.

Programs will be presented by Pella Commercial representatives and cover a broad range of fenestration topics. Pella's programs are typically one hour in length, so architects receive one Learning Unit (LU) and one hour of HSW.

Pella Commercial helps make getting the training you need as easy as possible — you can even do it over lunch. Contact us today to set up your educational box-lunch program. And feed more than just your mind.

ARCHITECTS OF COLORADO POLITICAL COMMITTEE

1515 Arapahoe Street, #1-110 Denver, Colorado 80202 303/446-2266

WHAT IS A POLITICAL COMMITTEE?

A political committee or PAC is a non-profit political organization created for the specific purpose of promoting legislative interests and raising funds for this purpose. ARCpac will focus on the interests of Colorado registered architects, whether AIA members or not. AIA dues are not a part of ARCpac, and membership in the political committee is fully voluntary and separate from AIA.

WHY DO COLORADO ARCHITECTS NEED A PAC?

A group of architects recognized that our profession is significantly influenced by elected officials and the acts they take. We need to have a more active role in the election process and raising funds for that purpose. ARCpac gives us additional opportunities to create relationships with state legislators. ARCpac can donate money to candidates that fight for issues of importance to architects. In addition, ARCpac members can help with political campaigns.

WHO CAN BE A PART OF THE PAC?

All licensed Colorado architects may be a part of this organization upon contributing to ARCpac. Any individual, firm, company, or partnership with a vested interest in the architecture profession can contribute to ARCpac. Contributions to ARCpac are limited to $500 per person or firm for each election cycle. ARCpac is a way for a firm to give to a cause, as firms are not able to give money to candidates.

HOW IS A PAC EFFECTIVE?

ARCpac will be effective with legislators and other elected officials because it represents the collective political arm of 6,000 Colorado architects and our supporters, acting as one influential voice.

WHO DECIDES HOW THE PAC DISTRIBUTES ITS MONEY?

The Executive Committee of ARCpac will make decisions about who will receive ARCpac money. Contributions received by ARCpac cannot be declared to any specific candidate. ARCpac will distribute all of its money during election years to political candidates running for state office, regardless of party affiliation. ARCpac donates money to candidates that support issues of importance to architects, regardless of party affiliation.

WHAT POLITICAL ISSUES ARE IMPORTANT TO ARCHITECTS?

What Do Architects Do?

You have a vision of what you want. Now you need to make that vision a reality. Here's how architects can assist you:

Architects See the Big Picture

Architects are specially educated to assist you in defining what you want to build, present options you might never have considered, and help you get the most for your valuable investment. They don't just design four walls and a roof — they create total environments, both interiors and exteriors, that are functional and exciting places in which to work and live.

Architects Solve Problems Creatively

Architects are trained problem solvers. Need more room for your growing family? Architects can show you how to enlarge your home so you won't have to move. Have a limited budget? Architects can also propose ways to get more for your investment than you imagined possible.

Architects Help You Get the Most from Your Construction Dollar

Architects can reduce building costs, decrease your home's energy needs, and increase its future resale value through good design.

Architects Make Your Life Easier

Building is a long process that is often messy and disruptive, particularly if you're living in the space while it's under construction. Your architect represents you! Your architect looks out for your interests and smoothes the process, helps find qualified construction contractors, and visits the worksite to help protect you against work that's not according to plan.

Speak with an architect who is a member of AIA at the earliest stage of the design process. Use the 2006/2007 Firm Profile and Directory to reach all the AIA members located in Colorado. Another resource available to you is an architectural database that contains the names of our member firms. You can find this by visiting www.aiacolorado.org.

Why an AIA Architect?

Like doctors and lawyers, architects are licensed professionals. The title "architect" may be used only by an individual who possesses a state license to practice architecture. They are the only professionals in the construction industry who are ethically bound to represent you, the building owner.

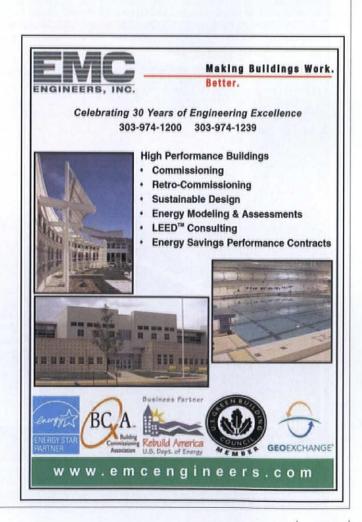

Professional qualifications generally include:

- College degree from an accredited school of architecture, requiring five or more years of professional studies
- Three years of internship under the supervision of licensed architects
- · Passage of nine rigorous examinations

Only those professionals who have fulfilled these requirements, or other requirements as stipulated by each individual state, may legally call themselves architects and practice architecture in the jurisdiction granting the license. Individuals may be registered, or licensed, in more than one state by means of reciprocal licensing agreements among the states.

Get the Real Thing - Look for "AIA"

Look for the "AIA" initials after the name of any architect you consider for your project. AIA architects remain current with professional standards through continuing education and subscribe to a code of ethics and professional conduct that assure clients, the public and colleagues of their dedication to high standards in professional practice.

The Colorado Component of The American Institute of Architects

AIA Colorado represents architects and others statewide and unifies the four local chapters of The American Institute of Architects within Colorado. AIA Colorado seeks to:

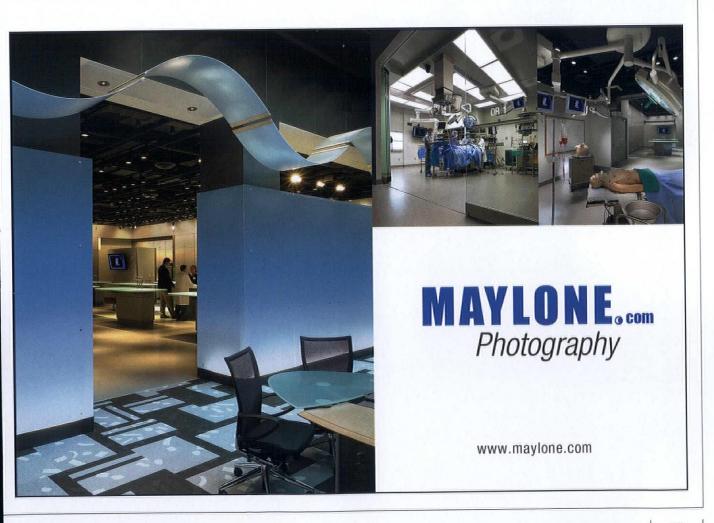

- Unite the architects of the state of Colorado in fellowship.
 Promote the aesthetic, scientific and business practice of
- Promote the aestnetic, scientific and business practice of architecture.
- Advance architectural standards of continuing education, training and practice.
- Build relationships among clients, the construction industry and architects.

AIA Colorado believes that an important purpose of architecture is to create a vision that improves the built environment. This vision is vital to the advancement of the living standards of our communities and provides a service of ever-increasing value to society.

AIA Colorado provides help in "finding an architect," lobbies the Colorado legislature, publishes architectural employment information, offers continuing education programs and sells AIA contracts and publications. The organization hosts an annual conference, usually between October and December. AIA Colorado provides support to all the chapters within the state. It is a professional organization for the design profession and is classified as "not-for-profit."

History of AIA Colorado

The Colorado Association of Architects was organized in 1890, and the elected officers were: Robert S. Roeschlaub, president; Harold W. Baerresen, vice president; Eugene R. Rice, secretary; and Frank E. Edbrooke, treasurer. The same men were re-elected to office at the second annual meeting held Dec. 21, 1891. The main topic of discussion at that event was submitting an application for a charter as a chapter of The American Institute of Architects. The charter was received April 4, 1892, and included the states of Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico. It wasn't until 1947 that each state had its own chapter.

AIA Colorado Committees & Task Forces

The following outlines just a portion of the committees and services available to members of AIA Colorado. The AIA Colorado Board of Directors encourages your active participation in AIA at the local, state and national levels. Your involvement means fellowship with your peers, furthering your career and continuing your education. Volunteer your expertise—join a committee, sponsor an intern, submit an article for use in our quarterly publication, run for a board seat, suggest a new service and attend the annual Design Conference. Your participation and feedback are welcomed and necessary for the continued success of this membership body. Many other committees exist at the local chapter level as well. Please refer to the AIA Colorado Web site at www.aiacolorado.org for a complete list of all committees active in each chapter.

AIA/AGC/ACEC Design & Construction Coalition

In 1997, AIA Colorado, Associated General Contractors (AGC) of Colorado and The American Council of Engineering Companies of Colorado (ACEC) sought an agreement to achieve a partnership for the purpose of enhancing the relationships between the three organizations and their members. The board of directors of each organization are committed to developing a detailed understanding of the concerns that confront the members of each organization as they proceed with the design and construction of projects and to carefully analyze the challenges that the three organizations have in accomplishing their goals. Chairmanship of this committee rotates between the three collateral organizations on annual basis.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, Treasurer/Secretary Robert K. Fuller II, AIA

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, awards scholarships and grants to architectural students, faculty members, architects and AIA components each spring. Application deadline for these is typically in late February/early March.

Communication Advisory Board (CAB)

CAB has been formed to serve as the nucleus of strategic communication planning for the state and its four local chapter components. Members of this board will function as an accessible source of information and as a tool for architectural professionals, supporting personal and professional development. The communication tools that are continuously being enhanced to target all AIA Colorado needs are the Web site, e-newsletter, e-postcards and quarterly design magazine. CAB reports directly to the AIA Colorado board.

Design Awards Program

The Design Awards Program seeks to honor works of distinction by AIA Colorado members and to bring to the public's attention, the outstanding architectural services provided by members of AIA Colorado. Colorado Design Award winners are announced during the annual Design Conference.

Fellows Task Force

The Fellows Task Force was formed in 1992 and assists local chapters in nominating their outstanding members to be considered for election to the College of Fellows. The task force helps those architects nominated in developing their submissions to the Jury of Fellows.

Finance Committee

This committee is responsible for the financial stability of AIA Colorado. The committee develops long-range financial goals and makes recommendations to the board regarding budgets and other areas of financial planning. Membership dues, the annual Design Conference, support from sponsors and document sales generate most of the revenue necessary for the operating budget of AIA Colorado.

Government Affairs Committee (GAC)

GAC's primary goal is to increase the legislators' awareness of architects, architecture and AIA. This committee meets on the first Friday of each month at 1 p.m. at the AIA Colorado office to discuss matters relating to the State Board of Examiners of Architects and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the Legislative Affairs Subcommittee meets weekly to review and discuss potential legislation that could affect the profession of architecture. Because AIA sponsors key legislation infrequently, the state component contract Lobbyist Jerry Johnson to assist AIA Colorado in the monitoring process, as well as providing onsite lobbying at the Capitol.

Intern Development Program (IDP)

IDP continues to gain momentum in Colorado. The IDP coordinator and AIA Colorado staff sent out more than 100 packets last year. The Coordinator provides programs at the University of Colorado (CU) (Boulder) and CU (Denver), as well as firms interested in the merits of the IDP program. The coordinator also nominates firms for the AIA/NCARB IDP Firm of the Year award.

Membership

Successful and continuous membership expansion efforts are essential to ensure that AIA truly represents the profession. Recruit a friend — invite them to a meeting or chapter activity and get them involved in AIA Colorado.

Nominating Committee

This committee is composed of at least five AIA Colorado architects, selected on the basis of one representative from each AIA Colorado chapter (appointed each year at the August meeting of the Board of Directors) and chaired by the current president-elect. The Nominating Committee recommends at least two nominees to run for each officer's position on the AIA Colorado Board of Directors.

Nothing Lasts Like An Acme Brick. We Guarantee It.

Doube-pane insulated windows: 20-year manufacturer's warranty

Oak panel door: 1-year manufacturer's warranty

When you buy a new home, you want it to last a lifetime. But when windows break, the roof springs a leak, and the paint peels, it is nice to know that one product, Acme Brick, will last a lifetime. Each Acme Brick is hard-fired in computercontrolled kilns at temperatures that can exceed 2,000 degrees.

The result is a brick that will outlast your mortgage. In fact, we guarantee it – for 100 years.

Since 1891, we've shown that Acme Brick is the best thing to have around your house and your family.

So, for lasting beauty that comes with a 100-year, fully transferable limited guarantee, choose Acme Brick.

Because, if you don't see the Acme name, you won't get Acme quality. Or the guarantee.

Professional Development Committee (PCD)

PDC's purpose is to serve as the clearinghouse for information needed by emerging professionals and practitioners during the course of their professional development. This includes communication links to NCARB, ARE, IDP, AIAS, Young Architects Forum, Fellows Network, the CU College of Architecture and Planning and the Colorado Mentoring Network.

Design Conference Committee

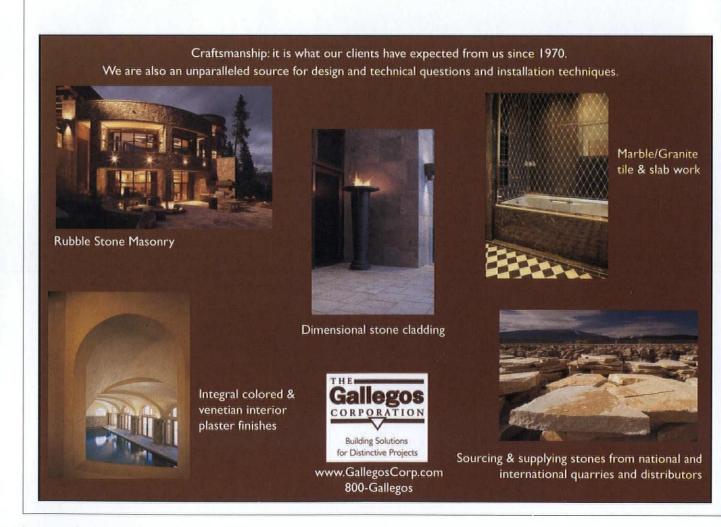

This committee is responsible for the planning and execution of AIA Colorado's annual Design Conference. The conference chair is appointed by the president-elect before the year of the conference to be chaired. Committee members develop the theme for each conference, invite speakers and coordinate the two-and-a-half-day schedule. Member participation and feedback is strongly encouraged.

Strategic Planning Committee

The Strategic Planning Committee is responsible for recommending one-, three- and five-year goals for AIA Colorado. This committee reports directly to the AIA Colorado Board of Directors.

The Young Architects' Awards Gala

The AIA Colorado Young Architects' Awards Gala committee is responsible for the annual programs aimed at recognizing the Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado recipients and numerous other students, interns and recently licensed professionals. The most prestigious award is the AIA Colorado Young Architect of the Year award. Additional award categories include excellence in construction documents, technology innovations, craftsmanship and student portfolios. The program also seeks to recognize significant firm contributions to young professionals through its Mentoring Firm of the Year award.

AIA College of Fellows

The American Institute of Architects bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, fellowship is the highest honor AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training and practice; to the building industry through leadership of AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment; and to society through significant public service.

Those advanced to fellowship can use "FAIA" after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado

Since the first $600 scholarship was presented in 1961, The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, has awarded more than $750,000 in scholarships, grants and other prizes to more than 300 students, architects and teachers. The awards program totals $40,000 from income received through investments, donations and memorials. This figure is more than 10 times the amount of the original trust fund in 1934.

During the past decade, individual architects and firms have made substantial contributions to the foundation as memorials. Individuals and organizations allied with the construction industry have also made significant donations in the past. Frequently, donors send a contribution to the fund instead of flowers to memorialize a deceased loved one or friend.

Over the past few years, the foundation has increased its assistance to AIA Colorado and its four chapters so that AIA can conduct progressive Professional Education Programs. Requests for such grants should be submitted to The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, 3320 East Second Avenue, Denver, CO, 80206. We are continually seeking new funds in the way of endowments, donations, budgeted items, memorials, etc., from the chapters and the membership at large.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, was born in 1934 out of the devotion of five men to the practice of architecture. On Jan. 23, 1934, Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, announced on behalf of himself and four other men, the creation of a special trust fund "to advance the interest of the profession of architecture in the State of Colorado."

The foundation was conceived a decade earlier by Robert K. Fuller, FAIA; William E. Fisher, FAIA; George H. Williamson, FAIA; William Bowman, AIA; and Fred Montjoy, AIA. Their vision long had been "to provide an instrument whereby, someday, sufficient income would be realized to be able to award scholarships, grants, prizes, etc. to the betterment of the profession." (All "quotes" are from the original Articles of Incorporation.)

The first aim of the foundation was quite modest: the assets were to be "held intact and allowed to grow" until the principal would be large enough to ensure a "good annual return therefrom." The founders hoped that the amount in the fund would serve as a "nucleus" that would increase in value and, now that it was formally established, also attract additional donations. By 1944, however, no new contributions had come forward, and of the five founding fathers of the fund, only the fund's chairman, Robert K. Fuller, FIAA, survived.

On Dec. 18, 1944, the foundation was transferred to the Colorado Chapter, AIA (predecessor of the Colorado State Society of the AIA and now AIA Colorado) as a Chapter Investment Fund. Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, was designated as its permanent trustee. By early 1961, the fund had achieved its first aim "... a good annual return." It was then deemed necessary to incorporate as a separate, tax-free entity to be known as the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. On Feb. 16, 1961, the foundation was incorporated as a separate, tax-free, non-profit corporation under that name. Its broad purpose, as reported in the December 1961 issue of the Colorado Chapter, AIA newsletter, "The Addenda," was (and remains today) "to advance education in architecture by granting of scholarships, prizes and financial aid to deserving students in architecture and to teachers or architects interested in research projects directly related and of value to the architectural profession."

At its November 1961 meeting at the old Boulder Country Club, the Colorado Chapter, AIA awarded James E. Koentop, a fifth-year architectural engineering student at the University of Colorado, the $600 William E. Fisher Memorial Scholarship. This was the first scholarship awarded by the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. It had taken only 27 years for the five founders' original dream (to be able to make such awards for the betterment of the profession) to come

Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, died in 1966, and the Colorado Chapter, AIA asked his son Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA, to assume the responsibility of the position of permanent member of the Board of Trustees. Upon the death of Kenneth in 1998, his son Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, became the third permanent member of the Board of Trustees. In 1969, following the restructuring of the AIA in Colorado into a state society with two chapters (now four), the fund's name was legally changed to the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA. In 2001 the trustees reincorporated with updated articles and bylaws and a new name that reflected the fund's mission...The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado.

The Architectural Education Foundation has been granting annual scholarship awards for the past 46 years. During the past 46 years, architects, faculty members and students alike have returned to school for study or have had a research project funded with assistance received from The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado.

AIA Continuing Education System: Survival Guide

rogram Basics

Vhat is AIA/CES?

is a continuing education system (CES) developed by AIA emphasize learning and record participation in professional learning activities. AIA/CES enables architects to keep current, master new knowledge and skills, plan for the future, and responsibly meet the role society entrusts to a professional. The program also allows members to fulfill a requirement for AIA membership and meet any state mandatory continuing education requirement. In this role, the program has the potential to be a primary force in the improvement and revitalization of our profession.

What is my annual learning unit (LU) requirement?

All active AIA members must successfully complete 18 learning unit (LU) hours each year, with at least eight of the 18 LU hours relating to health, safety and welfare (HSW).

- A member who fails to meet the annual requirement will be given a one-year grace period. Any credit earned in the following year will apply toward the deficit. During the first nine months of the grace period, members are able to report retroactively any activities that were completed in the previous year.
- A member who exceeds the annual requirement may carry up to 18 LU hours (including eight hours of HSW) over to the next year. Carryover credit can be used for one year only; it is not cumulative. Only the number of credits needed to fulfill the annual requirement for the following year may be carried over. Extra credit may not be carried past the one-year limit.

NOTE: Most state licensing boards do not allow carryover and deficit credit. States have strict continuing education timeframes, and credits must be earned within them.

What is an LU?

AIA records continuing education credit in LU hours. A one-LU hour activity is equal to one contact hour. An LU hour is not a CEU. One-tenth of a CEU (.1) is equal to one contact hour, which is equal to one LU hour. In other words, one CEU is equal to 10 contact hours or 10 LU hours.

How does AIA/CES work?

Members can earn LU hours by attending programs offered by AIA/CES registered providers or through self-reporting independent activities.

What is an AIA/CES Registered Provider Program?

The AIA has developed a network of more than 2,500 educational providers made up of AIA chapters, affiliate organizations, firms, manufacturers, universities, non-profit organizations and government agencies. These educational providers offer more than 25,000 programs each year.

Programs offered by AIA/CES providers are filed with AIA/CES Records in Oklahoma. Within 14 days of a program's conclusion, AIA/CES providers verify and report the program attendees to AIA/CES Records. For non-AIA members, the AIA/CES provider will provide a certificate of completion upon request. The complete activities then are posted on AIA members' transcripts. Online transcripts are available at www.aia.org/conted/.

What are Self-Reported Activities?

Members now must indicate whether the activities they are reporting are self-designed or structured self-reported programs.

Self-Designed Activity

This type of learning activity is organized by the member specifically to meet his or her individual needs. A selfdesigned activity frequently involves more than one type of medium or method, such as research, reading, interviewing subject experts, listening to audiotapes and/or viewing videos. To determine what qualifies for self-reporting, answer the following questions:

- (1) Is this a planned learning activity?
- (2) Is this activity intended to be educational or operational?
- (3) Are you acquiring new knowledge or are you sharing your knowledge with others?
- (4) How will you apply this new knowledge to your practice? This method is not acceptable for HSW credit. Some state licensing boards will not accept this type of reporting for mandatory continuing education (MCE) requirements. (Recommended minimum of three hours.)

Structured Self-Reported Program

This is a structured activity offered by an organized, thirdparty, non-CES provider. Documentation of attendance/ participation will usually be required as a supplement when reporting this activity to meet a state licensure requirement. For members who self-report a structured activity, AIA is not able to assist in acquiring any support documentation that may be required by a state licensing board MCE audit.

To be eligible for credit, self-reported activities must be planned, educational activities that provide new knowledge that can be applied toward the practice of architecture.

How do I Submit Self-Reported Activities?

Members can self-report activities in two ways:

- Members can complete the AIA/CES Self-Report Form and submit it to AIA/CES Records at the University of Oklahoma. To obtain form contact AIA/CES Records at 800/605.8229.
- 2). Members can submit self-reported activities online at www.aia.org/conted. Log into the CES Transcript Login, located on the right-hand side, by providing your membership number. AIA/CES Self-Report Forms can be accessed through the transcript page.

Be sure to specify which type of learning activity you are reporting so that the data can be entered accurately into your transcript. Members calculate LU hours for self-reported activities by reporting the number of hours spent in architecture-related learning. Think in terms of billable hours applied to learning.

Is there a limit to how many credits I can self-report in one year? No. You can self-report as many structured and self-designed activities as you like. Remember, only credits reported in the appropriate method will be applied to your transcript. Follow the procedures outlined in the above paragraphs. Members are advised to check with state licensing boards as certain states will not except self-reported continuing education as a viable means of education for license renewal.

Health, Safety and Welfare (HSW)

How Does HSW tie into CES?

AIA requires members to earn eight of the basic LU hours requirements in the area of HSW. The percentage of HSW content in any HSW-related activity must be a minimum of 75 percent to qualify a program or educational event for HSW credit. This accomplishes three goals:

- To ensure that HSW-related programs have a real relevance to our members.
- · To eliminate any question of whether the content of a program was actually HSW-related.
- To protect AIA members with state MCE requirements.

Can I self-report HSW hours?

Yes, but with restrictions. You may self-report any structured activity that is HSW-related and receive HSW credit for it. In other words, the activity must be developed and presented to you by a third-party organization. You cannot receive HSW credit for any self-designed activity. For example, even though code research is HSW in nature, if it is a self-designed activity, the AIA does not allow HSW credit for it. This policy was adopted to ensure quality control guidelines are enforced and to comply with state licensing board requirements.

Can I receive HSW hours from online and magazine education classes and workshops? (i.e., AIA National e-classroom, AIA National Magazine, Architectural Record, etc.)

Yes. You can obtain HSW hours from any approved course, including online and magazine courses.

Is there a limit to how many credits I can receive by taking online and magazine courses?

Yes, but only from certain publications. There are no limits on the amount of credits that members may obtain for online and magazine courses throughout the year except for Architectural Record courses. The maximum amount of credits a member may obtain for Architectural Record courses in one year is eight credits. The eight credits may be HSW hours or regular LUs.

Am I supposed to add my LU hours and HSW hours together to meet the requirements?

No. The HSW column on your transcript simply shows how many of your total LU hours are HSW-related. The annual requirement is 18 LU hours, of which eight must be HSWrelated. Thus, if you earn eight hours of credit from an HSW-related activity, you will need only 10 more hours (of either HSW-related or non-HSW-related activity) to meet your requirement. Eight hours is the minimum requirement for HSW credit, but that number may be exceeded.

What is the relation between HSW and state MCE?

Both AIA and state licensing boards base their programs on the contact hour. A majority of states require eight contact hours of HSW for their MCE. (Exceptions are Kansas, which has no HSW requirement Alabama, Louisiana, Minnesota, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Vermont and West Virginia which require 12 HSW contact hours.) The AIA/CES program requires eight contact hours of HSW from a structured provider. Some states allow some forms of self-reporting. Due to the quality assurance issues posed by the states, AIA does not accept self-designed activities for HSW credit.

CAUTION: For members who self-report structured activities for HSW credit, it has become very important that you clearly report all HSW programs and activities separately, ensuring that they are clearly identified. Failure to do so could result in the loss of your license because of noncompliance with state MCE requirements.

How are transcript records kept and how may they be accessed?

Individual transcript records are updated daily on www.aia.org. Anyone with an active AIA membership number can access a transcript online. To access your individual transcript, visit www.aia.org/conted. Enter your member number in the space provided and click the "Get Transcript" button. You then may print out an unofficial copy of your CES transcript.

Official CES transcripts are available upon request. A hard copy of the transcript can be faxed or mailed to a member for a fee of $10 per copy. You may make your request in writing, by phone or by fax to:

Membership

AIA is a three-tiered organization with five basic levels of membership. These levels include AIA, Emeritus AIA and Associate AIA at the national, state and local levels and Professional Affiliate (PA) and Student Affiliate (SA) membership categories at the state and local levels. Full descriptions of all membership levels and benefits can be found online at www.aiacolorado.org.

Membership Categories

AIA (Licensed Architects) - Currently licensed to practice architecture in the United States.

Emeritus - An AIA member fully retired.

Associate AIA - Unlicensed to practice architecture in the United States, but meets one of the following conditions:

- Is participating in career responsibilities recognized by licensing authorities as constituting credit toward licen sure (INTERN);
- Is under the supervision of an architect in a professional or technical capacity;
- Is a faculty member in a university program in architec ture; or
- Is licensed in another country but not the United States.

Professional Affiliate (PA, state and local levels only) – Unlicensed to practice architecture. Individuals may become professional affiliate members if they have established professional reputations and are registered to practice their professions where such requirements exist or are employed outside architectural practice but involved in positions related to the field of architecture.

Student Affiliate (SA, state and local levels only) - Any undergraduate or postgraduate student enrolled in architectural design or construction-related programs in Colorado.

In the 1950s, beat generation writer Jack Kerouac spent time in the "bottoms" of the Central Platte Valley, north of Coors Field in Denver. The exuberance and freedom of spirit that characterized the beatnik generation's literature, art and music, and the rediscovered downtown lifestyle, is expressed today in the architecture of the Jack Kerouac Lofts. Simple masonry buildings with both flat and sloped roofs, ancillary railroad structures in galvanized metal and a "boxcar" vocabulary form the design. The modern expression of this vernacular uses high ceilings and large windows to afford significant natural light and views to each of 60 lofts ranging in size from 650 sq ft to nearly 1,800

Phase One of an overall campus master plan consists of a 300-year structure for a new parish in a new community with commanding views of the Front Range and architecture designed to reflect the timeless values of Catholicism. The result is a place of respect and quiet worship where life's daily chaos is replaced by humble servitude and reverence. The parish architecture features a central nave and two side transepts turned at 45-degree angles, concluding in an octagonal masonry dome rising 75 feet above the sanctuary floor. On the interior, dramatic columns function to structurally support the roof and symbolically represent the trees of the forest from the First Book of Chronicles.

The City of Aspen needs a new structure to house its recycling operation. Inspired by the single, low, long, quiet industrial/agricultural building resting in the landscape, this new structure is a long, earthen wall, its planted roof an extension of the park below. Reclaimed wood, rammed earth, recycled concrete aggregate, a planted roof with native grasses and photovoltaics are in synch with the structure's intended use.

Located just south of Longmont, Prospect is known for its unique designs, bright colors and idiosyncratic details, as well as its walkability and strong community. The Prospect Lofts building was designed to compliment and contrast the aesthetic sensibilities of Prospect. A seriousness of purpose on the street with an ordered façade and restrained material palette is contrasted with a playful and colorful carport with a series of dancing roofs.

Scandinavian Designs is a retail furniture store providing contemporary furnishings derived from the principle philosophies of traditional Scandinavian design: deep connection to nature, natural materials and an aesthetic derived from function. By taking a nolistic design approach, these ideals and the image of the store are meshed to remagne the traditional big box as a more contextually and environmental responsive building type.

25 Year Award

This award was initiated in 1994 to recognize a project completed 25 to 35 years ago by a Colorado architect that has withstood the "test of time" and still functions in its original capacity. Award recipients have included:

- Engineering Center at the University of Colorado, Boulder
- 1995 Zeckendorf Plaza, Denver
- 1996 Boettcher Memorial at Denver's Botanic Gardens, Denver
- 1997 National Center for Atmospheric Research, Mesa Laboratory (NCAR), Boulder
- 1998 Park Central Office Complex, Denver
- 1999 Williams Village, University of Colorado at Boulder
- 2000 St. Francis Church on Auraria Campus
- Lockheed Martin Littleton Property (formerly 2001 Johns Mansville Corporate Headquarters)
- 2002 Boulder Mall
- Vail Equipment Building and Microwave Tower 2003
- 2004 No Award Given
- 2005 Denver Art Museum

AIA DENVER 2005 DESIGN AWARDS >

AIA Denver honored architectural excellence award recipients at its annual Design Awards Program. This year's jury chair was Carol Ross Barney, FAIA, Ross Barney + Jankowski. He believes the relationship of a building to its context is as vital as the implicit partnership between architecture and art. His commitment to community is exemplified in his buildings in Seattle, where his work has powerfully altered the city fabric. Submittals received included the following categories: built and unbuilt projects representing architecture, interiors and urban design.

Located in Southern Colorado on the Arkansas River and at the base of the Wet Mountains, the city of Pueblo is considered an important cultural and geographical crossroads of the southwest. The Robert Hoag Rawlings Public Library is an abstraction of and careful response to this natural and cultural landscape. The building is designed to be a landmark spanning across Mesa Junction, with materials such as bronze, warm-toned concrete and glass in a dramatic sculptural form. Rising five stories, the library is situated above downtown Pueblo, oriented for views over the Arkansas Valley and historic downtown Pueblo to the east, as well as distant mountain views such as Pikes Peak to the north, the Wet Mountains to the west and Greenhorn and the Spanish peaks to the south. The building systems provide for comfortable, welllit spaces. A flexible technological infrastructure allows the library to keep pace with changing needs. Each floor features a civic lobby with a grand staircase, glass elevator tower and glass atrium. The main level entry includes an entry courtyard functioning as a community porch and a coffee shop/café. This floor also houses the book checkin/check-out and the children's library. The children's library defines the north edge of the entry courtyard, with a glazed wall greeting visitors with books and children's activity while passing through the courtyard to the main entry. The second level contains the library's main collections. This large open floor branches out from a central hub. The third level accommodates the library's special collections as well as the library's administrative offices, which have been expanded and functionally organized. The upper level houses a meeting room and gallery space with expansive views to the north and to

Scandinavian Designs is a retail furniture store providing contemporary furnishings derived from the principle philosophies of traditional Scandinavian design: deep connection to nature, natural materials and an aesthetic derived from function. The traditional retail big box building is typically surrounded by an endless sea of parking without any relationship or response to environment, context or the products displayed within. By taking a holistic design approach, the Scandinavian Design ideals and the image of the store are meshed to re-imagine the traditional big box as a more contextually and environmental responsive building type. The footprint has been elongated and subdivided into a retail and warehouse component to create an appropriately scaled courtyard defined by a linear access drive, parking, landscaped entry plaza and ecologically-sensitive landscape.

The Barbara Davis Center for Childhood Diabetes is an outpatient clinic and research facility for children, adults and families with type I diabetes. The building's parti recognizes the importance of public space in the building relative to the order of the campus. A generous story gallery welcomes patients and researchers. Building massing and facades recognize the fundamental program elements of clinical space on the lower two levels, research labs on the upper two and collaborative office suits on each end. The public facade of the center consists of the warmth of the patient gallery, the relationship of the new center to the historic army hospital and the iconic playfulness of a children's playroom.

The design of this single-family residence, located on 36 acres within the former Cataract Creek Ranch, responds directly to its surrounding natural environment and to the 360-degree views of aspens, meadows and mountains. The exterior design is comprised of a palette of materials and colors that respond to agricultural buildings indigenous to the area and to the aspens and sage, including deeply grooved corrugated metal panels, lead-coated copper and straight-grain Douglas fir soffits. The interior is almost completely clad in a horizontal tongue-and-groove wood, providing texture and warmth throughout, and is divided into public and private sections.

Project Name > Englewood Cultural Arts Center Firm Name > Arley Rinehart Associates Category > Unbuilt Architecture Photo by Richard Henry

The Englewood Cultural Arts Center (ECAC) had to be highly visible and easily accessible. The intersection of the Santa Fe transportation corridor and Highway 285 provides maximum metro-wide exposure and makes the arts center convenient for both automobile and mass transit arrival. In this location, ECAC will be a "billboard for the arts." This exposure will augment the aggressive promotion of the arts that is necessary to sustain an art center's fiscal success. The proposed design articulates the different functions and disciplines within the center into several clear forms and encourages diversity and interconnection of the disciplines through the use of stairs, ramps, escalators and other gathering spaces. The design also integrates artful expression and sustainability into all components and structures.

The Colorado prairie environment can be a beautifully harsh place. An existing concrete double tee building sat on this site, waiting to be re-appropriated, sheltered and transformed. The existing light industrial building had many redeeming characteristics, notably from its structure. The double tees that form the walls, floors and roof provided every stable base from which to work and allowed for large open spaces and tall ceilings on the interior. Myriad changes have created a building inspired by its location yet cognizant of its past life. Opened to the outside, yet sheltered from the elements, the project has been reintroduced to its surroundings.

Project Name > Denver School of Science and Technology Firm Name > klipp Category > Built Architecture Photo by James H. Berchert

Denver School of Science and Technology has its origins in a Challenge Grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and an initiative by Colorado Governor Bill Owens. This is the first of four "demonstration" schools intended to serve as a model for future Colorado public schools. With a limited budget, the challenge was to create an inexpensive building that was unique and dynamic yet functional. Standard building systems and materials were utilized in non-conventional ways.

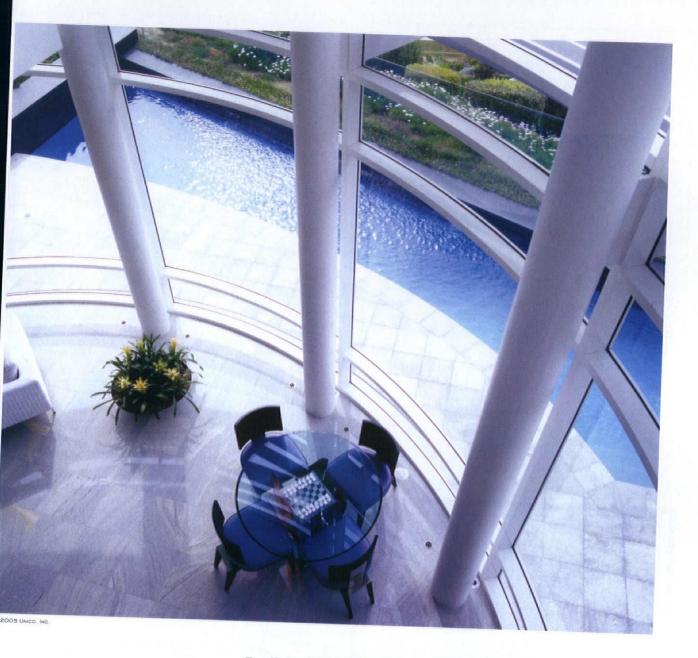

Project Name > Prospect Lofts Firm Name > AR7 Hoover Desmond Architects Category > Built Architecture Photo by Richard Epstein, Brian Dale & Don Wenderski

Located just south of Longmont, Prospect is known for its unique designs, bright colors and idiosyncratic details, as well as its walkability and strong community. The Prospect Lofts building was designed to compliment and contrast the aesthetic sensibilities of Prospect. A seriousness of purpose on the street with an ordered façade and restrained material palette is contrasted with a playful and colorful carport with a series of dancing roofs.

Project Name > The Tube Firm Name > Anderson Mason Dale Architects, PC Category > Built Architecture Photo by Ron Mason

The Tube is a small weekend house for two people, perched over a remote bank of the Arkansas River at an elevation of 8,800 feet. The Tube resides among a settlement buildings all designed by the architect to maximize encounters with the river or su rounding meadows. Each building, including the Tube, is designed as a simple element form using a palette of wood siding or corrugated steel.

Honor Awards

The 99-acre Fossil Creek Park site is an assemblage of winding creek, lakes, wetlands and undulating landforms rising to create a gentle hill at the center. From the top of the hill, one sees the entire site, parts of the city and magnificent views of the foothills. The design goal was simple: to preserve and accentuate the beauty of the site while integrating various program needs of a community park. Lake Pavilion is one of several structures in the park. It provides 2,600 sq ft of sheltered space and incorporates separate restrooms for men and women. The design encourages visitors to experience landscape through the eyes of architecture. The restrooms' masses and pavilion structure are organized to emphasize a central architectural window through which one views the water and landscape beyond. A continuous opening is created at the roof of the pavilion, where a slice of vertical sky is revealed. This opening at the roof brings light to the space while defining two distinct sheltered spaces within a single structure. The central focus of the park design is the origin of life. This proved to be an indigenous idea; mammoth bones were discovered at the site during construction and interpreted in the design of the pavilion by exposing its "bones." Structural members of the pavilion are slender, repetitive and painted white, indirectly resembling skeletons. This analogy shaped the appearance of the pavilion as an object, but the purpose of the pavilion still remains to be a composition of space from where one experiences the beauty of water and the park beyond.

Fossil Ridge High School is designed to free the educational mold of departmentalization and "egg-crate" architecture. The 1,800-student high school is really three learning communities of 600 students each. Each learning community has a separate administration and counseling center. Classrooms open to independent student work areas. The 600-student learning community model offers a much closer interaction between students and administration. The school's design evolved with the learning communities and other core curriculums grouped in a two-story solution encompassing the north half of the building, and the media center in the central hub location. All three learning communities are on an east-west axis to allow north and south classroom exposures to optimize daylighting. The school is also a high performance building--meeting and exceeding the school district's sustainable guidelines--and a model energy performer. The design of building and site is a clear statement of the district's commitment to environmentally responsible design. The integrated design process required the exploration of numerous sustainable approaches in the design of the school. Controlled daylighting was carefully introduced throughout major learning areas so that the use of electric lights is largely unnecessary. With lights off or dimmed low, unwanted heat gain is significantly reduced, thus downsizing the mechanical cooling and equipment load. Numerous heating and cooling strategies were modeled in the design process. Ice storage for cooling (making ice at night during off-peak hours for cooling during the day) provided the most cost-effective cooling. Several heat recovery systems were also incorporated.

In a revolutionary concept, loft-like housing with authentic materials applied with care is offered at an affordable price. Located in Longmont's Prospect New Town, each unit responds to its unique location, balancing natural light and mountain views. Sleek interiors are lined with wood detailing and floors open out to private decks featuring translucent railings. Design decisions for the project are driven by the use of everyday builder supply items and off-the-shelf hardware. Acceptance of the design limitations of the "usual" with careful design allows for cost restraint. The result is warm, modern and democratically crafted for the individual pursuit of happiness.

When Boulder Associates moved its offices to the Pearl Street Mall in downtown Boulder, the primary goal was to create a healthy work environment exemplifying the principles of sustainable design that the firm strives to implement in all of its projects. The office is located in three interconnected buildings that include the former location of the dance hall/nightclub known over the years as Citizen's Hall and The Good Earth, where icons like Glenn Miller and Billy Joel played. Because of the building's historic landmark status, there was nearly 100 years' worth of legacy materials and design issues to consider during the renovation process. The result is a unique combination of old and new—an office that blends functional efficiency with a high degree of visual interest.

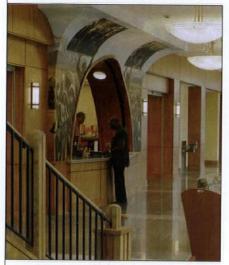

Project Name > Skyline Center for Health Firm Name > Vaught Frye Architects Category > Large Commercial Photo by Ed LaCasse

The 80,000-sq ft Skyline Center for Health includes an ambulatory surgery center, endoscopy center, medical imaging center, magnetic resonance imaging center, urgent care, a pediatric clinic, dental clinic and physician offices. The new identity created for the newly formed medical group expresses the artful yet high-tech care provided within. The architecture is designed to relate specifically to the greater natural context of Colorado's Front Range through materials, colors and site placement. The building's geometry and juxtaposition of materials serves to create a contrast, which enhances the reading of each element against the other.

The newest and largest branch in the Denver Public Library system is located in Denver's Five Points/Welton Street Historic District and serves as a library, research facility, community meeting center and museum related to African-Americans in the mountain west. Inspired by Brunelleschi's magnificent Pazzi Chapel in Florence, the basic concept is a brick envelope with a large, centered brick arch on each major façade flanked by balanced punched openings.

Firm Name > Dwayne Nuzum and Hobbs: A Design Company
Category > Small Commercial

The Nuzum Building is a modern take on the western storefront. The barn/shed has a wrapper of multi-colored brick evoking the owner/artist's iconographic paintings of storefront buildings. The owner's art gallery is to occupy the first floor with a rental apartment above. Typical commercial window displays for these types of buildings have been reinterpreted at the corner with a projecting glass display bay for art works.

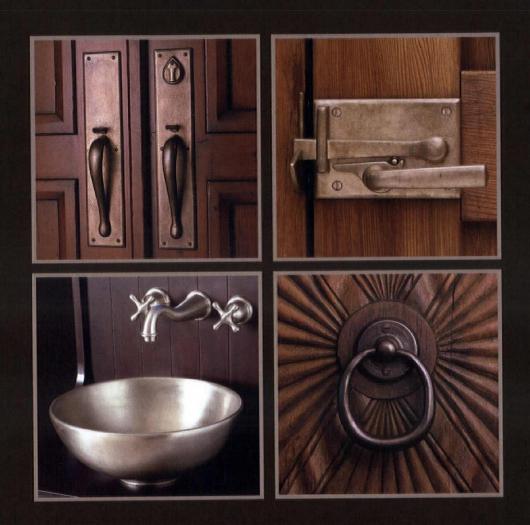

Project Name > Patryas Building
Firm Name > Hobbs: A Design Company

This mixed-used building—a veritable study of contrasts—offers space for a corner grocery store together with access to an enclosed garden. The design carefully shapes the two upper level residential units to take advantage of the mountain vistas and light. Board-on-batten siding contrasts with the brick skin of the upper levels, as does the open storefront with a covered colonnade for shoppers. The studio office above the garage is a strong sculptural element that dramatically defines one of the upper-level decks.

The AIA Colorado South 2005 Design Awards were presented at the annual holiday awards gala. AIA Colorado South celebrates each holiday season by recognizing a wide variety of contributions to the architectural profession, to the built environment and to the community. AIA Colorado South is comprised of AIA member architects, associates and professional affiliates over an 18-county region of southern Colorado. Over many years, the holiday gala has blossomed into a social gathering of architects, clients, contractors and a broad array of representatives from the building industry throughout the Pikes Peak Region and southeastern part of Colorado. The holiday gala represents the collegial approach to public outreach of the local design professions and the construction industry toward better communities and quality of life for clients and society as a whole. This year's jury chair was Jim Childress, FAIA, from Centerbrook Architects.

Irving Elementary School is a new three-track elementary school for grades K-5. The facility replaced the old Irving Elementary School, located on a six-acre site adjacent to a public park. The park was upgraded as a joint-use facility for play activities. The new facility incorporates a geo-exchange heating and cooling system and will save the school district substantial operating costs while providing the occupants maximum comfort

Project Name > The Colorado Springs Independent Firm Name > Michael H. Collins Architects and Jean Sebben Associates, LLC Category > Small Interior Architecture Photo by Paul J. Brokeing

Built in 1912 as the United Brethren Church and converted to The Smokebrush Theatre in the 1990s, the home of The Colorado Springs Independent featured a voluminous sanctuary with choir loft, exposed ceiling structure and altar, stepped seating, catwalks, theatre lighting, proscenium and stage. Theatre seating was removed, open space office stations were constructed on the original sanctuary floor and materials were selected for visual, sound bounce and acoustical qualities in the former sanctuary.

Project Name > Cheyenne Mountain Residence Firm Name > Clifford Taylor Architects, PC Category > Built Architecture, Residential Photo by David Harris

Located above the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs, this residence is drawn along contours on a steeply sloped site on Cheyenne Mountain. In longitudinal section, the home bridges a deep ravine, the vestiges of which form an open car court under the home with flanking underground garages. The home is a blend of owner desires, combining a masculine, mountain lodge in the arts and crafts style with a romantic Mediterranean style reminiscent of early homes in the Broadmoor community.

AIA COLORADO WEST 2005 DESIGN AWARDS >

AlA Colorado West received more than 40 submitted projects that were judged in categories that included commercial/institutional, residential economy of means, residential over $1 million construction, details interior and exterior and open. John Camey, AlA, Camey Architecture, PC, served as this year's jury chair.

The Snowmass Golf Clubhouse was designed to create a community facility reflective of its original ranch heritage and a good example of energy efficiency. The building is reminiscent of early barn structures in the valley. This project is Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certified at the silver level. To date, there are only seven LEED certified buildings in Colorado and only four certified at a level of silver or higher. There are only 167 LEED certified buildings in the United States. The clubhouse is oriented along an east-west axis with occupied space including the bar, dining area, golf pro shop and office located on the south side for solar gain, natural light and mountain views. Back-of-house spaces, including the kitchen, restrooms and locker rooms, are located on the north side. Fifty percent of the lumber used is certified sustainablyharvested; toilets are low-water use dual-flush and exceed code requirements by 30 percent, showerheads are low-flow and the small quantity of carpet used is recycled content and recyclable. Roof (R-55) and walls are insulated above code requirements. Sustainable, harvested eucalyptus wood and non-formaldehyde materials where used throughout the building, which is estimated to be 60 percent more efficient than conventional structures. Local materials were used wherever possible. Indoor air quality is protected through the use of low VOC paints, sealants and glues. All wood, metal, glass, paper and cardboard construction waste was recycled or ground up and used as mulch on site. The golf course uses native grasses to reduce water demands and the local creek was rehabilitated.

Project Name > Burlingame Sustainable Community Firm Name > Charles Cuniffe Architects Category > Sustainable Design

The master plan for the Burlingame Sustainable Community is a synergistic sustainable integration of affordable housing, recreation, open space and transit opportunities. An unusually large percentage of housing is directly adjacent to village greens and natural open spaces. Goals of the plan include creating a village, optimizing open space relationships, creating connectivity, celebrating the setting of the place, constructing sustainable homes and providing affordable well-built homes.

Project Name > Jussila Residence Firm Name > Studio B Architects Category > Unbuilt Architecture

The 80-acre site is equidistant between Los Angeles and San Francisco near Paso Robles in the emerging wine region of central California. The program consists of a main house, guesthouse, winemaking facility, tasting cave and a cooking school. The project is expected to require three to four years of planning and construction. This submittal begins with the main residence of 4,500 sq ft that is eroded into five elements: garage, public functions, guest area, private/bedroom wing and the sauna and gardens. This compound scheme offers light and shadow, access directly to exterior features, individual component views and privacy from one another.

The Next Gen Homes at Blue Creek Ranch are two prototype homes that will be replicated and refined within the mountain west. Next Gen is a public domain project, so that all of the designs, data and lessons learned will be available to the general public and shared with affordable housing developers throughout the region. For the next few years, the homes will act as a laboratory that will provide evidence of how these materials and systems work best together. This information can be used to design any kind of new home, whether high-end or affordable. The designs meet a regional need for simple-to-construct, energy efficient, aesthetically pleasing, marketable, durable, low-maintenance, comfortable and healthy homes that are inexpensive to operate. They are comfortable for an average family and have ample storage and great curb-appeal.

Project Name > Waterstone Residence Firm Name > RKD Architects, Inc. Category > Residential Architecture Photo by Ron Ruscio, Billy Doran & Sally Rich Brainerd

The primary objective in the Waterston design was to connect its owners to the environment and to architecture. Its design grew from the site. Three living pods nestle into the side of a canyon with interconnecting glass bridges that span the streams and ponds below. A palette of stone, glass, patinaed copper and weathered steel respond sculpturally to the dramatic site while withstanding the extreme conditions of a high desert environment. Contemporary slopes and curves are combined with more traditional materials to give the home warmth. More daring, battered, curved and overhanging architectural forms evoke the geology of the site. The extensive use of stone enhances the natural setting and grounds the home to its site with permanence.

Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the institute, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. Please familiarize yourself with this diverse list of committees and become an active member of those that are of greatest interest to your career. AIA Colorado thanks all of the committee chairs for their inspiration and leadership throughout the year.

Annual Awards Committee

The Annual Awards Committee is organized to design, plan and implement the Design Awards gala. This annual event recognizes and celebrates outstanding architectural achievements within the Denver community. The event is held each fall, and the committee actively works on developing the program's itinerary as well as selecting nationally recognized keynote speakers.

Annual Golf Tournament Committee

The Annual Golf Tournament Committee organizes this summer event to provide a networking opportunity for architects and industry sponsors to socialize in a fun tournament atmosphere. In addition to the networking opportunities of the tournament, this also serves as one of AIA Denver's largest fundraising venues.

Architectural Review Exams (ARE) Committee

The ARE Committee organizes effective review sessions for ARE candidates. Various review topics are presented by professionals at each meeting. Mock examinations and study guides are distributed to all participants of the sessions. The goal of the ARE Committee is are held on Thursday evenings and Saturdays throughout March and April.

Committee on the Environment (COTE)

COTE, as its motto states, is committed to "bridging the gap—high performance and high design" by promoting education about the performance of buildings to architects, design professionals and other groups involved with sustainability.

Design-Build Committee

The Design-Build Committee provides a forum for owners, architects, engineers and contractors to share ways to provide better project delivery methods. Today, owners are demanding more and more for a single source of responsibility for their projects. There are even greater opportunities awaiting architects and contractors. Working together and opening the door to better understanding between each other, designers and builders can deliver positive results for clients. The Design-Build Committee invites members to join the committee and lead the way to better design-build.

Fellows Nominating Committee

The Fellows Nominating Committee is charged with identifying and nominating candidates who are deserving of advancement to the College of Fellows and would receive serious consideration for advancement to Fellowship by the national AIA Jury of Fellows. This committee facilitates an active approach to identifying worthy candidates for current and future consideration and conducting an open, credible and understandable nomination process.

Historic Preservation Committee

The Historic Preservation Committee is an interdisciplinary membership organization dedicated to educate, investigate, record and support historic preservation. Primary tasks of the committee are to increase public awareness, enhance professional development, advocate involvement and recognize the contributions of people involved in preservation of the built environment and early pioneers involved in the development of the City of Denver and the State of Colorado.

Housing Committee

The Housing Committee is a forum for architects who specialize in designing residential building types, such as single-family, multi-family and lofts. The committee follows current issues that address codes, government regulations, evolving technology and current housing trends. The committee's goals are to have a better understanding of the Fair Housing Act and its relationship to Title 7 of Colorado law, to offer solutions to growth issues and to educate developers and the general public about good residential design.

Membership Committee

The Membership Committee is organized to increase membership participation and champion AIA benefits to current members. Committee programs provide the vast array of national, state and local benefits to potential members, including continuing education, the Intern Development Program and contract documents.

Member Forums Committee

The Member Forums Committee was developed to produce monthly programs about timely issues relating to architecture. These programs are offered at no cost to members.

STOPP Task Force

The STOPP (Citizens to Streamline Our Permitting Process) Task Force's goal is to stop unnecessary delays in the permitting process by introducing a streamlined approach with the objective of facilitating and encouraging new growth, not stymieing and thwarting responsible construction.

Urban Design Committee

The Urban Design Committee is focused on growing into the role of a "community resource" of expertise and assistance in the development of designs involving local and regional urban design issues. The group also plays an educational role, developing and presenting workshops, design charrettes and presentations on current urban design issues. There are many opportunities for participation in this committee and the rewards are ultimately a better city in which to work and live.

Women in Design (WiD)

WiD strives to expand the gender diversity of the design professions to mirror the community that is served and to promote awareness of the contributions of women design professionals. WiD pursues these strategies for gender diversity through networking, outreach

David Owen Tryba Architects has consistently led efforts to enhance the communities where they live and work. Within Denver and elsewhere, the firm has designed commercial, residential, recreational, civic, educational, religious and mixed-use buildings and complexes. These projects set high standards for historic rehabilitation and the design of contemporary buildings. We promote a vision of revitalizing urban areas as an alternative to sprawling development. The staff atDavid Owen Tryba Architects is dedicated to clients and projects that add value to the revitalization of urban cities. The practice has set high standards and established a strong leadership reputation for civic and cultural design, urbanin-fill, historic preservation and contemporary architecture.

Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the institute, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. Please familiarize yourself with this diverse list of committees and become an active member of those that are of greatest interest to your career. AIA Colorado thanks all of the committee chairs for their inspiration and leadership throughout the year. AIA150 Committee

This committee serves as the link between the AIA150 national anniversary initiatives and the AIA Colorado North Board of Directors.

Architectural Review Exams (ARE) Materials Library Committee

This committee manages the ARE Materials Library, which is available at no charge to all AIA Colorado North members. The Intern Advocate Committee Colorado provides the materials, and the AIA Colorado North Board of Directors reviews and updates the materials Communications Advisory Board (CAB)

CAB was formed to serve as the nucleus of strategic communication planning for the state and its four local chapters. Members of this board will function as an accessible source of information and as a tool for architectural professionals, supporting personal and professional development. The communication tools that are continuously being enhanced to target all AIA Colorado needs include the quarterly design magazine, a biweekly e-newsletter and the Web site. CAB continues to strategize on the state's Web site enhancement.

Design Awards Committee

The Design Awards program seeks to honor works of distinction by members and to bring to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided AIA Colorado Norht members. The awards are presented annually at the fall awards gala. Annual Golf Tournament Committee

The Annual Golf Tournament Committee organizes this summer event that allows architects and industry sponsors to meet and socialize in a fun tournament atmosphere. In addition to the networking opportunities of the tournament, this also serves as one of the AIA

Government Affairs Committee

This committee meets on the first Friday of each month at 1 p.m. in the AIA Colorado office to discuss matters relating to, among other things, the State Board of Examiners of Architects and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the Legislative Affairs Subcommittee meets at noon each Tuesday to screen and discuss potential legislation that could affect the profession of architecture. AIA Colorado's contract lobbyist, Jerry Johnson, Hon. AIA/C, assists in this monitoring process, as well as provides onsite lobbying at the Capitol. AIA Colorado occasionally sponsors legislation; the primary goal of this program is to increase

Membership Committee

Successful and continuous membership retention and expansion efforts are essential to ensure that AIA Colorado North truly represents the profession. Members are invited to recruit a friend and bring them to a meeting or chapter activity to get them involved in AIA Web Site Committee

This committee oversees the chapter calendar and meets on the third Tuesday of each month to discuss upcoming events within the chapter, including conferences, lectures, happy hours and other pertinent community events. This information is updated monthly on the Rankin Architects is a full service, architecture and planning firm founded in February of 2006 by Matt Rankin. We started our company as a reaction to the evolving architectural market in Northern Colorado and the professional growth opportunities that exist within our region. As a new firm, we are excited about the ability to control the growth of our business. We choose to base our business on the principals of honesty, dependability, competency and integrity. We wishto foster growth in ourselves, our clients and our community. We surround ourselves with committed individuals and team members who understand our goals and our commitment to quality. And finally, we have fun while we do it.

AIA COLORADO SOUTH >

Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the institute, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to the profession and the community. Please familiarize yourself with this diverse list of committees and become an active member of those that are of greatest interest to your career. AIA Colorado thanks all of the committee chairs for their inspiration and leadership throughout the year.

AIA150 Committee

This committee serves as the link between the AIA150 national anniversary initiatives and the AIA Colorado South Board of Directors.

Affiliated Commercial Construction Associations (ACCA)

ACCA is an "organization of organizations" that meets monthly to improve communication and planning efficiency on the local and regional levels. It is made up of representatives from other associations that represent a wide cross-section of the commercial construction industry. This organization is involved with city and other agencies to help streamline and improve the commercial construction process. The membership is comprised of 12 different industry associations as voting members and representatives from a handful of local agencies as non-voting advisory members.

Associates Committee

This committee engages all AIA Colorado South associate members in educational and social events. It makes learning materials available for the Architectural Review Exams, as well as facilitating scholarship opportunities.

Design Awards Program Committee

The Design Awards program honors works of distinction by AIA Colorado South members and brings public attention to the outstanding architectural services provided by the chapter's members. Design Award winners are announced during the annual holiday gala.

Communication/Public Relations Committee

This committee works with the AIA Colorado communication director to broaden the reach of chapter activities being communicated to non-architects.

Annual Gala Committee

The Annual Gala Committee works to design, plan and implement the annual holiday gala. This event recognizes and celebrates outstanding architectural achievements within the Colorado Springs community. The event is held in December, and the committee actively works on the gala's theme, venue and presentation.

Government Affairs Committee

This committee meets on the first Friday of each month at 1 p.m. in the AIA Colorado office to discuss matters relating to, among other things, the State Board of Examiners of Architects and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the Legislative Affairs Subcommittee meets at noon each Tuesday to screen and discuss potential legislation that could affect the profession of architecture. AIA Colorado's contract lobbyist, Jerry Johnson, Hon. AIA/C, assists in this monitoring process, as well as provides onsite lobbying at the Capitol. AIA Colorado occasionally sponsors legislation; the primary goal of this program is to increase legislators' awareness of architects, architecture and AIA Colorado South.

Historic Preservation

The Historic Preservation Committee is an interdisciplinary membership organization dedicated to educate, investigate, record and support historic preservation. Primary tasks of the committee are to increase public awareness, enhance professional development, advocate community involvement and recognize the contributions of people involved in preservation of the built environment and early pioneers involved in the development of the AIA Colorado South's service area.

Membership Committee

The Membership Committee works to increase membership participation and champion AIA benefits to current members. Committee programs provide the vast array of national, state and local benefits, such as continuing education, the Intern Development Program and contract documents.

Programs Committee

This committee seeks opportunities to bring lectures, tours, networking receptions and educational events to the chapter in order for members to maintain their AIA Continuing Education requirements and as a way to stimulate learning, networking and growth in the chapter.

Qualifications Based Selection (QBS) Colorado Board

The QBS Colorado Board advocates for the use of qualifications-based selection for procurement of public projects. The board is generally comprised of architects, engineers and public representatives. They meet on the fourth Thursday of each month at the American Consulting Engineers of Colorado (ACEC) offices in Denver.

Sustainability Committee

This committee is combined with the Colorado Springs Downtown Partnership and works to educate AIA Colorado South members and downtown businesses about sustainable practices as part of the "!magine Downtown!" effort.

Urban Design Committee

The Urban Design Committee is focused on growing into the role of a "community resource" of expertise and assistance in the development of designs involving local and regional urban design issues. The group also plays an educational role, developing and presenting workshops, design charrettes and presentations on current urban design issues. There are many opportunities for participation in this committee, and the rewards are ultimately a better city in which to work and live.

Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the Institute, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership in areas of greatest interest to our profession and the community. It is our sincere wish that you familiarize yourself with this diverse list of committees and become an active member of those that are of greatest interest to your career. AIA would like to thank all of the committee chairs for their inspiration and leadership throughout the year.

AIA150 Committee

This committee serves as the link between the AIA150 national anniversary initiatives and the AIA Colorado West Board of Directors.

Design Awards Committee

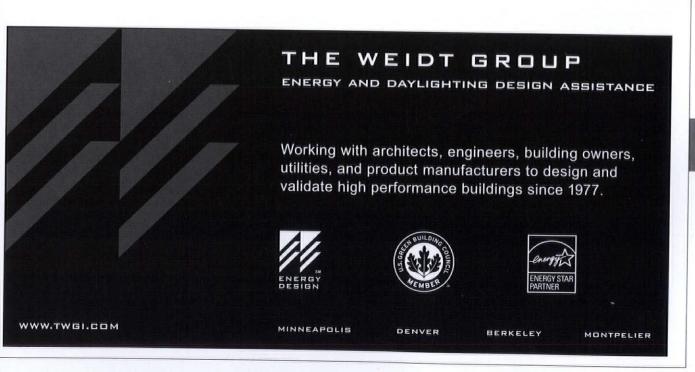

The awards program honors works of distinction by members and brings to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided members. The awards are presented annually at the spring awards gala.

Membership Committee

The Membership Committee is organized to increase membership participation and champion AIA benefits to current members. Committee programs provide the vast array of national, state and local benefits to potential members, including continuing education, the Intern Development Program and contract documents.

Programs Committee

This committee seeks opportunities to bring lectures, tours, networking receptions and educational events to the chapter in order for members to maintain their AIA Continuing Education requirements and as a way to stimulate learning, networking and growth in the chapter.
