INTRODUCTION

ABOUT THIS DIRECTORY

For your convenience, AIA Colorado's 2009-2010 Firm Profile & Membership Directory divides member firms by chapter (Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information), and then lists all professional affiliate companies and individual members in separate sections.

The Member Firm Profiles & Local Chapter Information section is a roster of firms whose principal(s) and/or partners are full AIA members. The qualification for being included as a member firm in the 2009-2010 Firm Profile & Membership Directory is the principal of the firm, or one of the principal(s), is an AIA Colorado architect member (AIA). Firms included in the roster are not necessarily architecture firms. Licensed architects represented in this listing are designated by the AIA or FAIA designation after their names in the contact section. The Professional Affiliate Firms section highlights those members that are affiliated with the design and construction industry. Finally, the Individual Members section contains individual listings of all members, including architects, Associate AIAs, professional affiliates, student affiliates and intern members.

All information in AIA Colorado's 2009-2010 Firm Profile & Membership Directory has been provided by firm and professional affiliate members. The information was deemed accurate at the time of publication. However, if information is not accurate, members may contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266, or send an e-mail with changes to info@aiacolorado.org. AIA Colorado may not be held responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions in the member listings.

AIA respects the privacy of its members. This directory includes firm and personal information supplied by members. Individual listings do not include e-mail addresses. Please note the contents of this publication may not be reproduced by any means, in whole or in part, without prior written consent of the publisher. For information about purchasing a single-use mailing list of AIA Colorado members, please contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266, ext. 110. AIA Colorado does not sell or share e-mail address lists. Inclusion in this directory does not imply endorsement of any firm, service or product. The acceptance of advertising does not reflect endorsement of products or services by this publication or AIA Colorado.

AIA Colorado gratefully acknowledges its 2009 Corporate Sponsors. The support from these companies helps make it possible to continue providing valuable programs and services to the AIA Colorado membership.

AIA COLORADO

- AIA Colorado worked with members of the AIA Denver Committee on the Environment (COTE) to support legislation involving sustainable building practices in the state.
- The AIA Colorado Government Affairs Committee continued to develop relationships with state legislators and educate them on issues important to architects in Colorado. Architect and AIA member, Cheri Gerou, AIA, was elected to house district 25 in the Colorado Legislature.
- The emerging professionals programs were re-examined and subsequently reorganized to best serve the needs of our students, associates and young architect members.
- The Architectural Education Foundation awarded more than $58,000 in scholarships, grants and other awards to students, interns, architects, teachers and allied organizations.
- The Colorado Fellows Book (a collection of essays from AIA Colorado Fellows) was published in 2008. Funds raised by sales of the book will go to benefit the Fellows Scholarship Fund (a scholarship for the AIA Colorado Young Architect of the Year).
- Colorado Architecture Week continued to grow in both attendance and public recognition. A new program, "How to Work with an Architect," was created and was well received by attendees.

YEAR IN REVIEW HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 2008 ANNUAL REPORT

The focus of 2008 was the AIA member. We must continually listen carefully to those we serve and aspire to effectively communicate our efforts to elevate the profession. AIA Colorado and the state's four local chapters have made tremendous, positive strides in the last few years:

- we have become financially stable and worked to ensure future financial stability.
- we have reviewed and strengthened educational and networking programs for the benefit of the membership, and
- we have reached out to government entities and the publi to educate them on the important role that architects play in our communities.

The 2008 board challenge and theme was to put the AIA member first in every decision we made and every action we took. We will uphold this practice in the future.

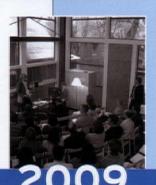

AIA COLORADO NORTH

- Hosted Rep. Claire Levy (Boulder) for an informal discussion with the chapter's board of directors in July.
- Participated in the Fort Collins Sustainable Living Fair by hosting a booth where local architects distributed AIA National Walk The Walk materials and answered questions about sustainable design. Nearly 9,000 members of the public attended the event.
- Developed a Community Service Committee, which has identified a number of ways to become more active in community events in the coming year.
- Hosted two (Fort Collins and Boulder)
 Architecture, Art & Appetizer programs, which promoted architecture and architects in the community, thereby serving as a public relations initiative in the chapter's service area. Also, at least one presentation at each program involved a dialogue about that city's built environment issues.

AIA DENVER

- Strengthened the chapter's Public Affairs
 Committee, which is now pursuing involvement in AIA
 National's new Local Government Network.
- Successfully placed two official chapter representatives, David Daniel, AIA, and Dean Foreman, AIA, on the Union Station Advisory Council.
- Took official positions on both the Quick Wins 2 Solar Bulk Plane issue affecting the Sloan's Lake neighborhood and the Northwest Denver Re-zoning Issue.
- Continued follow-up work on the Public Works Exchange Project, which began in 2007 when the chapter sponsored in-person idea exchange between public works and administration officials in Denver and Chicago.
- Contributed to the Mayor's Road Home Program by providing both financial and support resources to the initiative. This included hosting speakers from the program during the board's annual retreat and at the membership's annual meeting.

LOOKING AHEAD

Architecture is not a static profession, as AIA members have acknowledged by their commitment to continuing education. This year Colorado architects encounter mandatory continuing education for licensure renewal, with AIA Colorado providing ample opportunity to earn professional development units. Just as importantly, AIA Colorado has led the flight for a predictable and appropriate process. AIA Colorado will continue to provide this kind of leadership for our profession in our state and region.

The uncertain economic times and rapidly stretching fabric of architectural practice call for consistent values, practical information and clear direction. Earlier this year, AIA Colorado hirod an independent consulting firm to conduct a survey of the membership via focus groups and telephone interviews with members around the state. The findings from this endeavor will impact strategic planning and budgeting processes moving forward. AIA Colorado will continuously work to provide services and programs that our members value most.

MISSION-VISION STATEMENT

And Colorado, the voice of the profession of architecture, inspire and supports its members as leaders to improve and sustain the quality of the built environment. We promote the value of the profession and provide resources and education for members.

AIA COLORADO WEST

- Hosted three (Vail, Aspen and Durango)
 Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED¹⁴) seminars and collaborated with local government offices to market the events. Also, officials from each local county government attended their respective seminars.
- Continued to work on the chapter's AIA150 program, which will be a public forum to discuss the future of the built environment in Eagle-Vail Valley.
 This year, the AIA150 champion invited and received participation from several local government officials on the planning committee for the event.
- Made initial contact with the Vail Valley Partnership Chamber & Tourism Bureau, including being invited to participate in its September Familiarization
 Tour. Although the dates did not work out to be involved this year, contact will be maintained with the organization for future interactions.

* EACH LINE REPRESENTS 10 AIA MEMBERS

AIA COLORADO SOUTH

- Pursued setting up editorial board meetings with local newspapers to express concern about not including the name of architects in most articles and in graphic credits (i.e., misuse of term "artist rendering").
- Participated in and sponsored the Fort Carson Sustainability Conference on Nov. 20-2t, including supporting a board member working on the conference's steering committee.
- Facilitated Margaret Gilbert, AIA, to speak as an AIA Colorado South architect at Sally Ride Science Festival in conjunction with the Partnership in Innovative Preparation for Educators and Students (PIPES) program at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs.
- Succeeded in developing an official relationship to provide an ad hoc review process for the Colorado Springs Downtown Partnership when it considers certain design projects.

INTRODUCTION

Welcome from AIA Colorado President and Executive Director

We are pleased to provide you with this year's edition of the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory as part of your AIA member benefits. This publication is a valuable resource to connect you with fellow AIA Colorado members, AIA committees, staff and leadership. This directory, together with our Web site at www.aiacolorado.org, provides members with current contacts to access the wealth of resources that AIA Colorado offers.

The AIA Colorado office is located in the heart of downtown Denver at 1515 Arapahoe St., Ste. 1-110. We believe it is important to maintain an urban presence on behalf of our members. Our staff serves the membership and the public with diligence and professionalism, providing member services, contract documents, ARE study materials and a general reference library and maintenance of the always-important job board. The staff also works with members to coordinate our communication strategy, government affairs agenda, annual scholarship program and state and local chapter events, including the design awards galas and continuing-education classes.

One of the indirect benefits of being an active member of AIA is fellowship. Getting to know other members, sharing ideas, collaborating in projects and building genuine friendships that grow from communication with your peers can be as valuable as the more obvious, direct benefits AIA offers. It is important to stay connected to your profession. We believe this directory supports our members in that endeavor. It can be an integral tool in your efforts to be an engaged member of AIA Colorado.

This publication would not be possible without the strong support of the advertisers and sponsors represented in the Buyers' Guide. Their investment in our organization is important to our future success.

The American Institute of Architects' Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct

Members of AIA are dedicated to the highest standards of professionalism, integrity and competence. The following principles are guidelines for the conduct of members in fulfilling those obligations:

Canon I - General Obligations

Members should maintain and advance their knowledge of the art and science of architecture, respect the body of architectural accomplishments, and contribute to its growth, thoughtfully consider the social and environmental impact of their professional activities, and exercise learned and uncompromised professional judgment.

Canon II — Obligations to the Public

Members should embrace the spirit and letter of the law governing their professional affairs and should promote and serve the public interest in their personal and professional activities.

Canon III - Obligations to the Client

Members should serve their clients competently and in a professional manner, and should exercise unprejudiced and unbiased judgment when performing all professional services.

Canon IV - Obligations to the Profession

Members should uphold the integrity and dignity of the profession.

Canon V - Obligations to Colleagues

Members should respect the rights and acknowledge the professional aspirations and contributions of their colleagues.

Canon VI - Obligations to the Environment

Members should promote sustainable design and development principles in their professional activities.

National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB)

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) was established in 1920 to help member boards:

- · carry out their duties.
- · foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws.
- develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training.
- perfect their procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification,
- establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws.

NCARB is a non-profit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the Colorado Board of Examiners of Architects.

To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and have been registered by a member board.

NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character. This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character; and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. However, it is not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from the Colorado State Board of Licensure for Architects, Professional Engineers & Professional Land Surveyors.

NCARB can be contacted at: 1801 K St. NW, Ste. 700-K; Washington, DC 20006-1310 202.783.6500 voice; 202.783.0290 fax; www.ncarb.org

The Jason Pettigrew, Assoc. AIA, Memorial Leadership Scholarship

In 2004, AIA Western Mountain Region created the Jason Pettigrew, Assoc. AIA, Memorial Leadership Scholarship. The program honors an outstanding associate AIA member within the six states of AIA WMR with a scholarship to the annual AIA Grassroots Conference in Washington, D.C. and the WMR Fall Conference.

This scholarship honors emerging Associate AIA leaders for strong leadership and a strong commitment to AIA now and in the future — qualities the late Pettigrew demonstrated.

Information on nominations for the scholarship is announced each year at the AIA WMR Web site at www.aiawmr.org.

Architects of Colorado Political Action Committee

1515 Arapahoe St., Ste. 1-110; Denver, CO 80202; 303.446.2266 voice

What is a Political Action Committee?

A political action committee (PAC) is a non-profit, political organization specifically created to promote legislative interests and raise funds for that purpose.

The Architects of Colorado PAC (ARCpac) focuses on the interests of Colorado registered architects, whether they are AIA members or not. AIA dues are not a part of ARCpac. Membership in the PAC is completely voluntary and separate from AIA Colorado.

Why do Colorado Architects need a PAC?

The architectural profession is significantly influenced by elected officials and the acts they take. To have a more active role in the election process and raise funds for that purpose a PAC is necessary. ARCpac provides additional opportunities to create relationships with state legislators. Also, ARCpac can donate money to candidates who fight for issues of importance to architects. Furthermore, ARCpac members may help with political campaigns.

GEOLOGY CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS TESTING EXPLORATORY DRILLING ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES HEPWORTH-PAWLAK GEOTECHNICAL GLENWOOD SPRINGS 970-945-7988 SILVERTHORNE 970-468-1989 COLORADO SPRINGS 719-633-5562

Who can be a part of ARCpac?

All Colorado licensed architects may be a part of this organization upon contributing to ARCpac. Any individual, firm, company or partnership with a vested interest in the architectural profession can contribute to ARCpac. Contributions to ARCpac are limited to $500 per person or firm for each election cycle. ARCpac is a way for a firm to give to a cause, as firms are not able to give money to candidates.

How is a PAC effective?

ARCpac is effective with legislators and other elected officials because it represents the collective political arm of 6,000 Colorado architects and supporters acting as one influential voice.

Who decides how ARCpac distributes its money?

The executive committee of ARCpac makes decisions about who receives ARCpac money. Contributions received by ARCpac cannot be declared to any specific candidate. ARCpac distributes all of its money during election years to political candidates running for state office, regardless of party affiliation. ARCpac donates money to candidates who support issues of importance to architects, regardless of party affiliation.

What political issues are important to architects?

Recent issues of importance include the architect licensing law, scope-of-practice protection, sustainable design, school bond issues, indemnification, eminent domain and land use.

How can I contribute to ARCpac?

There are five ways your firm can help ARCpac:

- Make a personal or corporate donation of up to $500 per election cycle.
- Designate a firm member to solicit members of your firm to contribute to ARCpac.
- Agree to host a fundraiser in your home for your state senator or representative.

What Do Architects Do?

You have a vision of what you want; now you need to make it a reality. The following outlines how architects can assist you in that process.

Architects See the Big Picture

Architects are specially educated to assist you in defining what you want to build, present options you might never have considered and help you get the most for your valuable investment. They do not just design four walls and a roof. They create total environments, both interiors and exteriors, that are functional and exciting places to work and live.

Architects Solve Problems Creatively

Architects are trained problem solvers. Need more room for your growing family? Architects can show you how to enlarge your home so that you will not have to move. Have a limited budget? Architects can propose ways to get more than you imagined possible for your investment.

Architects Help You Get the Most from Your Construction Dollar

Architects can reduce building costs, decrease your home's energy needs and increase its future resale value through good design.

- college degree from an accredited school of architecture, requiring five or more years of professional studies;
- three years of internship under the supervision of licensed architects; and
- · passage of nine rigorous examinations.

Only those professionals, who have fulfilled these requirements or other requirements as stipulated by each individual state, legally may call themselves architects and practice architecture in the jurisdiction granting license. Individuals may be registered, or licensed, in more than one state by means of reciprocal licensing agreements among the states.

Get the Real Thing - Look for "AIA"

Look for the "AIA" initials after the name of any architect you consider for your project. AIA architects remain current with professional standards through continuing education and subscribe to a code of ethics and professional conduct that assure clients, the public and colleagues of their dedication to high standards in professional practice.

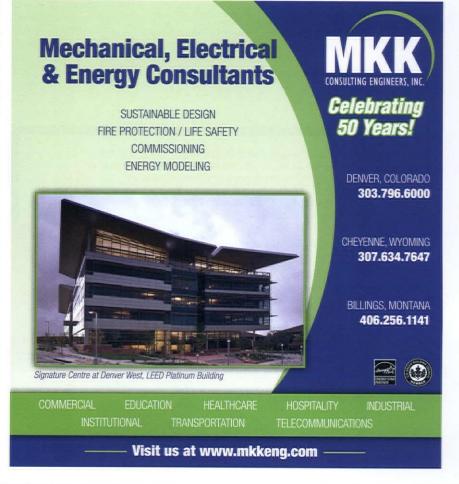

Architects Make Your Life Easier

Building is a long process that can be messy and disruptive, particularly if you are living in the space while it is under construction. Your architect represents you, looks out for your interests, smoothes the process, helps find qualified construction contractors and visits the worksite to help protect you against work that is not according to plan.

Speak with an architect who is a member of AIA at the earliest stage of the design process. Use the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory to reach all of the AIA members located in Colorado. Another available resource is Find An Architect on www. aiacolorado.org, an online architectural database with the names of member firms.

Why an AIA Architect?

Like doctors and lawyers, architects are licensed professionals. The title "architect" may be used only by an individual who possesses a state license to practice architecture. Architects are the only professionals in the construction industry who are ethically bound to represent you: the building owner. Professional qualifications generally include:

AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory

The AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory is an annually published, statewide listing of all AIA Colorado members. This directory lists member contact information by local chapter and includes the types of services that each firm offers. This publication can be a valuable asset in one's search for the right architect for a project.

Find An Architect on www.aiacolorado.org

Individuals can complete free searches at www.aiacolorado. org to identify AIA Colorado firms by location, specialty or other search criteria. All firms listed have one or more licensed principal architects who are members of AIA Colorado.

Additionally, AIA provides the complimentary, national online service Architect Finder at http://architectfinder.aia.org. This allows individuals to search for architectural firms across the country using various criteria.

Architect Colorado Magazine

The primary mission of Architect Colorado is to inform AIA Colorado members about architectural news, trends and developments occurring throughout the state and about work being done by our members in our region and beyond. The publication also serves as an outreach tool to educate the community about the value of architectural excellence and the contributions of AIA Colorado architects.

A subscription to the quarterly published Architect Colorado is available for $30 per year. Single issues are available for $7.50 each (plus tax and S&H). Contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266 for more information or for volume sales pricing.

AIA Contract Documents

AIA Colorado is a full distributor of AIA Contract Documents. The documents produced by AIA are the most widely used standard form contracts in the construction industry. Document synopses are available on www.aiacolorado.org. AIA Contract Documents can be ordered online or by calling 303.446.2266.

"Transit-Oriented Development: Reshaping the Great American City" (Film)

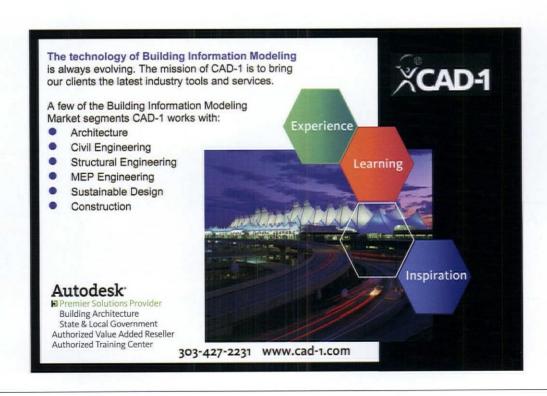

In 2006, the AIA Denver Urban Design Committee produced this film in response to the need to explore the characteristics of successful TODs. The documentary is a 60-minute film that exposes the negative impacts of sprawl in the largest U.S. cities and the promise of TOD as an alternative. Copies of the film are available for $20 each (plus tax and S&H). Contact AIA Colorado at 303,446,2266 for more information.

How Design Works for Your Web Site

If individuals never have worked with architects before, they likely have questions: Does the project really require an architect? At what point should a design team become involved? What is it like to work with an AIA architect, and how does one get the most out of the experience? To help answer these questions and others, AIA hosts the complimentary, online resource How Design Works for You at http://howdesignworks. aia.org/. From this Web site, individuals are guided through the five stages of design by downloading video and other tools that describe how the process works.

Publications

A variety of AIA publications and fact sheets are available to the public at no charge. These resources cover a range of topics, from finding and working with an architect to how architects can help manage projects and the design process. Contact AIA Colorado at 303.446.2266 or visit www.aiacolorado.org to request a current list of these resources.

About AIA Colorado

AlA Colorado represents architects and others statewide and unifies the four local chapters of The American Institute of Architects within Colorado.

AIA Colorado Mission Statement

With more than 2,400 members, AIA Colorado, the voice of the profession of architecture, inspires and supports its members as leaders to improve and sustain the quality of the built environment. We promote the value of the profession and provide resources and education for members.

AlA Colorado believes that an important purpose of architecture is to create a vision that improves the built environment. This vision is vital to the advancement of the living standards of our communities and provides a service of ever-increasing value to society.

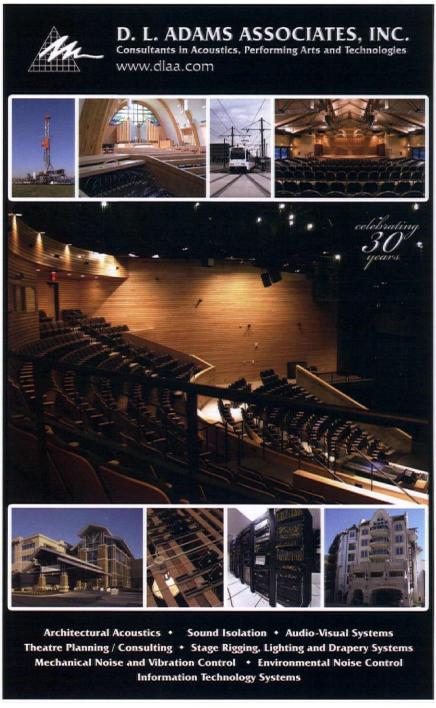

AIA Colorado provides help in finding an architect, lobbies the Colorado legislature, publishes architectural employment information, offers continuing education programs and sells AIA Contract Documents and other publications. The organization hosts an annual conference and provides support to all the chapters within the state. It is a professional organization for the design profession and is classified as "not-for-profit."

AIA Colorado History

The Colorado Association of Architects was organized in 1890, and the elected officers were Robert S. Roeschlaub, president; Harold W. Baerresen, vice president; Eugene R. Rice, secretary; and Frank E. Edbrooke, treasurer. The same men were re-elected to office at the second annual meeting held Dec. 21, 1891. The main topic of discussion at that event was submitting an application for a charter as a chapter of The American Institute of Architects. The charter was received April 4, 1892, and included the states of Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico. It was not until 1947 that each state had its own chapter.

AIA Colorado Committees & Task Forces

The following outlines a portion of the committees and services available to members of AIA Colorado. The AIA Colorado Board of Directors encourages members' active participation in AIA at the local, state and national levels. This involvement means fellowship with peers, furthering one's career and continuing education. Members can volunteer their expertise by joining a committee, sponsoring an intern, submitting an article for use in Architect Colorado, running for a board seat, suggesting a new service or attending the annual design conference. Your participation and feedback are welcomed and necessary for the continued success of this membership body. Many other committees exist at the local chapter level as well. Please refer to the AIA Colorado Web site at www.aiacolorado.org for a complete list of all committees active in each chapter.

AIA/AGC/ACEC Design and Construction Coalition

In 1997, the Colorado Component of The American Institute of Architects, Associated General Contractors of Colorado and the American Council of Engineering Companies of Colorado sought an agreement to achieve a partnership for the purpose of enhancing the relationships between the three organizations and their members. The board of directors of each organization is committed to developing a detailed understanding of the concerns that confront the members of each organization as they proceed with the design and construction of projects and to carefully analyze the challenges that the three organizations have in accomplishing their goals. Chairmanship of this committee rotates between the three organizations on an annual basis.

Advocacy Sub-Committee

Established in 2007, this is a sub-committee of the Government Affairs Committee. The committee is charged with getting feedback from the membership and making recommendations on advocacy initiatives for the coming year.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, awards scholarships and grants to architectural students, faculty members, architects and AIA components each spring. The application deadline for these scholarships historically has been the beginning of March. Approximately $55,000 is distributed annually by the foundation.

Foundation Initiatives

Prioritizes scholarships and grants for AIA, Associate AIA and AIAS members, as well as architectural students in coordination with professional development.

Architecture Month

This committee is responsible for working with local chapters, state committees and allied organizations to coordinate and publicize a month of events (April) dedicated to celebrating architecture and generating public awareness for architecture. The Young Architects' Awards Gala (YAAG) takes place during this month.

Building Enclosure Council

BEC is a committee of AIA Colorado formed under the auspices of a joint National AIA-NIBS/BETEC cooperation agreement.

The committee's mission is to increase awareness of building envelope design as a critical aspect of the successful construction and performance of buildings and to foster the education of building industry professionals regarding proper design, construction and maintenance of building envelopes with an emphasis on issues related to the Colorado climate. The BEC is intended to be a multi-disciplinary effort with participation open to architects, engineers, contractors and material suppliers interested in building enclosure science.

Communication Advisory Board

The Communication Advisory Board (CAB) was formed to serve as the nucleus of strategic communication planning for the state and its four local chapters. The communication tools that are continuously being enhanced to target all AIA Colorado needs are the quarterly Architect Colorado design magazine, biweekly eNews and the Web site. CAB continues to strategize on the state's Web site enhancement.

Committee on the Environment

The statewide Committee on the Environment was formed in 2009. The primary purposes of this committee are to advise on sustainability legislation and support sustainable initiatives and programs.

Design Awards Program Committee

The awards program seeks to honor works of distinction by AIA Colorado members and to bring to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided by members of AIA Colorado. Design Award winners are announced during the annual Design Conference.

Design Conference Committee

This committee is responsible for the planning and execution of the AIA Colorado Design Conference. The conference chair is appointed by the president-elect one-year prior to the conference. Committee members develop the theme for each conference, invite speakers and coordinate the schedule. Member participation and feedback are encouraged.

Emerging Professionals Coalition

This coalition was formed in 2007 to address the needs of emerging professionals, including students, associates/interns and young architects. The coalition includes leaders from AIAS, the state IDP coordinator, associate directors on the state and local chapter boards and Young Architects Forum (YAF) leadership.

Fellows Nominating Task Force

This task force was formed in 1992 to assist local chapters in nominating outstanding members to be considered for election to the College of Fellows. The task force helps those architects nominated in developing their submissions to the jury of the College of Fellows.

Finance Committee

This committee is responsible for the financial wellbeing of AIA Colorado. The committee develops long-range financial goals and makes recommendations to the board regarding budgets and other areas of financial planning. Membership dues, the Design Conference, support from exhibitors and document sales generate most of the revenue necessary for the operating budget of AIA Colorado. Committee members are comprised of the elected officers of AIA Colorado and the executive director.

Government Affairs Committee

This committee meets on the first Friday of each month at 1:00 p.m. at the AIA Colorado office to discuss matters relating to, among other things, the State Board of Examiners of Architects, Engineers and Land Surveyors and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the Legislative Affairs Sub-Committee meets each week to screen and discuss potential legislation that could affect the profession of architecture. Our contract lobbyist, Jerry Johnson, Hon. AIA/C, assists AIA Colorado in this monitoring process, as well as providing onsite lobbying at the Capitol.

History Committee

Responsible for researching and compiling the history of AIA Colorado and individual members that have made a significant impact on the organization.

Intern Development Program

The Intern Development Program (IDP) continues to gain momentum in Colorado. The IDP coordinator and AIA Colorado staff send out more than 200 packets each year. The coordinator provides programs at CU Boulder and CU Denver, as well as at firms interested in the merits of the IDP program. The coordinator also nominates firms for the AIA/NCARB IDP Firm of the Year award.

Membership Committee

The purpose of the AIA Colorado Membership Committee is to direct successful and continuous membership recruitment and retention efforts, which are essential toward ensuring that AIA Colorado truly represents the profession.

Nominating Committee

This committee is composed of at least five AIA Colorado architects, selected on the basis of one representative from each AIA Colorado chapter (appointed each year at the May meeting of the AIA Colorado board of directors) and chaired by the current president-elect. The Nominating Committee recommends at least one nominee to run for each officer's position on the AIA Colorado board of directors.

Practice Management Symposium

The Practice Management Symposium is a one-day event dedicated to providing workshops and programs that teach practical business skills (such as marketing and business development, human resources, budgeting, trends in architecture and public speaking) to architects and their marketing staffs. The symposium is held the day before the Design Conference.

Professional Development Committee

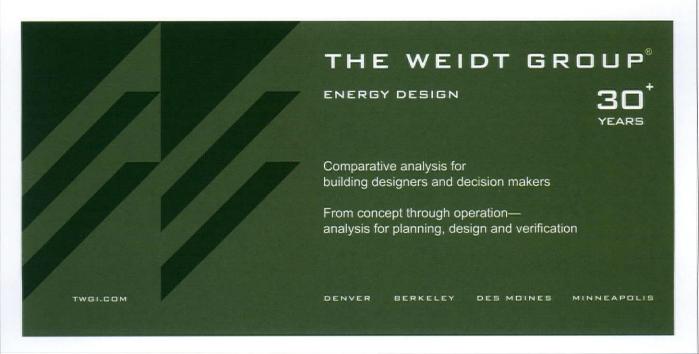

A joint committee with the University of Colorado at Denver - Graduate School of Architecture and Planning, this committee is charged with fostering mentorship and career development for potential and emerging architects.

AIA Colorado Strategic Planning Committee

The AIA Colorado Strategic Planning Committee is responsible for recommending one-, three- and five-year goals for AIA Colorado. This committee is made up of incoming leadership from local chapters (i.e. presidents-elect of each local chapter) and the AIA Colorado board (president-elect, treasurer-elect, associate director-elect, student director) as well as the executive director.

The Young Architects' Awards Gala

The AIA Colorado Young Architects' Awards Gala (YAAG) committee is responsible for the annual awards program, which recognizes AIA Colorado's Education Foundation Scholarship Award recipients and bestows numerous other awards to students, interns and recently licensed professionals. Award categories include excellence in construction documents, technology innovations, craftsmanship and student portfolios. The program also seeks to recognize significant firm contributions to young professionals through its Mentoring Firm of the Year award. The Young Architect of the Year award also is named at this program. The past associate-director of AIA Colorado chairs the Young Architects' Awards Gala.

LORADO OMP NENT INFORMATION

AIA College of Fellows

AIA bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, Fellowship is the highest honor AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training and practice; to the building industry through leadership of AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment; and to society through significant public service.

Those advanced to Fellowship can use "FAIA" designation after their names in recognition of their contributions.

The following people came into the area from other chapters in the early years and were automatic Fellows when assigned to the AIA Colorado Chapter. (Area: Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico, April 4, 1892).

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado

Since the first $600 scholarship was presented in 1961, The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, has awarded more than $800,000 in scholarships, grants and other prizes to more than 250 students, architects and teachers. The annual awards program exceeds $50,000 from income received through investments and donations.

During the past four decades, individual architects and firms have made substantial contributions to the foundation as memorials. Individuals and organizations allied with the construction industry also have made significant donations in the past. Many donors send a contribution to the fund, instead of flowers, to memorialize a lost loved one, friend or associate. The foundation continually seeks new funds in the way of endowments, donations and memorials from the design community and the AIA Colorado membership at large.

The foundation provides assistance to AIA Colorado and its members so that AIA Colorado can conduct professional education programs accessible to the membership and the design community. Requests for such grants should be submitted to The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, 3320 E. 2nd Ave., Denver, CO 80206.

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, was established in 1934 by five men devoted to the practice of architecture. On Jan. 23, 1934, Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, announced on behalf of himself and the four other men the creation of a special trust fund "to advance the interest of the profession of architecture in the state of Colorado."

The foundation was conceived a decade earlier by the founders of the Allied Architects Association: Robert K. Fuller, FAIA; William E. Fisher, FAIA; George H. Williamson, FAIA; William Bowman, AIA; and Fred Montjoy, AIA. Their vision long had been "to provide an instrument whereby, someday, sufficient income would be realized to be able to award scholarships, grants, prizes, etc. to the betterment of the profession." (All quotes are from the original articles of incorporation.)

The first aim of the foundation was quite modest: the assets were to be "held intact and allowed to grow" until the principal would be large enough to ensure a "good annual return therefrom." The founders hoped that the amount in the fund would serve as a "nucleus" that would increase in value and, now that it formally was established, also attract additional donations. By 1944, however, no new contributions had been made and of the five founding fathers of the fund, only the fund's chairman, Fuller, survived.

On Dec. 18, 1944, the foundation was transferred to the Colorado Chapter, AIA (predecessor of the Colorado State Society of AIA and now AIA Colorado) as a chapter investment fund. Fuller was designated as its permanent trustee. By early 1961, the fund had achieved its first aim "... a good annual return." It then was deemed wise to incorporate as a separate, tax-free entity to be known as the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. On Feb. 16, 1961, the foundation was incorporated as a separate, tax-exempt, non-profit corporation under that name. Its broad purpose, as reported in the December 1961 issue of the Colorado Chapter, AIA, newsletter, The Addenda, was (and remains today) "to advance education in architecture by granting of scholarships, prizes and financial aid to deserving students in architecture and to teachers or architects interested in research projects directly related to and of value to the architectural profession."

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado — 2009 Scholarship Winners

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, has been granting annual scholarship awards for the past 48 years. During those years, architects, faculty members and students alike have returned to school for study or had a research project funded with assistance received from The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado.

At its November 1961 meeting at the old Boulder Country Club, the Colorado Chapter, AIA, awarded the $600 William E. Fisher Memorial Scholarship to James E. Koentop, a fifth-year architectural engineering student at the University of Colorado. This was the first scholarship awarded by the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. It had taken only 27 years for the five founders' original dream (to be able to make such awards for the betterment of the profession) to come true.

Fuller died in 1966, and the Colorado Chapter, AIA, asked his son, Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA, to assume the responsibility of the position of permanent member of the board of trustees. Upon the death of Kenneth in 1998, Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, became the third permanent member of the board.

In 1969 the AIA in Colorado was restructured into a state society with two chapters (now four) and the fund's name was legally changed to the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA. In 2001 the trustees reincorporated the fund with updated articles and bylaws and a new name that reflected the fund's evolution: The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado. Today the board of trustees of The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado, consists of the following five members: the current president of AIA Colorado is the foundation president; the current president-elect of AIA Colorado is the vice president; Robert K. Fuller II, AIA, is the permanent secretary/treasurer; and the past president and executive director of AIA Colorado serve as trustees.

The following is a listing of the Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado Scholarships:

Anniversary Scholarship — $1,500 award for third- or fourthyear study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

AIA Colorado, North Chapter Scholarship — $1,000 award to an AIAS member in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

Gary G. Landin, AIA Scholarship — $1,500 for fourth-year study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

C. Gordon Sweet, AIA Scholarship — $1,500 award to any student with proper qualifications in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Boulder.

Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA Scholarship — $2,000 award for firstyear study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

DeVon M. Carlson Scholarship — $2,500 award for graduate study in the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

William & Priscilla Muchow, FAIA Scholarship — $5,000 award for graduate study in architecture at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

Temple Hoyne Buell, FAIA Scholarship — $2,500 award for graduate study in architecture at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

Robert K. Fuller, FAIA Scholarship — $2,000 award for graduate study in architecture at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

James H. Hunter, FAIA Scholarship - $2,000 award for travel and study in the Americas.

Arthur & Florence Fisher Traveling Scholarships — $2,700 and $2,300 awards for international travel and study.

Rodney S. Davis, AIA, Traveling Scholarship — $4,000 award on odd-numbered years for travel and study.

Michael Kephart Scholarship — $1,000 award for graduate study at the College of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver.

Hobart D. Wagener, FAIA, Traveling Scholarship — $5,000 award for travel and study.

AIA Continuing Education System: Survival Guide

The AIA/CES is a continuing education system developed by the AIA to emphasize learning and record participation in professional learning activities. The program enables architects to keep current, master new knowledge and skills, plan for the future and responsibly meet the role society entrusts to a professional. The program also allows members to fulfill a requirement for AIA membership and meet any state mandatory continuing education requirement. In this role, the program has the potential to be a primary force in the improvement and revitalization of our profession.

What is Mandatory Continuing Education (MCE)?

Mandatory Continuing Education (MCE) is education required by a state to retain licensure. Approximately 40 states and 10 Canadian provinces have implemented an MCE license requirement, but these requirements vary from state to state, province to province. For a quick overview of individual state/province MCE requirements, please visit the MCE chart.

Each state has the legal right to establish its own guidelines and requirements. However, most state requirements are similar, whether they require architects to meet them annually or biannually. If you, like the average AIA member, have four or more state licenses, you must meet the continuing education requirements for all the states in which you intend to practice.

To date, most states that require MCE indicate they will accept AIA/CES transcripts as documentation for completion of valid continuing education credit. For AIA members, this means that our single record-keeping system is the documentation needed for reporting your state MCE requirements when requested. We do, however, strongly suggest that you keep backup documentation of your activities as support, especially if the credit is a self-reported activity as it may be requested.

How does AIA/CES work?

Members can earn Learning Unit (LU) hours by attending programs offered by AIA/CES registered providers or through self-reporting independent activities and research.

AIA COLORAD C. MP NENT INFORMATI. N

What is a Learning Unit hour (LU hour)?

The AIA records continuing education credit in learning unit hours (LU hours). A one-LU hour activity is equal to one contact hour. An LU hour is not a continuing education unit (CEU). One-tenth of a CEU (.1) is equal to one contact hour, which is equal to one LU hour. In other words, one CEU is equal to 10 contact hours or 10 LU hours.

What is my annual requirement?

All active AIA members must successfully complete 18 learning unit (LU) hours each year, with at least eight of the 18 LU hours relating to health, safety, and/or welfare (HSW). Of the eight HSW, at least four credits must be in sustainable design (SD) topics.

- A member who fails to meet the annual requirement will be given a nine-month grace period. Any credit earned in the following year will apply toward the deficit. During the grace period, members are able to report retroactively any activities that were completed in the previous year.
- •A member who exceeds the annual requirement may carry up to 18 LU hours (including eight hours of HSW/four of SD) over to the next year. Carryover credit can be used for one year only; it is not cumulative. Only the number of credits needed to fulfill the annual requirement for the following year may be carried over. Extra credit may not be carried past the one-year limit.

NOTE: Most state licensing boards do not allow carryover and deficit credit. States have strict continuing education time frames, and credits must be earned within them.

Are there any deadlines for reporting AIA activities?

The deadline is Sept. 30th each year. This deadline applies to any activity completed within the previous calendar year. For example, an activity completed in December 2004 would need to be submitted to AIA/CES Records no later than Sept. 30th 2005. The deadline is not nine months from the date of completion; it is nine months from the end of the calendar year. Any activities submitted to AIA/CES Records after Sept. 30th may be put on hold. This course of action applies to AIA Members and AIA/CES registered providers.

What is an AIA/CES Registered Provider Program?

The AIA has developed a network of more than 2,500 educational providers made up of AIA chapters, affiliate organizations, firms, manufacturers, universities, non-profit organizations and government agencies. You can search for providers through the CES Registered Provider database. These educational providers offer more than 25,000 programs each year. To find courses search the CES Courses database.

Courses offered by AIA/CES providers are filed with AIA/CES Records in Oklahoma. Within 14 days of a course's conclusion, AIA/CES providers verify and report the course attendees to AIA/CES Records. For non-AIA members the AIA/CES Provider will provide a certificate of completion upon request. The complete activities are then posted on AIA member transcripts.

How are transcript records kept and how may they be accessed?

Individual transcript records are updated daily. Anyone with an active AIA membership number can access a transcript. To find your transcript, visit the Education page of AIA.org. Scroll down and click on Sign In on the right of the page. On the next page enter your AIA member number. The first line item on the next screen is the View Transcript option. You are able to print an unofficial copy of your CES transcript. Also, you can view a video tutorial. If you are not able to sign in with your AIA member number, please e-mail CES.

Official CES transcripts are available upon written request to the AIA CES Records. A hard copy of the transcript can be faxed or mailed to a member. The first request is free. Each consecutive request costs $10 per copy.

What are Self-Reported Activities?

If a program is not offered by an AIA/CES Registered provider, members have the option of self reporting the program or activity. The intent of this activity must be educational in nature and new knowledge in reference to their practice of architecture. Members must indicate whether the activity they are reporting is self designed, structured, or a professional community service self-reported educational activity:

- · Self-Designed Activity: This type of learning activity is organized by the member specifically to meet his or her individual needs. A self-designed activity frequently involves more than one type of medium or method, such as research, reading, interviewing subject experts, listening to audiotapes and/or viewing videos. To determine what qualifies for self-reporting, ask yourself the following questions: (1) Is this a planned learning activity? (2) Is this activity intended to be educational or operational? (3) Are you acquiring new knowledge or are you sharing your knowledge with others? (4) How will you apply this new knowledge to your practice? This method is not acceptable for health, safety, and welfare (HSW) credit. Some state licensing boards will not accept this type of reporting for Mandatory Continuing Education (MCE) requirements. (Recommended minimum of three hours)
- Structured Self-Reported Program: This is a structured activity offered by an organized, third-party, non-CES provider. Documentation of attendance/participation will usually be required as a supplement when reporting this activity to meet a state licensure requirement. For members who self-report a structured activity, the AIA is not able to assist in acquiring any support documentation that may be required by a state licensing board MCE audit.
- Professional Community Service: This type of activity could include architecture panels or community board meetings.
 Members can self-report two hours (LUs) of community service per calendar year.

To be eligible for credit, all self-reported activities must be planned educational activities that provide you with new knowledge that can be applied toward the practice of architecture. Members should complete the AIA/CES Self-Report Form and submit it to AIA/CES Records at the University of Oklahoma. Be sure to specify which type of learning activity you are reporting so the data can be entered accurately into your transcript. Title should be indicative of the program content. Members calculate LU hours for self-reported activities by reporting the number of hours spent in architecture-related learning. Think in terms of billable hours applied to learning.

Sustainable Design

What is the Sustainable Design Mandatory Continuing Education Requirement?

As of Jan. 1, 2009, of the total 18 CES Learning Units (LUs) required in a given calendar year four (4) LUs will be required to focus on sustainable design and meet the established guidelines for sustainable design mandatory continuing education.

How Does this New Requirement Affect the Original AIA Mandatory Continuing Education Requirement?

The Sustainable Design continuing education requirement does not replace the original requirement for 18 total hours, eight of which must be in Health, Safety and Welfare (HSW) subjects, as HSW is a subset of Learning Units and Sustainable Design is a subset of HSW. It designates that four (4) of the total hours be in sustainable design topics.

Why Did Sustainable Design Become a Mandatory Continuing Education Requirement for AIA Membership?

Sustainability has been a focus of architectural practice for more than 30 years, and the AIA has provided resources and tools to assist its members in better serving their clients and communities through environmentally responsible projects. The AIA board of directors recognized the need to again help prepare their colleagues and fellow practitioners to respond to the latest challenges and opportunities facing the profession. The issue of climate change and the impact of buildings on carbon emissions created a new expectation among clients and the public to look to the expertise of architects for solutions that can help them leave a greener footprint. The AIA is responding to this growing demand for our members to assume greater leadership in addressing the challenges facing our planet.

As shown in the AIA's position statements on sustainability and sustainable design, architects must take responsibility for their role in creating the built environment. Sustainable design has evolved from a niche service offering to a profession-wide imperative. Social, political and economic factors are all driving the market toward mainstreaming sustainability. AIA architects who educate themselves in sustainable design will have an advantage, and again, have the privilege of providing ever greater service to clients and community.

When Did this Requirement Go into Effect?

The AIA Board of Directors approved this change to begin on Jan. 1, 2009 and will apply to membership renewal beginning Jan. 1, 2010.

Is this Also a State Licensing Board Continuing Education Requirement?

This sustainable design Mandatory Continuing Education requirement is for AIA membership renewal. However, some states may develop their own special continuing education requirements in addition to HSW. For verification of a specific state's Mandatory Continuing Education (MCE) requirement, please contact the state licensing board directly.

How Long Will this Sustainable Design Requirement Exist?

The four (4) hour Sustainable Design annual requirement is currently slated to expire at the end of calendar year 2012. The AIA board of directors will review the requirement before its expiration to determine if it should be extended or amended.

Is the Sustainable Design Learning Unit Retroactive?

No, CES Learning Units earned prior to Jan. 1, 2009 will not be considered in meeting future Sustainable Design Learning Units for membership renewal.

Can Sustainable Design Learning Units be Carried Over to Subsequent Years After the 2010 Renewal Period?

Yes, SDLU's earned after Jan. 1, 2009 may be carried forward similar to HSW and other CE units.

Are the Four Hours of Sustainable Design in Addition to the 18 Total and/or Eight HSW Hours?

No. They are part of the total requirement, not in addition to the existing AIA Mandatory Continuing Education requirement. Four (4) Sustainable Design learning units may also fulfill four (4) HSW Learning Units and four (4) total Learning Units.

Can the Sustainable Design Hours Count as Part of the 8 Hours of HSW?

Yes. It can fulfill both requirements.

Can the Sustainable Design Hours Count as Part of the 18 Hours?

Yes.

Can the Same Education Activity Apply to Both HSW and Sustainable Design?

Yes. All sustainable design learning units must also qualify for HSW. Therefore, any qualifying sustainable design educational activity taken will also apply to the HSW requirement.

How Will I Know that a Course Qualifies for Sustainable Design Learning Units?

All courses by AIA/CES Registered Providers will be identified as Sustainable Design qualifying, much like those courses and programs that carry Health, Safety and Welfare (HSW) learning units. On the AIA/CES transcript, "Yes," will be posted in the SD column for that course. These courses will have been reviewed by AIA/CES and have been approved for SDLU credit.

Can I Self Report Self-Design Activities as Sustainable Design Learning Units?

No. A self-designed activity is described as one organized by the member specifically to meet his or her individual needs. A self-designed activity frequently involves more than one type of medium or method, such as research, reading, interviewing subject experts, listening to audiotapes and/or viewing videos. This type of self-reported activity does not qualify for Sustainable Design Learning Units nor Health, Safety and Welfare (HSW) credit. Note that some state licensing boards will not accept this type of reporting for Mandatory Continuing Education (MCE) requirements.

Can I Report Programs Not Offered by the AIA CES Registered Providers as Sustainable Design Learning Units?

You may report programs offered by a non-AIA Registered Provider, or third-party provider under the Structured Self-Reported Program guidelines if they meet the sustainable design subject areas and minimum content. When reporting a third-party program, you must provide documentation of attendance/participation along with program description and learning outcomes that demonstrate the program meets the sustainable design learning unit guidelines for content. Members will usually be required to provide this information as a supplement when reporting the activity to meet a state licensure requirement. Please note that for members who self-report a structured activity, the AIA is not able to assist in acquiring any support documentation that may be required by a state licensing board MCE audit.

Will My AIA Transcript Change?

Beginning in 2009, your AIA transcript will include the Sustainable Design Learning Units earned, along with HSW and non-HSW Learning Units earned.

Health, Safety and Welfare

How do "Health, Safety, and Welfare" (HSW) tie into CES? The AIA requires members to earn 8 LU's in the area of HSW. The percentage of HSW content in any HSW-related activity must be a minimum of 75% to qualify a course or educational event for HSW credit. This accomplishes three goals:

• To ensure that HSW-related programs have a real

- relevance to our members
- To eliminate any question of whether the content of a program was actually HSW-related
- To protect AIA members with state mandatory continuing education (MCE) requirements

Can I self-report HSW hours?

Yes, but with restrictions. You may self-report any structured activity that is HSW related and receive HSW credit for it. In other words, the activity must be developed and presented to you by a third-party organization. You cannot receive HSW credit for any self-designed activity. For example, even though code research is HSW in nature, if it is a self-designed activity, the AIA does not allow HSW credit for it. This policy was adopted to ensure quality control guidelines are enforced and to comply with state licensing board requirements.

Am I supposed to add my LU hours and HSW hours together to meet the requirements?

No. The HSW column (or SD column) on your transcript simply shows how many of your total LU hours are HSW-related (or SD related.) The annual requirement is 18 LU hours, of which eight must be HSW-related. Of the eight HSW at least four must be in sustainable design educational activitites. Thus, if you earn eight hours of credit from an HSW-related activity, you will need only 10 more hours (of either HSW-related or non-HSW-related activity) to meet your requirement. Eight hours are the minimum requirement for HSW credit, but that number may be exceeded. Similarly four hours are the minimum requirement for SD credit, but the number may be exceeded.

What is the relation between HSW and state Mandatory Continuing Education requirements (MCE)?

Both the AIA and state licensing boards base their programs on the contact hour. A majority of states require eight contact hours of HSW for their MCE. The AIA/CES program requires eight contact hours of HSW from a structured provider. Some states allow some forms of self-reporting. Due to the quality assurance issues posed by the states, the AIA does not accept self-designed activities for HSW credit.

CAUTION: For members who self-report structured activities for HSW credit, it has become very important that you clearly report all HSW programs and activities separately, ensuring that they are clearly identified. Failure to do so could result in the loss of your license because of noncompliance with state MCE requirements.

Continuing Education Requirements in the State of Colorado SB08-029, regarding continuing education and continuing competency for architects renewing their licenses in the State of Colorado, was passed into law in Spring 2008 and went into effect on Jan. 1, 2009.

Beginning in 2009, all licensed architects in Colorado will be required to earn 16.0 health, safety and welfare (HSW) professional development units (PDU) during every two-year license renewal period.

For more information about this new state licensing law, visit DORA's Web site: www.dora.state.co.us/aes.

Following a learning activity (i.e. anything that counts for credit), architects must either take a quiz or test OR must fill out the DORA continuing education structured report form. Architects must keep DORA forms on file for auditing purposes. Forms can be obtained from the DORA Web site or will be provided at AIA programs.

In order to assist its members in meeting this new state requirement, AIA Colorado will offer numerous continuing education programs across the state throughout the year.

Membership

AIA is a three-tiered organization with five basic levels of membership. Full descriptions of all membership levels and benefits can be found online at www.aiacolorado.org.

Membership Categories

AIA (licensed architects) – A member currently licensed to practice architecture in the United States.

Emeritus - An AIA member who is fully retired.

Associate AIA – A member unlicensed to practice architecture in the United States but who meets one of the following conditions:

- is participating in career responsibilities recognized by licensing authorities as constituting credit toward licensure (intern);
- is under the supervision of an architect in a professional or technical capacity;
- is a faculty member in a university program in architecture;
 or
- is licensed in another country but not the United States.

Professional Affiliate (state and local levels only) – A member unlicensed to practice architecture. Individuals may become professional affiliate members if they have established professional reputations and are registered to practice their professions where such requirements exist or are employed outside architectural practice but involved in positions related to the field of architecture.

Student Affiliate (state and local levels only) - Any undergraduate or postgraduate student enrolled in architectural design or construction-related programs in Colorado.

Membership Benefits

The following list highlights the general benefits all members receive from AIA:

Membership Benefits from AIA Colorado and Local Chapters—AIA, Emeritus AIA, Associate AIA, PA and SA

- Invitations to attend state and local chapter events for free or at the discounted member price. These events include:
- · AIA Colorado Annual Design Conference
- AIA Colorado Practice Management Symposium (a seminar for professionals related to the field of architecture that teaches practical tools relating to business, accounting, human resources, marketing, business development and leadership)
- · All design award galas
- · Young Architects Awards Gala
- Architect Registration Exam (ARE) classes and continuing education system opportunities
- · Breakfast seminar lecture series
- Local chapter functions and networking events (i.e., continuing education system classes, happy hours and golf tournaments)
- A complimentary subscription to Architect Colorado, AIA Colorado's quarterly, award-winning design magazine
- Access to the AIA Colorado Firm Profile & Membership Directory
- Receipt of AIA Colorado and local chapter communication, including:
- AIA Colorado eNews (a biweekly, HTML e-newsletter)
- ePostcards (periodic e-mail announcements)
- Mailings related to AIA Colorado and local chapter events (i.e., seminars, networking functions and legislative receptions)
- AIA Web site calendar (members can add events to the online calendar free of charge)
- · Discounts on the following:
- · AIA Contract Documents a 30% discount
- AIA Colorado Classifieds a 50% discount
- Resume postings in the AIA Colorado Resume Book (accessible to firms throughout Colorado)
- Advertising in AIA Colorado communication vehicles
- ARE workshops and exam study materials from the resource library
- Government affairs activity, including participation on the AIA Colorado Government Affairs Committee (GAC) and Architects of Colorado Political Action Committee (ARCpac). GAC and ARCpac advocate the interests of the architecture profession to the State of Colorado and regional governments while supporting local governmental efforts
- Professional development opportunities
- Special programs and resources for students, including the mentorship program and Intern Development Program support services

National Membership Benefits from AIA— AIA, Emeritus AIA and Associate AIA

- · Access to the members section of www.aia.org
- · Discounts on educational programs
- AIA e-classroom (courses for continuing education system credits)
- Free access to Emerging Professional's Companion Resource Center

- AIA government affairs activities (AIA provides the voice for the architectural professional that reaches Capitol Hill, state legislatures and city councils)
- Complimentary subscriptions to the following publications and resources:
- The Angle (biweekly e-newsletter providing news and analysis on Capitol Hill, government agencies and state/local activity)
- · Architectural Record
- AlAarchitect (weekly newsletter)
- AIA Library & Archives (online catalog portal to request loan of library books and request specialized research and customized slide shows)
- Knowledge communities
- · AIA Trust
 - · Quality insurance, financial benefits and legal services
 - AIA Advantage
 - Benefit programs, savings and discounts for members and their practices and families
- AIA Media Relations Support Center
- · Client-referral service via the AIA database

Steps to Become a Member

- Determine the appropriate membership category (AIA Colorado staff can help).
- Contact the AIA Colorado office to obtain a membership application or download an application from www.aiacolorado.org.
- Submit a membership application to AIA Colorado via fax or mail.

Once AIA Colorado receives the application, the membership is activated. However, it may take a few weeks to process an application after which time a new member packet will be sent.

For more information about membership, contact: Director of Membership and Development; AIA Colorado 1515 Arapahoe St., Ste. 1-110; Denver, Colo. 80202; 303.446.2266 or 800.628.5598; www.aiacolorado.org

AIA Denver Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership that are of greatest interest to the profession and community. AIA Denver members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

Annual Awards Committee

The Annual Awards Committee is organized to design, plan and host the AIA Denver Design Awards Gala. This annual event recognizes and celebrates outstanding architectural achievements within the metro Denver community. The event is held each fall.

Annual Conference Committee

This committee, which is charged with assisting in the planning and implementation of AIA Denver's annual one-day conference, provides a forum for owners, architects, engineers and contractors to share ways to provide better project delivery methods and deliver positive results for clients.

Annual Golf Tournament Committee

The Annual Golf Tournament Committee organizes this summer event to provide a networking opportunity for architects and industry sponsors to socialize in a fun tournament atmosphere. In addition to networking opportunities, this also serves as one of AIA Denver's largest fundraising events.

Architect Registration Examination (ARE) Committee

The ARE Committee organizes effective review sessions for ARE candidates. Various review topics are presented by professionals at each seminar. The ARE Committee's goal is to make the sessions effective, interesting and affordable for the candidates that enroll each year. Review programs are held on Saturdays from April to October.

Box City Committee

The Box City Committee helps with the planning and implementation of AIA Denver's annual Box City for Kids event, which takes place in conjunction with the annual Colorado Architecture Month observation.

Committee on the Environment (COTE)

COTE promotes education regarding the performance of buildings to architects, design professionals and other groups involved with sustainability.

Diversity Task Force

The Diversity Task Force evaluates diversity issues relevant to AIA Denver members and the profession as a whole, including diversity of race, gender, ethnicity and professional practice type, with the long-term goal of creating a more inclusive and diverse organization and profession.

Fellows Nominating Committee

The Fellows Nominating Committee is charged with identifying and nominating candidates who are deserving of advancement to the College of Fellows and would receive serious consideration for advancement to Fellowship by the national AIA Jury of Fellows. This committee facilitates an active approach to identifying worthy candidates for current and future consideration and conducting an open, credible and understandable nomination process.

Historic Preservation Committee

The Historic Preservation Committee is an interdisciplinary membership committee dedicated to education, investigation, recording and support of historic preservation through public awareness, community involvements, professional development and contribution recognition. Committee is inactive at this time.

Housing Committee & Architects' Choice Awards Sub-committee

This is a forum for architects who specialize in residential building, by following current issues in codes, government regulations, evolving technology and current housing and marketing trends. The Architects' Choice Awards Subcommittee actively works to plan the annual Architects' Choice Awards program.

Local Government Network (LGN)

Local Government Network is a task force providing local government advocacy efforts on behalf of the chapter, with a focus on policy issues affecting the City of Denver and other Metro municipalities.

Public Affairs Committee

The Public Affairs Committee provides community outreach and fosters strategic relationships on behalf of the chapter. The committee also focuses on how to promote AIA Denver via public relations through op-ed articles, press releases and other communication vehicles.

Urban Design Committee

The Urban Design Committee is focused on growing into the role of a community resource of expertise and assistance in the development of designs involving local and regional urban design issues. The group also plays an educational role, developing and presenting workshops, design charettes and presentations on current urban design issues.

AIA Colorado North Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership that are of greatest interest to the profession and community. AIA Colorado North members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

Annual Golf Tournament Committee

The Annual Golf Tournament Committee organizes this summer event, which allows architects and industry sponsors to meet and socialize in a fun tournament atmosphere. In addition to the networking opportunities of the tournament, this also serves as one of the AIA Colorado North's largest fundraising events.

Architectural Registration Exams (ARE) Materials Library Committee

This committee manages the ARE Materials Library, which is available only to and at no charge to all AIA Colorado North members.

AIA COLORADO NORTH >

AIA Colorado North Committees

Architecture, Art & Appetizers Committee

This committee plans two annual events, one each in Fort Collins and Boulder, which are continuing education and public outreach opportunities for the chapter. Each event entails 10 presenters presenting a 10-slide presentation on a topic related to architecture or art.

Community Service Committee

The Community Service Committee works to identify and implement community service projects for the chapter.

Continuing Education Committee

This committee identifies presenters and topics for the annual Eat & Educate series.

Design Awards Committee

The Design Awards Committee plans and implements the AIA Colorado North Design Awards Gala. This program seeks to honor works of distinction by members and to bring to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided AIA Colorado North members. This committee also coordinates the event's silent auction, a benefit for The Architectural Education Foundation's AIA Colorado North Scholarship.

Film Series Committee

This committee identifies architectural interest film screenings in coordination with the Live After Five associates networking program.

Honor Awards Committee

This committee collects and reviews submittals for the architect of the year, firm of the year, contribution to the built environment by a non-architect, community service by an architect, associate of the year and 25-year awards.

Programs Committee

This committee updates the chapter calendar on www.aia-colorado.org and plans upcoming events within the chapter, including conferences, lectures, happy hours and other pertinent community events.

AIA Colorado South Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership that are of greatest interest to the profession and community. AIA Colorado South members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

Affiliated Commercial Construction Associations (ACCA)

ACCA develops and maintains communication among member associations related to commercial construction to protect common interests, goals and objectives. The group's emphasis is on positive interaction between its members and government agencies involved with the development, review, approval and inspection processes related to commercial construction. AIA Colorado South designates two representatives to participate on ACCA each year.

Annual Design Awards and Gala Committee

The Annual Design Awards and Gala Committee creates a vision that shapes the design gala/end-of-year event celebrating design excellence in Southern Colorado. The event honors works of distinction by AIA Colorado South members and brings public attention to the outstanding architectural services provided by the chapter's members.

Associates Committee

This committee engages all AIA Colorado South associate members in educational and social events. It makes learning materials available for the Architectural Review Exams, as well as facilitates scholarship opportunities.

AIA COLORADO SOUTH >

AIA Colorado South Committees

Historic Preservation Committee

The Historic Preservation Committee is an interdisciplinary membership organization dedicated to the education, investigation, recording and support of historic preservation. Primary tasks of the committee are to increase public awareness, enhance professional development, advocate community involvement and recognize the contributions of people involved in preservation of the built environment and early pioneers involved in the development of the AIA Colorado South's service area.

Programs Committee

This committee seeks opportunities to bring lectures, tours, networking receptions and educational events to the chapter in order for members to maintain their AIA continuing education requirements and as a way to stimulate learning, networking and growth in the chapter.

Sustainability Committee

This committee acts as a liaison to other like-minded sustainability organizations in Southern Colorado, and works to educate AIA Colorado South members and downtown businesses about sustainable practices.

Urban Design Committee

The Urban Design Committee focuses on growing into the role of a community resource for expertise and assistance in the development of designs involving local and regional urban design issues.

AIA Colorado West Committees

Each committee is organized to support existing programs within the organization, to strengthen membership activities and to develop new educational opportunities for AIA membership that are of greatest interest to the profession and community. AIA Colorado West members are encouraged to become active in these committees.

Design Awards Committee

The awards program honors works of distinction and brings to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided by AIA Colorado West members. The awards are presented annually at the spring awards gala.

Programs Committee

This committee seeks opportunities to bring lectures, tours, networking receptions and educational events to the chapter in order for members to maintain their AIA continuing education requirements and as a way to stimulate learning, networking and growth in the chapter.

Public Affairs Committee

This committee's task is two-fold. While the committee's focus is to improve the local chapter's communication and interaction with local government, the committee also will focus on how that interaction best can be promoted via public relations through op-ed articles, press releases and other vehicles of public communication.

Webinar Committee

This committee works with staff to identify topics and speakers for the chapter's webinar series.

Semplex projects? Simplex projects? Simplex projects?

The economy is rough enough—don't waste resources endlessly editing contracts. Let us help you save time and money.

Our new software release offers easy-to-use features that let you manage documents, enter required information in a snap, and calculate with the power of Microsoft® Excel, all in one tool.

Simplify your projects with the most widely accepted contract documents available. The Industry Standard—that much better.

Brilliant tile. Just happens to be green.

It's good to know that Eco-Leader is produced in one of the most environmentally-sound tile foundaries in Europe, and that it's composed of 40% recycled content. Your architect will be delighted that it meets LEED requirements. But all you need to know is that it will look as beautiful in your home as it does in the CAPCO showroom.
