

HAWAII ARCHITECT

March 1990

THE HONOLULU ADVERTISER GALLERY

Art in Architecture
Innovative Bathrooms

Honolulu, Hawaii
Permit No. 1023
PAID
U.S. POSTAGE
BULK RATE

Appliances with brains, designed by people who used theirs.

To build a better product, you have to think just a little faster than the others.

That's why we believe you might find it significant that a lot of the important advances in the appliance business have come from one company. GE.

The first diagnostic electronic dishwasher arose in the fertile minds of our designers.

As did the first dispenser refrigerator.

And although some of our innovative products have been copied by other companies, many of them are still the best of their kind in the world.

For instance, no one makes a better-organized refrigerator than our SpaceCenter 27.

(Try finding one from another maker that can offer our handy door-through-the-door Refreshment Center. Or door shelves that are so big they can hold 3-liter magnums of wine.)

And no one else offers an electronic dishwasher so intelligent that it can tell homeowners not just that something's wrong, but exactly what's wrong.

We're the only people to offer a modular cooktop that's controlled electronically.

And this year we're adding something new. A radiant cooktop with several remarkable features. Including the ability to change the size of one of the heating elements by merely turning a knob.

But not all our good ideas are inside our appliances.

That's why we also came up with the GE Answer Center® service.

And the largest network of factory service professionals.

It's a back-up system that's just as carefully thought out as our products.

We bring good things to life.

For the complete line of General Electric appliances call Chester Miyashiro, R. Grande or Walter Saito at Special M. Group.

Phone: 848-2411 Fax: 848-29

Contents

President's Message

- 7 Hawaii Council/AIA: Its Past, Present and Future
As Hawaii enters the age of the Pacific Rim, its architects will be called on to provide a variety of services.
by Dennis T. Toyomura, FAIA
- 10 Introducing Hawaii Council/AIA Officers and Directors

Art in Architecture

- 12 The Significance of Artwork
An architectural design comes to life with careful selection of artwork based on a client's preferences, consideration of the type of project and its intended audience.
by Jan Yamamoto
- 15 The Concept Begins With the Client
Art in architecture does not just happen; it begins as part of the initial concept at the first meeting with the client.
by Donald W.Y. Goo, FAIA
- 16 Creating a Total Environment
Conflicting visual information and temporary materials were used to create The Contemporary Museum's first environmental installation.
by Thomas Macauley
- 20 A Collection of Importance
The Honolulu Advertiser is probably the only newspaper in the United States to feature an extensive collection of artwork in its building.
by Sharon Carter Smith

Innovative Bathrooms

- 22 Bathing in Luxury
Expensive doesn't necessarily mean luxurious; it may be a spacious area, proper lighting or a boulder in the shower.
by Clark (Skip) Morgan, AIA
- 24 Avoiding Construction Claims Requires Understanding
The most important thing to know about construction claims is that they can be avoided by following a few basic guidelines.
by Phillip L. Deaver, Esq.

26 News

36 New Members

Visitors last month to The Honolulu Advertiser Gallery were treated to "Visions of the Volcano," a traveling exhibit featuring 105 works by local and mainland artists. The gallery houses a corporate collection including nearly 1,000 works by artists from throughout the world. Photo by Greg Yamamoto

pmp company ltd

Publishers

1034 Kilani Avenue, Suite 108
Wahiawa, Hawaii 96786
(808) 621-8200
FAX (808) 622-3025

PUBLISHER/EXECUTIVE EDITOR
Peggi Murchison

EDITOR
Aimee R. Holden

PRODUCTION/ART DIRECTOR
Cynthia Becklund

Graphic Artist
Leonardo Henobio, Jr.

Production/Typography
Pam Sledge
Pam Timothy

SALES MANAGER
Miki Riker

Account Executive
Mark Zanetti

Sales Coordinator
Judy Lillard

BUSINESS MANAGER
Ted Kramer