Smooth in texture and more durable than the block itself, GLAZEX facing comes in every color of the palette! It is excellent for exterior as well as interior construction. Freezing, thawing and weathering can't effect it. The sun can't fade it! Flame can't burn it! Acids can't corrode it! Permanently bonded to one or more surfaces of the block, it is straight and parallel with edges which are absolutely true! No special method of laying is required . . . and it's amazingly economical because your mason can lay a finished wall. Write for a free brochure.

TO ALL PRACTICING ARCHITECTS:

The following resolution was unanimously adopted on Monday, May 8th, by the Board of Directors of the Michigan Society of Architects, as proposed by the Public and Professional Relations Committee:

WHEREAS the Standards for Professional Practice, Section 2, Mandatory Standards, says:

"Paid advertising, as referred to in this Rule, is defined as any form of paid announcement or printed material in the public press or circulated indiscriminately by an architect to the public or a segment thereof, intended to aid directly or indirectly in securing actual commissions for that architect, with the following exception:" . . .

WHEREAS the Michigan Association of School Boards has and is soliciting architects to make contributions to the Michigan School Board Journal in order that these architects' buildings and articles be published and circulated as outlined in the attached letter.

BE IT RESOLVED that the Michigan Society of Architects interprets this practice as architects engaging in paid advertising and that architects who have in the past or will in the future cooperate in this program be considered in violation of the A.I.A. Standards for Professional Practice.

All architects participating in this program after June 15, 1961, will be reported to the Institute for unprofessional conduct and the appropriate disciplinary action shall be requested.

This resolution will be published in the forthcoming Monthly Bulletin and distributed by direct mailing to all A.I.A. members within the State and the Michigan Association of School Boards.—H. C. ALLISON, Chairman, Public and Professional Relations Committee, MSA

BULLETIN:

This is a report on the visit to Detroit of Mr. and Mrs. Georges Philippe of Paris, France on April 19 and 20, 1961.

On the 19th we visited the City-County Building, Ford Auditorium and Cobo Hall in Detroit's Civic Center, had lunch with the Detroit Chapter, AIA at the Harmonie Club. In the afternoon we went to the Lafayette Park Apartments, the City Airport, then to our home. Mrs. Primeau and I had the pleasure of dining out with our visitors that evening.

On the 20th we went through the GM Tech Center, visited Northland Shopping Center, where we had lunch; the Reynolds Metals Building, Florists Telegraph Building, then back to the hotel.

The Philippes were most appreciative and invited architects from this area to visit them when they are in Paris.

We enjoyed their visit and we remain at your service.—EDMUND E. PRIMEAU, AIA (French-speaking)

BULLETIN:

A couple of weeks ago a gentleman from the Detroit Edison Company, Mr. Lusis, whose telephone number is WO. 2-2100, Ext. 3603, talked with me about the possibility of a relative of his coming over from Germany to find employment in an architectural office. Apparently this foreign travel is very helpful to these students in applying for their registration or examination to become architects and this young girl would like very much to work in this country. There was not a great deal I could suggest to him other than there may be some office here in town that would have an opportunity to guarantee work for her sufficient to bring her into this country. I thought exposure of this information in your Bulletin would be very helpful in that cause. I really know nothing about her ability other than indicated in the enclosed letter she sent to Mr. Lusis. In the attached photograph she is the girl on the right side of the picture. She would be available for work beginning in the fall and I presume details of entry into this country would take a good deal of time.

Perhaps you have encountered situations of this kind in the past and could suggest a proper procedure for her to follow or information which Mr. Lusis could convey to her. I had not met Mr. Lusis before he talked with me on this subject, so am not able to give any more information, but would appreciate any information you have relative to cases of this kind and what your suggestions might be.—MALCOLM R. STIRTON, AIA

93rd Annual Convention, American Institute of Architects, Philadelphia 1961

THE DEVELOPMENT of downtown Philadelphia from the days of William Penn through the present and into the future was graphically displayed for some 1400 architects attending the annual convention of the American Institute of Architects at its 93rd Annual Convention in Philadelphia, April 24-29, 1961.

A capacity crowd in the Bellevue-Stratford Ballroom listened and watched for three hours as architects and planners filled in, on a blank 14-by-28-foot panel, the significant developments in the design and redesign of the city.

LeCorbusier, one of the world's most famous architects, received the AIA's annual gold medal award at the banquet. He was cited for "his tenacious insistence on seeking truth and beauty for the human environment."

Before the banquet he spoke to a packed audience of architectural students at the Sylvania Hotel. He explained his once-controversial but now widely-accepted theories.

Drawing as he talked through an interpreter, the Swiss-born French architect outlined the application of his theories to housing a city. His plan included rooftop gardens and an open first story, which he said resulted in more land than was there before the building was erected.

His drawings, made with colored chalk, were given by the 73-year-old architect to the University of Pennsylvania School of Architecture.

Edmund N. Bacon, executive director of the Philadelphia's City Planning Commission, narrated the graphic display of the city's development. The presentation started with Penn's original plan and proceeded with the addition of the Benjamin Franklin parkway complex of public buildings.

Architect Vincent G. Kling, FAIA, then explained the development of Penn Center. He said the plan was designed to "Move people attractively through the core of the city." He added there is a "strong feeling for the movement of people in Philadelphia."

Roy F. Larson, president of Philadelphia's Art Commission, outlined the change in Independence Square from the blight of the days before the Second World War to the present status as a national park.

Oskar Stonorov and I. M. Pei, architects who designed the buildings to be built on Society Hill, explained the part they and their associates played in its development.

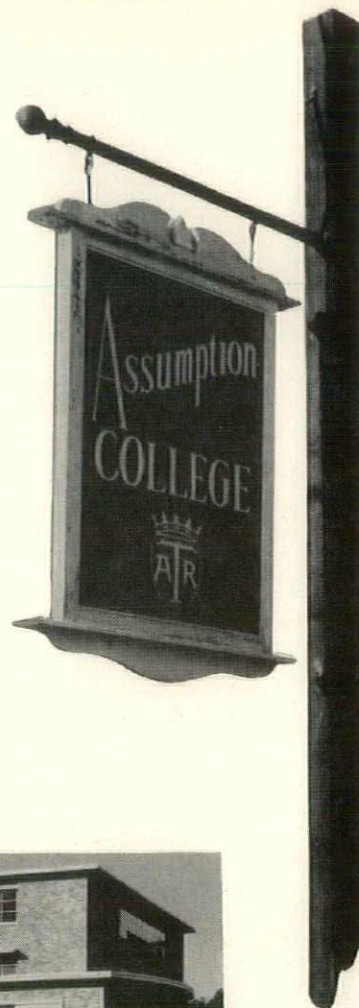

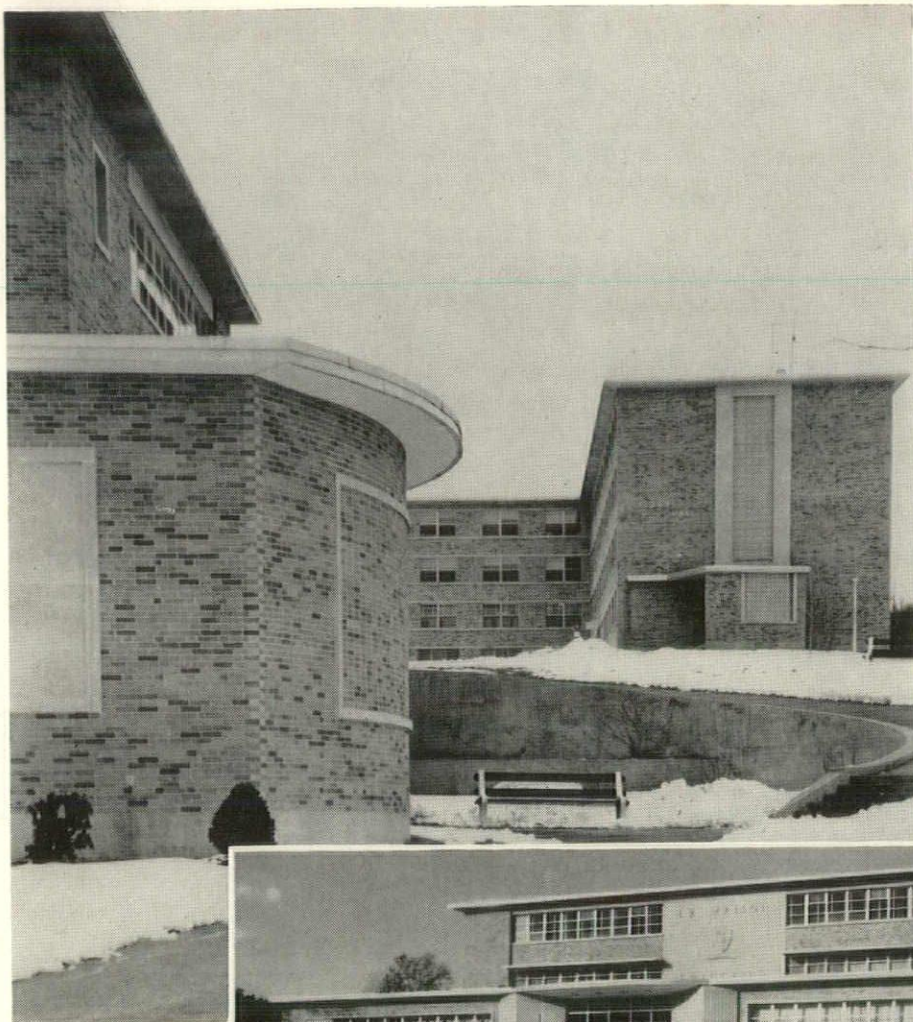

Kling returned to the stage to complete the Penn Center area with the new city

Architects O. E. Nault & Sons specified more than 370,000 Belden Santa Barbara Blend Gray End Cut Matts for the Alumni Hall, Administration and Dormitory (pictured upper left); La Maison Francaise Library (center); as well as in the Kennedy Memorial Science Hall, the Dining Hall Building and the Bishop Wright Residence Hall.

ALL AROUND THE CAMPUS . . . of Assumption College in Worcester, Mass., you'll find Belden Brick accentuating the "imaginative design" of many of the new buildings.

And it's the same at hundreds of colleges, secondary and elementary schools in the U. S. and Canada . . . not to mention industrial, commercial and apartment projects. The "virtues and values" of Belden Fine Face Brick make them a favorite of architects and owners . . . contractors and brickmasons, too.

Belden Brick look well . . . lay well . . . insure walls that eliminate painting, reduce maintenance and heating costs, and are permanently modern and beautiful. They are available in more than 200 colors, textures and sizes to meet today's most exacting design and construction needs. Your nearest Belden Dealer will be glad to provide samples.

administrative services building he designed. From there Robert L. Geddes, another architect, went further into the future with a plan for the waterfront at the foot of Society Hill.

He explained the city's plan for a boardwalk, recreation area and a passenger terminus for ocean liners to cap the tower apartments and greenways of Society Hill.

Bacon's staff took over and outlined the rest of the city's proposals for downtown Philadelphia, which are still in the initial design stage, including Chestnut Street and Market Street shopping malls.

All AIA officers were reelected. Supplemental dues were approved on a two-year trial basis. A taxi strike was only partially effective.

Philadelphia has an Old City Hall that's really worth saving. Intriguing are the alleys with sidewalks, places of business, residences, etc. We regret that this was the last scrapple breakfast given by Eddie and Faith Morris.

Clair Ditchy won the Karmann Ghia, deluxe model Volkswagen, awarded for attendance at the products exhibits.

Philadelphians talk like New Yorkers, and Philadelphia really looks the part of a big city. Fifty-one years ago the AIA holds its convention in the City of Brotherly Love. Glad to know that in Philadelphia nearly everybody reads the Bulletin.

Construction of Hopkinson House, a 33-story apartment house and 18 town houses, got underway recently, in Washington Square South, in Philadelphia's historic Society Hill section.

It is the first important new construction in the urban renewal project, on which the U. S. government and the city of Philadelphia are investing $40,000,000, the towering, 320-foot building is depicted in the architect's rendering. In addition to 536 living units, the skyscraper will include a roof-top swimming pool and sun deck and a two-level underground garage. The town houses, three stories in height, will each have eight rooms and a private garage.

I AM HURT SAID CAPTAIN BARTON
BUT I AM NOT SLAIN ———
I WILL LIE ME DOWN AND BLEED AWHILE
THEN RISE AND FIGHT AGAIN.

These lines have reference to a naval officer who lived 150 years ago. He never knew when he was licked. The sentiment expressed here continues strong and vigorous in our free enterprise society.

We dedicate these lines to all who strive in the field of architecture and construction.

How many faces has walnut paneling?

It all depends on how you slice it...

Walnut can be many woods when it is made into paneling by Weldwood. It can be quarter sliced, half round, or plain sliced as in the office above. However it's cut, it is dignity, it is warmth, formal yet friendly, luxury without maintenance. And like Bengé®, rosewood, teak, and Korina®—among others—walnut is just one of the many species in Weldwood Algoma-Made paneling.

A visit by a Weldwood Architects' Service Representative places at your command the incomparable production facilities and experience of United States Plywood. He will be happy to help you plan a Weldwood paneling installation in your next commercial or residential design. A TEN-DAY SEMINAR for some 50 teachers of architecture from as many schools will be held at Cranbrook Academy of Art, Bloomfield, Hills, Michigan, during the month of June, 1961.

The seminar is jointly sponsored by The American Institute of Architects and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. Similar seminars have been held annually since 1956 to provide an informal exchange of views and experiences and to help improve architectural education.

Arrangements for the seminar are in the hands of a newly appointed Policy and Guidance Committee comprising: James M. Hunter, FAIA, AIA's Second Vice President, representing AIA; Buford L. Pickens, AIA, representing the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture; and Harold Bush-Brown, FAIA, Chairman; Theodore W. Dominick, AIA, the Institute's director of Member Services, has been appointed staff executive.

AIA's assistance is supplemented by contributions from AIA Chapters and State Associations, the schools as well as by various other sponsors. They help defray expenses of teachers of architecture from the United States and Canada who otherwise could not attend, in the form of one-half expense scholarships awarded by the Committee.

LOTS OF PARKING LOTS WITH LOTS OF PARKING USE LOTS AND LOTS OF Slag Asphalt!

Why is SLAG ASPHALT chosen above all others by leading architects. The answer is threefold —

STABILITY — Angular, 100% crushed slag aggregate gives greatest resistance to shoving and shear failure.

SAFETY — Slag asphalt has the highest factor of skid resistance of all Michigan asphalt pavement.

ECONOMY — Slag asphalt yields as much as 15% more yardage per ton.

THE 1961 CONFERENCE ON CHURCH DESIGN has announced the conferring of its Honor Award to the firm of Cooley and Borre, A.I.A. and Associates, Park Ridge, Ill. The conference comprises architects, prominent clergymen and laymen from every section of the United States and is the most important seminar concerning religious design in this country. The conference was held in Pittsburgh, Pa. and sponsored by the Church Architectural Guild of America, the National Council of Churches, and The American Institute of Architects.

The award, presented once a year, is in recognition of architectural excellence in Church Architecture. The 1961 award was to the recently completed Episcopal Church of Our Savior, Elmhurst, Ill., Rev. Dr. James G. Plankey, Rector.

This building is an addition to an existing stone Gothic church that had proved too small for the rapidly expanding congregation. The new church and narthex are contemporary in design and detailing, but the use of materials consistent with the old building—stone, timber, and stained glass—solved the difficult problem of continuity from one type of architecture to another.

The plan is in the form of a Creek cross within a ten foot high limestone wall. The four resulting voids at the corners became garden courts visible to the interior through floor-to-ceiling glass walls. Simple stained glass fills the four gable ends of the massive roof.

Clair W. Ditchy, FAIA, of Royal Oak, Michigan, and past president of The American Institute of Architects, is shown in his new fire engine-red Karmann Ghia sports car. Ditchy won it as a prize of the Products Exhibits at the National AIA Convention held recently in Philadelphia

Urban Renewal Seminar

By PAUL B. BROWN,
President, Detroit Chapter, AIA

We all know that the unbridled growth of our metropolitan areas is causing a breakdown in their economy and in their effectiveness as a place in which to live and work. We are also aware that these developments are of direct concern to our profession, and that in the years immediately ahead our value to society will be measured to a great extent, by the initiative and competence with which we attack this problem of urban decay. It is quite possible that our continued existence as a vital profession, as well as our individual success as practitioners, will depend on how well we are prepared to meet this challenge.

While most of us are aware of the task confronting us, few of us are familiar with the true size and complexity of our job. Our knowledge of the problems involved, of the deep-seated forces at work in our cities, is all too meagre.

Recognizing the importance of this problem, the Board of the Michigan Society of Architects did at their recent annual convention pass a resolution to sponsor six seminars on urban renewal. This resolution was implemented by President Charles A. OBryon's appointment of committees consisting of the following members:

Louis G. Redstone, Member at Large, Chairman; Charles A. Blessing, Member at Large, Director of Detroit City Planning Commission; Eberle M. Smith, Detroit Chapter, AIA; William D. Black, Mid-Michigan Chapter, AIA; Bernard J. DeVries, Western Michigan Chapter, AIA; Vincent T. Boyle, Saginaw Valley Chapter, AIA; James E. Tomblinson, Flint Area Chapter, AIA.

The program for these seminars is now being worked out; they will be planned to acquaint the architects with this basic problem and help them determine their role and position in it. In general the seminars will study basic problems of city's growth and its decline, the principles of urban renewal and comprehensive metropolitan planning. The dates and location of the first seminar will be announced soon.

It is hoped that these seminars will prove of real value and assistance in the self-education which most of us, I believe, feel we need in order to properly do the job before us. President Philip Will, has carried word of our program to Washington, and the Institute is planning to use it as a guide in developing similar programs across the country. This is further indication of the recognition of the need for this type of workshop training. The success of the meetings will depend on active participation by members of our Chapter; we hope that the response will be favorable and that there will be a demand to supplement these first six seminars with further sessions devoted to the problems of urban design.

Youtz, immediate past President of the Women's Architectural League of Detroit reports there were many representatives at this meeting. Some of the states represented were Hawaii, California, Missouri, Michigan, Texas, and New York. A discussion period was held and various reports made on the activities of the different Leagues.

New York, for example, is holding a Church and Temple Tour on June 10th. There will be eight buildings included in the tour. This will be followed by luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. After luncheon, there will be a showing of Lily Dache hats with the commentary being made by a member of the Auxiliary.

electricity gives you the power to

PLUG IN A WATER HEATER AT ANY FAUCET

A "Junior Model" electric water heater operates on 110 volts, plugs into any convenient outlet and is suited for locations such as a plant first-aid room or small washroom. "Junior Models" are handily compact, ranging from 3½- to 20-gallon capacities, and fit easily under sinks or in small cabinets. They're well insulated, neat and efficient. And they need no venting since they're flameless.

Want water that's steamy hot—fast—without waiting for it? If you have a faucet and an electrical outlet, a "Junior Model" water heater will do the rest.

1961 BUYERS GUIDE

THE SPRING, 1961 EDITION of the Buyers' Guide published by the Exchange is off the press and has been mailed to several thousand purchasers of construction materials and services. First published in 1936, this convenient, specialized directory now contains approximately 6000 classified listings of products and services offered by nearly 1600 member firms. Each year the number of firms and products listed in the guide has increased. The number of requests to be placed on the permanent mailing list has also increased until it is now felt that the guide is sent to just about everyone who can profitably use it. However, with the possibility in mind of inadvertently omitting someone, copies are available at the offices of the Exchange upon request. If you know of anyone using construction services or materials who does not have a Guide, please refer them to us.

GEORGE A. BUSCH, JR.—President

G. WINSTON BURBRIDGE—Secretary-Manager

MORE THAN 63,000 PEOPLE jammed the entire Civic Auditorium during the week of March 13 thru 18 to visit the 23rd Annual Greater Michigan Home Show in Grand Rapids. They were greeted by more than 175 displays of all the new building materials, furnishings and special features pertaining to the home.

This show is sponsored annually by the Builders and Traders Exchange and the Grand Rapids Home Builders Association, as a service to the Industry and as a civic enterprize for the City of Grand Rapids.

The feature of this year's show was the "HOME SHOW HOME" a three bedroom house built in the lobby of the Auditorium. This home was constructed with the co-operation of the Grand Rapids Retail Lumber Dealers Association and a number of the material suppliers in the area. Construction of the house began on February 28, 1961 and was completed, ready for inspection, at the opening of the show on March 13, 1961.

The 1961 edition of the Greater Michigan Home Show was the biggest and best and proves that the interest in building is growing and that the industry faces a very rosy future for all involved.

PRINCIPALS IN 1961 GREATER MICHIGAN HOME SHOW

L. TO R.—Fred J. Barr, Jr., Manager of the Civic Auditorium; G. Winston Burbridge, Manager of the Greater Michigan Home Show and Ward Blackall, Executive Secretary of the Grand Rapids Home Builders Association prepare to lay out the foundation for the "Home Show Home" to be built in the lobby of the Auditorium as a feature of the 1961 Home Show.

P.S.—The management of the Auditorium, however, refused permission to tear up the terrazzo for the basement

Here are several cut-away demonstration models of Andersen "Windowalls" on display in our showroom. Andersen builds casements, gliders, awning-type units and double hung windows. Often these are used in combinations to form "Windowalls". Whatever the opening, there is an Andersen window to fill it.

We've distributed windows for 25 years and we challenge anyone to show us a construction equal in quality to Andersen. Do you have our specification materials?

DID YOU MAKE A PROFIT IN 1960?

ASK A SUCCESSFUL contractor how he made money in 1960 and his answer invariably will include some or all of the following statements:

1. I bid on fewer jobs but on these jobs I make a detailed down-to-the-last-nail estimate. It is a waste of money to bid too many jobs in the hope of getting one or two.

2. I get the cooperation of competent subs who will do quality work (eliminate "trading"). While this may cost money, it can also mean large savings because of early completion.

3. Before the bid is put together, I make a thorough investigation of all factors pertaining to the proposed work.

4. My accounting system includes a continuous analysis of the earning trends on jobs in progress. The estimated costs of all items which enter into my bid are compared with the actual cost of doing the work as it progresses. It is essential to know whether the job is moving along in such a way that there will be a profit when it is completed.

5. Because the price of new equipment is so high, I try to make the most efficient use of the equipment we have. I buy only rigs that will make money for me by reducing labor costs, and then I make doubly sure that the equipment is taken care of through proper maintenance.

6. I always have a job planning meeting with the key men concerned before construction begins. We usually review plans and specifications, methods planned by the estimator, procurement schedules, and possible equipment lists, a list of small tools, and supplies needed to start the job, and make assignment of key job personnel.

These statements seem self-evident or obvious. It is certainly obvious that in the final analysis success in this business depends upon the quality of management in relation to a thousand and one continually varying aspects. The successful contractor is a technically competent able manager who knows the difference between important and unimportant problems and has the ability to learn from his own experience and that of others. The contractor who may be operating in the red had better take a second look at his problems before going ahead.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

SIX MISTAKES OF MAN—The Roman philosopher and statesman, Cicero, said it 2,000 years ago, and it's still true today. The "six mistakes of man" are:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.

2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.

3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we cannot be changed or corrected.

4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.

5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind, and not acquiring that habit of reading and study.

6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.

Architects in the News

CLIFFORD N. WRIGHT Architect & Associates, 19115 Schoolcraft, Detroit, Michigan, announce the appointment of Richard P. O'Keefe, AIA, to its staff. O'Keefe has had wide experience in commercial and institutional work in the Detroit area.

J. P. Stemplowsky, AIA associate member, and an employee of the firm for several years, has been appointed Project Director of over-all engineering services.

The firm has recently completed commercial projects consisting of medical clinics, funeral homes, churches, a fifty-unit motel in downtown Bay City, Michigan, and an office building for the Northwestern Realty Association of Detroit.

Current projects, now in early stages, include a shopping center to be located in Findlay, Ohio; several nursing homes—totaling 450 beds; alterations to churches of varied denominations, and many fine residences.

ALBERT KAHN ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS AND ENGINEERS, INC., has elected the following directors: George H. Miehl, Sol King, Sheldon Marston, R. E. Linton, V. C. Wagner, G. S. Whittaker, and Paul G. Fleck. All are incumbent directors with the exception of Mr. Fleck who was elected to the seven-man Board for the first time.

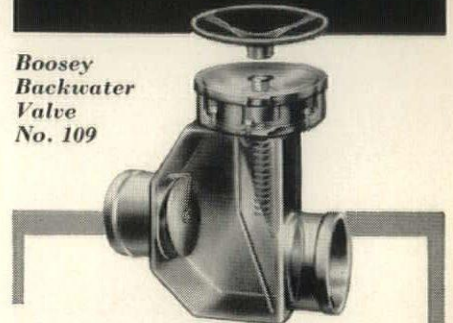

Officers elected by the Board for the coming year are: George H. Miehl, Chairman and Treasurer; Sol King, AIA, President; Sheldon Marston, Executive Vice President; R. E. Linton, V. C. Wagner, G. S. Whittaker, and Paul G. Fleck, Vice Presidents; and Louis Menk, AIA, Secretary.

KAINLAURI, MacMULLAN & ASSOCIATES of Ann Arbor have received a Merit Award for the Ann Arbor Free Methodist Church in a "Competition Focusing on Design of Evangelical Churches" sponsored by the National Association of Evangelicals and the Christian Life Magazine.

The Rev. Cryderman of Spring Arbor, Michigan, District Superintendent for the Free Methodist Church was particularly pleased because this was one of the smaller churches entered (two floors, 3,600 sq. ft., and 70,000 to $80,000), and it received favorable comment from a number of persons attending the convention.

THEFORE, when we build, let us think that we build forever. Let it not be present delight, nor for present use alone, let it be such work as our descendants will thank us for, and let us think, as we lay stone on stone, that a time is to come when those stones will be held sacred because our hands have touched them, and that men will say as they look upon the labor and the wrought substance of them, 'See! this our fathers did for us.'—JOHN RUSKIN

1/8" THICK GLAZED FACES

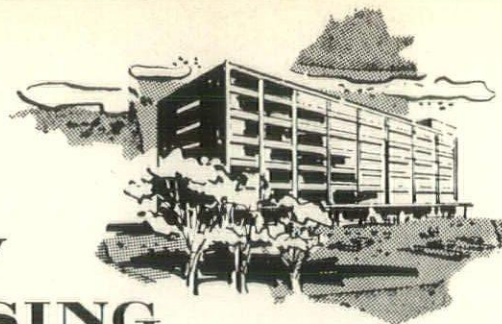

With the perfection of new S-G glass silica sand forming a continuous surface, SPECTRA-GLAZE exceeds requirements of ASTM-C-126 for glazed surfaces. However, the glaze of SPECTRA-GLAZE units is more than just a surface. It's a full eighth-inch thick—the same all the way through. You can climb it, walk on it, even sandblast it without damage.

See SWEET'S CATALOG 4g/Bu for details or write for "Construction Details" and "Test Reports."

Unretouched photo of 3" dia. copper tube removed after 13 years' service in a soil line.

Anaconda drainage fittings are designed to match Anaconda tube for fast, easy solder connections.

WASTES FLOW FREELY IN COPPER DRAINAGE SYSTEMS AND YOU SAVE MONEY. Compare the condition on the inside of this copper tube with what you might expect to find in ordinary piping after 13 years in service. Rust-caused troubles such as reduced flow or stoppages do not occur inside copper drainage lines. That is why many plumbing codes allow the use of 3" diameter copper tube for soil line and vent. Material costs are reduced and, because a 3" copper tube stack with fittings fits inside a standard 4" partition, the need for expensive, space-consuming plumbing walls is eliminated. Save time, effort, and money—install the modern drainage system with Anaconda copper tube and fittings. For information, write: The American Brass Company, Waterbury 20, Conn. Detroit Division and Sales Office: 174 South Clark Ave. 6001MSA
