Official Publication of the MICHIGAN SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Roger Margerum, AIA

We go to our Mackinac Island meeting having put in place the first half year of programs well implemented. MSA is organized around the diagram as indicated. After three years of honing, the MSA Board has evolved into the shown administrative matrix. We shall refine operations with this structure as a gauge.

The MSA membership is ably represented with a Board of Directors that is dedicated to our 1983 goals as outlined last February. Programs such as Membership tracking, Recognitions, Long Range Planning (Council of Past Presidents), and the Beaubien House Committee chairpersons are performing exceptionally.

Government Affairs, MSA budgeting and Short Range Planning will be intensified in the ensuing months.

HOUSE TOUR

The Detroit Chapter, AIA, will host the Annual House Tour on Sunday, September 11th. The tour will focus on five or six homes in Grosse Pointe. Mike Tomasik, AIA, Chairman of this event, and his committee members promise some new and interesting homes on the tour.

The tour will begin at Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Drive, Grosse Pointe Farms, from 12:00 noon till 5:00 p.m. Buses will depart from the War Memorial throughout the day to the homes on tour.

Tickets are available from Chapter Headquarters at $8.00/person (including bus transportation). This is the Chapter Annual fund raiser and the general public is invited to participate.

For your tickets, send a check payable to the Detroit Chapter, AIA, or call (313) 965-4103 for information.

68th ANNUAL MICHIGAN SOCIETY OF ARCHITECTS CONVENTION

By: Alfred S. Kochanowski, AIA
Publicity Committee Chairman

Set aside October 12th, 13th and 14th this fall for the MSA Convention in Grand Rapids. Our theme is "Inside/Out," which emphasizes the significant role interior design and space planning has on architecture. This is a very appropriate theme for our Convention. The greater Grand Rapids area is home for some of the world's office and residential furniture manufacturers. These companies will play very exciting and significant roles in our Convention.

The Convention will also explore the potential for expanded influence of our profession in other area, including "urban design, energy technology, concepts of creative financing, innovative design and production techniques utilizing the CAD system.

Each day of the Convention promises to be special, with interesting topics and top notch speakers in exciting architectural environments.

Day Three of the Convention emphasizes architectural design, marketing of design services, presentation techniques, further training in CAD systems, and the Annual MSA Awards Banquet.

Steven Izenour, AIA, with the firm of Venturi, Rauch and Scott Brown will deliver the morning address on architectural design. Izenour's credentials are very impressive. It includes several teaching assignments and publications, including Learning from Las Vegas. Dick Rochon, a very famous renderer from the Detroit area will present a presentation workshop. In the afternoon Dr. Stuart Rose will conduct a marketing seminar. "Identifying new market opportunities and setting strategy to get there." Dr. Rose will also present a marketing seminar on Saturday, and you are encouraged to stay for these interesting and informative presentations. Further details will be provided in future Convention literature.

As always, the MSA Awards Banquet promises to be very special with Institute President-Elect George Notter, FAIA, as the special guest speaker. A time when we honor excellence in our profession.

Plan on coming to Grand Rapids this fall. This promises to be a very informative and educational Convention, one that each professional in each office will find to be an extremely good investment.

A RESOLUTION OF TRIBUTE TO ALDEN B. DOW, FAIA

Alden B. Dow of Midland has been named Architect Laureate of Michigan in the following resolution passed by the Michigan Senate as introduced by Senator Jack Faxon, D-Southfield, and Senator Gary Corbin, D-Clio.

WHEREAS, It is with great respect and admiration that the highest tribute is accorded to Mr. Alden B. Dow, Architect Laureate of Michigan. This impressive architect is valued the world over for his creativity, his vision, and his impressive designs, which have delighted all who have been fortunate enough to witness them; and

WHEREAS, Alden B. Dow is truly one of Michigan's greatest treasures and well deserving of the high honor of being proclaimed Architect Laureate of Michigan. His architecture has delighted people throughout our state and is prized far from our borders. A few of his magnificent creations include the Towsley Home, contemporary classroom spaces at the University of Michigan and Greenhills School, cultural and nature centers, religious buildings, college campuses, and the innovative A-frame Ashmun Home, and

WHEREAS, Although retired from his architectural practice, Dow Howell Gilmore Associates, Mr. Dow is far from retired in his contributions to architecture. He is a consultant whose views are highly prized, for his vision and his designs reflect his concern for the environment, energy conservation, color and composition. His good work at Northwood Institute's Alden B. Dow Creativity Center is especially valued as are his contributions to the beautiful Dow Gardens, which were begun by Mr. Dow's father. The impact Alden Dow has had on architecture, through his own creativity and by expanding the knowledge of others, makes him worthy of our highest accolades of tribute; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE, That Mr. Alden B. Dow be proclaimed Architect Laureate of Michigan in recognition of his innumerable contributions as an architect, which have brought so much credit to the State of Michigan; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to him as a reflection of our esteem.

Adopted by the Senate, May 10, 1983.

The Michigan Society of Architects extends its congratulations to Mr. Dow, and looks toward his continual improvement of our environment.

LETTERS

Dear Ann:

In case you have not heard it through the grapevine, I have left the "snows" of Michigan, including Michigan Bell, and accepted a career assignment with AT&T International, headquartered in Basking Ridge, New Jersey. In the telecommunications industry the future challenges are abundant in the international arena and, being a person always looking for another mountain to climb, I decided to become a part of the "new" Bell System.

I am still situated in San Juan, Puerto Rico, working as a consultant to the Puerto Rico Telephone Company. This has been a most interesting assignment when all aspects, professional, cultural and managerial, are taken into consideration.

In addition to my responsibility for all aspects of real estate management (land acquisition through design, construction and building operations), I am also responsible for providing technical and managerial support for the corporation's Information Systems (data processing) organization. It is amazing that an old dog can still learn new tricks.

We will continue to maintain a home in Michigan during our international travels and plan on making Michigan (up north) our principal retirement home.

Please pass along Kathy's and my best wishes to all of our friends in the Michigan architectural community.

Best regards,
Robert F. Fearon, AIA

There's a lot worth saving in this country.

Today more Americans who value the best of yesterday are working to extend the life of a special legacy.

Saving and using old buildings, warehouses, depots, ships, urban waterfront areas, and even neighborhoods makes good sense. Preservation saves valuable energy and materials. We can also appreciate the artistry of these quality structures.

The National Trust for Historic Preservation is helping to keep our architectural heritage alive for us and for our children.

HOTEL RESERVATIONS

The MSA Headquarters Hotel will be the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel located at Pearl and Monroe in the heart of downtown Grand Rapids.

The Amway Grand Plaza Hotel is a delightful experience. The Old Pantlind Hotel has completely been renovated by Carlton Varney of Dorothy Draper & Co. of New York and the new high-rise hotel was designed by Marvin DeWinter Associates . . . Marv just happens to be our Convention Chairman. The hotel offers unique restaurants with excellent cuisine, a variety of shops, swimming, outdoor tennis (day or night), racketball and exercise room.

Grand Rapids has a population of 181,602 and covers 44.9 sq. miles. Major products are office furniture; leather products and shoes; automotive parts; hard ware; home-care products; household furniture; tools and dies; rubber products; concrete products; commercial printing; and home appliances. The cultural attractions include the Grand Rapids Symphony, the Grand Rapids Civic Theatre, civic ballet, library, public museum, planetarium, art museum and the President Ford Museum designed by DeWinter Associates.

Hotel accommodations are:
Double bed (1 person) $60.00;

double bed (2 persons) $72.00; and double/double (2 persons) $72.00. Reservations must be received by September 12th and state that you are with the MSA Convention for these rates. Credit cards are accepted to guarantee your reservation. Reservations must be cancelled 72 hours prior to scheduled arrival to receive refund from hotel or to avoid a charge being placed on your credit card. Michigan residents dial toll-free 1-800-632-6120.

SPOUSE PROGRAM

The MSA Convention Spouse Program on Thursday and Friday, October 13th and 14th will provide entertainment and a unique shopping excursion. Bob Reid and his wife have planned the events down to the last detail.

Thursday, October 13th is the Shopper's Special at $3.50/person. The day will begin with a mini-color Tour by bus, you'll go to Rockford, Michigan (approx. 20 minutes outside of Grand Rapids), for shopping in the ever expanding Discount Mall featuring such names as Hush-Puppy, Jace Winter, Marushka, Woolrich, and such articles as women's, men's and children's clothing and shoes, linens, etc., many at prices up to 50% of retail. (Yes, they accept credit cards.)

Lunch is on your own choice of several quaint restaurants, including the famous 'Corner Bar' for a chance at the current hot dog consumption record of 43-less-a-bite. Then browse through the restored buildings of fifty plus shops of Rockford's Squire Street Square on the banks of the Rogue River. On the return trip to the Grand Plaza, there will be a stop at the Robinette Orchards for cider and donuts and an opportunity to look over the fine assortment of cheeses, sausage, herbs, and magnificent dried flowers.

Friday, October 14th is the Heritage Hill Tour at $16.50/person. The restored homes and mansions of the Heritage Hill area are only a few minutes drive from downtown Grand Rapids.

You'll visit three or four of the homes, and, weather permitting, have a short walking tour of the general area.

Lunch will be at the restaurant of Paddock Place, the restored 120-year-old home built by Augustus Paddock in 1863, known familiarly as the Clark Mansion, located on three-and-a-half acres in Grand Rapids near South-East side.

1983 REYNOLDS ALUMINUM PRIZE FOR ARCHITECTURAL STUDENTS

John Walker Bass, a student at the Rhode Island School of Design, won the $5,000.00 national prize that will be shared with his school for "The Sol Lewitt Foundation," for "the best original design in which creative use of aluminum is an important contributing factor." The building was designed to promote and display works of conceptual/contemporary art.

An Honorable Mention prize of $1,000.00 was awarded to C. Timothy Fish, a student at Georgia Institute of Technology, for his design of emergency habitation.

Certificates of excellence were awarded to Adreienne Atwell of Tulane University, for the design of an aluminum bathing pavilion and to Jose Sama of the University of Florida for his design of a building for today's mobile society.

The competition was juried by Chairman Stantley Tigerman, FAIA, Chicago; Roy F. Knight, AIA, dean, School of Architecture, University of Tennessee at Knoxville, and three students representing Harvard University, California Polytechnic State University and Washington University, St. Louis.

Eligibility to compete is open to students of any school in the United States that is a member of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, or that has a student AIA chapter.
