1990 FELLOW CANDIDATE FOR AIA VICE PRESIDENT

ROBERT E. GREAGER, FAIA, is the newest Michigan Fellow who will be installed by the College of Fellows on Saturday, May 19th in Houston, Texas at the AIA national convention.

Bob's significant leadership in the field of architecture represents a thirty-five year long commitment to improving the quality and vitality of the profession.

As alumni president of the University of Michigan's architectural fraternity, he provided invaluable opportunities to aspiring architects through the establishment of a tax-exempt foundation that has for 25 years provided architectural scholarships.

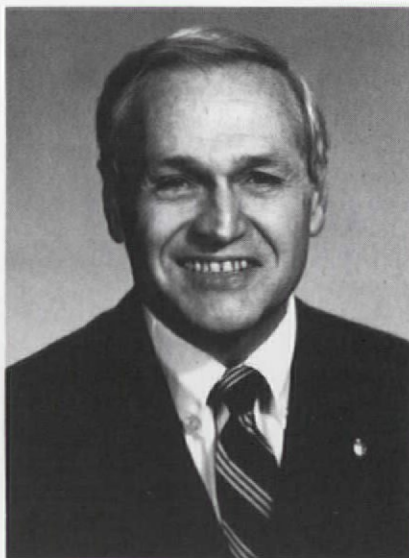

Bob has worked in private practice for the majority of his career and is now an educator at Lawrence Technological University. He has served the Detroit Chapter at both the committee and board level and is a past president of the Michigan Society of Architects. Most recently, Bob served as the Michigan Regional Director on the AIA national board of directors.

Appointed to the Michigan State Board of Licensing in 1983, Bob has been an active member on the Board and has been involved with the A/E definition, IDP, and continuing education. His involvement in the community has also been considerable and he most recently served on the Board of the Franklin Wright Settlement in Detroit.

To continue his commitment to the future excellence of architecture, Bob is running for Vice President of the Institute. If elected to this position he would be responsible for one of the three commissions Membership, Professional Excellence, and Marketing of the Institute.

Bob was honored by his peers at the Beaubien House on May 3rd at the Fellows Reception. Another person who needs mentioning here is Bob's wife, Ruth, her dedication to both Bob and the profession is remarkable and she will be campaigning with Bob in Houston.

GOOD LUCK IN HOUSTON, BOB.

RAE DUMKE, HON. AIA

It's difficult to write about your own honor and I want to say thank you to all of you who have made my association with MSA/AIA so rewarding. The support of the membership, the friendships, the travel and experiences over the years has been wonderful and I look forward to future years.

To receive this honor many of you wrote letters on my behalf and while I cherish each of them one says it all... "to her...the association with Architects has been a privilege, an opportunity, an education, a profession. To us...her association has given our profession stability, reassurance, credibility and strength". Thanks Evie.

While I will receive the Honorary Membership at the AIA Houston Convention on May 21st I was pleased to be able to share this news with MSA members at the October Convention last year and am looking forward to the May 3rd reception with the members, MSA staff, and my husband, Bob who gets lots of credit for his constant support of my career with AIA.

PLACEMAKER

In the last two issues of the newsletter we have talked about PLACEMAKER, a directory of Michigan architectural firms separated by building types. PLACEMAKER will be published in the Fall 1990 issue of PLACE magazine and sent to our subscribers...building owners, legislators, mayors, chambers of commerce, school districts, facility managers, and CEO's to name just a few. PLACEMAKER will also be sent to those people calling MSA and requesting architectural services. We know this will be a valuable service to clients but we are concerned that not all MSA member firms have taken advantage of this opportunity. Therefore we are extending the deadline until May 25. Firms who have submitted data to date include:

Anderson Jacobs Architects Inc.
Architects Four, Inc.
Brown Associates Architects, Inc.
CBI Design Professionals
Demattia & Associates
The Design Forum Inc.
Design Plus, P.C.

MSA BOARD HIGHLIGHTS & SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Many of you ask what does the MSA do for your dues dollars so the intent of this column is to bring you news about the Society and to give you a better understanding of the programs and events sponsored by MSA. The MSA Board of Directors meets at least 6 times a year and the Executive Committee meets at least another 12 times. The Society budget is over $550,000 with only $200,000 coming from membership dues. The rest of the dollars are non-dues revenue to support the services and operations of the Society. MSA owns the Beaubien House which adds to our assets; however, we continue to pay a mortgage for this privilege. We also provide services to the Detroit Chapter, AIA, the Michigan Architectural Foundation and the Architects Political Action Committee with numerous member volunteers and a staff of five.

Topics which were reviewed at the March Board meeting were the Interior Design practice act which continues to be a hot item for the profession. Thank you to those of you who have written members of the legislature on this issue. The Landscape Architects practice legislation has been amended and looks like it will pass through the legislative process with little opposition. The funding for the Architects PAC continues to help strengthen our legislative action. We also share a lobbyist with the Consulting Engineers Council of Michigan.

President Fry appointed Vice President Marshburn to chair the MSA Continuing Education Task Force which will report to the membership this October prior to making a formal report to the State of Michigan Dept. of Licensing and Regulation for Architects regarding mandatory continuing education for Michigan. As reported last month this is at the request of the State Board of Licensing.

This year MSA will add a fourth major conference on Design chaired by President Fry. It will be held in mid-September on Torch Lake. This is in addition to the Health Facilities Conference, Mid-Summer Conference and the Annual Convention.

The Design Conference call for entries will be mailed to the membership within the next month. Watch the President's message for future details.

We will continue with the Design Awards Program in conjunction with the annual convention and this year the awards evening will be held at the Detroit Institute of Arts. We hope to encourage more entries this year to make this program stronger.

Publications include the newsletter published 8 times a year and PLACE magazine which is quarterly. The response to PLACE has been excellent by the membership, subscribers and advertisers; however, we welcome your help in finding advertisers to support the magazine. MSA has committed $40,000 of the annual budget to support PLACE in addition to advertising revenue. A long range goal is to make the magazine self-supporting. Carl Roehling and Tim Casai are responsible for advertising and editorial respectively.

The Associates in the Society and Chapters are active in most of the nine components and Jan Myers of Lansing is the Associate representative on the Board. They are again helping to sponsor the SMACNA/MSA drafting competition.

MSA will hold an annual June Leadership Retreat at the Homestead in Glen Arbor that involves the MSA Board and Chapter Presidents and Vice Presidents. This year the past MSA presidents will also be invited to participate. We are sponsoring a special Government Affairs Workshop funded by national AIA to all those who attend.

Steve Whitney, MSA Treasurer is the State IDP Coordinator and has just been appointed to serve on the Barrier Free Design Study Committee for Michigan. Steve was also named 1989 Board Member of the year for his contributions to the Society and the profession.

The Michigan Architectural Foundation a separate entity with its own Board of Trustees has also funded three Chapters for public awareness grants this year. The Chapters funded are the Upper Peninsula, Huron and Grand Valley Chapters. The monies for these activities were made possible through previous MSA and member donations to the Foundation. For information on the Foundation contact John Jickling, President of MAF or Rae Dumke at MSA.

The Beaubien House Art Commission, a joint committee of MAF, MSA and Detroit Chapter has purchased the first major piece of art for the Beaubien House. It is a piece by David Barr and hangs in the second floor conference room. A University of Michigan Student Exhibition has just finished at the Beaubien House and a display of the MSA Honor Award Entries is now hanging in the newly lighted parlor made possible by a grant from the MAF Board of Trustees.

This column will appear periodically and your comments and questions are welcome...contact your MSA Board member, Richard Fry, MSA President or Rae Dumke, Executive Director.

AIA NATIONAL BOARD HIGHLIGHTS/CACE

RAE DUMKE, HON. AIA

The AIA Board Meeting in mid-March was held at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City, Canada. Tom Lucas and I left Detroit on a mild day and landed in Quebec City only to find several feet of snow on the ground. There is about eleven feet of snow each winter in Quebec needless to say it was quite a contrast from Detroit.

In highlighting the AIA Board agenda there were several items which may be of interest to you. The 1990 Accent on Architecture was highly successful in terms of publicity and the Institute is compiling a video tape of the television coverage. The membership numbers for AIA Members are up by 2.27%; Associates are down by 6.47%; and Emeritus members are up by 4.93% for an overall average increase of members by 1.03%. The actual number of members is 56,978. The Secretary's Advisory Committee (SAC) is considering two new awards for the political arena which would be a Mayor's Award and a Governor's Award. These would go to the elected official who has supported efforts to create a better built environment. Tina Bassett, the public member, is working with SAC in developing these guidelines.

We also had several guests at the Board meeting from NCARB and the Royal Architecture Institute of Canada informing us of business in both of these organizations. The head of RAIC is Essy Boniassad, Hon. FAIA, FRAIC, and he spoke about the international role architects must take to retain their leadership role.

Robert LeMond, FAIA, from Texas and a former AIA Board member addressed the Board on an interim report for Tiered Registration and Specialty Certification. There was considerable discussion on this issue and the general feeling was against tiered registration and specialty certification; however, there will be further information for the members at the Houston convention.

We were also presented with an extensive executive summary of a Professional Development Business Plan in draft form which will be further discussed at the May Board meeting. There was overall support for the program but several requested the Executive Summary be shortened and stated in American! For those of you who know Tom Lucas, this phrase may sound familiar.

One of the most interesting aspects of the Board meeting is hearing from the Regional Directors and learning about what is happening in each region. For instance there are seven components struggling with mandatory continuing education, the interior design issue is hot all over the country and the economic stress of some areas is terrible.

A sense of humor helps as we discussed Policy on Institute Policies and Component Conformance. This information was reviewed and revised by Govn. Affairs Committee, the Component Resources Committee, the CACE ExCom and the Secretary's Advisory Committee. By adding a sense of humor does not mean this isn't an important issue but I wanted to express how much thought and energy goes into a project of this nature. What this working paper does is describes a set of criteria and procedures for the drafting, adopting and enforcement of Institute policies and subsidiary statements. These rules will be incorporated into the Rules of the Board.

REGIONAL DIRECTOR REPORT

TOM LUCAS, FAIA

Well, I am getting my feet wet in Washington and learning the ropes of how it's done, and who to do it to.

There have been three Board Meetings so far, but really only one of them counted as a full board meeting. The Board is simply getting up to speed on the new structure of three commissions: Practice, Public Awareness, and Membership.

All activities fall within one of these commissions and each of them is under the direction of a Vice President of the Institute. There is also an elaborate liaison system established, so matters may move a little slowly at first until we are all used to the new system and implementing the Long Range Plan for Vision 2000.

Accent on Architecture was a real success, and the board voted to look at Accent on Architecture 91 to continue the public awareness program.

One last item - I have been assigned to the membership commission, my first disappointment as I requested to be on the Public Awareness Commission. C'est La Vie. Now they have asked, and I have accepted, the Chairman position of a special Task Force to look at membership in the year 2000. It appears to be a real challenge, and I will do my best to represent Michigan well.

Hope to see many of you at the convention in Houston May 19-22.

AIA GRASSROOTS

The National AIA Grassroots program was held at the end of February and was attended by delegates from all over Michigan. Those in attendance included Regional Director, Tom Lucas, MSA President Richard Fry and Vice President Mike Marshburn; Chapter representatives were Art Smith and Jerry Shea from Detroit; Willis Anderson, Flint; Denis Moncion, Al Kochanowski, and Hal Sibley from Grand Rapids; Ron Lincoln and Marc Rueter from Ann Arbor; Jim Morrow from Lansing; Robert Stow from Traverse City; Lee Austin from Saginaw, Fran Rutz from the Upper Peninsula; Rick Wordell and Brad Gornick from Kalamazoo; Robert Greager former Regional Director and candidate for AIA Vice President; Tina Bassett, the AIA public member from Detroit; and Rae Dumke, Hon. AIA, MSA.

The Grassroots program is a leadership conference for the elected component officers and stresses the importance of architects being involved in the profession and impact you have on your community and legislative body. This years program was extended because of the Accent on Architecture and the involvement of the Prince of Wales and the Search for Shelter Program nationally.

MSA REGIONAL GOAL 1990

MIKE MARSHBURN, AIA

Since the Michigan State Board of Licensing and Regulation for Architects has now decided to enforce a previously neglected need for Continuing Education for re-registration and have invited and encouraged the Michigan Society of Architects to formulate and suggest a recommendation for Continuing Education, and since our Society and our local Chapters have declared a need to promote greater participation of all ages and levels of our membership, we have decided that our 1990 goal will be to take a pro-active leadership role and to develop a plan of Continuing Education that will focus on the national goals of professional excellence, influence, and membership. This plan will:

- 1) Facilitate re-licensing standards
- 2) Promote participation in Society events
- 3) Provide a service to our members
- 4) Attract new, and retain existing, members
- 5) Encourage participation of all allied professionals in providing programs

This goal was presented to the Grassroots 1990 Washington, D.C. on February 21, 1990.

THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS

THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS IS UNDER ATTACK AND FACES THE REAL THREAT OF PASSING OUT OF EXISTENCE! The National Endowment for the Arts is up for reauthorization this year. That means the House and Senate will vote on whether the NEA should continue to exist. A massive effort is underway from the conservative right to abolish the NEA. An office has been opened in Washington, D.C. to accomplish just that! YOUR SENATOR AND REPRESENTATIVE NEED TO HEAR FROM YOU! They have been getting a lot of mail from the small minority that wants to do away with Federal funding for the arts. IT IS TIME FOR THOSE WHO SUPPORT THE ARTS TO SPEAK UP! Write your Senator and Representative and make the following points: (1) urge their support for the reauthorization of the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA), the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), and the Institute for Museum Services (IMS), (2) request they support reauthorization without any restrictive language, and (3) urge they support President Bush's increased appropriations for the NEA, NEH, and the IMS. In supporting your request, you may make the following points: (1) by investing in the NEA, the country invests in a more creative America, (2) in 25 years of existence, the NEA has awarded almost 85,000 grants, only 25 of which have ever been called into question, (3) NEA grants require at least a one-to-one match and as much as a three-to-one, a significant indicator of community support for the program. Emphasize that you support the panel review process as it stands. The demise of the NEA will surely affect arts funding in Michigan. Assert your own power. Take a leadership position: write your Senator and Representative today and encourage all friends of the arts to do the same. Our elected officials need to hear from each of us. Speak Out for the Arts!

ARCHITECTURE EXHIBIT

The Huron Valley Chapter of the American Institute of Architects sponsored a hands-on exhibition on architecture at the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum April 3 - May 13.

The Museum hosted this special exhibit in celebration of National Science and Technology Week, April 22-28 and Michigan Science and Technology Month.

The exhibit explored the architectural elements of form, color, texture, proportion, scale, structure, graphics and viewpoint in separate exhibit units.

Visitors entered the area through a large arched portal to explore each exhibit element through a variety of hands-on activities. For example, a young visitor to the Museum could use the tools of the architect to create an architectural drawing of his own or use large pieces of soft matting to experiment with proportion.

A center pavilion focused on the interconnection among all the elements of architectural design. Local firms including Quinn/Evans Architects, Corporate Design Group, Anderson Jacobs Architects, Lincoln Poley Architect, Architects 4, Hobbs & Black and Fredrick H. Herrmann Associates contributed to the design of the exhibition. Plans are also being discussed to make this into a traveling exhibition which would travel to other Michigan museums. For more information contact Ron Lincoln (313) 663-4189 or the Hands-on Museum at (313) 995-5437.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS

The SMACNA-MSA annual drafting competition is again fast approaching. Watch for information and entry forms in the mail soon. Awards will be held during the 75th Annual Convention in Detroit.

In addition, all Associates and Young Architects - Watch for information on the new annual White Water Rafting Trip/Falling Water Tour being tentatively planned for late summer and the Design Conference on September 14th-15th.

VISION 2000 VIDEOTAPE

As we embark upon the last decade of the twentieth century, it is appropriate to reflect upon the progress we've made in preparing our profession for the next century through the Institute's Vision 2000 program. Its research... highlighted in a videotape...was designed to help our members assess and respond positively to societal change. Michigan hosted a Vision 2000 program last Fall.

To help, Vision 2000 and Component Affairs staff have developed a Grassroots '90 presentation to demonstrate the integration of trends research and analysis and the 1990 AIA Long-Range Plan into the component planning process. The video is part of a tool kit of techniques and products that components can use to design long-range and strategic plans in support of our joint goals...our visions for marketing and influence, professional excellence, and membership.

To borrow a copy call Michigan Society of Architects at (313) 965-4100.

HARVARD ARCHITECTURE

Harvard Architecture Review No. 9: a journal of architectural research is dedicated to the question of whether and how architecture may be practiced as a research discipline. The editors are soliciting theoretical papers, built or proposed projects, manifestos and architectural investigations of all types for presentation in the Review and for discussion at tow fall symposia. The symposia will be held in New York October 6, and Cambridge, Massachusetts, October 13, 1990, and are co-sponsored by Storefront for Art and Architecture. Deadline for consideration of proposals is June 1, 1990. All materials must be 8-1/2" X 11, and are not returnable. Please address all enquiries to: Editors, Harvard Architecture Review 9, Harvard Graduate School of Design, 48 Quincy Street, Cambridge, MA 02138. Tel: (617) 495-5085 or 495-2591. ## LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Rae:

Thank you for volunteering at WDET during our recent fundraiser, Spring For It! The American Institute of Architects made a difference in our pledge room and we appreciate your help.

Spring For It was very successful. There were 5,554 pledges totaling $ 263,018. This represents the best Spring on-air drive WDET has ever had. Our staff is being kept very busy now with all the checks, money orders and charges that pour in daily.

I will be forwarding a copy of our next Program Guide to you, which mentions the contributions of all WDET Pledge Partners and food and beverage donors. I expect the May/June guide to be here by the end of April.

I hope your time at WDET was pleasant and that you'll all come back. When the dates of our next fundraiser are set, I'll be in touch with you to participate again.

In the meantime, feel free to call me with any questions, ideas or comments you may have.

Thanks again for your valuable assistance to WDET-FM.

Sincerely,

Judy Donlin
Membership Director, WDET-FM

HOMELESS SHELTER

The UofD School of Architecture was recently awarded a certificate of appreciation for service to the community by the Reverend Ann Johnson of the Eastside Emergency Center Inc. of Detroit. It was awarded to the students of Professor Daniel L. Faoro's second year design studio for their work on the design of a new homeless shelter for ERCI. Leonard Enz, Clifford Cushard, James Jacobs, James Keefer, Peter Luzwick, and Adam Brill attended a luncheon sponsored by EECI. Dean Bruno Leon and Marc Stepp, Director of Urban and Community Affairs also received awards. Mr Faoro has been appointed to serve on the Board of Directors of the Eastside Emergency Center Inc. of Detroit. The editors of the University of Illinois school of Architecture Journal, "Reflections" has asked him to submit his paper "Views On Architectural Education" for publication next fall.
