MSA BYLAWS AMENDMENTS

*Gene Hopkins, AIA
MSA Secretary*

As Secretary of the Michigan Society of Architects, one of my responsibilities is to maintain the Bylaws. Earlier this year President Marshburn requested that this task be fulfilled since the Bylaws had not been revised since 1987. Also providing further incentive was AIA National's proposed membership category changes which were approved at the 1991 National Convention.

I bring the following to your attention because the MSA Board would like to raise these issues during the Business Meeting at the Convention for your approval. If approved, the changes will be incorporated into the Bylaws as amendments.

The following is a brief synopsis of the proposed changes to the MSA Bylaws:

1. Article 2, MEMBERSHIP regarding classifications.

Title "Architect Member" shall be used by a licensed architect who has met the qualifications set forth in the Institute Bylaws and assigned to a chapter in the State of Michigan.

Title "Member Emeritus" is unchanged from the original Bylaws.

Title "Intern Member" is a new category for individuals that are a graduate from an accredited school of architecture on a licensure track.

Title "Associate Member" shall be used by individuals without architectural licenses and who are ineligible for intern membership.

Title "Non-Resident Member" is a category that has been redefined to include an individual who is registered to practice architecture in the State of Michigan, but whose residence or place of business is outside the United States. This individual will have the same rights and privileges as an Architect Member.

Title "Unassigned Member" is a new membership category for Architect Members, Intern, or Associate Members whose residence and or place of business is outside the State of Michigan and who desires to have a membership in a chapter in the State of Michigan. Under this membership category the member shall have no voting rights at any meeting of the Society.

Title "Professional Affiliate Member" is unchanged from the original Bylaws.

Title "Honorary Affiliate Member" is unchanged from the original Bylaws.

2. Article 3, DUES, FEES AND ASSESSMENTS.

Changes made here relate to providing a dues structure for the new membership classifications in Article 2 above.

3. The inclusion of a new Article 10, INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTOR'S, OFFICER'S AND OTHER PERSON'S.

"To the full extent permitted by law the Society shall indemnify director's, officer's, employee's, and commission and committee members against reasonable expenses incurred in connection with an action suite or preceding." This revision was recommended by National and is a part of the AIA ByLaws.

Another item that is being discussed, but has reached no conclusion, is a modification to the schedule for the election of a Regional Director. The current Bylaws state that the Regional Director shall be elected at the Fall Convention. Previous Regional Directors and current Director Tom Lucas, FAIA have indicated that this is too late in the year and does not allow the Michigan Regional Director time to be known at the National level for consideration to committee appointments for the following year. Also over the past few years, the MSA has had the privilege to have the AIA First Vice President/President Elect for the upcoming year attend the Mid-Summer conference. It is desired to have this precedent continue and it is felt that the election of the Regional Director be held at the Mid-Summer Conference allowing time for the incoming President and the Regional Director to get acquainted.

Copies of the proposed revised Bylaws can be obtained from MSA Headquarters. If you have any questions regarding the proposed Bylaw revisions please contact me at (313) 769-9444 or Rae Dumke, Hon. AIA at (313)965-4100.

HIGHLIGHTS

Paul Bowers, FAIA, Chairman

Arthur Erickson Hon., FAIA and the 1986 AIA Gold Medalist from Vancouver will keynote the convention on Thursday morning. Erickson's major works include the Canadian Embassy, Washington DC; Roy Thomson Orchestra Hall, Robson Square and Simon Fraser University, Toronto Ontario; Law Courts, Vancouver BC; Convention Center, San Diego, CA. and two universities in Saudi Arabia.

After the keynote, Erickson will participate in two conversations facilitated by Jim Franklin, FAIA, Resident Fellow AIA on design and other topics of interest to convention attendees. If you have heard Jim Franklin before, you know these will be lively and informative conversations. Erickson is sponsored by Steelcase.

In keeping with our community goal of creating a "World Center For Office Environments" in the West Michigan area, Dave Lathrup of Steelcase will speak on "Icebergs, Inequalities and the Nature of Work" and Tom Newhouse, designer of the Newhouse Group by Herman Miller will talk on "Can We Be 'Green' in the Environment and Still Make a Living".

On Friday afternoon, Phillip Markwood, FAIA jury chairman of the design awards program, will discuss the design awards with presentations made in the evening.

Many other presentations round out the technical, management and marketing tracks of the program: "Fresh Presentation Tools...For Convincing Even The Most Non-conceptual Clients", "Mackinac Island Rooming House Fire Case Study", "Financing The Bridgewater Office Complex In These Economic Times", "HVAC: Current trends and Technology", "School Audio Visual Electronic Systems", "Can You Afford To Ignore Your Drawing Records?", and there will be panel presentations by the Professional Practice and the Women in Architecture Committee.

We look forward to seeing you in October, not only for these great programs, but for fun, food and fellowship.

ARTHUR ERICKSON, HON. FAIA

After graduating from McGill University in Montreal, Arthur Erickson was awarded scholarships to travel in Europe, the Middle East, Japan and Southeast Asia. Since establishing Erickson Massey in 1963 and then his present firm, Arthur Erickson Architects in 1972, Erickson has done numerous large-scale projects including the Canadian Chancery in Washington, D.C., a symphony hall in Toronto, the Simon Fraser University campus in British Columbia and Vancouver's Robson Square - government offices, a courthouse and an art gallery. He has won the Gold Medal for achievement in architecture from the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada and Academic Francaise d'Architecture and the American Institute of Architects.

LICENSING RENEWAL UPDATE

Effective with the renewals mailed in August 1991, the department of Licensing & Regulation in Lansing is going to implement a split of the licensing files for professional engineers, architects, and land surveyors. This change will allow a more even workload within the builders/design board unit and improve their ability to handle renewals for these professions.

To accomplish the split, renewals for this year will be divided equally with one-half of each professional receiving a one year renewal and one-half a two year renewal. Once the split is achieved, both groups will receive two year licenses in subsequent renewals. Those persons who receive the initial one year license will be charged a reduced fee to reflect the shorter initial license period. The split of the license files will be done by the computer and we will not be able to accommodate request from licensees for placement in one group or the other.

This change will not increase fees paid by the professions.

LICENSING DISCIPLINARY ACTION

The Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation Bureau of Commercial Services has placed disciplinary action on Joseph Roisman, dba Josef Roisman Architects Group, Inc. for engaging in practice without a license. Mr. Roisman was fined $5,000 on 6/24/91.

MASONRY "M AWARDS"

The 1991 Architectural Awards program for Masonry Design, co-sponsored by the Michigan Society of Architects (MSA) and the Masonry Institute of Michigan (MIM) has been initiated with the Mid-July mailing of the registration forms. To encourage excellence in masonry design, MIM and MSA announces its Seventeenth Annual Honor Awards Program for current work. Awards will be given for distinguished accomplishment in Architecture by Members of the Michigan Society of Architects for any building or project completed since May 1, 1988. Registration forms along with a fee ($50.00 per exhibit) is due October 11, 1991. The deadline for receipt of all submissions is November 27, 1991 with judging scheduled in December by three prominent architects from a major city outside Michigan. Winners will be announced at the Annual Masonry Awards Banquet, scheduled for March 1992. Cast bronze "M Award" plaques will be presented to the MSA Architects, Owner and MIM Member Mason Contractor of each winning project. To obtain a registration form and a copy of the rules, please contact the Masonry Institute of Michigan at (313) 458-8544.

NRCA BULLETIN 15-91

The AIA supports the National Roofing Contractors Association's (NRCA) new bulletin regarding steel-deck corrosion. Bulletin 15-91 states that when steel roof decks are specified, the NRCA recommends the building designer specify the decking be factory galvanized or factory coated with aluminum zinc alloy for corrosion protection. When specifying galvanized protection, the designer should specify a coating compliant with ASTM A 525 Class G-60 or Class G-90. When specifying aluminum zinc alloy protection, the designer should specify a coating compliant with ASTM A 792. For free copies of the bulletin write: NRCA, O'Hare International Center, 10255 W. Higgins Rd., Ste. 600, Rosemont, Ill. 60018.

D-DOT/DBE

The Detroit Department of Transportation's Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Program (D-DOT/DBE) provides support by recipients of D.O.T. funds to firms owned and controlled by disadvantaged group persons. D-DOT/DBE has been developed to ensure federal regulations are carried out.

A required component of the DBE Program is to send notices of Invitation for Bids, Request for Proposals, and Request for Quotes to trade organizations in the metropolitan area such as the AIA.

Members of the AIA wishing to join the program may receive a DBE certification package by contacting Lisa M. Glover, Office of Contract Compliance, Detroit Department of Transportation, 1301 E. Warren, Detroit, Michigan 48202, (313)833-5521.

All companies successfully completing the DBE certification process will be contained in D-DOT's DBE Directory (the alphabetical list of disadvantaged business enterprises capable of providing goods and services to the Detroit Department of Transportation).

HEALTH CARE UPDATE

The Michigan State Medical Society has a new health care document to allow you to appoint someone else to make your health care decisions for you if you become incapacitated. The "Patient Advocate" form, approved by the State Bar of Michigan, the Michigan State Medical Society, the Michigan Hospital Association and the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, is a do-it-yourself form. Rates to members of the AIA: 45 cents for 50-99 or 40 cents for 100 or more. Individual orders of 2 copies is $2.00. Price includes brochures. Make checks to Patient Advocate, PO Box 950, East Lansing, MI, 48826.

GRAPEVINE

The 1991 AIA Salary Report for Architectural Design Firms published results on August 16, 1991. According to the survey, full time architectural firm employees have decreased 5% since 1988, reporting most of the decline in intern-architect and technical staff positions. However, the survey also reports that average wage for architectural employees has just about kept up with inflation. OBITUARIES

Malcom M. Williams, AIA-E, architect and artist died this past April. Mr. Williams, a retired partner in the Warren Holmes Company, was former president of the Lansing Community Art Gallery, past president of the board of directors of Camp High Fields (a camp for troubled boys), chairman of the Metropolitan Lansing Fine Arts Council, advisor and architect (under Warren Holmes Company) for many of East Lansing's Educational facilities and also served on the faculty of Michigan State University early in his career.

Adrian "Gus" Langius, FAIA-E, former state architect and assistant director of the Michigan Department of Administration and past president of the MSA died this summer. He had been head of the State of Michigan's building division for more than 32 of his 41 year career with the state. A graduate of the University of Michigan and recipient of its Sesquicentennial Award, Gus was past president of the Western Michigan chapter of the AIA and past director of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers. His long standing with the AIA earned him a status of fellowship in 1952.

Kenneth C. Black, FAIA-E, MSA past president, died August 3, 1991. Mr. Black served as Director of the Detroit Chapter and the Great Lakes Region of the AIA and as the Director of the Michigan Engineering Society. He was a member of the Michigan Academy of Arts, Science and Literature and the Michigan Association of Professionals. Mr. Black was a University of Michigan graduate where he later designed the School of Business Administration. He established the firm of Kenneth C. Black Associates in 1958.

Victor Specht, Hon., MSA died on May 28, 1991 after a long illness.

He was active for many years on the Mid-Summer Conference committee.

Michael Richard Hodges, ASLA died on June 10, 1991 at the age of 51. Professor Hodges, was a registered architect in the United Kingdom and past president of the Michigan Chapter of Landscape Architects. He was the founder of the Gamma Chapter of the Society of Sigma Lambda Alpha (SLA).
