PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

by Steve Whitney, AIA
1992 AIA Michigan President

In the last issue, I discussed some goals and objectives we hope to accomplish in 1992. Since then, the other members of the board and I have discussed further issues we would like to share with you.

A. Rebuild the Annual State Convention as a dynamic source of information and revenue.

1. Build alliances with related professional groups.

AIA Michigan and the Metropolitan Detroit chapter of the Construction Specifications Institute (CSI) will combine their fall events for 1992. The Society's Annual State Convention and the CSI Product Showcase traditionally occur within a few weeks of each other, and both rely upon many of the same vendors to participate. As a result, each show tends to weaken the other. Our goal is to create a strong show and to have both organizations profit.

The combined event will be called The Design and Construction Expo '92. The dates are October 29-30, 1992, at the Dearborn Hyatt Hotel. This event will include the Society's 1992 Convention, which Carl Roehling, AIA has agreed to chair. Those of you who know Carl also know that he is a wealth of innovative ideas. That, coupled with his dedication and energy level virtually assure that this will be a very special event.

Larry Horning, AIA has accepted Carl's offer to chair the Exhibit Committee along with Larry Raymond, AIA representing CSI and Mike Mosley, AIA representing AIA Michigan.

2. Promote exceptional professional development and continuing education opportunities.

Mike Marshburn, AIA in addition to serving as Past President of the Society, wants to work very closely on Continuing Education and Professional Development. The program portion of Expo '92 will be one way in which he hopes to help present some outstanding programs for our members.

Mike will be working closely with Norm Hamann, AIA who has accepted Carl Roehling's offer to chair the Program Committee. Carl and Norm envision an array of programs which will be appealing not only to Architects, but also Engineers, Landscape Architects, Interior Designers, Marketing Professionals, Vendors and Contractors.

3. Develop continuity of convention leadership to build upon previous success.

Like the committees for the Annual Mid-Summer Conference on Mackinac Island and the Annual Design Conference at Torch Lake, the Convention Committee needs continuity from year to year.

Carl Roehling was heavily involved in the Program Committee for the 1990 Convention and, therefore, brings a good background to his new assignment.

B. Continue support to further build the annual Design Conference

1. Maintain low cost for young professionals.

Dick Fry, AIA, introduced the concept of the design conference to Michigan following his attendance at one in California. This provides an ideal opportunity for young professionals to get away for a weekend to view and discuss current architectural examples and to have a lot of fun in a picturesque location. A key to assuring their ability to participate is to make sure that the cost remains low. Dick has agreed to chair this event again for the third year and has a number of ideas which will not only make it even better, but will keep it affordable as well.

After attending the Second Annual Design Conference at Torch Lake myself, its not just the young professionals that should go, but the not-so-young professionals will have a great time too.

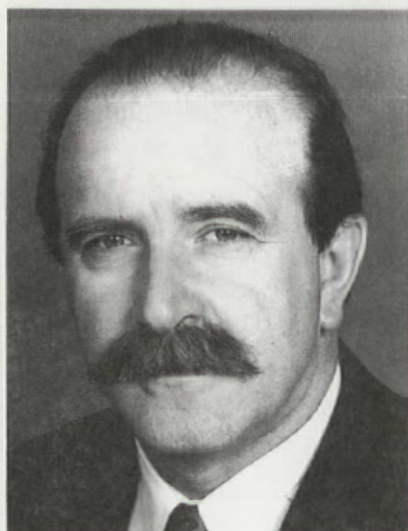

2. Assure participation by all chapters.

One of our objectives for 1992 is to make sure that the 16 projects which are presented at the Design Conference include at least one from each of the ten chapters. This will make the event more representative of the entire state and provide for a much better exchange of ideas. Dick is working on this concept as well.

We will continue to do our best to keep you informed of the society's focus and direction.

CANDIDATE'S PROFILES

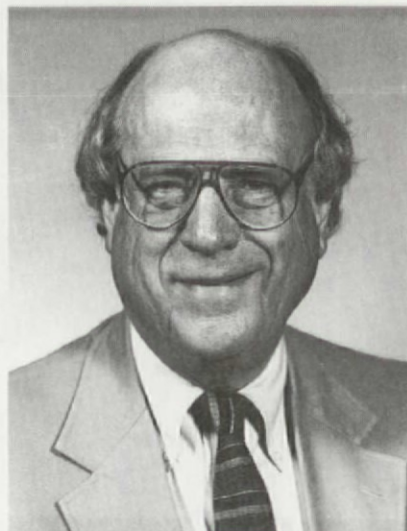

In the last issue, we announced the completion of the term of AIA Michigan's Regional Director, Tom Lucas, FAIA. Three candidates have been nominated. Following is a brief profile of each.

Fry, AIA Ltd. with offices in Ann Arbor, MI and Aspen, CO. He served as Adjunct Professor of Architecture at the University of Michigan and has special interest in historical adaptive re-use. He has been recognized by the Historical Society of Michigan for the Heydon Buildings, received the "M" Award from the Masonry Institute for the Michigan League renovations, and has won design awards from AIA Michigan for the Ann Arbor Central Fire Station and Gilbert Residence.

Dick is the 1991 AIA Michigan Past President and a Past President of the Huron Valley Chapter. For AIA Michigan, Fry is a member of the State Licensing Committee, The AIA Michigan Past President's Advisory Committee, State Fire Marshall Schools Committee, Mid Summer Conference Committee and Chair of the Design Retreat Committee (which was established by him) and Chairs the Design Awards and Recognitions Committee. Professionally he started in small practices in Jackson, followed by experience in the offices of Giffels & Associates, Yamasaki, Leinweber and Hellmuth and the Joint venture of Saarinen, Yamasaki and Stonorov. After becoming an associate in the office of Meathe, Kessler and Associates, Karl entered private practice and simultaneously began his career as an architectural educator. After a decade as a faculty member and Associate Dean of Architecture at the University of Detroit he became the Dean of the College of Architecture and Design at Lawrence Technological University.

Beyond practicing and teaching, he has been a Director and President of the Detroit Chapter and a Director of the MSA. Professionally, he has chaired numerous committees, most notably those dealing with Professional Practice. Nationally, Karl has chaired the Architects in Education Committee, The Walter Wagner Forum, is the Academic Advisor to AIAS, and has been chair of the NCARB Master Jurors Committee twice.

He has chaired nearly a dozen seminars, conferences and meetings intended to bring the world of the Academy and our profession into closer and more harmonious alliance.

Tincknell joined the firm of Wigen Tincknell Meyer & Associates and became a partner in the firm in 1963. He is currently serving as Chairman of the Board.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Tincknell is Vice Chairman of the Alumni Board there. He has been a member of the Boards of the local art museum, symphony, church and civic organizations.

COMMITTEE REPORT STATE LICENSING

by F. Graham Dickens, AIA
Chair, AIA Michigan State Licensing
Committee

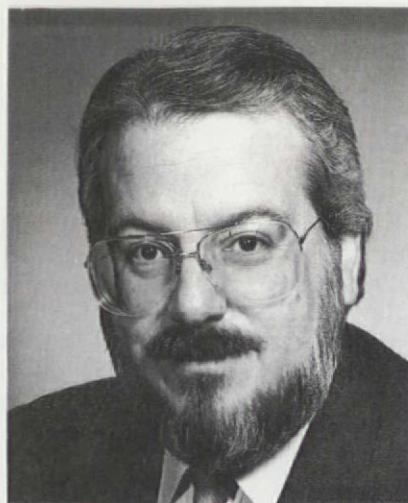

The 1991 AIA Michigan President Mike Marshburn, AIA formed the State Licensing Committee to provide direction and coordination between various state chapters and AIA Michigan. Under the presidency of Steve Whitney, AIA, the Committee has been formed and is already having an impact in three critical areas related to the practice of architecture: Professional Practice, Interior Design Licensing and Self Regulation.

Professional Practice, chaired by Ben Tiseo, AIA, is an issue that is crucial to the continuation of our profession. We are not only watching and acting upon illegal or unlicensed activity, we are also attempting to strengthen the ability of the government and the profession to clamp down on violators. Several new complaints have been filed and this task force is committed to securing the ability of architects to practice as required by law.

Interior Design Licensing is chaired by Tony Foust, AIA and is currently monitoring activity in the legislature. With the current mood of government to reduce legislative control, it is unlikely that the proposed legislation will proceed very far in this session of government.

The Self Regulation Task Force chaired by Rocco Romano, AIA is charged with investigating the possibility of taking over some of the tasks previously assigned to the department of licensing and regulation. It is not the intent of this task force or AIA Michigan to disband the Bureau of Occupational and Professional Registration. This thrust is to augment the services currently provided and add them to the enactment of existing legislation with regard to the practice of architecture.

More information will be forthcoming in the next few months from the State Licensing Committee and its Task Forces. As we begin to formulate plans of action.

RECEPTION TO HONOR DENNIS KING, FAIA

Dennis King, FAIA, President of Harley Ellington Pierce Yee Associates, Inc., has just been named to the College of Fellows by National AIA.

Dennis King is a Past President of AIA Detroit and has been an AIA member since 1974. King chaired the AIA Detroit Long Range Planning and Public Relations Committees and presently serves on National AIA Public Awareness Network. He is also an active member with the Engineering Society of Detroit and the Professional Services Management Association. He serves on the Zoning Board of Appeals for Huntington Woods, where he provided important planning guidance for city plaza and playground projects. He was appointed by the mayor to the city's Cable Advisory Board. King is an active fundraiser for the Detroit Symphony, the Institute of Arts and the Michigan College Foundation.

One of the highest forms of recognition awarded to an individual architect, Fellowship is a lifetime honor bestowed for notable contributions to the advancement of the profession of architecture. One hundred and twenty-three Fellows, including King, will be invested at the 1992 AIA National Convention in Boston, June 20, 1992. King is the only architect from Michigan to receive Fellowship designation this year.

AIA Michigan will host a reception in his honor on June 4, 1992 at the Beaubien House at 5:00 -7:00 p.m. All members are invited to share in the celebration.

DELEGATES TO AIA CONVENTION

The 1992 AIA national convention and design exposition will be held in Boston, June 19-22 at the Hynes Convention Center. The theme is Exploration '92 Engaging Society in Vital Ways. AIA Michigan has designated the Eliot Suite as interim headquarters.

You all received the 53 page program booklet from National which contains a registration form and a list of convention activities. Michigan members attending are invited to attend a breakfast at the Sheraton Boston Hotel and Towers on Saturday, June 20 at 7:30 a.m. Members wishing to serve as delegates at their own expense may inquire with their chapter. Detroit chapter members wishing to serve as delegates should contact Chapter headquarters prior to June 1st. All delegates are required to stay through the entire convention, as voting is through noon on Monday, June 22.

AIA REFERRAL NETWORK UPDATE

The AIA Referral Network employment data base program, now just over a year old, is being reorganized in order to develop an improved and more responsive service for the AIA membership and the profession.

National will establish a centralized data base which employers may use to make broad searches for applicants who match their specific requirements, particularly special combinations of talents that may not be available locally.

For details, send name and address to the AIA Referral Network at AIA Headquarters, 1735 New York Ave., NW, Washington, D.C. 20006 or call (800)242-6381.
