AIA MICHIGAN • A SOCIETY OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS

Volume 26, Number 1

February 2002

Goals and Initiatives Launched for 2002

In January of each year, the presidents and vice presidents of each of the 10 AIA chapters in Michigan meet with the AIA Michigan Board to discuss the organization and function of the Society and explore various issues. This gathering of nearly 40 architects from across the state was joined by two of the Deans of Schools of Architecture in Michigan – Lawrence Technological University and University of Detroit Mercy – and the leadership of the Michigan Architectural Foundation. In addition to the wide variety of reports and discussions, the Second Annual Issues Forum was held to identify the core issues of concern to AIA members from all chapters.

I will provide a summary of the Issues Forum in this space in the next Bulletin.

As a Board, we discussed with chapter leadership the specific goals and initiatives for AIA Michigan in 2002. Five goals are targeted as follows:

1. Initiate revenue sharing with the chapters

Under the vision and leadership of Gene Hopkins, FAIA and now Gary Skog, FAIA, the Finance Committee has provided fiscal restraint and debt reduction. As a result, this year we will target $500 grants to all chapters to assist with chapter attendance at the National Grassroots Leadership Conference in Washington, DC. It is a terrific event and an opportunity to build future chapter leadership.

2. Roll out the K-5 curriculum program to all chapters

Rocco Romano, AIA and his committee have created a wonderful program introducing architecture and design concepts to elementary school children. This thematic teaching tool will be made available at no cost to all school districts and all AIA chapters in Michigan. What a terrific way to get architects involved in their local schools, and to build a future of intelligent clients and users, as well as architects! We really hope you all will participate.

3. Enhance our proactive posture on Legislative issues

The Government Affairs Committee, under Barry Wood, AIA and Ben Tiseo, AIA, will assist every chapter in hosting a "Meet your Legislator" event to help increase our political effectiveness on issues important to our practice, and the public health, safety and welfare. Under the heading of "all politics is local," we hope to energize chapter members to meet and get to know their legislators through these events, and to open a dialogue on the issues which affect our profession and our ability to serve the public. Please participate in these events.

4. Build the AIA Michigan website

We are fortunate to have Mike Mosley, AIA as our AIAM "webmaster." He will work with the chapters to make our website (www.aiami.com) more relevant and effective for all members. While we enjoy a high level of "hits" (traffic) on our site, we need your input on links and information that you need on our website, and hope that you are reading this issue of the Bulletin on the Web. We want to make it better and more user-friendly.

MICHIGAN NEWS

Michigan Sets Pace on the National Scene

5. Restructure our agreement with MAF

The Michigan Architectural Foundation, under the leadership of Phil Lundwall, FAIA, is ready to grow. This year we will re-negotiate its structure (remember, you are all members) to facilitate its effectiveness in fundraising and grant giving, and to broaden its effectiveness in promoting architecture to the public.

There is one final and special goal for the year 2002. As many of you know, Gene Hopkins, FAIA from the Huron Valley Chapter, is running for national AIA first vice president. That means he would become president of AIA in 2004. He is a terrific candidate who has served AIA Michigan for a dozen years, and he needs your support.

You can help elect Gene as 2004 AIA president by voting for him at the convention in Charlotte this May, by making sure that all votes in your chapter are cast for Gene, and by telling your friends around the country what a great job he can do for AIA.

Those of us who know Gene well, know that he has the talent, the desire and the Michigan work ethic to be an outstanding president.

With your help, we can work together to meet all of these goals for 2002. Along with our board of directors, I will enjoy working with you!

-Tim Casai, FAIA

Chapter Notes

Huron Valley Honors David Esau

David Esau, AIA, was named Young Architect of the Year for 2002 by the Huron Valley chapter of the AIA. Esau is firm principal at Cornerstone Design Inc., Ann Arbor. His design project include the recent expansion of the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum, the renovation of Arbordale Apartments for Avalon Housing, and the new United Bank & Trust branch in Dexter. He recently completed five years on the AIAHV chapter board and edits the chapter newsletter. Esau serves on the Ann Arbor Area Chamber of Commerce and the Ann Arbor Area Arts Alliance.

Innovation Celebration Slated for April 25

The 2002 Innovation Celebration Banquet, sponsored by the Construction Innovation Forum, is scheduled for Thursday, April 25 at the Laurel Manor in Livonia. This annual event honors winners of the NOVA Award, which recognizes innovations that have improved the quality or cost efficiency of construction.

NATIONAL NEWS

Michigan Architect Runs for National Office

Huron Valley member Eugene C. Hopkins, FAIA, is a candidate for first vice president/president-elect of the American Institute of Architects. If elected, he will become president of AIA in 2004.

Hopkins is founding principal of Architects Four, Inc., a small firm specializing in Historic Preservation, and an AIA Honor Award recipient. He is currently partner of SmithGroup, Inc., a national multi-disciplinary firm.

He is a past president of AIAM and AIA Huron Valley Chapter. Hopkins also served as AIAM Finance Committee Chair.

NCARB

Monograph Updated and Revised

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards recently revised and updated the first of its monograph series, Energy-Conscious Architecture. The monograph investigates technical and institutional issues affecting energy-conscious design. It also discusses energy basics and the first and second law of thermodynamics and their application to architecture. Successful completion of the quiz earns 10 AIA Learning Units in health, safety and welfare. Cost is $125 for NCARB record holders.

For information on this or other monographs, contact the NCARB at (202) 783-6500, or visit www.ncarb.org/publications.

AIAM Seeks Fellow Nominations

Advancement to Fellowship is one of the highest honors the American Institute can bestow upon a member. It recognizes achievements of the architect as an individual, and elevates before the public and the profession a model architect who has made a significant contribution to architecture and society.

Members who wish to be considered or to recommend other members for Fellowship should contact the AIA Michigan. Please forward the member's name and support for consideration based on the criteria for election to the College of Fellows.

To recommend a nominee, contact Robert Ziegelman at (248) 644-0600, or call AIAM at (313) 965-4100.

For detailed information on the fellowship nomination process, visit the AIA Web site at www.aia.org, or phone Robin Lee, (202) 626-7300.
