I AM AIA LAS VEGAS MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

I am a member of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) because... I believe that architects make a difference in the world. I feel strongly that our profession is at a very critical period where the decisions we make on a daily basis have a lasting effect on the environment and on our quality of life.

I waited 25 years to fulfill my lifelong dream of becoming a licensed architect and now that I am going into my 6th year as a Green Building Consultant with GRN Vision, the firm I co-founded with my great friend Dave Ray in 2014, I am very proud to call myself an architect and equally proud that I followed my passion for sustainable design and took the leap to make a living of it. I will continue to work on community-based design projects that address homelessness, affordable housing and historic preservation as I have for many years, and I plan to be a vocal advocate for these issues as well as for resilient design and urban planning solutions to address the threat of climate change and extreme heat in southern Nevada.

What is the most important thing you've learned? The single most important thing I've learned in my professional career is to always be honest, including when I've royally screwed up. Owning up to my mistakes- especially to clients- and doing it immediately has served me well many times and I believe has resulted in a lot of return customers and long term friendships over the years.

What is your favorite piece of architecture? Why? The piece of architecture that has inspired me the most is the Alhambra in Granada Spain. The Arab influenced design responds perfectly to the warm climate and every detail was designed to be a meditative, sensory experience.

Where will you be in 20 years? Teaching public interest architecture at UNLV, writing books and traveling the world with my grandkids.

What person, living or dead, would you most like to talk with? Woody Guthrie

How can architects provide "value add" to their clients? By delivering high performance green buildings as a matter of course.

What do you believe needs to be the next area of innovation in our profession? Net zero energy and regenerative buildings

How do you think the profession will evolve in the next 5-10 years? We will become much more diverse and the current generation of young architects will integrate sustainability into daily practice

HEY... WE'RE HERE!

AIA Las Vegas and AIA Nevada have moved to a great new location in the Arts District. The offices are beautiful, spacious and function so effectively for us...BUT... no one knows we are here. Our façade does not announce our presence. We would like to identify our location and announce to the community that we are here as a part of the Arts District.

AIA NEVADA EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
Jennifer Turchin, AIA	President
Mike Andersen, AIA	Secretary/Treasurer
Dwayne Eshenbaugh, AIA	AIA LV President
Audrey De La Cruz, AIA	AIA NN President
Jon Sparer, FAIA	Past President
Randy Lavigne, Hon. AIA	Executive Director
COMMITTEE CHAIRS AND ADVISORS
Maggie Will, Assoc. AIA	NN EP Director
Kyle Fischer, AIA	LV EP Director
Dennis Panars, AIA	NCARB Advisor
Chris Lujan, AIA	SGN Representative
Mike Hillerby	Lobbyist

We would welcome your design ideas and suggestions for identifying and enlivening our curb appeal. The full façade measures 51' across the front (door to door), with a 13' high overhang. Overhang itself measures 4' x 51'. IF you would like to provide your ideas for identifying our offices, please send them to me at rlavigne@aianeveda.org Of course, any changes to the façade would have to be approved by the building owners.

We just returned from the AIA Western Mountain Region Conference “Resonance” in Jackson, Wyoming where AIA Las Vegas and AIA Nevada was well represented. I had the privilege of jurying and announcing the 2019 WMR Honor Awards this year and was pleased to announce Chris Lujan, AIA as recipient of the WMR AIA IO Award (formerly known as Young Architect Award), and Carpenter Sellers Del Gatto Architects as recipient of the WMR Firm Award. PUNCH Architecture received a Design Honor Award for their “Nevada Battle Born Memorial” project located in Carson City, Nevada. The AIA WMR Twenty-Five Year Award went to the Restaurant and Gallery Complex at the Sonoran Desert Museum in Tucson, Arizona by Line and Space and the AIA WMR Silver Medal was awarded to John P. Sparno, FAIA, Principal of Sparano + Mooney Architecture in Salt Lake City, Utah. We enjoyed celebrating these individual and team accomplishments after the ceremony concluded and just know there will be more to celebrate in the years to come. AIA Las Vegas is a strong contender in the Western Mountain Region, and I encourage you all to consider submitting for the Honor Awards or Design Awards in the future.

DWAYNE
ESHENBAUGH, AIA

During day one of the WMR Conference, National AIA Director Dan Hart, FAIA shared some developing information about the future of our organization and what has been dubbed as “The BIG Move”. The Big Move Toward Environmental Stewardship is the Institutes reaction to Resolution I9-II that was voted on and passed during the A19 business meeting in Las Vegas, Nevada on June 5, 2019. This resolution marks a bold step forward in positioning the architectural profession as key leaders for climate action and will be the singular focus of our 90,000-member organization moving forward. AIA Las Vegas is sharply aligned with this resolution and will focus its 2020 resources and programs in this direction. Incoming 2020 President Lance Kirk will be announcing more about this in the months to come so stay tuned.

On September 23, 2019, Greta Thunberg became my hero and may just have saved the world. If you have not yet seen her speech to the United Nations on Monday, you must be living under a rock. Please watch and listen to her words and let them inspire you to stop kicking the proverbial can down the road and engage in solving the climate crisis. Here is Greta’s Speech. AIA Nevada will be busy in 2020 preparing for the 2021 Nevada Legislative Session. If you are a Citizen Architect and interested in working with us on Legislative issues relative to affordable housing, climate change, lien law reform, etc., please reach out and join our efforts.

A month has now passed since our August 23 Affordable Housing Design Charrette and our three Affordable Housing teams 1) Multifamily Mixed-Use Housing, 2) Workforce Housing, and 3) Microhousing, are hard at work completing their design solutions in preparation for the October 23rd community presentation at Zappos Theater. More details will be released in the next week or two, but please save the date and join us to review the rigorous work that has been completed over the past two months.

Enjoy the month of October. One of the best months of the year in Las Vegas in my opinion.

BLUEPRINT FOR BETTER: DESIGN SOLUTIONS FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING & HOMELESSNESS

MULTIFAMILY MIXED-USE HOUSING

WORKFORCE HOUSING

MICROHOUSING

Shelter, along with food and clothing, is one of mankind's most basic and essential necessities, and the essential purpose of architecture. Throughout this year, AIA Las Vegas architects and partners in our community have explored the critical issues of affordable housing and homelessness. Now we want to share the results of our research and the solutions created by working collaboratively with those who are committed to solving the issues.

Please join us as we present design solutions for:

Multifamily Mixed-Use Housing

A Residential and Commercial Mix that can provide livability, walkability and affordability

Workforce Housing

Affordable for moderate to middle income workers allowing home ownership or rental to vital workforce centers

Micro-Housing

Small space living solves affordable housing for individuals and developers

AIA WYOMING HOSTED AN EXCELLENT WMR CONFERENCE IN JACKSON HOLE ON SEPTEMBER 18-21, 2019

Our thanks to Executive Director, Susan Menghini and all the AIA Wyoming members for a truly exceptional experience. RESONANCE - "the quality in a sound of being deep, full, and reverberating" - In architecture we find apt analogy to this handy scientific terminology. The depth of the analysis of a site and program lead to the fullness of an architectural response. That response resonates with the occupants of a work of architecture and beyond. Thoughtful architecture enriches the lives of users, of a community, and sets an example for society of the positive influence of a physical environment on the human condition. Resonance in architecture combines an echo of history with a vision of an undiscovered future in perpetuity."

JENNIFER TURCHIN, AIA ELECTED SECRETARY OF WMR COUNCIL.

Our own Jennifer Turchin, AIA, currently President of AIA Nevada, past president of AIA Las Vegas, and member of AIA Las Vegas Board of Directors for the past six years, was elected to the position of Secretary on the AIA Western Mountain Region Council, and will serve a two year term from 2020 – 2021.

PUNCH ARCHITECTURE RECEIVES WMR HONOR AWARD

In the WMR Design Awards program, Punch Architecture of Las Vegas received an Honor Award for the "Battle Born" project. The memorial honors Nevada's fallen veterans and provides a space for calm remembrance. Pictured are Clemente Cicoria, AIA, Drew Gregory and Zak Ostrowski.

DWAYNE ESHENBAUGH SERVES AS JUROR

The WMR Honor Awards Program recognizes significant achievements by AIA WMR members and allies who share the common cause of creating an excellent built environment. Juror's for this year's program included Peggy McDonough Jan, AIA from Utah, Mike Wisneski, AIA from Colorado and Dwayne Eshenbaugh, AIA from Nevada.

CHRIS LUJAN, AIA RECEIVED AIA10 AWARD (WMR YOUNG ARCHITECT AWARD)

Chris Lujan, AIA Associate Principal at TSK Architects was selected to receive the WMR AIA10 Award. This award, previously known as the WMR Young Architect Award, recognizes those individuals who, at an early stage of their architectural career, have shown exceptional leadership in design, education and service to the profession.

CARPENTER SELLERS DELGATTO ARCHITECTS WINS WMR FIRM AWARD.

This award recognizes the continuing collaboration among individuals in a firm who have produced distinguished architecture over a period of at least 10 years, and have made significant contributions to the Institute, the profession and their community and have transcended their local boundaries in making these contributions. This year Carpenter Sellers DelGatto Architects was chosen to receive this award.

JOHN SPARANO, FAIA IS AWARDED THE WMR SILVER MEDAL.

In addition to these awards the jury also selected John Sparano, FAIA to receive the WMR Silver Medal. This is the highest honor that can be awarded to an architect in the region. The 25 Year Award went to the Arizona Sonoran Desert Museum – Restaurant and Gallery Complex by Line & Space, Arizona.

AIA ANNOUNCES BIG MOVE TOWARD ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP

In September, the Institute’s Board of Directors ratified a bold resolution outlining the decisive action the association will take on climate change over the coming decades. Introduced at the 2019 Conference on Architecture in Las Vegas, by Betsy del Monte, FAIA and fifty other members, the resolution is a way of formalizing leadership around climate action in the architectural community, according to AIA CEO Robert Ivy, FAIA. In conjunction with what the AIA has informally nicknamed the “Big Move Toward Environmental Stewardship”, the resolution marks a bold step forward in positioning the architectural profession as key leaders for climate action. It outlines three key areas: declare an urgent climate imperative for carbon reduction; transform the day-to-day built practice of architects to achieve a zero-carbon, equitable, resilient and healthy built environment, and leverage support of peers, clients, policy makers, and the public at large.

Architects have a long history of championing sustainable design, and understand that the residential building sectors are the largest contributors to greenhouse gases in the United States – 39 percent per year, according to the USGBC and time is running out to make the necessary impact to meet key goals in emissions reductions by 2050.

Changing and transforming practice

The biggest component in spearheading a decrease in building emissions going forward will be transforming how architects practice, a major focus of both the resolution and the Big Move. Based around 10 tenets now known as the AIA Framework for Design Excellence (formerly called the COTE Top Ten Measures), the board recognized the holistic nature of the criteria. All ten design elements matter, from water to wellness. However, for the immediate future, particular emphasis will be placed on three: designing for energy, economy and equitable communities. The institute will continue to encourage architects and firms to participate in AIA’s 2030 Commitment and will develop new programs and resources that will support and educate architects in fighting climate change.

In December, the AIA Board of Directors will allocate staff and budget to support the initiative’s high level goals. While the Big Move will guide much of the work of AIA National, they do not reflect a mandate for components.

However, AIA Las Vegas is a progressive component and with the leadership of Lance Kirk, AIA incoming President of the Chapter in 2020, has already determined that climate change is the central focus and theme for our Chapter in 2020 and beyond. Through educational programs and community outreach the Chapter will engage members, firms and the public in the urgency of combating climate change through sustainable design, and will provide members with information and resources to support these efforts. In January the Chapter will provide a kick-off program for the year focused on Climate Change and how architects and all AIA members can actively make a difference.

Stay tuned for further information and updates on the BIG MOVE in Las Vegas!

DOMINIC ARMENDARIZ, ASSOC. AIA RECEIVES THE 2019 JASON PETTIGREW MEMORIAL ARE SCHOLARSHIP.

This prestigious award was developed by the AIA National Associates Committee and provides funds to cover the cost of the Architect Registration Examination (ARE) and study materials.

Dominic Armendariz, Assoc. AIA and past President of the UNLV AIAS Chapter will receive the award this year for his exceptional leadership and scholastic achievements.

CONGRATULATIONS DOMINIC!

The Nevada State Board of Architecture, Interior Design & Residential Design in partnership with the Nevada Chapter of the American Institute of Architects is offering an opportunity for Nevada architects, interior designers and residential designers to earn all of Nevada's 8 required health, safety and welfare (HSW) continuing education units (CEU's) in one day!

PLEASE NOTE: AIA Nevada and AIA Las Vegas are AIA CES Providers. The Provider Manual, updated in 2018, is the basic framework for evaluating new courses and lists specific criteria for Health, Safety and Welfare (HSW) LU credits. Since the enforcement of the new standards, the course being offered May 9th in Reno, titled "Professional Ethics: A Duty to Live Up To", does not meet AIA's definition for HSW credit but will qualify for LU credit. The Nevada State Board of Architects, Interior Designers and Residential Designers will grant HSW credit for the purpose of annual registration renewal for this course.

Challenges and Growth Opportunities in Exterior Tile and Stone presented by Daltile and Mapei

This seminar addresses building codes and standards relevant to exterior adhered tile and stone installations including IBC, ANSI, and TCNA, while examining the dynamics of exterior installations. Attendees will learn how to specify the surface preparation, installation methods, and setting materials for the demanding exterior environment. They will learn the varying performance characteristics of setting materials and grouts during and after installation. The program examines the proper selection and use of gauged porcelain tile (GPT), GPT panels/slabs, traditional porcelain tile, and stone tile in exterior environmental conditions.

Spec it and Forget it: Benefit of Complete Systems for Interior Tile & Stone Assemblies presented by Custom Building Products

Attendees will develop an understanding of the various types of tile and stone, setting methods, system components, and quality assurance methods as outlined in the ANSI A108 standards and the TCNA Handbook. The program will address design and interior installation requirements for conventional large format tile and stone, as well as for thin gauged porcelain tile (GPT) and GPT panels/slabs. The program will provide an in-depth discussion of floor flatness and substrate preparation requirements, and it will also address the selection of setting materials and grouts for tile and stone.

Critical Points of Tile Design and Installation presented by International Masonry Institute

This seminar takes a close look at the most important elements of a successful tile project, from design through the finished installation. Applying the evaluation criteria of the Advanced Certifications for Tile Installers (ACT) to real case studies, this program examines the critical requirements of ACT's seven specialty areas: large format tile, substrate preparation, membranes, mud floors and walls, shower receptors, gauged porcelain tile, and grouts. In addition to architectural details and project photos, this seminar uses physical full scale mockups to illustrate critical design points of a tile assembly.

Tile Problems and Solutions: A Panel Discussion

This interactive panel discussion will provide the audience with invaluable insights into designing with and installing tile from the local perspective. The moderated discussion will tackle difficult local and regional problems, and will challenge the panelists to present workable solutions. The panel will comprise a local TCAA member or other union tile contractor, a BAC journeyman tile setter, local suppliers of tile and setting materials, and other industry experts. Bring your questions and jobsite stories.

AIA LAS VEGAS STRATEGIC PLANNING – MEMBER SURVEY

AIA Las Vegas has entered a new phase in our continuum and we need a strong strategic plan in order to meet the challenges of the next five years and beyond. Change is constant and we now live in a very different world than we did simply five years ago. Change is occurring more rapidly and more pervasively than ever before. The Profession and our Chapter are not exempt from the changes occurring politically, environmentally, technically and socially. We are experiencing change in how architects are educated, licensed and practice. AIA Las Vegas must not only keep up with the change but must anticipate what will come in the future and be prepared to meet it as a creative challenge.

You.... our AIA members are an integral part of planning for the future and we're asking ALL members to respond to our Member Survey. You will receive the AIA Las Vegas Member Survey in a few days via your email. We need your opinions, ideas and solutions. We are asking that you please take a few moments and respond as soon as you receive it. In order to provide the benefits, programs and support that you need as an AIA member, we must have your feedback.

On November 5th, the AIA Las Vegas leadership will hold a Strategic Planning Session with the goal of developing a plan that will support and benefit our members from 2020-2025. We can't do this successfully without the help and cooperation of each member. Take the survey and let us know your preferences and ideas.

To facilitate our strategic planning, we have secured Bob Harris, CAE, perhaps the most well-known and respected advisor to non-profit organizations in the country. There are more than one million nonprofit organizations in the USA. Bob has studied thousands of them to develop best practices. He started his career in Washington DC working with Presidential Classroom. He went on to build an association management company in Tallahassee, FL. He is on the faculty for the US Chamber of Commerce. He has worked in Amman, Jordan, Tokyo, Japan, Kiev, Ukraine and Minsk, Belarus to help organizations. He received "Association Partner of the Year" award from Association Trends Magazine in 2012. He has authored books on association management. To improve management he created the Association Self-Auditing Process, used by more than 20,000 organizations. He believes that nonprofit organizations should be as efficient as any commercial business. He has received awards for promoting association excellence and working in professional development. He has worked for Hyatt Hotels in Florida for 29 years. He's been dubbed the "Martha Stewart of association management" for providing tips and templates for making management easier. These are available free on his website at www.nonprofitcenter.com.

Bob's career passions are demonstrated in two principles:

- Promoting the impact of nonprofits in America.
- Sharing the tools for successful associations and chambers.

When you receive the survey, on October 2nd, take a few moments to complete it and help us to create a strong and resilient plan for the future.

WINE, WOMEN & ARCHITECTURE

Our first informal gathering will be held on Thursday, October 17th, 2019 - 5:30PM
In the AIA Office at 1131 S. Casino Center Boulevard

This event is open to all women who are associated with the architecture, interior design and construction industry. You do not have to be a member of AIA to attend. Join us for a glass of wine and interesting conversation.

During this first meeting we will share ideas for the future of a Women in Architecture Group and we will learn more about the exceptional work of

Nicole Dosso, FAIA LEED AP

Architect Dosso will not be present but we will view her work and accomplishments via video.

As recognized expert in the technical challenges and solutions associated with the design of tall buildings in complex urban contexts. She has extensive project experience that includes work on SOM's key projects at the World Trade Center site: 7 World Trade Center and One World Trade Center.

Her other high-rise work in New York includes the Baccarat Hotel & Residences, Manhattan West mixed-use development, 250 West 55th Street commercial office building, 383 Madison Avenue headquarters building, and the exterior renovation of 2 Broadway (a 1.2-million-square-foot office tower in the Financial District).

In 2006, Dosso was honored by Professional Women in Construction for her outstanding contributions to the rebuilding of the World Trade Center site. Building Design + Construction recognized Dosso in its "40 Under 40" class for 2012. She was also honored in the "40 Under 40" issue of Crain's New York Business. In May 2012, she was the recipient of a Presidential Citation from the American Institute of Architects for her contributions at the World Trade Center site.

COTE PROJECT HIGHLIGHT

This month's project is a senior apartment complex by David Baker Architects.

The building provides 92 permanently affordable homes for low-income and special-needs, formerly homeless seniors. A central courtyard lined with a transparent glass fence provides a protected space with a visual connection to a larger neighborhood. The top-floor of the building provides a community garden, event kitchen, and wellness room. The design begins with a tight envelope and massing articulation that responds to orientation. Strategies focus on reducing energy and water demand first, followed by efficient, cost-effective equipment that needs minimal maintenance and takes advantage of heat recovery and solar energy to reduce loads. To learn more about this amazing project follow this link: <https://www.aia.org/showcases/6129291-lakeside-senior-apartments>

GREAT LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

The Committee on the Environment (COTE) is dedicated to educating professionals and the public on sustainable design issues, and to supporting an agenda of various public and private organizations. Our belief is that design excellence can only be discussed within the context of sustainability.

We PROMOTE the integration of design and sustainability

We SPREAD knowledge and cultivate expertise

We CONNECT members of the design and building communities

Our committee is looking for the AIA LV 2020 COTE Chair. If you would like to be considered for this position (or just be a part of the committee) please e-mail Esther Ayers at eyers@blueheron.com.

Book: EcoCities: Rebuilding Cities in Balance with Nature by Richard Register

Most of the world's population now lives in cities. So, if we are to address the problems of environmental deterioration and peak oil adequately, the city has to be a major focus of attention.

UNLV | School of ARCHITECTURE

UNLV SOA NEWS

Dr. Steffen Lehmann, AIA RIBA, RAIA, AoU
Director of the School of Architecture
University of Nevada, Las Vegas

beginnings in 1957 (and has now a total enrollment of over 31,000 students), the School of Architecture has experienced significant increase in student numbers.

We are the only School of Architecture in the State of Nevada, and the School's history is closely intertwined with the history of the architecture profession in Southern Nevada. Experimental architecture courses were initiated at UNLV in 1981 at the urging of the Las Vegas Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and a small group of Las Vegas architects who volunteered their time to teach design and professional practice courses.

The initial Architecture Studies Program proved exceptionally popular with students and, in 1986, a four year program leading to the Bachelor of Science in Architecture degree was developed.

In 1989, the Board of Regents approved the Master of Architecture, M.Arch. graduate professional degree program; and in 1997, shortly after the completion of the new Architecture building, the UNLV architecture program was given for the first time a 5-year accreditation by NAAB.

UNLV and the School of Architecture have a direct and long connection to Southern Nevada's local professions, and the school benefits greatly from being a part of a dynamic urban university in one of the country's fastest-growing and most enterprising cities.

Over the last six decades, UNLV continued its steady rate of development – erecting more than 100 buildings, developing new graduate programs, creating partnerships with the community, fielding nationally ranked sports teams, founding an alumni association, promoting scholarship, recruiting diverse and talented students from across the country, and becoming a 'RI-University' in 2018.

Today, forgotten are the pains of the 2008 recession. Our accredited programs in architecture, landscape architecture, and interior architecture & design are again very popular and more young people are considering a future career in one of these exciting professions. Our distinguished faculty and students increasingly engage high-quality and impactful research that benefits the local community and the wider society.

However, as enrollment continues to rise, and as we have grown to over 600 students enrolled in the SoA, we will also need more and better facilities. Our building dates back to 1996, and it has been a valuable container for the last 25 years, but we desperately need a high-quality auditorium (a proper lecture theatre seating 200+ people), a flexible exhibition gallery space of 2,000 sf, and a café as meeting place, with more teaching and studio spaces.

So, the UNLV School of Architecture has some very exciting news: We are looking to expand and plan to build a new Hall on a currently disused area of our architecture building. The site on the east of the School of Architecture building would offer space for an expansion.

This expansion program of a new Hall could be 6,000 to 6,500 square feet in total size and would need some significant funding to become a reality. It is now a key fund-raising priority for us. The link to support this cause and give to the School is here:

<https://netcommunity.unlv.edu/givetofinearts> (please select 'Architecture' and specify the use of the funds for a building expansion at 'Comments').

I invite you to join our diverse School of Architecture, be part of a flourishing creative community, and celebrate with us our remarkable history and exciting future ahead. Therefore, I ask you to please be part of this transformational step and help us to make it happen!

For more information please visit our website:
<https://www.unlv.edu/architecture>

THE SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE IS GROWING. BUT AS WE GROW WE WILL NEED MORE SPACE

The good news is that the School is growing. At the same time as UNLV has experienced an immense growth since its humble

Crisp leaves. Cool air. Haunting history. Wander with us through the weathered tombstones of Las Vegas' oldest cemetery. We'll unearth the stories of familiar — and unfamiliar — names that made an impact on Nevada before their burial here at Woodlawn, listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Cemeteries are a site for mourning and remembrance, but are also places of great historic value. Here we uncover insight into the people and practices of our past; where the living gain a better understanding of the lives and deaths of people before them. Discover Nevada history, take advantage of the cooler temperatures and transition into autumn on our Woodlawn Cemetery Walking Tour.

Register at www.nevadapreservation.org under "Events"

Members $15, Non-Members $25

IMPORTANT INFORMATION: This tour is not handicap accessible. Please wear closed-toe shoes and be ready to walk on uneven terrain. Water is also recommended.

Brick in Architecture Awards

2019 Call For Entries Now Open

Since 1989, the Brick Industry Association has sponsored one of the country's most prestigious architectural award programs. For decades, BIA has been recognized by the architectural community as the authority on clay brick. As such, the Brick in Architecture Awards has become the nation's premiere architectural award featuring clay brick.

With 8 categories, you can submit your projects in a variety of areas. All entries must be complete by the October 31, 2019 deadline.

To learn more about categories, prizes, and the online submission process, visit: www.gobrick.com/ArchitectureAwards.

THE RIGHT BRAIN
© Brent Wright rightbrain-engineers.com

"I ASKED GOD FOR A PERMIT, BUT I KNOW THAT'S NOT HOW GOD WORKS, SO... I BUILT IT ANYWAY AND ASKED FOR FORGIVENESS"

I know that sometimes it really is easier to ask forgiveness than permission, but it can also come back to bite you. In the case of building without a permit and hoping to ask forgiveness later, it's not uncommon for people to spend many times more to correct an unpermitted project once they get caught than it would have cost them had they just gotten a permit from the start.

SENIOR SPECIALIST - FACILITIES

Job Description

The Senior Specialist - Facilities serves as the institution's representative to coordinate furniture, fixtures and equipment for all college projects including new facilities, remodels and work order requests. The position will be responsible for the front-end issues such as space planning, meeting with end users to determine needs, work in coordination with the warehouse to determine furniture availability, daily tasks of TMA work orders (up front) and follow through on PO, working with vendors to provide quotes for new furniture and coordinate deliveries. Also responsible for customer service follow up and work order close out. Responsible for work order flow/scheduling for entire furniture shop. This position will be based in downtown Henderson, but will travel to all campuses. Mileage reimbursement is available if personal vehicle. Standard schedule is Monday through Friday, 7:00 am to 3:30 pm. Rarely, deviations may occur to accommodate students and job deadlines. These deviations may include early mornings, later afternoons or weekends. Additional responsibilities include, but are not limited to the following:

- Initial space planning and meeting with end users to determine needs for furniture and equipment requested keeping within the guidelines of the Fire Code, ADA and the College Standards Program.
- Processing work order requests including: providing quotes, processing RX's, updating TMA work orders, and updating furniture log.
- Coordinate the front end portion of the furniture projects including: coordination with warehouse, end users, vendors, receiving, business services, etc.
- Responsible for work flow scheduling for furniture shop.
- Act as support for furniture shop daily activities such as, processing work orders and furniture installation and maintenance.
- Maintain material and product library including warranty information. Ensure all pertinent warranty information is entered into TMA.
- Coordinate front-end activities on all FF&E at the College. Coordination must take place with minimal impact to student and staff. Maintenance of warranty information to develop accurate records will reduce future expenses on FF&E.
- Ability to exert up to 30 pounds of force occasionally to lift, carry, push, pull, or otherwise move objects and negligible amounts of force frequently (occasionally: activity or condition exists up to 1/3 of the time; frequently: activity or condition exists from 1/3 to 2/3 of the time)
- Ability to sit or walk long periods of time.
- Ability to reach low and high occasionally.
- Ability to work long periods of time on a computer or laptop.
