The George Matsumoto Prize

For Recent Modernist Residential Design in North Carolina

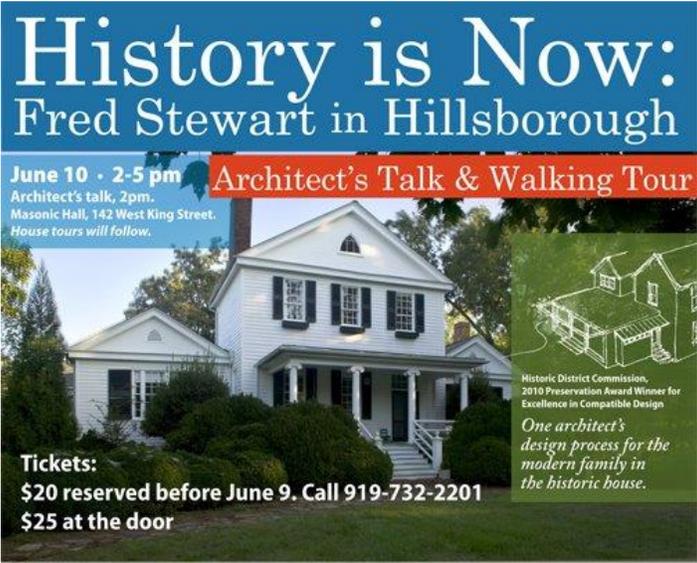

TMH announces the inaugural George Matsumoto Prize, featuring a blue-ribbon jury, public voting, and substantial cash awards. The professional jury and the general public will select first, second, and third place winners, who will receive honors of $3000, $2000, and $1000, respectively. The competition was named for George Matsumoto FAIA. Matsumoto was one of the founding faculty members of the NCSU School of Design (now College of Design) under Dean Henry Kamphoefner. He is well-known for his Modernist residential designs as well as many other commercial projects across the US. Retired and living in Oakland, California, he will be the Honorary Chair of the jury.

The George Matsumoto Prize is open to both architects and non-architects anywhere in the world. Houses submitted must be located in North Carolina and must be a ground-up, single-family, stand-alone Modernist design of at least 600 heated interior square feet. Complete submission details, formats, and other requirements are online. Submission Deadline: Sunday, July 1, 2012, 5pm EST.

Upcoming Trip

TMH 2012 Frank Lloyd Wright / Fallingwater

Trip: Considered by many to be Frank Lloyd Wright's best work, Fallingwater is a bucket list destination for any architecture fan. And TMH is going September 22-23. 13 of the 24 available places are gone! Includes direct flight, luxury bus transportation, hotel, most meals, and all admissions, plus a special reception on the grounds of Fallingwater. We'll also see Wright's Kentuck Knob, visit a house by Robert Venturi, and look outside a house by Richard Meier. Assure yourself seats on the trip of a lifetime here.
