For transforming an old dry cleaner building into a gleaming glass, energy-efficient commercial building at Raleigh's Five Points intersection, Tonic Design principals Katherine Hogan, AIA, and Vincent Petrarca received a 2017 Sir Walter Raleigh Award for Community Appearance. Hat tip to owner Carole Marcotte for taking a big bet on a great building!

at marketing@forestduke.org listing name, address and phone number. In 2011, Levine spent nearly 7 months being the only person to ever review all 5,201 entries to the 2003 World Trade Center Memorial Design Competition. He then spent the next 4 years seeking and interviewing entry creators on their response to 9/11 and the evolving concept of a memorial. The majority of the ideas would be considered Modernist.

In 2016, we lost this amazing Milton Small building in Raleigh.

Now the fate of another building by Small, this one owned by the City of Durham, goes up for public hearings in September. There's a prevailing notion to plow it down, but you can change that momentum. NCMH and Preservation Durham need your

ARCHITECTURE YOU LOVE

Available Nov 7:

Nowherelands: An Atlas of Vanished Countries 1840-1975, by Bjørn Berge.

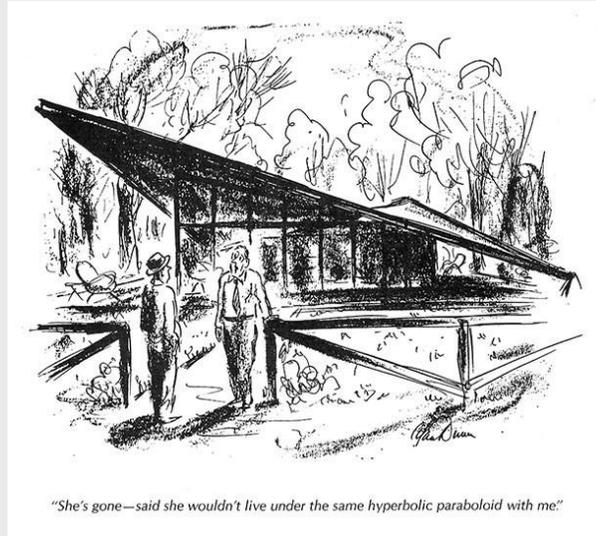

This is a fascinating book written by an architect, but it's not about architecture.

It's about 50 countries, some quite recent, that no longer exist. Varying vastly in size and shape, location and longevity, they are united by one fact: all of them endured long enough to issue their own stamps. Drawing on fiction and eyewitness accounts and historical sources, Bjorn Berge's witty text casts an unconventional eye on these lesser-known nations.

New Show Today - Scale:

What makes a house too big? And is it really anyone's business other than the owner? We talk with Thomas Bena and Mollie Doyle, stars and creators of the new documentary One Big Home, based in Martha's Vineyard MA. One Big Home is about Thomas Bena's work to curb the disruption of life on the island by giant houses. But the film is more than the story of a cause. Along the way, he found a girlfriend, Mollie Doyle, they married, moved, had a beautiful daughter named Emma - all events that influenced or changed his progress and perspective on the film and his life. US Modernist Radio is sponsored by Sarah Sonke of ModHomes Realty. Listen via iTunes. Listen on Android and Windows PC's via Libsyn.
