US MODERNIST RADIO

ARCHITECTURE YOU LOVE

Now on USModernist Radio: Every fall, the New York Architecture and Design Film Festival (ADFF) premieres the best new documentaries of the year. Host George Smart was on the scene last fall talking with the people behind the new movies.

Ultan Guilfoyle's award-winning films have been shown on PBS and HBO in the US and the BBC, ITV and Channel 4 in the UK. His latest film is Frank Gehry: Building Justice where architect Gehry, philanthropist George Soros, and students at SCI-ARC and Yale re-design prison architecture for the complex social, political, racial, and aesthetic issues behind incarceration.

Paul Clemence is co-producer with Aksel Stasny of the film Two Pianos, about the Italian architect Renzo Piano. The film captures the masterful use of light, carefully orchestrated relationship between inside and outside, the seamless connection to the surroundings, and an exacting craftsmanship.

Alan Hess is an architect and author who has shed light on many forgotten and neglected styles of postwar American modernist architecture. The Los Angeles Conservancy named him "The preeminent authority on Southern California Modernism." Hess is one of the stars in a Jake and Tracey Gorst documentary on architect Albert Frey, the first American to work for French superstar architect Le Corbusier, in the film Frey Part I, The Architectural Envoy.

USModernist Radio is sponsored by Angela Roehl, your special real estate agent for Modernist houses. Listen via iTunes. Listen on Android devices and PC's. Learn about the show and see past episodes.

Hat tips to Daniel Perrin, Carol Miller, and Virginia Faust.

Tim Siebert, one of the last original “Sarasota School” members in Florida, died in December. He was 91. As reported by Harold Bubil, Siebert was known for his elegant manner and eloquence in both the written and spoken word. Among his buildings were the downtown Bay Plaza condominiums, the Siesta Beach Pavilion, the Cooney House on St. Armands Key, the Hiss Studio and Devries-Craig House in Lido Shores, an addition to the Field Club, and a Siesta Key house for novelist John D. MacDonald.

Remember the old AIA Tower in downtown Raleigh? It's now an amazing escape room with three levels of challenge. Find out more here. When you register, use the discount code NCMH; you get a 15% discount, and NCMH gets a 15% donation. it's not easy to re-purpose a 1938 water tower but these folks have done it!

ModHomes Architecture Movie Series, Tuesday, February 5, 7pm, at the Alamo Draffhouse, Raleigh. Big Time: Bjarke Ingels explores the hottest architect on the planet right now. With major projects spanning the globe, he's the new Frank Lloyd Wright (minus the arrogance). The Alamo Draffhouse has a full bar, over 50 draft beers, a restaurant menu (the food is great), and service at your movie seat or in their huge lobby. Mod Squad Terrazzo Level members get in free until capacity is reached, so get there early and relax! General public, $11/person. Hang out afterwards in the lobby and catch up with friends! Sponsored by Sarah Sonke of ModHomes Realty, NC State University Libraries, and in situ studio. Details.

Thursday, February 28, 6-8pm, join Will Alphin of REdesign.build, at the new 926 Tower Street Project, Raleigh. It's the first of four new Modernist houses on that street. Thirst4Architecture is our free monthly party for anyone with a huge crush on Modernist architecture - sponsored throughout 2019 by Modernist realtor Angela Roehl. Details.

Join the NCMH volunteer team and become part of the movement documenting, preserving, and promoting residential Modernist design in North Carolina!

I don't do any other marketing during the entire year. The Spring Green Home Tour is the best way for me to reach my target market audience. This gives me the opportunity to get in front of people and talk to them. I am sure that I could spend five times as much on newspaper and radio advertising and not generate nearly as many quality leads.
