

Today's News - Tuesday, April 30, 2002

Today's lead news story is the Cheung Kong Center Footbridge by Leo A Daly and Ove Arup & Partners, which recently received a Special Award from the Hong Kong Institution of Engineers. Since it opened last July, it has become an integral part of Hong Kong's system of urban footbridges. If you missed yesterday's feature, the overview of Moshe Safdie's master plan for Modi'in, Israel, it is both at the bottom of today's newsletter and on the home page.
