THE ARCHITECTURAL REPRINT

One of the most attractive and valuable Advertising Mediums to those desiring to reach the Architectural Profession

Rates of advertising made known on application.

The "Taylor Old Style" ROOFING TIN

It is the only Tin now sold that has really stood the test of time.

We warn you against the imitations of the "TAYLOR OLD STYLE," brand. We like the flattery of imitation, but we do not want our patrons to suffer by it. The genuine has stamped on each sheet the name of the brand and our firm name and address as manufacturers. It also contains the thickness.

There are roofs in Philadelphia covered with this same kind of Tin that are just as good to-day as when they were put on seventy years ago. With reasonable care, it will outlast the life of the building.

It has always been made in the same way.

It has had a host of imitations in its time. Those that remain have only had a life of a few years, while scores of its former imitations are dead and forgotten.

It takes thirty-five minutes to make a sheet of the "TAYLOR OLD STYLE" brand. It takes ten seconds to make a good extra-coated Terne.

It is assumed that a Tin roof is intended to last, and not be a temporary covering. Durability is a part of the "TAYLOR OLD STYLE" brand. Do not specify the best Tin along with inferior Tin. If you wish to specify the inferior, omit the best.
