- New book: Sri Lankan architect Geoffrey Bawa was among the most influential figures in South Asia in the latter half of the twentieth century. In houses, hotels, public buildings, and perhaps his greatest achievement, his residential complex in Lunuganga, Bawa achieved the harmonious and pleasurable fusion of local building traditions with modern forms. His legacy lives on in current architectural practice and remains an important source of inspiration for generations of architects. Bawa was the principal force behind what is today known globally as "tropical modernism," and examples of his ideas can be found in Sri Lanka, Singapore, and Bali, and in resorts and residences throughout wider Asia. Beyond Bawa considers his continuing influence through the work of contemporary architects working in the region.

- There will be no NCMH Monday newsletter on August 25.

Hillsborough's Secret Building Museum, Sunday, August 17, 3-530pm, a champagne reception for the NCMH Legal Defense Fund in support of the Cherry-Gordon House. Steven Burke and Randy Campbell's home – a grouping of five buildings they designed on the site since 1994 – is a private museum, not routinely open to the public. It contains the nation's largest collection of American folk art buildings, over 1,000 models of houses and stores, Ferris wheels and carousels, gas stations and factories, Grant's Tomb and Independence Hall, theaters and schools, an ice rink and a bowling alley, bridges and castles and churches. Made mostly from the 1860s until about 1950 by largely anonymous persons, the buildings of real or imagined communities tell much about our culture, history, and architecture. This event is a rare opportunity to see the nationally unique collection and to experience, in small scale with large delight, our architectural history. Details and tickets. Sponsored by Phoebe Lawless and the fine folks at Scratch Bakery of Durham. Special Guest: the Cherry/Gordon House, live via Twitter!

Duke University developed the Duke Forest neighborhood, just south of campus, for faculty and staff in the 1960's. Many houses are still owned by Duke-related families. Arthur Cogswell, Randy Lanou, and Alden Dow. Special guests Bill Waddell, Erik Mehlman, and Dail Dixon. Advance discount tickets, details, and directions.
